(3) If served by publication, by a statement under oath or affirmation providing the dates, newspapers and electronic means of publication with a copy of the last notice published in newspaper showing the date of publication attached;

(4) If served by waiver of service, by the written waiver of service executed by the person served or by their legal counsel;

(5) If served by substituted service, by a statement under oath or affirmation providing the date, place, and manner of service, including any address(es) where service was mailed or provided.

(j) Time Limit for Service. If service of the summons and complaint is not made upon a party to be served within 120 days after the filing of the complaint, the Court, upon motion or on its own initiative after notice to the plaintiff or petitioner, shall dismiss the action without prejudice as to that party or direct that service be effected within a specified time; provided that if the plaintiff or petitioner shows good cause for the failure, the court shall extend the time for service for an appropriate period.

Rule 11. Service of Other Papers.

(a) When Required. Unless these rules provide otherwise, each of the following papers must be served on every party:

- (1) Every order stating that service is required;
- (2) Every pleading filed after the original complaint;
- (3) Every paper relating to discovery required to be served upon a party, unless the court otherwise orders;
- (4) Every written motion, except one that may be heard ex parte; and
- (5) Every written notice, appearance, demand, offer of judgment, designation of record on appeal, and similar paper.

(b) If a Party Fails to Appear. No service is required on a party who is in default for failing to appear, except that pleadings asserting new or additional claims for relief against them shall be served upon them in the manner provided for service of summons in Rule 10.

(c) Serving Legal Counsel. If a party is represented by legal counsel, service under this rule must be made on the legal counsel unless the court orders service on the party.

(d) A paper is served under this rule by:

- (1) Handing it to the person;
- (2) Leaving it at the person's office with a clerk or other person in charge or, if no one is in charge, in a conspicuous place in the office; or
- (3) If the person has no office or the office is closed, leaving it at the person's dwelling or usual place of abode with a person of suitable discretion over the age of majority who resides there;

(4) Mailing it to the person's last known address, in which case service is complete upon mailing;

(5) Leaving it with the Tribal Court Administrator if the person has no known address;

(6) Sending it by electronic means, including facsimile and electronic mail, if the person does not object thereto, in which case service is complete upon transmission, but is not effective if the serving party learns that it did not reach the person to be served; or

(7) Delivering it by any other means that the person does not object to, in which event service is complete when the person receives the papers.

Rule 12. Filing.

(a) Required Filings. Any paper after the complaint that is required to be served must be filed with a certificate of service within a reasonable time after service.

(b) Papers Not to Be Filed. The following papers shall not be filed separately and may be filed as attachments or exhibits to other documents only when relevant to the determination of an issue before the Court:

(1) Any document used solely for issuance of a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum, a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum, and any affidavit of service of a subpoena;

(2) Notices of deposition; depositions, interrogatories and answers; requests for production, inspection or admission, and responses; requests for physical and mental examination; and notices of service of any discovery or discovery response;

(3) Any proposed pleading, except such pleading may be filed after ruling by the Court if necessary to preserve the record on appeal;

(4) Any paper which previously has been filed in the case. If a party desires to call the Court's attention to anything contained in a previously filed paper, the party shall do so by incorporation by reference;

(5) Copies of authorities cited in memoranda, unless necessary to preserve the record on appeal; and

(6) Offers of judgment.

(c) How Filing Is Made. The filing of pleadings and other papers with the court shall be made by filing them with the Tribal Court Administrator, including by electronic means, except that the judge may permit the papers to be filed with the judge and in that event the judge shall note thereon the filing date and forthwith transmit them to the office of the Tribal Court Administrator.

Rule 13. Constitutional Challenge to Law.

(a) Notice to Tribe. If the parties do not include the Tribe, a party that files a pleading, written motion, or other paper drawing into question the constitutionality of a code, ordinance, rule, regulation or other law of the Tribe must promptly:

(1) File a notice of constitutional question stating the question and identifying the paper that raises it; and

(2) Serve the notice and paper on the Attorney for the Tribe either by certified or registered mail or by sending it to an electronic address designated by the Attorney for the Tribe for this purpose.

(b) Intervention of Tribe. Unless the court sets a later time, the Attorney for the Tribe may intervene within sixty (60) days after the notice is filed. Before the time to intervene expires, the court may reject the constitutional challenge, but may not enter a final judgment holding the law unconstitutional.

Rule 14. Time.

(a) Computation. In computing any period of time set forth herein, the day that the period is to commence from shall not be counted and the last day of the period shall be counted; provided however, that any time period under seven (7) days will not include intermediate Saturdays, Sundays, or legal holidays in the period and any period which would otherwise end on a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday will be deemed to end on the next day which is not a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday. Unless the court orders otherwise, if the Tribal Court Administrator's office is inaccessible on the last day for filing, then the time for filing is extended to the first accessible day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday.

(b) Enlargement. The Court, for good cause shown, may enlarge the prescribed period of time within which any required act may be done.

(c) Motions. Written motions and any notices of hearing thereon, other than one which may be heard ex parte, shall be served not later than five (5) days prior to the time specified for a hearing.

(d) Service by Mail. Whenever service is accomplished by mail, three (3) days shall be added to the prescribed period of time, but such additional time shall not cause Saturdays, Sundays or legal holidays to be counted in the time period if they would not otherwise have been counted.

Rule 15. Proceeding in Forma Pauperis.

(a) Motion to Proceed in Forma Pauperis. The Court may authorize the commencement, prosecution or defense of any suit, action or proceeding without prepayment of fees or security therefor, by a person who submits a motion to proceed in forma pauperis and an affidavit that:

(1) shows in explicit detail, the party's inability to pay or to give security for fees and costs;

(2) claims an entitlement to redress; and

(3) states the nature of the action or defense.

(b) Action on Motion. If the Court grants the motion, the party may proceed without prepaying or giving security for fees and costs, unless a statute provides otherwise. If the Court denies the motion, it must state its reasons in writing.

(c) Service by Court. The Tribal Court Administrator shall issue and serve all process and perform all duties in cases where an individual is proceeding in forma pauperis. Witnesses shall attend as in other cases, and the same remedies shall be available as are provided for by the laws of the Tribe in other cases.

(d) Dismissal of Proceedings. Notwithstanding any filing fee, or any portion thereof, that may have been paid, the court shall dismiss an action in forma pauperis at any time if the court determines that:

(1) the allegation of poverty is untrue; or

(2) the action:

(i) is frivolous or malicious;

(ii) fails to state a claim on which relief may be granted;

or

(iii) seeks monetary relief against a defendant who is immune from such relief.

(e) Award of Costs. Judgment may be rendered for costs at the conclusion of the action as in other proceedings, but the Tribe shall not be liable for any of the costs thus incurred. Such costs shall be taxed in favor of the Court as the fees excused under this Rule. If the Tribe or the Court has paid any costs for the prevailing party, the same shall be taxed in favor of the Tribe or the Court, as appropriate.

(f) In no event shall a person bring a civil action or appeal a judgment in a civil action or proceeding under this Rule if the person has, on three (3) or more prior occasions, brought an action or appeal in a court of the Tribe that was dismissed on the grounds that it was frivolous, malicious, or failed to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, unless the person is under imminent danger of serious physical injury.

Rule 16. REPEALED - RESOLUTION 16-36

CHAPTER 3 PLEADINGS AND MOTIONS

Rule 17. Pleadings Allowed.

(a) Only these pleadings are allowed:

(1) A complaint or petition;

(2) An answer to a complaint or response to a petition;

(3) An answer to a counterclaim designated as a counterclaim;

(4) An answer to a crossclaim;

(5) A third-party complaint;

(6) An answer to a third-party complaint; and

(7) If the court orders one, a reply to an answer or response.

(b) The Court may grant additional leave to file pleadings in the interest of narrowing and defining issues or as justice may require.

Rule 18. Motions and Orders.

(a) A request for a court order must be made by motion. The motion must:

(1) Be in writing, unless made during a hearing or trial;

(2) State with particularity the grounds for seeking the order; and

(3) State the relief sought.

(b) The rules governing captions and other matters of form in pleadings apply to motions and other papers.

(c) No court order shall be issued unless a civil action has been commenced as provided in Rule 8.

(d) A motion or hearing on an order shall be automatically continued if the judge before whom it was to be heard is unable to hear it on the day specified and no other judge is available to hear it.

(e) An order includes every direction of the Court whether included in a judgment or not, and may not be made without notice to adverse parties nor vacated or modified without notice, except as provided in the laws of the Tribe.

Rule 19. General Rules of Pleading.

(a) Claims for relief. A pleading which sets forth a claim for relief must contain:

(1) A short and plain statement of the grounds for the court's jurisdiction, unless the court already has jurisdiction and the claim needs no new jurisdictional support;

(2) A short, plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief; and

(3) A demand for the relief sought, which may include relief in the alternative or different types of relief.

(b) Defenses, Admissions and Denials.

(1) In responding to a pleading, a party must:

(i) State in short and plain terms its defenses to each claim asserted against it; and

(ii) Admit or deny the allegations asserted against it by an opposing party.

(2) A denial must fairly respond to the substance of the allegation.

(3) A party that intends in good faith to deny all the allegations of a pleading, including the jurisdictional grounds, may do so by a general denial. A party that does not intend to deny all the allegations must either specifically deny designated allegations or generally deny all except those specifically admitted.

(4) A party that intends in good faith to deny only part of an allegation must admit the part that is true and deny the rest.

(5) A party that lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the truth of an allegation must state so, and the statement has the effect of a denial.

(6) An allegation, other than one relating to the amount of damages, is admitted if a responsive pleading is required and the allegation is not denied. If a responsive pleading is not required, an allegation is considered denied.

(c) Affirmative Defenses. In responding to a pleading, a party must affirmatively state any avoidance or affirmative defense. If a party mistakenly designates a defense as a counterclaim, or a counterclaim as a defense, the court must, if justice requires, treat the pleading as though it were correctly designated, and may impose terms for doing so.

(d) Pleadings to Be Concise and Direct; Consistency.

(1) Each allegation must be simple, concise, and direct. No technical form is required.

(2) A party may set out 2 or more statements of a claim or defense alternatively or hypothetically, either in a single count or defense or in separate ones. If a party makes alternative statements, the pleading is sufficient if any one of them is sufficient.

(3) A party may state as many separate claims or defenses as it has, regardless of consistency.

(e) Construing Pleadings. Pleadings must be construed so as to do justice.

Rule 20. Form of Pleadings.

(a) Caption. Every pleading must have a caption with the court's name, a title, a file number, and a designation as to what kind of pleading it is. The title of the complaint must name all the parties; the title of other pleadings, after naming the first party on each side, may refer generally to other parties.

(b) Paragraphs. A party must state its claims or defenses in numbered paragraphs, each limited as far as practicable to a single set of circumstances. A later pleading may refer by number to a paragraph in an earlier pleading. If doing so would promote clarity, each claim founded on a separate transaction or occurrence, and each defense other than a denial, must be stated in a separate count or defense.

(c) Exhibits, Adoption by Reference. A statement in a pleading may be adopted by reference elsewhere in the same pleading or in any other pleading or motion. A copy of a written instrument that is an exhibit to a pleading is a part of the pleading for all purposes.

(d) Preparation of Pleadings.

(1) All pleadings and other papers filed in any action or proceeding shall be on white, opaque, unglazed paper measuring 8-1/2 inches x 11 inches, with margins not less than 1 inch.

(2) Notwithstanding the foregoing, exhibits, attachments to pleadings, or pleadings from jurisdictions other than the Tribe which are larger than the specified size shall be folded to the specified size or folded and fastened to pages of the specified size. Exhibits or attachments to pleadings which are smaller than the specified size shall be fastened to pages of the specified size.

(3) All pleadings and other papers filed shall have the pages numbered and shall state the number of the action, the title of the court and action, the nature of the paper filed and the name, address, e-mail address, and telephone number of the legal counsel or the party, if the party is unrepresented, filing the paper.

(4) All pleadings and other papers filed, other than printed forms, shall be clearly handwritten or typewritten on one side of the page only. The body of all documents shall be double spaced, except for headings, quotations and footnotes which may be single spaced.

(5) Substantial compliance with the foregoing requirements will be sufficient for all parties not represented by legal counsel and the court may, on its own motion or on request of any party, waive any of the foregoing requirements or provision.

Rule 21. Signing of Pleadings.

(a) Signature. Every pleading, written motion, and other paper must be signed by at least one legal counsel of record in the legal counsel's name or by a party personally if the party is unrepresented. The paper must state the signer's address, e-mail address, and telephone number. Unless a rule or other law of the Tribe specifically states otherwise, a pleading need not be verified or accompanied by an affidavit. The court must strike an unsigned paper unless the omission is promptly corrected after being called to the legal counsel's or party's attention.

(b) Representations to the Court. By presenting to the court a pleading, written motion, or other paper, whether by signing, filing, submitting, or later advocating it, legal counsel or an unrepresented party certifies that to the best of the person's knowledge, information, and belief, formed after an inquiry reasonable under the circumstances:

(1) It is not being presented for any improper purpose, such as to harass, cause unnecessary delay, or needlessly increase the cost of litigation;

(2) The claims, defenses, and other legal contentions are warranted by existing law or by a nonfrivolous argument for extending, modifying, or reversing existing law or for establishing new law;

(3) The factual contentions have evidentiary support or, if specifically so identified, will likely have evidentiary support after a reasonable opportunity for further investigation or discovery; and

(4) The denials of factual contentions are warranted on the evidence or, if specifically so identified, are reasonably based on belief or a lack of information.

(c) Sanctions. If a pleading, motion or other paper is signed in violation of this rule, the court, upon motion or upon its own initiative, shall impose upon the person who signed it, a represented party, or both, an appropriate sanction, which may include an order to pay to the other party or parties the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred because of the filing of the pleading, including a reasonable legal counsel's fee.

(d) Assistance to Unrepresented Parties. Legal counsel may help to draft a pleading, motion or document filed by an otherwise self-represented person, and legal counsel need not sign that pleading, motion, or document. In providing such drafting assistance, legal counsel may rely on the otherwise self-represented person's representation of facts, unless legal counsel has reason to believe that such representations are false or materially insufficient, in which instance legal counsel shall make an independent reasonable inquiry into the facts.

Rule 22. Defenses and Objections.

(a) When Presented. Unless another time is specified by this rule or a provision of the Code, a defendant, respondent or other party against whom a claim has been made for affirmative relief shall have thirty (30) days from the date of service upon him to answer or respond to the claim.

(b) Effect of Motion. Unless the court sets a different time, filing a motion under this rule alters these periods as follows:

(1) If the court denies the motion or postpones its disposition until trial, the responsive pleading must be served within 10 days after notice of the court's action; or

(2) If the court grants a motion for a more definite statement, the responsive pleading must be served within 10 days after the more definite statement is served.

(c) How to Present Defenses. Every defense to a claim for relief in any pleading must be asserted in the responsive pleading if one is required. But, a party may assert the following defenses by motion:

(1) lack of subject-matter jurisdiction;

(2) lack of personal jurisdiction;

(3) insufficient service of process;

(4) failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted; and

(5) failure to join a party.

A motion asserting any of these defenses must be made before pleading if a responsive pleading is allowed. If a pleading sets out a claim for relief that does not require a responsive pleading, an opposing party may assert at trial any defense to that claim. No defense or objection is waived by joining it with one or more other defenses or objections in a responsive pleading or in a motion.

(d) Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings. After the pleadings are closed, but early enough not to delay trial, a party may move for judgment on the pleadings.

(e) Preliminary Hearings. The defenses enumerated in subsection (c) of this rule, whether made in a pleading or by motion, and the motion for judgment on the pleadings in subsection (d) of this rule shall be heard and determined before trial on application of any party.

(f) Result of Presenting Matters Outside the Pleadings. If, on a motion under subsection (c) (4) of this rule or subsection (d) of this rule, matters outside the pleadings are presented to and not excluded by the court, the motion must be treated as one for summary judgment. All parties must be given a reasonable opportunity to present all the material that is pertinent to the motion.

(g) Motion for a More Definite Statement. A party may move for a more definite statement of a pleading to which a responsive pleading is allowed but which is so vague or ambiguous that the party cannot reasonably prepare a response. The motion must be made before filing a responsive pleading and must point out the defects complained of and the details desired. If the court orders a more definite statement and the order is not obeyed within 14 days after notice of the order or within the time the court sets, the court may strike the pleading or issue any other appropriate order.

(h) Motion to Strike. Upon motion made by a party before responding to a pleading or, if no responsive pleading is permitted by these rules, upon motion made by a party within twenty days after service of the pleading upon the party or upon the court's own initiative at any time, the court may strike from a pleading any insufficient defense or any redundant, immaterial, impertinent, or scandalous matter.

(i) Joining Motions. A motion under this rule may be joined with any other motion allowed by this rule. Except for lack of subject-matter jurisdiction, failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, failure to join a person, and failure to state a legal defense to a claim, a party that makes a motion under this rule must not make another motion under this rule raising a defense or objection that was available to the party but omitted from its earlier motion.

(j) Waiver or Preservation of Certain Defenses.

(1) A party waives any defense of lack of jurisdiction over the person or insufficiency of service of process by:

(i) Omitting it from a motion in the circumstances described in subdivision (10) of this rule; or

(ii) Failing to either raise it by motion under this rule or include it in a responsive pleading or an amendment allowed by these rules.

(2) Whenever it appears by suggestion of the parties or otherwise that the court lacks jurisdiction of the subject matter, the court shall dismiss the action.

Rule 23. Counterclaim or Crossclaim.

(a) Compulsory Counterclaim. A pleading must state as a counterclaim any claim that, at the time of its service, the pleader has against an opposing party if the claim:

(1) Arises out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the opposing party's claim; and

(2) Does not require adding another party over whom the court cannot acquire jurisdiction.

(b) The pleader need not state the claim if, when the action was commenced, the claim was the subject of another pending action, or the opposing party sued on its claim by attachment or other process that did not establish personal jurisdiction over the pleader on that claim, and the pleader does not assert any counterclaim under this rule.

(c) Permissive Counterclaim. A pleading may state as a counterclaim against an opposing party any claim that is not compulsory.

(d) Counterclaim Against the Tribe. These rules do not permit any party to assert a counterclaim against the Tribe or any of its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers or employees in their capacities as such unless another law of the Tribe expressly permits such counterclaim.

(e) Counterclaim Acquired After Pleading. The court may permit a party to file a supplemental pleading asserting a counterclaim that matured or was acquired by the party after serving an earlier pleading.

(f) Crossclaim. A pleading may state as a crossclaim any claim by one party against a coparty if the claim arises out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the original action or of a counterclaim, or if the claim relates to any property that is the subject matter of the original action. The crossclaim may include a claim that the coparty is or may be liable to the crossclaimant for all or part of a claim asserted in the action against the crossclaimant.

Rule 24. Third Party Practice.

(a) When a Defending Party May Bring in a Third Party.

(1) At any time after commencement of the action, a defendant, as a third-party plaintiff, may cause a summons and complaint to be served upon a person not a party to the action who is or may be liable to the third-party plaintiff for all or part of the plaintiff's claim against the third-party plaintiff. A copy of all previous pleadings that have been filed in the action shall be served together with the third-party complaint or be provided by the third-party plaintiff to the person served promptly after service.

(2) The third-party plaintiff need not obtain leave to make the service if the third-party plaintiff files the third-party complaint not later than 14 days after serving the original answer. Otherwise, the third-party plaintiff must, by motion, obtain the court's leave.

(3) The person served with the summons and third-party complaint, hereinafter called the third-party defendant:

(i) Must assert any defenses to the third-party plaintiff's claim as provided in these rules;

(ii) Must assert any counterclaims against the third-party plaintiff and cross-claims against other third-party defendants;

(iii) May assert against the plaintiff any defenses which the third-party plaintiff has to the plaintiff's claim; and

(iv) May assert any claim against the plaintiff arising out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the plaintiff's claim against the third-party plaintiff.

(4) The plaintiff may assert any claim against the third-party defendant arising out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the plaintiff's claim against the third-party plaintiff, and the third-party defendant thereupon shall assert any defenses and any counterclaims and cross-claims as provided in these rules.

(5) A third-party defendant may proceed under this rule against any person not a party to the action who is or may be liable to the third-party defendant for all or part of the claim made in the action against the third-party defendant.

(b) When a Plaintiff May Bring in a Third Party. When a claim is asserted against a plaintiff, the plaintiff may bring in a third party if this rule would allow a defendant to do so.

Rule 25. Amendment of Pleadings.

(a) Amendment Before Trial. A party may amend his pleadings once as a matter of course before the opposing party has responded or, if no response is required, within 20 days of serving it. The opposing party may respond, if appropriate, and any trial date rescheduled if necessary. In all other cases, a party may amend its pleading only with the opposing party's written consent or the court's leave.

(b) Amendment During Trial. When issues or evidence not raised in the pleadings are heard at trial, they shall be treated in all respects as if they had been raised in the pleadings and the judgment may conform to such issues or evidence without the necessity of amending the pleadings.

(c) Relation Back of Amendments. An amendment to a pleading relates back to the date of the original pleading when:

(1) The amendment asserts a claim or defense that arose out of the conduct, transaction, or occurrence set out in the original pleading; or

(2) The amendment changes the party or the naming of the party against whom a claim is asserted and if, within the period provided for serving the summons and complaint, the party to be brought in by amendment received such notice of the action that it will not be prejudiced in defending on the merits and knew or should have known that the action would have been brought against it, but for a mistake concerning the proper party's identity.

PARTIES

Rule 26. Parties.

(a) Real Party in Interest. An action must be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest. The following may sue in their own names without joining the person for whose benefit the action is brought:

(1) An executor or administrator of an estate;

(2) A guardian;

(3) A trustee of an express trust;

(4) A party with whom or in whose name a contract has been made for another's benefit; and

(5) A party authorized by statute.

(b) Minor or Incompetent. Whenever a minor or incompetent person has a representative, such as a general guardian or similar fiduciary, the representative may sue or defend on behalf of the minor or incompetent person. A minor or an incompetent person who does not have a duly appointed representative may sue by a next friend or by a guardian ad litem. The court must appoint a guardian ad litem or issue another appropriate order to protect a minor or incompetent person who is unrepresented in an action.

(c) Tribal Officer's Title and Name. A Tribal officer or employee who sues or is sued in an official capacity may be designated by official title rather than by name, but the court may order that the officer's or employee's name be added.

Rule 27. Joinder of Claims.

(a) A party asserting a claim to relief as an original claim, counterclaim, cross-claim, or third-party claim, may join, either as independent or as alternate claims, as many claims, legal or equitable, as the party has against an opposing party.

(b) A party may join two claims even though one of them is contingent on the disposition of the other; but the court may grant relief only in accordance with the parties' relative substantive rights.

Rule 28. Required Joinder of Parties.

(a) A person who is subject to the court's jurisdiction and whose joinder will not deprive the court of subject-matter jurisdiction shall be joined in the action if:

(1) The person claims an interest relating to the subject of the action; or

(2) In that person's absence, the court cannot accord complete relief among existing parties.

(b) Failure to join a party over whom the court has no jurisdiction does not require dismissal of the action unless it would be impossible to reach a just result without such party. The factors for the court to consider include:

(1) The extent to which a judgment rendered in the person's absence might prejudice that person or the existing parties;

(2) The extent to which any prejudice could be lessened or avoided by protective provisions in the judgment, shaping the relief, or other measures;

(3) Whether a judgment rendered in the person's absence would be adequate; and

(4) Whether the plaintiff or petitioner would have an adequate remedy if the action were dismissed for nonjoinder.

Rule 29. Permissive Joinder of Parties.

(a) Plaintiffs and Petitioners. Persons may join in one action as plaintiffs or petitioners if:

(1) They assert any right to relief jointly, severally, or in the alternative with respect to or arising out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions or occurrences; and

(2) Any question of law or fact common to all plaintiffs or petitioners will arise in the action.

(b) Defendants and Respondents. Persons may be joined in one action as defendants or respondents if:

(1) Any right to relief is asserted against them jointly, severally, or in the alternative with respect to or arising out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions or occurrences; and

(2) Any question of law or fact common to all defendants or respondents will arise in the action.

(c) Separate Trials. The court may make such orders as will prevent a party from being embarrassed, delayed, or put to expense by the inclusion of a party against whom the party asserts no claim and who asserts no claim against the party, and may order separate trials or make other orders to prevent delay or prejudice.

Rule 30. Intervention.

(a) Intervention as of Right. On timely motion, the court must permit anyone to intervene who:

(1) Is given an unconditional right to intervene by a provision in the Code; or

(2) Claims an interest relating to the subject of the action and is so situated that disposing of the action may as a practical matter impair or impede the movant's ability to protect its interest, unless existing parties adequately represent that interest.

(b) Permissive Intervention. On timely motion, the court may permit anyone to intervene who:

(1) Is given a conditional right to intervene by a provision in the Code; or

(2) Has a claim or defense that shares with the main action a common question of law or fact.

(c) Delay or Prejudice. In exercising its discretion, the court must consider whether the intervention will unduly delay or prejudice the adjudication of the original parties' rights.

(d) Notice and Pleading Required. A motion to intervene must be served on the parties as provided in Rule 11. The motion must state the grounds for intervention and be accompanied by a pleading that sets out the claim or defense for which intervention is sought.

Rule 31. Substitution of Parties.

If a party dies or becomes incompetent or transfers his interest or separates from some official capacity, a substitute party may be joined or substituted as justice requires.

CHAPTER 5
DISCLOSURE AND DISCOVERY

Rule 32. Prompt Disclosure.

(a) Duty to Disclose, Scope. Within the times set forth in subdivision (b), each party shall disclose in writing to every other party:

(1) The factual basis of the claim or defense. In the event of multiple claims or defenses, the factual basis for each claim or defense.

(2) The legal theory upon which each claim or defense is based including, where necessary for a reasonable understanding of the claim or defense, citations of pertinent legal or case authorities.

(3) The names, addresses, and telephone numbers of any witnesses whom the disclosing party expects to call at trial with a fair description of the substance of each witness' expected testimony.

(4) The names and addresses of all persons whom the party believes may have knowledge or information relevant to the events, transactions, or occurrences that gave rise to the action, and the nature of the knowledge or information each such individual is believed to possess.

(5) The names and addresses of all persons who have given statements, whether written or recorded, signed or unsigned, and the custodian of the copies of those statements.

(6) The name and address of each person whom the disclosing party expects to call as an expert witness at trial, the subject matter on which the expert is expected to testify, the substance of the facts and opinions to which the expert is expected to testify, a summary of the grounds for each opinion, the qualifications of the witness and the name and address of the custodian of copies of any reports prepared by the expert.

(7) A computation and the measure of damage alleged by the disclosing party and the documents or testimony on which such computation and measure are based and the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all damage witnesses.

(8) The existence, location, custodian, and general description of any tangible evidence, relevant documents, or electronically stored information that the disclosing party plans to use at trial and relevant insurance agreements.

(9) A list of the documents or electronically stored information, or in the case of voluminous documentary information or electronically stored information, a list of the categories of documents or electronically stored information, known by a party to exist whether or not in the party's possession, custody or control and which that party believes may be relevant to the subject matter of the action, and those which appear reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence, and the date(s) upon which those documents or electronically stored information will be made, or have been made, available for inspection, copying, testing or sampling. Unless good cause is stated for not doing so, a copy of the documents and electronically stored information listed shall be served with the disclosure. If production is not made, the name and address of the custodian of the documents and electronically stored information shall be indicated. A party who produces documents for inspection shall produce them as they are kept in the usual course of business.

(b) Time for Disclosure; a Continuing Duty.

(1) The parties shall make the initial disclosure required by subsection (a) as fully as then possible within forty (40) days after the filing of a responsive pleading to the complaint, counterclaim, crossclaim or third-party complaint unless the parties otherwise agree, or the Court shortens or extends the time for good cause. If feasible, counsel shall meet to exchange disclosures; otherwise, the disclosures shall be served as provided by Rule 11.

(2) The duty prescribed in subdivision (a) shall be a continuing duty, and each party shall make additional or amended disclosures whenever new or different information is discovered or revealed. Such additional or amended disclosures shall be made seasonably, but in no event more than thirty (30) days after the information is revealed to or discovered by the disclosing party. A party seeking to use information which that party first disclosed later than sixty (60) days before trial shall seek leave of court to extend the time for disclosure.

(3) All disclosures shall include information and data in the possession, custody and control of the parties as well as that which can be ascertained, learned or acquired by reasonable inquiry and investigation.

(c) Signed Disclosure. Each disclosure shall be made in writing under oath, signed by the party making the disclosure.

(d) Claims of Privilege or Protection of Trial Preparation Materials.

(1) When information is withheld from disclosure or discovery on a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation materials, the claim shall be made expressly and shall be supported by a description of the nature of the documents, communications, or things not produced or disclosed that is sufficient to enable other parties to contest the claim.

(2) If a party contends that information subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material has been inadvertently disclosed or produced in discovery, the party making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has made and may not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved. A receiving party may promptly present the information to the court under seal for a determination of the claim. If the receiving party disclosed the information before being notified, it must take reasonable steps to retrieve it. The producing party must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

Rule 33. Discovery Generally.

(a) Discovery Methods. Parties may obtain discovery by one or more of the following methods:

- (1) Depositions upon oral examination or written questions;
- (2) Written interrogatories;
- (3) Production of documents or things or permission to enter upon land or other property, for inspection and other purposes;
- (4) Physical and mental examinations; and
- (5) Requests for admission.

(b) Discovery Scope and Limits. Parties may obtain discovery regarding any matter, not privileged or the work product of a party's legal counsel, which is relevant to the subject matter involved in the pending action, whether it relates to the claim or defense of the party seeking discovery or to the claim or defense of any other party, including the existence, description, nature, custody, condition and location of any books, documents, or other tangible things and the identity and location of persons having knowledge of any discoverable matter. It is not ground for objection that the information sought will be inadmissible at the trial if the information sought appears reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

(c) Protective Order. A party against whom discovery is sought may move the court for a protective order to prevent undue annoyance, harassment, embarrassment, oppression, or undue burden or expense, and the court may order that the discovery cease or proceed only upon specified conditions.

(d) Sequence and Timing of Discovery. Unless the court orders otherwise for the convenience of parties and witnesses and in the interests of justice, methods of discovery may be used in any sequence and the fact that a party is conducting discovery, whether by deposition or otherwise, shall not operate to delay any other party's discovery. A party may not seek discovery from any source before the parties have exchanged disclosure statements as required by Rule 32.

(e) Discovery Requests, Responses, Objections and Sanctions. The court shall assess an appropriate sanction against any party or legal counsel who has engaged in unreasonable, groundless, abusive, or obstructionist conduct.

(f) Discovery Motions. No discovery motion will be considered unless a separate statement of moving counsel is attached thereto certifying that, after personal consultation and good faith efforts to do so, counsel have been unable to satisfactorily resolve the matter.

(g) Use of Discovery. An answer to interrogatories or a deposition may be used in a motion, hearing or at trial to the extent it would otherwise be admissible in accordance with the laws of the Tribe, to impeach or contradict the testimony of the person discovered, or when the person discovered cannot be made available at the hearing or trial.

Rule 34. Oral Depositions.

(a) When Deposition May be Taken. A party may take the oral deposition, under oath or affirmation, of any other party or any expert witness expected to be called upon not less than ten (10) days notice, specifying the time and place where such will occur. No other depositions shall be taken except upon agreement of all parties or an order of the court following a motion demonstrating good cause.

(b) Length of Deposition. Depositions shall be of reasonable length. The oral deposition of any party or witness, including expert witnesses, whenever taken, shall not exceed four (4) hours in length, except pursuant to stipulation of the parties or by order of the court upon motion and a showing of good cause. The court shall impose sanctions for unreasonable, groundless, abusive or obstructionist conduct.

(c) Manner of Taking Deposition. Examination and cross-examination of witnesses may proceed as permitted at the trial. The officer before whom the deposition is to be taken shall put the witness on oath and shall personally, or by someone acting under the officer's direction and in the officer's presence, record the testimony of the witness.

(d) Objections. All objections made at the time of the deposition to the qualifications of the officer taking the deposition, or to the manner of taking it, or to the evidence presented, or to the conduct of any party, and any other objection to the proceedings, shall be noted by the officer upon the deposition. Evidence objected to shall be taken subject to the objections.

Rule 35. Written Depositions.

(a) Serving Questions. A party may take the testimony of any other party or any expert witness expected to be called by deposition upon written questions by serving them on the individual to be deposed and every other party with a notice stating the name and address of the person who is to answer them. Within 30 days after the notice and written questions are served, a party may serve cross questions upon all other parties. Within 10 days after being served with cross questions, a party may serve redirect questions upon all other parties. Within 10 days after being served with redirect questions, a party may serve recross questions upon all other parties. The court may for cause shown enlarge or shorten the time. No other depositions shall be taken except upon agreement of all parties or an order of the court following a motion demonstrating good cause.

(b) Length of Deposition. Depositions shall be of reasonable length. The court shall impose sanctions for unreasonable, groundless, abusive or obstructionist conduct.

(c) Manner of Taking Deposition. A copy of the notice and copies of all questions served shall be delivered by the party taking the deposition to the officer designated to take the deposition, who shall proceed promptly to take the testimony of the witness in response to the questions and to prepare, certify, and file or mail the deposition, attaching thereto the copy of the notice and the questions received by the officer.

(d) Objections. Objections shall be the same as with oral depositions.

Rule 36. Interrogatories.

(a) Availability and Use. Unless otherwise stipulated or ordered by the court, a party may submit no more than 25 written interrogatories, including all discrete subparts, to be answered by any other party served who shall furnish such information in response as is available to the party. Each interrogatory shall be answered separately and fully in writing under oath, unless it is objected to, in which event the reasons for objection shall be stated in lieu of an answer. The answers are to be signed by the person making them, and the objections signed by legal counsel making them.

(b) Time for Response. The party upon whom the interrogatories have been served shall serve a copy of the answers, and objections if any, within thirty (30) days after the service of the interrogatories. The court may allow a shorter or longer time.

(c) Option to Produce Records. Where the answer to an interrogatory may be derived or ascertained from the records of the party upon whom the interrogatory has been served and the burden of deriving or ascertaining the answer is substantially the same for the party serving the interrogatory as for the party served, it is a sufficient answer to such interrogatory to specify the records from which the answer may be derived or ascertained and to afford the party serving the interrogatory reasonable opportunity to examine, audit or inspect such records and to make copies, compilations, abstracts or summaries.

Rule 37. Production, Entry, or Inspection.

(a) Scope. A party may serve on any other party a request within the scope of Rule 33(b):

(1) To produce and permit the requesting party or its representative to inspect, copy, test, or sample any designated documents or electronically stored information or any designated tangible things; or

(2) To permit entry onto designated land or other property possessed or controlled by the responding party, so that the requesting party may inspect, measure, survey, photograph, test, or sample the property or any designated object or operation on it.

(b) Procedure and Limitations. The request:

(1) Must describe with reasonable particularity each item or category of items to be inspected, not to include more than ten (10) distinct items or categories of items without leave of court;

(2) Must specify a reasonable time, place, and manner for the inspection and for performing the related acts; and

(3) May specify the form or forms in which electronically stored information is to be produced.

(c) Response to Request. The party upon whom a request is served shall serve a written response within thirty (30) days after the service of the request. The court may allow a shorter or longer time. The response shall state, with respect to each item or category, that inspection and related activities will be allowed as requested or identify the reasons for any objection.

Rule 38. Physical and Mental Examinations.

(a) The court may order a party whose mental or physical condition is in controversy to submit to a physical or mental examination by a suitably licensed or certified examiner. The order may be made only on motion for good cause and on notice to all parties and the person to be examined and must specify the time, place, manner, conditions, and scope of the examination, as well as the person or persons who will perform it.

(b) The person to be examined shall have the right to have a representative present during the examination, unless the presence of that representative may adversely affect the outcome of the examination. The person to be examined shall have the right to record by audiotape any physical examination. A mental examination may be recorded by audiotape, unless such recording may adversely affect the outcome of the examination. Upon good cause shown, a physical or mental examination may be video-recorded. A copy of any record made of a physical or mental examination shall be provided to any party upon request.

(c) The examiner shall issue a report to the requestor which must be in writing and must set out in detail the examiner's findings, including diagnoses, conclusions, and the results of any tests. The requestor shall serve copies of the report upon all other parties. If the report is not provided, the court may exclude the examiner's testimony at trial.

Rule 39. Requests for Admission.

(a) Scope. A party may serve on any other party a written request to admit, for purposes of the pending action only, the truth of any matters within the scope of Rule 33(b) relating to:

(1) Facts, the application of law to fact, or opinions about either; and

(2) The genuineness of any described documents.

(b) Form. Each matter must be separately stated. A request to admit the genuineness of a document must be accompanied by a copy of the document unless it is, or has been, otherwise furnished or made available for inspection and copying. Each party shall be entitled to submit no more than twenty-five (25) requests in any case except upon agreement of all parties or an order of the court following a motion demonstrating good cause. Any interrogatories accompanying requests shall be deemed interrogatories under Rule 36.

(c) Time to Respond; Effect of Not Responding. A matter is admitted unless, within 30 days after being served, the party to whom the request is directed serves on the requesting party a written answer or objection addressed to the matter and signed by the party or its legal counsel. If objection is made, the reasons therefor shall be stated. A shorter or longer time for responding may be stipulated to or ordered by the court.

(d) Answer. If a matter is not admitted, the answer must specifically deny it or state in detail why the answering party cannot truthfully admit or deny it. A denial must fairly respond to the substance of the matter; and when good faith requires that a party qualify an answer or deny only a part of a matter, the answer must specify the part admitted and qualify or deny the rest. The answering party may assert lack of knowledge or information as a reason for failing to admit or deny only if the party states that it has made reasonable inquiry and that the information it knows or can readily obtain is insufficient to enable it to admit or deny.

(e) Objections. The grounds for objecting to a request must be stated. A party must not object solely on the ground that the request presents a genuine issue for trial.

(f) Effect of Admission. Any matter admitted under this rule is conclusively established unless the court on motion permits withdrawal or amendment of the admission. The court may permit withdrawal or amendment when the presentation of the merits of the action will be subserved thereby and the party who obtained the admission fails to satisfy the court that withdrawal or amendment will prejudice that party in maintaining the action or defense on the merits. Any admission made by a party under this rule is for the purpose of the pending action only and is not an admission for any other purpose nor may it be used against the party in any other proceeding.

Rule 40. Failure to Make Disclosures or Discovery.

(a) Motion. A party, upon reasonable notice to other parties and all persons affected thereby, may apply for an order compelling disclosure or discovery. No motion brought under this rule will be considered unless a separate statement of moving counsel is attached certifying that, after personal consultation and good faith efforts to do so, counsel have been unable to satisfactorily resolve the matter. For purposes of this rule, an evasive or incomplete disclosure, answer, or response is to be treated as a failure to disclose, answer, or respond.

(b) Expenses.

(1) If the motion is granted or if the disclosure or requested discovery is provided after the motion was filed, the court shall, after affording an opportunity to be heard, require the party or deponent whose conduct necessitated the motion or the party or legal counsel advising such conduct or both of them to pay the moving party the reasonable expenses incurred in making the motion, including legal counsel's fees, unless:

(i) The court finds that the motion was filed without the movant's first making a good faith effort to obtain the disclosure or discovery without court action;

(ii) That the opposing party's nondisclosure, response, or objection was substantially justified; or

(iii) That other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

(2) If the motion is denied, the court may enter a protective order under Rule 33(c) and shall, after affording an opportunity to be heard, require the moving party or legal counsel filing the motion or both of them to pay to the party who opposed the motion the reasonable expenses incurred in opposing the motion, including legal counsel's fees, unless the court finds that the making of the motion was substantially justified or that other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

(3) If the motion is granted in part and denied in part, the court may enter a protective order under Rule 33(c) and may, after affording an opportunity to be heard, apportion the reasonable expenses incurred in relation to the motion among the parties and persons in a just manner.

(c) Sanctions. If a party fails to obey an order to provide or permit discovery, the court may make such orders in regard to the failure as are just, including:

(1) An order that matters regarding which the order was made or any other designated facts shall be taken to be established for the purposes of the action in accordance with the claim of the party obtaining the order;

(2) An order refusing to allow the disobedient party to support or oppose designated claims or defenses, or prohibiting that party from introducing designated matters in evidence;

(3) An order striking out pleadings or parts thereof, or staying further proceedings until the order is obeyed, or dismissing the action or proceeding or any part thereof, or rendering a judgment by default against the disobedient party; and

(4) In lieu of any of the foregoing orders or in addition thereto, an order treating as a contempt of court the failure to obey any orders except an order to submit to a physical or mental examination.

In lieu of any of the foregoing orders or in addition thereto, the court shall require the party failing to obey the order or the legal counsel advising that party or both to pay the reasonable expenses, including legal counsel's fees, caused by the failure, unless the court finds that the failure was substantially justified or that other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

(d) Failure to Disclose.

(1) A party who fails to timely disclose information required by Rule 32 shall not, unless such failure is harmless, be permitted to use as evidence at trial, at a hearing, or on a motion, the information or witness not disclosed, except by leave of court for good cause shown. In addition to or in lieu of these sanctions, the court on motion of a party or on the court's own motion, and after affording an opportunity to be heard, may impose other appropriate sanctions, including informing the trier of fact of the failure to make the disclosure.

(2) A party seeking to use information which that party first disclosed later than sixty (60) days before trial must obtain leave of court by motion, supported by affidavit, to extend the time for disclosure. Such information shall not be used unless the motion establishes and the court finds:

(i) That the information would be allowed under the standards of subsection (d)(1); and

(ii) That the information was disclosed as soon as practicable after its discovery.

(3) A party seeking to use information which that party first disclosed during trial must obtain leave of court by motion, supported by affidavit, to extend the time for disclosure. Such information shall not be used unless the motion establishes and the court finds:

(i) That the information could not have been discovered and disclosed earlier even with due diligence; and

(ii) That the information was disclosed immediately upon its discovery.

(e) Expenses on Failure to Admit. If a party fails to admit the genuineness of any document or the truth of any matter as requested under Rule 39, and if the party requesting the admissions thereafter proves the genuineness of the document or the truth of the matter, the requesting party may apply to the court for an order requiring the other party to pay the reasonable expenses incurred in making that proof, including reasonable legal counsel's fees. The court shall make the order unless it finds that:

- (1) The request was held objectionable;
- (2) The admission sought was of no substantial importance;
- (3) The party failing to admit had reasonable ground to believe that the party might prevail on the matter; or
- (4) There was other good reason for the failure to admit.

CHAPTER 6 TRIALS

Rule 41. Assigning Case for Trial.

(a) Assignment of Judge and Date. The Chief Judge shall determine which judge shall hear a case, and shall provide by rule for the placing of cases on the Court calendar with or without the request of any party provided all parties are given adequate notice of trial dates.

(b) Postponement. Upon motion of a party, the Court may in its discretion, and upon such terms as it deems just, including the payment of any cost occasioned by such postponement, postpone a trial or proceeding upon good cause shown.

Rule 42. Dismissal of Actions.

(a) Voluntary Dismissal.

(1) Without Court Order.

(i) Subject to any applicable law of the Tribe, a plaintiff or petitioner may dismiss an action without a court order by filing:

(A) A notice of dismissal before the opposing party serves a responsive pleading, a motion under Rule 22 or a motion for summary judgment, or, if there is no responsive pleading, before evidence is introduced at a hearing or trial; or

(B) A stipulation of dismissal signed by all parties who have appeared.

(ii) Effect. Unless the notice or stipulation states otherwise, the dismissal is without prejudice. But if the plaintiff or petitioner previously dismissed any court action based on or including the same claim, a notice of dismissal operates as an adjudication on the merits.

(2) By Court Order. Except as provided in subsection (a)(1), an action may be dismissed at the plaintiff's or petitioner's request only by court order, on terms that the court considers proper. If a defendant or respondent has pleaded a counterclaim before being served with the plaintiff's or petitioner's motion to dismiss, the action may be dismissed over the defendant's or respondent's objection only if the counterclaim can remain pending for independent adjudication. Unless the order states otherwise, a dismissal under this paragraph is without prejudice.

(b) Involuntary Dismissal.

(1) Grounds. A defendant or respondent may move to dismiss the action or any claim against him based upon any of the following grounds:

(i) Failure of the plaintiff or petitioner to prosecute his claim;

(ii) Failure of the plaintiff or petitioner to comply with these rules or an order of the court;

(iii) At the close of the presentation of the plaintiff's or petitioner's evidence and without prejudicing the defendant's or respondent's own right to present evidence, failure of the plaintiff or petitioner to establish a right to relief based on the facts and law presented; or

(iv) Whenever dismissal appears proper based upon a failure to prove a claim.

(2) Effect. Unless the dismissal order states otherwise, a dismissal under this subdivision (b) and any dismissal not under this rule, except one for lack of jurisdiction or failure to join a party, operates as an adjudication on the merits.

(c) Dismissing a Counterclaim, Crossclaim, or Third-Party Claim. This rule applies to a dismissal of any counterclaim, crossclaim, or third-party claim.

(d) Costs of a Dismissed Action. If a plaintiff or petitioner moves to dismiss his own claim and the action has progressed beyond the pleading stage, the court may order the plaintiff or petitioner to pay all or part of the costs of the defendant or respondent. The court may also order the payment of costs in other circumstances where such is deemed appropriate.

Rule 43. Consolidation; Separate Trials.

(a) Consolidation. If actions before the court involve a common question of law or fact, the court may:

(1) Join for hearing or trial any or all matters at issue in the actions;

(2) Consolidate the actions; or

(3) Issue any other orders to avoid unnecessary cost or delay.

(b) Separate Trials. For convenience, to avoid prejudice, or to expedite and economize, the court may order a separate trial of one or more separate issues, claims, crossclaims, counterclaims, or third-party claims.

Rule 44. Evidence and Testimony.

(a) Testimony in Open Court. At trial or hearing, the witnesses' testimony must be taken in open court unless a law of the Tribe, these rules, or other rules adopted by the court provide otherwise. For good cause in compelling circumstances and with appropriate safeguards, the court may permit testimony in open court by contemporaneous transmission from a different location.

(b) Form of Testimony and Admissibility. The testimony of witnesses shall be taken orally under oath, unless otherwise provided in these rules. All relevant evidence and evidence as specified in this Code is admissible, but the court may exclude evidence if its probative value is outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice, by confusion of the issues, or by considerations of undue delay, waste of time, or needless presentation of cumulative evidence. The competency of witnesses to testify shall be similarly determined.

(c) Affirmation Instead of an Oath. When these rules require an oath, a solemn affirmation suffices.

(d) Examination and Cross Examination.

(1) A party may call any person to be a witness and examine any witness so called on any matter relevant to the action. A party may impeach his own witness.

(2) A party may use leading questions against the witnesses of an opposing party or a hostile witness or whenever such appears reasonably necessary to elicit testimony from witnesses.

(3) Cross examination shall be limited to the general scope of direct examination; provided, however, that full examination of all witnesses shall be allowed to assure complete development of all relevant facts.

(e) Physical Evidence. Written documents and other physical evidence shall be received upon being identified, authenticated, and shown to be relevant to the action.

(f) Official Documents. Official documents or an official law, record or copy thereof may be admitted into evidence upon the testimony of an official having custody or official knowledge thereof or without such testimony if the document or record or copy thereof is accompanied by a certificate identifying such thing and stating that it is a true and correct representation of what it purports to be.

(g) Record of Excluded Evidence. Excluded evidence may, upon request, be included in the record for purposes of appeal and excluded oral testimony may be received into the record.

(h) Evidence on a Motion. When a motion relies on facts outside the record, the court may hear the matter on affidavits or may hear it wholly or partly on oral testimony or on depositions.

(i) Supplemental Rules. If the court has not developed rules of evidence or to the extent the court's rules of evidence are insufficient, the court may follow the Federal Rules of Evidence in any action or proceeding so long as they are consistent with the Code. The rules of evidence may be waived at the discretion of the Court, where the parties are unrepresented by counsel.

Rule 45. Subpoenas.

(a) In General.

(1) Form and Contents.

(i) Requirements. Every subpoena must:

(A) State the court from which it issued;

(B) State the title of the action and its case number;

(C) Command each person to whom it is directed to do the following at a specified time and place: attend and testify at a deposition, hearing or trial; produce designated documents or things in that person's possession, custody, or control; or permit the inspection of premises;

(D) Identify the party and the party's legal counsel, if any, who is serving the subpoena;

(E) Identify the names, addresses and phone numbers and email addresses, where known, of legal counsel for each of the parties and of each party who has appeared in the action without legal counsel;

(F) State the method for recording the testimony if the subpoena commands attendance at a deposition; and

(G) Set out the text of subsections (d) and (e) of this rule.

(ii) Combining or Separating a Command to Produce or to Permit Inspection. A command to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things or to permit the inspection of premises may be included in a subpoena commanding attendance at a deposition, hearing, or trial, or may be set out in a separate subpoena.

(2) Issued by Whom. The Tribal Court Administrator must issue a subpoena, signed but otherwise in blank, to a party who requests it. That party must complete it before service. Legal counsel, as an officer of the court, may also issue and sign a subpoena if the legal counsel is authorized to practice in the court and has entered an appearance in the action.

(3) Notice to Other Parties Before Service. If a subpoena commands the production of documents or things or the inspection of premises, a notice and a copy of the subpoena must be served on each party before it is served on the person to whom it is directed.

(b) Service.

(1) Time for Service. Unless otherwise ordered by the court for good cause:

(i) Service of a subpoena only for testimony in a trial or hearing shall be made no later than five (5) days before the time for appearance set out in the subpoena.

(ii) Service of a subpoena only for testimony in a deposition shall be made not later than fourteen (14) days before compliance is required.

(iii) Service of a subpoena commanding a person to produce documents or things shall be made not later than fourteen (14) days before compliance is required.

(2) How Served. Subpoenas shall be served as provided in Rule 10.

(c) Place of Compliance.

(1) For a Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a deposition only within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

(i) Production of documents or things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and

(ii) Inspection of premises at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or legal counsel responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction, which may include lost earnings and reasonable legal counsel's fees, on a party or legal counsel who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(i) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents or things or to permit the inspection of premises need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(ii) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or legal counsel designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or fourteen (14) days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the party issuing the subpoena is not entitled to receive testimony or to inspect, copy, test or sample materials except pursuant to an order of the court from which the subpoena was issued. If an objection is made, at any time on notice to the subpoenaed person and the other parties, the party issuing the subpoena may move the issuing court for an order compelling production.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(i) When Required. On timely motion, the court must quash or modify a subpoena that:

(A) Fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;

(B) Requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in this rule;

(C) Requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or

(D) Subjects a person to undue burden.

(ii) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires disclosing a trade secret or other confidential information.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents.

(i) Unless agreed in writing by all parties and the person subpoenaed, production shall not be made until at least fourteen (14) days after service of the subpoena.

(ii) A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents or things need not attend in person at the place of production unless also commanded to attend for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(iii) A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(i) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

(A) Expressly make the claim; and

(B) Describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(ii) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(f) Contempt. The court may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

(g) Tender of Payment for Mileage. If a subpoena requires a person's attendance, the payment for one (1) day's mileage allowed by law must be tendered to the subpoenaed person at the time of service of the subpoena or within a reasonable time after service of the subpoena, but in any event prior to the appearance date. Payment for mileage need not be tendered when the subpoena issues on behalf of the Tribe or any of its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers or employees in their capacities as such.

(h) Subpoena Unnecessary. A person present in court, or before a judicial officer, may be required to testify in the same manner as if he were in attendance upon a subpoena.

Rule 46. Judgment as a Matter of Law; Motion for New Trial; Conditional Ruling.

(a) Judgment as a Matter of Law.

(1) In General. If a party has been fully heard on an issue and the court finds that a reasonable trier of fact would not have a legally sufficient evidentiary basis to find for the party on that issue, the court may:

(i) Resolve the issue against the party; and

(ii) Grant a motion for judgment as a matter of law against the party on a claim or defense that, under the controlling law, can be maintained or defeated only with a favorable finding on that issue.

(2) Motion. A motion for judgment as a matter of law may be made at any time before the case is submitted to the trier of fact. The motion must specify the judgment sought and the law and facts that entitle the movant to the judgment.

(b) Renewing the Motion After Trial; Alternative Motion for a New Trial. If the court does not grant a motion for judgment as a matter of law made under subsection (a) of this rule, the action is considered to have been submitted subject to the court's later deciding the legal questions raised by the motion. No later than thirty (30) days after the entry of judgment, the movant may file a renewed motion for judgment as a matter of law and may include an alternative or joint request for a new trial under these rules. In ruling on the renewed motion, the court may:

(1) Allow judgment as originally decided;

(2) Order a new trial; or

(3) Direct the entry of judgment as a matter of law.

Rule 47. Findings and Conclusions by the Court.

(a) Findings and Conclusions.

(1) In General. In an action tried on the facts, the court must find the facts specially and state its conclusions of law separately. The findings and conclusions may be stated on the record after the close of the evidence or may appear in an opinion or a memorandum of decision filed by the court. Judgment must be entered in accordance with these rules.

(2) For a Preliminary or Interlocutory Injunction. In granting or refusing a preliminary or interlocutory injunction, the court must similarly state the findings and conclusions that support its action.

(3) For a Motion. The court is not required to state findings or conclusions when ruling on a motion unless these rules provide otherwise.

(b) Amended or Additional Findings. On a party's motion filed no later than ten (10) days after the entry of judgment, the court may amend its findings, or make additional findings, and may amend the judgment accordingly. The motion may accompany a motion for a new trial under these rules.

JUDGMENT

Rule 48. Judgments; Costs.

(a) Definition; Form. "Judgment" as used in these rules includes any decree or order finally and conclusively determining the rights of the parties or from which an appeal otherwise lies.

(b) Judgment on Multiple Claims or Involving Multiple Parties. When an action presents more than one claim for relief, whether as a claim, counterclaim, crossclaim, or third-party claim, or when multiple parties are involved, the court may direct entry of a final judgment as to one or more, but fewer than all, claims or parties only if the court expressly determines that there is no just reason for delay. Otherwise, any order or other decision, however designated, that adjudicates fewer than all the claims or the rights and liabilities of fewer than all the parties does not end the action as to any of the claims or parties and may be revised at any time before the entry of a judgment adjudicating all the claims and all the parties' rights and liabilities. For purposes of this subsection, a claim for legal counsels' fees may be considered a separate claim from the related judgment regarding the merits of a cause.

(c) Demand for Judgment. A default judgment must not differ in kind from, or exceed in amount, what is demanded in the pleadings. Every other final judgment should grant the relief to which each party is entitled, even if the party has not demanded that relief in its pleadings.

(d) Costs. Unless a law of the Tribe, these rules, or a court order provides otherwise, costs other than legal counsel's fees should be allowed to the prevailing party. But costs against the Tribe, its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers and employees in their capacities as such may be imposed only to the extent allowed by the laws of the Tribe. The Tribal Court Administrator may tax costs on five (5) days' notice. On motion served within the next ten (10) days, the court may review the Tribal Court Administrator's action.

(e) Legal counsel's Fees.

(1) When Allowed. The court shall not award legal counsel's fees in a case unless an award of legal counsel's fees:

(i) Is expressly permitted under the laws of the Tribe;

(ii) Has been specifically provided for in a contract or agreement of the parties subject of the case; or

(iii) Is warranted on the grounds that the case was brought for purposes of harassment only or there was no reasonable expectation of success on the part of the plaintiff or petitioner.

(2) Claim to Be by Motion. A claim for legal counsel's fees and related nontaxable expenses must be made by motion unless the substantive law requires those fees to be proved at trial as an element of damages.

(3) Timing and Contents of the Motion. Unless a law of the Tribe or a court order provides otherwise, the motion must:

(i) Be filed no later than fourteen (14) days after the entry of judgment;

(ii) Specify the judgment and the statute, rule, or other grounds entitling the movant to the award;

(iii) State the amount sought or provide a fair estimate of it; and

(iv) Disclose, if the court so orders, the terms of any agreement about fees for the services for which the claim is made.

(4) Proceedings. The court must, on a party's request, give an opportunity for adversary submissions on the motion. The court may decide issues of liability for fees before receiving submissions on the value of services. The court must find the facts and state its conclusions of law as provided in Rule 47(a).

(5) Exceptions. Subsections (1)-(3) do not apply to claims for fees and expenses as sanctions for violating these rules.

Rule 49. Default.

(a) Entering a Default. When a party against whom a judgment for affirmative relief is sought has failed to plead or otherwise defend, and that failure is shown by affidavit or otherwise, the Tribal Court Administrator must enter the party's default.

(b) Entering a Default Judgment.

(1) By the Tribal Court Administrator. If the plaintiff's or petitioner's claim is for a sum certain or a sum that can be made certain by computation, the Tribal Court Administrator, on the plaintiff's or petitioner's request with an affidavit showing the amount due, must enter judgment for that amount and costs against a defendant or respondent who has been defaulted for not appearing and who is neither a minor nor an incompetent person.

(2) By the Court. In all other cases, the party must apply to the court for a default judgment. A default judgment may be entered against a minor or incompetent person only if represented by a general guardian, conservator, or other like fiduciary who has appeared. If the party against whom a default judgment is sought has appeared personally or by a representative, that party or its representative must be served with written notice of the application at least ten (10) days before the hearing. The court may conduct hearings when, to enter or effectuate judgment, it needs to:

- (i) Conduct an accounting;
 - (ii) Determine the amount of damages;
 - (iii) Establish the truth of any allegation by evidence;
- or
- (iv) Investigate any other matter.

(c) Setting Aside a Default or a Default Judgment. The court may set aside an entry of default for good cause and may set aside a default judgment under Rule 55(b).

(d) Judgment Against the Tribe. A default judgment may be entered against the Tribe, its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers or employees in their capacities as such only if the claimant establishes a claim or right to relief by evidence that satisfies the court.

Rule 50. Summary Judgment.

(a) Motion for Summary Judgment or Partial Summary Judgment. A party may move for summary judgment, identifying each claim or defense, or the part of each claim or defense, on which summary judgment is sought. The court shall grant summary judgment if the movant shows that there is no genuine dispute as to any material fact and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. The court should state on the record the reasons for granting or denying the motion.

(b) Time to File a Motion. Unless the court orders otherwise, a party may file a motion for summary judgment at any time thirty (30) days after from the service of process upon the adverse party, but no sooner than the date on which the answer is due and no later than ninety (90) days prior to the date set for trial.

(c) Motion and Proceedings.

(1) Time for Hearing. Upon timely request by any party, the court shall set a time for hearing on the motion, provided, however, that the court need not conduct a hearing if it determines that the motion should be denied or if the motion is uncontested. If no request for a hearing is made, the court may, in its discretion, set a time for such hearing.

(2) Response and Reply. A party opposing the motion must file its response and any supporting materials within thirty (30) days after service of the motion. The moving party shall have fifteen (15) days after service of the response in which to serve a reply memorandum and any supporting materials. These time periods may be shortened or enlarged by a filed stipulation of the parties or by court order; provided, however, that court approval is required for any stipulated extensions to a briefing schedule that would purport to make a reply or other memorandum due less than five days before a hearing date previously set by the court, or would require postponement of a scheduled hearing date.

(3) Statement of Facts. Any party filing a motion for summary judgment shall set forth, in a statement separate from the memorandum of law, the specific facts relied upon in support of the motion. The facts shall be stated in concise, numbered paragraphs. As to each fact, the statement shall refer to the specific portion of the record where the fact may be found. Any party opposing a motion for summary judgment shall file a statement in the form prescribed by this rule, specifying those paragraphs in the moving party's statement of facts which are disputed, and also setting forth those facts which establish a genuine issue of material fact or otherwise preclude summary judgment in favor of the moving party. In the alternative, the movant and the party opposing the motion shall file a joint statement in the form prescribed by this rule, setting forth those material facts as to which there is no genuine dispute. The joint statement may provide that any stipulation of fact is not intended to be binding for any purpose other than the motion for summary judgment.

(d) Form of Affidavits and Depositions; Further testimony.

(1) An affidavit or declaration used to support or oppose a motion must be made on personal knowledge, set out facts that would be admissible in evidence, and show that the affiant or declarant is competent to testify on the matters stated. If a paper or part of a paper is referred to in an affidavit, a properly authenticated copy shall be attached to or served with the affidavit.

(2) Affidavits may be supplemented or opposed by depositions, answers to interrogatories, additional affidavits or other materials that would be admissible in evidence.

(3) If all or part of a deposition is submitted in support of or in opposition to a motion for summary judgment, the offering party must submit a written transcript of the testimony.

(4) When a motion for summary judgment is made and supported as provided in this rule, an opposing party may not rely merely on allegations or denials of its own pleading; rather, its response must, by affidavits or as otherwise provided in this rule, set forth specific facts showing a genuine issue for trial. If the opposing party does not so respond, summary judgment, if appropriate, shall be entered against that party.

(e) When Facts Are Unavailable to the Nonmovant. If a nonmovant shows by affidavit or declaration that, for specified reasons, it cannot present facts essential to justify its opposition, the court may:

(1) Defer considering the motion or deny it;

(2) Allow time to obtain affidavits or declarations or to take discovery; or

(3) Issue any other appropriate order.

Unless otherwise ordered by the court, the filing of a request for relief and affidavit under this subsection does not by itself extend the date by which the party opposing summary judgment must file a memorandum and separate statement of facts as prescribed in section (c) of this rule.

(f) Judgment Independent of the Motion. After giving notice and a reasonable time to respond, the court may:

(1) Grant summary judgment for a nonmovant;

(2) Grant the motion on grounds not raised by a party; or

(3) Consider summary judgment on its own after identifying for the parties material facts that may not be genuinely in dispute.

(g) Declining to Grant All Requested Relief. If the court does not grant all the relief requested by the motion, it may enter an order stating any material fact, including an item of damages or other relief, that is not genuinely in dispute and treating the fact as established in the case.

(h) Affidavit or Declaration Submitted in Bad Faith. If satisfied that an affidavit or declaration under this rule is submitted in bad faith or solely for delay, the court, after notice and a reasonable time to respond, may order the submitting party to pay the other party the reasonable expenses, including legal counsel's fees, it incurred as a result. An offending party or legal counsel may also be held in contempt or subjected to other appropriate sanctions.

Rule 51. Declaratory Judgments. The procedure for obtaining a declaratory judgment shall be in accordance with these rules and the laws of the Tribe applicable to declaratory judgments. The existence of another adequate remedy does not preclude a judgment for declaratory relief in cases where it is appropriate.

Rule 52. Entry of Judgment.

(a) Separate Document. Every judgment and amended judgment must be set out in a separate document.

(b) Entering Judgment. All judgments shall be in writing and signed by a judge. The filing with the Tribal Court Administrator of the judgment constitutes entry of such judgment, and the judgment is not effective before such entry, except that in such circumstances and on such notice as justice may require, the court may direct the entry of a judgment nunc pro tunc, and the reasons for such direction shall be entered of record. The Tribal Court Administrator shall immediately make a notation of the judgment in the docket. The entry of the judgment shall not be delayed for taxing costs.

(c) Notice of Entry.

(1) Orders. The Tribal Court Administrator shall distribute, either by U.S. mail, electronic mail, or hand delivery, copies of all orders to all parties.

(2) Judgment. Immediately upon the entry of a judgment as defined in Rule 52(b), the Tribal Court Administrator shall distribute, either by U.S. mail, electronic mail, or hand delivery, a notice of the entry of judgment stating the date of entry, in the manner provided for in Rule 11, to every party who is not in default for failure to appear, and shall make a record of the distribution.

(3) Date of Entry. In the absence of a date of entry stated in a notice of entry, the date of entry shall be the date on which the Tribal Court Administrator affixes a file stamp on the written judgment or order.

(4) Failure of Notice. Lack of notice of the entry by the Tribal Court Administrator does not affect the time to appeal or relieve or authorize the court to relieve a party for failure to appeal within the time allowed, except as provided in the rules governing appellate procedure.

(5) Form of Notice. Notice of the entry of judgment shall be accomplished by any of the following:

(i) A specifically designated notice form; or

(ii) A conformed copy of the file stamped judgment or order.

(d) Death of a Party. If a party dies after a decision upon any issue of fact and before judgment, judgment may nevertheless be entered thereon.

Rule 53. Satisfaction of Judgment.

(a) Satisfaction by Acknowledgment. When any judgment or decree is satisfied otherwise than by execution, the judgment creditor shall immediately file an acknowledgment of satisfaction. If the satisfaction is for part of the judgment or for fewer than all of the judgment debtors, it shall state the amount paid or name the debtors who are released. Satisfaction may be entered by the judgment creditor, his legal counsel of record, or an agent; if entered by an agent who is not the legal counsel of record, his authority shall be filed.

(b) Satisfaction by Order of Court. The court may, upon motion and satisfactory proof, enter an order declaring the judgment satisfied.

(c) Entry of Satisfaction. The Tribal Court Administrator shall file all satisfactions of judgment and note the amount thereof in the docket.

(d) Effect of Satisfaction. Satisfaction of a judgment, whether by acknowledgement or order, shall discharge the judgment, and the judgment shall cease to be a lien as to the debtors named and to the extent of the amount paid. A writ of execution or a writ of garnishment issued after partial satisfaction shall include the partial satisfaction and shall direct the officer to collect only the balance of the judgment, or to collect only from the judgment debtors remaining liable.

(e) Period of Limitation. A partially satisfied judgment or unsatisfied judgment shall continue in effect for eight (8) years or until satisfied. An action to renew the judgment remaining unsatisfied may be maintained any time prior to the expiration of eight (8) years and will extend the period of limitations an additional eight (8) years and may be thereafter extended once more by the same procedure.

Rule 54. New Trials; Altering or Amending Judgment.

(a) Grounds; Procedure. A decision or judgment may be vacated and a new trial granted on motion of the aggrieved party for any of the following causes materially affecting that party's rights:

(1) Irregularity in the proceedings of the court or prevailing party, or any order or abuse of discretion, whereby the moving party was deprived of a fair trial;

(2) Misconduct of the prevailing party;

(3) Accident or surprise which could not have been prevented by ordinary prudence;

(4) Material evidence, newly discovered, which with reasonable diligence could not have been discovered and produced at the trial;

(5) Excessive or insufficient damages;

(6) Error in the admission or rejection of evidence or other errors of law occurring at the trial or during the progress of the action;

(7) That the decision, findings of fact, or judgment is the result of passion or prejudice;

(8) That the decision, findings of fact, or judgment is not justified by the evidence or is contrary to law.

(b) Scope. A new trial may be granted to all or any of the parties and on all or part of the issues in an action, for any of the reasons for which new trials are authorized by law or rule of court. On a motion for a new trial, the court may open the judgment if one has been entered, take additional testimony, amend findings of fact and conclusions of law or make new findings and conclusions, and direct the entry of a new judgment.

(c) Contents of motion; Amendment; Rulings Reviewable.

(1) The motion for new trial shall be in writing, shall specify generally the grounds upon which the motion is based, and may be amended at any time before it is ruled upon by the court.

(2) Upon the general ground that the court erred in admitting or rejecting evidence, the court shall review all rulings during the trial upon objections to evidence.

(3) Upon the general ground that the decision, findings of fact, or judgment is not justified by the evidence, the court shall review the sufficiency of the evidence.

(d) Time. A motion for new trial shall be filed not later than ten (10) days after entry of the judgment.

(e) Time for Serving Affidavits. When a motion for new trial is based upon affidavits they shall be served with the motion. The opposing party has ten (10) days after such service within which to serve opposing affidavits, which period may be extended for an additional period not exceeding twenty (20) days either by the court for good cause shown or by the parties by written stipulation. The court may permit reply affidavits.

(f) On Initiative of Court. Not later than ten (10) days after entry of judgment, the court on its own initiative may order a new trial for any reason for which it might have granted a new trial on motion of a party. After giving the parties notice and an opportunity to be heard on the matter, the court may grant a motion for a new trial, timely served, for a reason not stated in the motion. In either case, the court shall specify in the order the grounds therefor.

(g) Questions to be Considered in New Trial. A new trial, if granted, shall be only a new trial of the question or questions with respect to which the decision is found erroneous, if separable. If a new trial is ordered because the damages are excessive or inadequate and granted solely for that reason, the decision shall be set aside only in respect of the damages, and shall stand in all other respects.

(h) Motion to Alter or Amend Judgment. A motion to alter or amend the judgment shall be filed not later than ten (10) days after entry of judgment.

(i) Number of New Trials. Not more than two (2) new trials shall be granted to either party in the same action, except when the trier of fact has been guilty of some misconduct or has erred in matters of law.

(j) Specification of Grounds of New Trial. No order granting a new trial shall be made and entered unless the order specifies with particularity the ground or grounds on which the new trial is granted.

Rule 55. Relief From Judgment or Order.

(a) Clerical Mistakes. The court may correct a clerical mistake or a mistake arising from oversight or omission whenever one is found in a judgment, order, or other part of the record. The court may do so on motion or on its own, with or without notice. But after an appeal has been docketed in the appellate court and while it is pending, such a mistake may be corrected only with the appellate court's leave.

(b) Grounds for Relief from a Final Judgment, Order, or Proceeding. On motion and just terms, the court may relieve a party or its legal representative from a final judgment, order, or proceeding for the following reasons:

(1) Mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect;

(2) Newly discovered evidence that, with reasonable diligence, could not have been discovered in time to move for a new trial under Rule 54;

(3) Fraud (whether intrinsic or extrinsic), misrepresentation, or misconduct by an opposing party;

(4) When the summons in an action has not been personally served upon the defendant or respondent and the defendant or respondent has failed to appear in said action;

(5) The judgment is void;

(6) The judgment has been satisfied, released, or discharged; it is based on an earlier judgment that has been reversed or vacated; or applying it prospectively is no longer equitable; or

(7) Any other reason that justifies relief.

(c) Reversed Foreign Judgment. When a judgment has been rendered upon the judgment of another jurisdiction, and the foreign judgment is thereafter reversed or set aside by a court of such other jurisdiction, the court shall set aside, vacate and annul its judgment.

(d) Timing and Effect of Motion.

(1) Timing. A motion under subsection (b) must be made within a reasonable time and for reasons (1), (2), (3) and (4), no more than three (3) months after the entry of the judgment or order or the date of the proceeding.

(2) Effect on Finality. The motion does not affect the judgment's finality or suspend its operation.

(e) Other Powers to Grant Relief. This rule does not limit a court's power to:

(1) Entertain an independent action to relieve a party from a judgment, order, or proceeding; or

(2) Set aside a judgment for fraud on the court.

Rule 56. Harmless Error. Unless justice requires otherwise, no error in admitting or excluding evidence or any other error by the court or a party is ground for granting a new trial, for setting aside a decision, or for vacating, modifying, or otherwise disturbing a judgment or order. At every stage of the proceeding, the court must disregard all errors and defects that do not affect any party's substantial rights.

Rule 57. Stay of Proceedings To Enforce Judgment.

(a) Automatic Stay; Exceptions for Injunctions. Except as stated in this rule or elsewhere in the laws of the Tribe, no execution may issue on a judgment, nor may proceedings be taken to enforce it, until thirty (30) days have passed after its entry. But, unless otherwise ordered by the court, an interlocutory or final judgment in an action for an injunction shall not be stayed during the period after its entry and until an appeal is taken or during the pendency of an appeal. The provisions of subdivision (c) of this rule govern the suspending, modifying, restoring, or granting of an injunction during the pendency of an appeal.

(b) Stay Pending the Disposition of a Motion. On appropriate terms for the opposing party's security, the court may stay the execution of a judgment or any proceedings to enforce it pending disposition of any of the following motions:

- (1) For judgment as a matter of law;
- (2) To amend the findings or for additional findings;
- (3) For a new trial or to alter or amend a judgment;
- (4) For relief from a judgment or order; or

(5) When justice so requires in other cases until such time as the court may fix.

(c) Injunction Pending an Appeal. While an appeal is pending from an interlocutory order or final judgment that grants, dissolves, or denies an injunction, the court may suspend, modify, restore, or grant an injunction on terms for bond or other terms that secure the opposing party's rights.

(d) Stay Upon Appeal. If an appeal is taken, the appellant may obtain a stay by giving a bond, except where such a stay is otherwise prohibited by law or these rules. The bond may be given upon or within ten (10) days after filing the notice of appeal or after obtaining the order allowing the appeal. The stay takes effect when the court approves the bond.

(e) Stay in Favor of the Tribe. Judgments against the Tribe, its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers or employees in their capacities as such are automatically stayed when an appeal is filed. The court must not require a bond, obligation, or other security from the appellant when granting a stay on an appeal by the Tribe, its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers or employees in their capacities as such.

(f) Appellate Court's Power Not Limited. This rule does not limit the power of the appellate court or one of its justices:

(1) To stay proceedings or suspend, modify, restore, or grant an injunction while an appeal is pending; or

(2) To issue an order to preserve the status quo or the effectiveness of the judgment to be entered.

(g) Stay with Multiple Claims or Parties. A court may stay the enforcement of a final judgment until it enters a later judgment or judgments, and may prescribe terms necessary to secure the benefit of the stayed judgment for the party in whose favor it was entered.

(h) Waiver of Undertaking. In all cases the parties may, by written stipulation, waive the requirements of this rule with respect to the filing of a bond or undertaking, or the amount of such undertaking.

(i) Other Relief. No stay, injunction, waiver of undertaking may be granted by the court without actual notice and opportunity to be heard on the part of the prevailing party to the action.

Rule 58. Disability or Disqualification of a Judge.

(a) Disability. If by reason of death, sickness, or other disability, a judge before whom an action has been tried is unable to perform the duties to be performed by the Court under these rules after a decision is made or findings of fact and conclusions of law are filed, then any other judge regularly sitting in or assigned to the Court may perform those duties, but if such other judge determines that he cannot perform those duties because he did not preside at the trial or for any other reason, he may in his discretion grant a new trial.

(b) Disqualification. Grounds for disqualification of a judge are those set forth in Section 1-2-8 of the Code or any other reason under the laws of the Tribe allowing or requiring disqualification of a judge. Proceedings to disqualify a judge before whom any action or proceeding, civil or criminal, is pending shall be handled as follows:

(1) A party or his legal counsel shall file and serve an affidavit alleging the grounds for disqualification in the same manner as other documents and pleadings are filed in actions before the Court.

(2) The affidavit must be filed and served within twenty days after discovery that grounds exist for disqualification of the judge. No event occurring before such discovery shall constitute waiver of rights to seek disqualification of a judge.

(3) The affidavit shall state the facts and the reasons for the belief that the judge is disqualified with sufficient specificity to allow the matter to be properly determined and shall include a certificate of legal counsel of record, or by the party personally if the party is unrepresented, that such affidavit is presented in good faith based upon a reasonable investigation of the facts and the law and is not presented for any improper purpose, such as to harass, cause unnecessary delay, or needlessly increase the cost of litigation. Unsupported or general allegations shall not be considered sufficient to disqualify a judge. No party shall be permitted to file more than one affidavit in any action.

(4) The judge against whom the affidavit is directed may summarily deny the request for disqualification if the affidavit does not include any facts or reasons to support the basis for disqualification. Otherwise, if the judge determines that cause exists to disqualify him, the judge shall proceed no further in the action except to make such temporary orders as may be absolutely necessary to prevent immediate and irreparable injury, loss or damage from occurring before the action can be transferred to another judge.

(5) If the judge against whom the affidavit is directed does not find that cause exists to disqualify him or otherwise does not find the affidavit sufficient, the judge shall certify the affidavit for assignment to another judge for determination. The Tribal Court Administrator shall then refer the affidavit to another judge for decision. The assigned judge shall decide the issues by the preponderance of the evidence. The sufficiency of any "cause to believe" shall be determined by an objective standard, not by reference to any party's or legal counsel's subjective belief. The assigned judge may conduct or provide for a hearing to determine the issues connected with the affidavit if necessary for proper determination, but shall attempt to decide the matter without hearing so as to preserve the dignity of the Court and avoid the hint or appearance of impropriety. Following determination of the disqualification, the assigned judge shall expeditiously reassign the action to the original judge or make a new assignment, depending on the findings of the assigned judge.

(6) A denial of disqualification may be appealed to the Court of Appeals after final order or judgment in the action.

CHAPTER 8 PROVISIONAL AND FINAL REMEDIES

Rule 59. Injunctions and Restraining Orders.

(a) Preliminary Injunction.

(1) Notice. The court may issue a preliminary injunction only on notice to the adverse party.

(2) Consolidating Hearing with Trial on the Merits. Before or after beginning the hearing on a motion for a preliminary injunction, the court may advance the trial on the merits and consolidate it with the hearing. Even when consolidation is not ordered, evidence that is received on the motion and that would be admissible at trial becomes part of the trial record and need not be repeated at trial.

(3) Motion to Dissolve or Modify. Motions to dissolve or modify a preliminary injunction may be heard after an answer is filed, upon notice to the opposite party. If, upon hearing the motion, it appears that there is not sufficient grounds for the injunction, it shall be dissolved, or if it appears that the injunction is too broad, it shall be modified. A denial of the material allegations of the complaint shall not be sufficient ground for dissolution of a preliminary injunction unless the answer denying the allegations is verified.

(b) Temporary Restraining Order.

(1) Issuing Without Notice. The court may issue a temporary restraining order without written or oral notice to the adverse party or its legal counsel only if:

(i) Specific facts in an affidavit or a verified complaint clearly show that immediate and irreparable injury, loss, or damage will result to the movant before the adverse party can be heard in opposition; and

(ii) The movant's legal counsel certifies in writing any efforts made to give notice and the reasons why it should not be required.

(2) Contents. Every temporary restraining order issued without notice must:

(i) State the date and hour it was issued;

(ii) Describe the injury and state why it is irreparable;

(iii) State why the order was issued without notice; and

(iv) Be promptly filed in the Tribal Court Administrator's office and entered in the record.

(3) Expiration. The order expires at the time after entry, not to exceed ten (10) days, that the court sets, unless before that time the court, for good cause, extends it for a like period or the adverse party consents to a longer extension. The reasons for an extension must be entered in the record.

(4) Expediting the Preliminary-Injunction Hearing. If the order is issued without notice, the motion for a preliminary injunction must be set for hearing at the earliest possible time, taking precedence over all other matters except hearings on older matters of the same character. At the hearing, the party who obtained the order must proceed with the motion; if the party does not, the court must dissolve the order.

(5) Motion to Dissolve. On two (2) days' notice to the party who obtained the order without notice, or on shorter notice set by the court, the adverse party may appear and move to dissolve or modify the order. The court must then hear and decide the motion as promptly as justice requires.

(c) Security.

(1) Requirement. The court may issue a preliminary injunction or a temporary restraining order only if the movant gives security in an amount that the court considers proper to pay the costs and damages sustained by any party found to have been wrongfully enjoined or restrained.

(2) Security by Tribe. The Tribe, its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers and employees in their capacities as such are not required to give security.

(3) Consent of Surety. A surety upon a bond or undertaking under this rule submits itself to the jurisdiction of the court and irrevocably appoints the Tribal Court Administrator as its agent upon whom any papers affecting its liability on the bond or undertaking may be served. The surety's liability may be enforced on motion and such notice of the motion may be served on the Tribal Court Administrator who shall forthwith mail copies to the persons giving the security, if their addresses are known.

(d) Contents and Scope of Every Injunction and Restraining Order.

(1) Contents. Every order granting an injunction and every restraining order must:

(i) State the reasons why it issued;

(ii) State its terms specifically; and

(iii) Describe in reasonable detail, and not by referring to the complaint or other document, the act or acts restrained or required.

(2) Persons Bound. The order binds only the following who receive actual notice of it by personal service or otherwise:

(i) The parties;

(ii) The parties' officers, agents, servants, employees, and legal counsel; and

(iii) Other persons who are in active concert or participation with anyone described in subsection (d)(2)(i) or (ii) of this rule.

(e) Grounds for Injunction. An injunction may be granted upon the grounds provided in the laws of the Tribe governing injunctions.

(f) Disobedience of Injunction as Contempt.

(1) Disobedience of an injunction may be punished by the court as a contempt.

(2) When a party in whose favor an injunction has been issued files an affidavit that the party against whom the injunction was issued is guilty of disobeying the injunction and describes the acts constituting such disobedience, the court may order the person so charged to show cause at the time and place the court directs why such disobedient party should not be adjudged in contempt of the court which issued the injunction.

(3) The order, with a copy of the affidavit, shall be served upon the person charged with the contempt within sufficient time to enable that person to prepare and make return to the order.

(4) If the alleged contemnor is a corporation, an attachment for sequestration of the property of the corporation may be issued upon refusal or failure to appear.

(5) Upon the appearance of the alleged contemnor, or at the trial of the issue, the court shall hear the evidence, and if the person enjoined has disobeyed the injunction that person may be held in contempt in accordance with the laws of the Tribe until that person is purged of the contempt as may be directed by the court or until that person is discharged by law.

Rule 60. Extraordinary Writs. Extraordinary writs may be granted by the Court in accordance with the laws of the Tribe.

Rule 61. Offer of Judgment.

(a) Time for Making; Procedure. At any time more than fourteen (14) days before the trial begins, any party may serve upon any other party an offer to allow judgment to be entered in the action.

(b) Contents of Offer. If any portion of an offer made under this rule is for the entry of a monetary judgment, the monetary award to be made shall be set forth in the offer as a specifically stated sum, which shall be inclusive of all damages, taxable court costs, interest, and legal counsel's fees, if any, sought in the case. The offeror may choose to exclude an amount for legal counsel's fees, but must specifically so state in the offer. If the offeror excludes an amount for legal counsel's fees in the offer, and the offeree accepts the offer, then either party may apply to the court for an award of legal counsel's fees, if otherwise allowed by statute, contract or otherwise. The offer need not be apportioned by claim.

(c) Acceptance of Offer; Entry of Judgment. If, while an offer remains effective within the meaning of this rule, the offeree serves written notice that the offer is accepted, then either party may file the offer together with proof of acceptance, and the Tribal Court Administrator shall enter judgment.

(d) Rejection of Offer. An offer that is not accepted while it remains effective within the meaning of this rule shall be deemed rejected. Evidence of the rejected offer shall not be admissible except in a proceeding to determine sanctions under this rule.

(e) Objections to Offer. If the offeree has any objection to the validity of the offer, the offeree must serve upon the offeror, within five (5) days after service of the offer, written notice of any such objections. Unless the offeree notifies the offeror of any objection as provided under this subsection, the offeree waives the right to do so in any proceeding to determine sanctions under this rule.

(f) Subsequent Offers. The fact that an offer has been rejected does not preclude a subsequent offer.

(g) Offers on Damages. When one party's liability to another has been determined but the extent of liability remains to be determined by further proceedings, any party may make an offer of judgment, which shall have the same effect as an offer made before trial. It must be served within a reasonable time, but at least ten (10) days before the date set for a hearing to determine the amount or extent of liability.

(h) Sanctions. If the offeree rejects an offer and does not later obtain a more favorable judgment other than pursuant to this rule, the offeree must pay, as a sanction, reasonable expert witness fees and double the taxable costs incurred by the offeror after making the offer and prejudgment interest to accrue from the date of the offer. If the judgment includes an award of taxable costs or legal counsel's fees, only those taxable costs and legal counsel's fees determined by the court as having been reasonably incurred as of the date the offer was made shall be considered in determining if the judgment is more favorable than the offer.

(i) Effective Period of Offers. An offer of judgment made pursuant to this rule shall remain effective for fourteen (14) days after it is served. If the effective period is enlarged by the court, the offeror may withdraw the offer at any time after expiration of the initial effective period and prior to acceptance of the offer.

Rule 62. Execution.

(a) Grounds. The court may, upon motion, issue a writ of execution against the personal property of a judgment debtor if:

(1) The judgment is for monetary damages, costs, and/or legal counsel's fees;

(2) The judgment debtor has been served notice of entry of judgment; and

(3) The judgment debtor has not paid the judgment amount in full or commenced making installment payments as agreed between the parties, or is not current in such payments.

(b) Time. A party may file a motion under this rule thirty (30) days after entry of final judgment or after the expiration of the time for appeal has expired, whichever is greater. No motion for a writ of execution may be filed if an appeal or any other motion or action which may affect the judgment has been filed.

(c) Procedure.

(1) The judgment debtor shall be served with the motion and order to appear before the court as provided in Rule 11.

(2) Failure of the judgment debtor to appear may be punished by the court as a contempt.

(3) The judgment debtor shall provide, under oath or affirmation, an accounting of all his personal property, including any exempt property.

(4) In aid of the judgment or execution, the judgment creditor may obtain discovery from any person, including the judgment debtor, in the manner provided in these rules or otherwise by law.

(5) The court shall determine which property of the judgment debtor is available for execution and which property, up to the value of the judgment, should be seized to pay the judgment amount.

(6) The court shall issue an order that law enforcement seize the property ordered by the court and sell the same in accordance with this rule.

(d) Sale of Property.

(1) Sale of property seized under this rule shall be at a public auction conducted by law enforcement or others designated by the court.

(2) No auction or sale of the property seized under this rule shall take place until at least ten (10) days public notice has been provided by posting such notice in at least three (3) conspicuous public places near the site of the auction.

(3) The person conducting the auction may postpone the auction and reschedule it upon giving the required notice if there is inadequate response to the auction or the bidding.

(4) Property shall be sold to the highest bidder who shall make payment for property in cash at the time of the sale.

(5) The person conducting the sale shall give a certificate of sale to the purchaser and shall make a return to the court reciting the details of the sale and the amounts received.

(e) Exempt Property.

(1) The Court shall only order seizure and sale of such property of the judgment debtor necessary to satisfy a money judgment.

(2) Any property ordered seized under this rule shall be of the kind the loss of which will not impose an immediate substantial hardship on the judgment debtor and/or his immediate family and not otherwise exempt from execution under the laws of the Tribe.

(3) Only property of the judgment debtor may be subject to execution. No property of the judgment debtor's family or any other person may be seized or sold, except property conveyed to the debtor's family or other person with the intent of avoiding seizure and execution under this rule.

(f) Redemption From Sale. At any time within six (6) months after sale under this rule, the judgment debtor may redeem his property from the purchaser thereof by paying the amount such purchaser paid for the property plus eight percent (8%) interest and any expenses actually incurred by the purchaser to maintain property, such as taxes and insurance.

(g) Method Not Exclusive. Nothing in this rule shall be construed as prohibiting or precluding other methods of enforcement of monetary judgments as authorized under the laws of the Tribe, including garnishment.

(h) Against Certain Public Officers. Execution shall not be permitted when a judgment has been entered against the Tribe or any of its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers or employees in their capacities as such.

Rule 101. Suspension of Rules.

(a) In General. On its own or a party's motion, the court of appeals may, to expedite its decision or for other good cause, suspend any provision of these rules in a particular case and order proceedings as it directs, except as otherwise provided in Rule 112.

(b) Unrepresented Parties. Substantial compliance with these rules will be sufficient for all parties not represented by legal counsel and the court may, on its own motion or on request of any party, waive any requirement or provision of these rules.

Rule 102. Appeal as of Right - How Taken.

(a) Filing the Notice of Appeal.

(1) An appeal permitted by law as of right from the trial court to the court of appeals may be taken only by filing a notice of appeal with the Tribal Court Administrator within the time allowed by Rule 103.

(2) An appellant's failure to take any step other than the timely filing of a notice of appeal does not affect the validity of the appeal, but is ground only for the court of appeals to act as it considers appropriate, including dismissing the appeal.

(b) Joint or Consolidated Appeals.

(1) When two or more parties are entitled to appeal from a trial court judgment or order, and their interests make joinder practicable, they may file a joint notice of appeal. They may then proceed on appeal as a single appellant.

(2) When the parties have filed separate timely notices of appeal, the appeals may be joined or consolidated by the court of appeals.

(iii) Designate the judgment, order, or part thereof being appealed.

(2) An appeal must not be dismissed for informality of form or title of the notice of appeal, or for failure to name a party whose intent to appeal is otherwise clear from the notice.

(d) Serving the Notice of Appeal.

(1) The Tribal Court Administrator must serve notice of the filing of a notice of appeal by mailing a copy to each party's counsel of record, excluding the appellant's, or, if a party is not represented, to the party's last known address. The Tribal Court Administrator must promptly send a copy of the notice of appeal and of the trial court docket entries, and any later trial court docket entries, to the court of appeals. The Tribal Court Administrator must note, on each copy, the date when the notice of appeal was filed.

(2) The Tribal Court Administrator's failure to serve notice does not affect the validity of the appeal. The Tribal Court Administrator must note on the trial court docket the names of the parties to whom the Tribal Court Administrator mails copies, with the date of mailing. Service is sufficient despite the death of a party or the party's counsel.

(e) Payment of Fees. Upon filing a notice of appeal, the appellant must pay the Tribal Court Administrator all required fees, provided that no fees shall be required of the Tribe, its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers and employees in their capacities as such.

Rule 103. Appeal as of Right - When Taken.

(c) Multiple Appeals. If one party timely files a notice of appeal, any other party may file a notice of appeal within ten (10) days after the date when the first notice was filed, or within the time otherwise prescribed by this rule, whichever period ends later.

(d) Motion for Extension of Time.

(1) The trial court may extend the time to file a notice of appeal if:

(i) A party so moves no later than thirty (30) days after the time prescribed by subsection (a) of this rule expires; and

(ii) That party shows excusable neglect or good cause.

(2) A motion filed before the expiration of the time prescribed in subsection (a) of this rule may be ex parte unless the court requires otherwise. If the motion is filed after the expiration of the prescribed time, notice must be given to the other parties.

(3) No extension under this subsection may exceed thirty (30) days after the prescribed time or ten (10) days after the date when the order granting the motion is entered, whichever is later.

Rule 104. Appeal by Permission.

(a) Petition for Permission to Appeal.

(1) To request permission to appeal when an appeal is within the court of appeals' discretion, a party must file a petition for permission to appeal. The petition must be filed with the Tribal Court Administrator with proof of service on all other parties to the trial court action.

(2) The petition must be filed within the time specified by the law or rule authorizing the appeal or, if no such time is specified, within the time provided by Rule 103 for filing a notice of appeal.

(3) The petition and answer will be submitted without oral argument unless the court of appeals orders otherwise.

(c) Standard for Granting.

(1) A petition must be granted if the order, decree, or judgment complained of:

(i) Conclusively determines the disputed question;

(ii) Resolves an issue completely separate from the merits of the action; and

(iii) Is effectively unreviewable on appeal from final judgment.

(2) A petition may be granted if hearing the appeal might materially advance the ultimate resolution of the litigation.

(d) Form of Papers; Number of Copies. All papers must conform to the rules governing briefs on appeal. Except by the court's permission, a paper must not exceed twenty (20) pages, exclusive of the disclosure statement, the proof of service, and the accompanying documents required by this rule. An original and three (3) copies must be filed unless the court requires a different number by order in a particular case.

(e) Grant of Permission; Fees; Cost Bond; Filing the Record.

(1) Within ten (10) days after the entry of the order granting permission to appeal, the appellant must:

(3) The record must be forwarded and filed in accordance with these rules.

Rule 105. Bond for Costs on Appeal. The trial court may require an appellant to file a bond or provide other security in any form and amount necessary to ensure payment of costs on appeal. Rule 106(b) applies to a surety on a bond given under this rule.

Rule 106. Stay or Injunction Pending Appeal.

(a) Initial Motion in the Trial Court. A party must ordinarily move first in the trial court for the following relief:

(1) A stay of the judgment or order of the trial court pending appeal;

(2) Approval of a supersedeas bond; or

(3) An order suspending, modifying, restoring, or granting an injunction while an appeal is pending.

(b) Motion in the Court of Appeals; Conditions on Relief. A motion for the relief mentioned in subsection (a)(1) of this rule may be made to the court of appeals or to one of its justices.

(1) The motion must:

(i) Show that moving first in the trial court would be impracticable; or

(ii) State that, a motion having been made, the trial court denied the motion or failed to afford the relief requested and state any reasons given by the trial court for its action.

(iii) Include the reasons for granting the relief requested and the facts relied on;

(iv) Include originals or copies of affidavits or other sworn statements supporting facts subject to dispute; and

(v) Include relevant parts of the record.

(c) The moving party must give reasonable notice of the motion to all parties.

(d) A motion under this subsection (a)(2) must be filed with the Tribal Court Administrator and normally will be considered by a panel of the court. But in an exceptional case in which time requirements make that procedure impracticable, the motion may be made to and considered by a single justice.

(e) The court may condition relief on a party's filing a bond or other appropriate security in the trial court.

(f) The Tribe, its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers and employees in their capacities as such are not required to file a bond or other security.

Rule 107. The Record of Appeal.

(b) Agreed Statement of Record on Appeal. In place of the record on appeal as defined in subsection (a), the parties may prepare, sign, and submit to the trial court a statement of the case showing how the issues presented by the appeal arose and were decided in the trial court. The statement must set forth only those facts averred and proved or sought to be proved that are essential to the court's resolution of the issues. If the statement is truthful, it, together with any additions that the trial court may consider necessary to a full presentation of the issues on appeal, must be approved by the trial court and must then be certified to the court of appeals as the record on appeal. The Tribal Court Administrator must then send it to the court of appeals within the time provided by this rule.

(c) Forwarding the Record. When the record is complete, but no later than fifteen (15) days after the filing of a notice of appeal, the Tribal Court Administrator must number the documents constituting the record and send them promptly to the court of appeals together with a list of the documents correspondingly numbered and reasonably identified. Unless directed to do so by a party, the Tribal Court Administrator will not send to the court of appeals documents of unusual bulk or weight, or physical exhibits other than documents.

Rule 108. Docketing the Appeal; Filing the Record; Representation.

(a) Docketing the Appeal. Upon receiving a notice of appeal or petition for appeal or writ, the Tribal Court Administrator must docket the appeal, in a separate docket from the trial court docket, under the title of the trial court action and must identify the appellant, adding the appellant's name if necessary.

(b) Filing the Record, Partial Record, or Certificate. Upon forwarding the record or partial record as provided in Rule 107(c), the Tribal Court Administrator must file it and immediately notify all parties of the filing date. Any party may receive a copy of the record as forwarded to the court of appeals by requesting the same from the Tribal Court Administrator and paying any costs of copying, unless the request is from the Tribe or any of its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers and employees in their capacities as such.

(c) Appearance of Legal Counsel. Legal counsel representing a party before the court of appeals or otherwise appearing before the court of appeals shall enter their appearance by signing and filing a pleading or by filing an entry of appearance.

Rule 109. Writs of Mandamus and Prohibition Against Trial Court.

(a) Mandamus or Prohibition to Trial Court: Petition, Filing, Service, and Docketing.

(1) A party petitioning for a writ of mandamus or prohibition directed to the trial court must file a petition with the Tribal Court Administrator with proof of service on all parties to the proceeding in the trial court. The party must also provide a copy to the trial court judge. All parties to the proceeding in the trial court other than the petitioner are respondents for all purposes.

(2) The petition must be titled "In re [name of petitioner]" and must include a copy of any order or opinion or parts of the record that may be essential to understand the matters set forth in the petition and state:

(i) The relief sought;

(ii) The issues presented;

(iii) The facts necessary to understand the issue presented by the petition; and

(iv) The grounds for issuing the writ under the Code or other law of the Tribe.

(3) Upon receiving the petition, the Tribal Court Administrator must docket the petition and submit it to the court of appeals.

(b) Denial; Order Directing Answer; Briefs; Precedence.

(1) The court may deny the petition without an answer. Otherwise, it must order the respondent, if any, to answer within a fixed time.

(2) The Tribal Court Administrator must serve the order to respond on all persons directed to respond.

(3) Two or more respondents may answer jointly.

(4) The court of appeals may invite or order the trial court judge to address the petition or may invite an amicus curiae to do so. The trial court judge may request permission to address the petition but may not do so unless invited or ordered to do so by the court of appeals.

(5) If briefing or oral argument is required, the Tribal Court Administrator must advise the parties, and when appropriate, the trial court judge or amicus curiae.

(6) The proceeding must be given preference over ordinary civil cases.

(7) The Tribal Court Administrator must send a copy of the final disposition to the trial court judge.

(c) Form of Papers; Number of Copies. All papers must conform to Rule 118(b). An original and three (3) copies must be filed unless the court requires the filing of a different number by order in a particular case.

Rule 110. Proceeding in Forma Pauperis.

(a) Leave to Proceed in Forma Pauperis.

(1) Motion in the Trial Court. Except as stated in subsection (a)(3) of this Rule, a party to a trial court action who desires to appeal in forma pauperis must file a motion in the trial court. The party must attach an affidavit that:

(i) shows, in explicit detail, the party's inability to pay or to give security for fees and costs;

(ii) claims an entitlement to redress; and

(iii) states the issues that the party intends to present on appeal.

(2) Action on the Motion. If the trial court grants the motion, the party may proceed on appeal without prepaying or giving security for fees and costs, unless a statute provides otherwise. If the trial court denies the motion, it must state its reasons in writing.

(3) Prior Approval. A party who was permitted to proceed in forma pauperis in the trial court action may proceed on appeal in forma pauperis without further authorization, unless:

(i) the trial court, before or after the notice of appeal is filed, certifies that the appeal is not taken in good faith or finds that the party is not otherwise entitled to proceed in forma pauperis and states in writing its reasons for the certification or finding; or

(ii) a statute provides otherwise.

(4) Notice of Trial Court's Denial. The Tribal Court Administrator must immediately notify the parties and the court of appeals when the trial court does any of the following:

(i) denies a motion to proceed on appeal in forma pauperis;

(ii) certifies that the appeal is not taken in good faith; or

(iii) finds that the party is not otherwise entitled to proceed in forma pauperis.

(5) Motion in the Court of Appeals. A party may file a motion to proceed on appeal in forma pauperis in the court of appeals within 30 days after service of the notice prescribed in subsection (a)(4) of this Rule. The motion must include a copy of the affidavit filed in the trial court and the trial court's statement of reasons for its action. If no affidavit was filed in the trial court, the party must include the affidavit prescribed by subsection (a)(1) of this Rule.

(b) Leave to Use Original Record. A party allowed to proceed on appeal in forma pauperis may request that the appeal be heard on the original record without reproducing any part.

Rule 111. Filing and Service.

(a) Filing.

(1) Filing with the Tribal Court Administrator. A paper required or permitted to be filed in the court of appeals must be filed with the Tribal Court Administrator.

(2) Method and Timeliness.

(i) In General. Filing may be accomplished by mail, personal delivery or electronic means.

(ii) Time of Filing. Filing is considered to occur when received by the Tribal Court Administrator, except that, in the case of mailing, filing shall be deemed to occur on the date of the postmark.

(3) Filing a Motion with a Justice. If a motion requests relief that may be granted by a single justice, the justice may permit the motion to be filed with the justice; the justice must note the filing date on the motion and give it to the Tribal Court Administrator.

(b) Service of All Papers Required. Unless a rule requires service by the Tribal Court Administrator, a party must, at or before the time of filing a paper, serve a copy on the other parties to the appeal. Service on a party represented by legal counsel must be made on the party's legal counsel.

(c) Manner of Service. Service shall be made in the manner prescribed under Rule 11 of the Ponca Tribe of Nebraska Rules of Civil Procedure.

(d) Proof of Service.

(1) A paper presented for filing must contain a certificate of service consisting of a statement by the person who made service certifying:

(i) The date and manner of service;

(ii) The names of the persons served; and

(iii) Their mail or electronic addresses, facsimile numbers, or the addresses of the places of delivery, as appropriate for the manner of service.

(2) Proof of service may appear on or be affixed to the papers filed.

(e) Number of Copies. When these rules require the filing or furnishing of a number of copies, a court may require a different number by order in a particular case.

Rule 112. Extending Time. For good cause, the court may extend the time prescribed by these rules or by its order to perform any act, or may permit an act to be done after that time expires. But the court may not extend the time to file a notice of appeal, except as authorized in these rules, or a petition for permission to appeal.

Rule 113. Motions.

(1) Application for Relief. An application for an order or other relief is made by motion unless these rules prescribe another form. A motion must be in writing unless the court permits otherwise.

(2) Contents of a Motion.

(i) Grounds and Relief Sought. A motion must state with particularity the grounds for the motion, the relief sought, and the legal argument necessary to support it.

(ii) Accompanying Documents.

(A) Any affidavit or other paper necessary to support a motion must be served and filed with the motion.

(B) An affidavit must contain only factual information, not legal argument.

(C) A motion seeking substantive relief must include a copy of the trial court's opinion as a separate exhibit.

(3) Response.

(i) Time to file. Any party may file a response to a motion; subsection (a)(2) governs its contents. The response must be filed within ten (10) days after service of the motion unless the court shortens or extends the time. A motion authorized by rule 106 may be granted before the 10-day period runs only if the court gives reasonable notice to the parties that it intends to act sooner.

(ii) Request for Affirmative Relief. A response may include a motion for affirmative relief. The time to respond to the new motion, and to reply to that response, are governed by subsections (a)(3)(i) and (a)(4). The title of the response must alert the court to the request for relief.

(4) Reply to Response. Any reply to a response must be filed within seven (7) days after service of the response. A reply must not present matters that do not relate to the response.

(b) Disposition of a Motion for a Procedural Order. The court may act on a motion for a procedural order, including a motion to extend time, at any time without awaiting a response. A party adversely affected by the court's action may file a motion to reconsider, vacate, or modify that action. Timely opposition filed after the motion is granted in whole or in part does not constitute a request to reconsider, vacate, or modify the disposition; a motion requesting that relief must be filed.

(c) Power of a Single Justice to Entertain a Motion. A justice may act alone on any motion, but may not dismiss or otherwise determine an appeal or other proceeding. The court of appeals may review the action of a single justice.

(d) Form of Papers and Number of Copies.

(1) Format.

(i) Reproduction. A motion, response, or reply may be reproduced by any process that yields a clear black image on light paper. The paper must be opaque and unglazed. Only one side of the paper may be used.

(ii) Cover. A cover is not required, but there must be a caption that includes the case number, the name of the court, the title of the case, and a brief descriptive title indicating the purpose of the motion and identifying the party or parties for whom it is filed. If a cover is used, it must be white.

(iii) Binding. The document must be bound in any manner that is secure, does not obscure the text, and permits the document to lie reasonably flat when open.

(iv) Paper Size, Line Spacing, and Margins. The document must be on 8 1/2 by 11 inch paper. The text must be double-spaced, but quotations more than two lines long may be indented and single-spaced. Headings and footnotes may be single-spaced. Margins must be at least one inch on all four sides. Page numbers may be placed in the margins, but no text may appear there.

(2) Number of Copies. An original and three (3) copies must be filed unless the court requires a different number by order in a particular case.

(5) A statement of the issues presented for review;

(6) A concise statement of the case setting out the facts relevant to the issues submitted for review, describing the relevant procedural history, and identifying the rulings presented for review, with appropriate references to the record;

(10) A short conclusion stating the precise relief sought.

(b) Respondent's Brief.

(1) The respondent's brief must conform to the requirements of subsections (a) (1)-(9), except that none of the following need appear unless the respondent is dissatisfied with the appellant's statement:

(i) The jurisdictional statement;

(ii) The statement of the issues;

(iii) The statement of the case; and

(iv) The statement of the standard of review.

(2) Argument shall be limited to the argument in appellant's brief.

(c) Reply Brief. The appellant may file a brief in reply to the respondent's brief. Unless the court permits, no further briefs may be filed. A reply brief must contain a table of contents, with page references, and a table of authorities, including cases (alphabetically arranged), statutes, codes and other authorities, with references to the pages of the reply brief where they are cited. Argument shall be limited to the argument in respondent's response brief.

(d) References to Parties. In briefs and at oral argument, legal counsel should minimize use of the terms "appellant" and "respondent." To make briefs clear, legal counsel should use the parties' actual names or the designations used in the trial court proceeding, or such descriptive terms as "the employee," "the injured person," "the taxpayer."

(e) References to the Record. References to the parts of the record must be to the page of the original document. For example:

- (1) Answer at 7;
- (2) Motion for Judgment at 2;
- (3) Transcript at 231.

Only clear abbreviations may be used. A party referring to evidence whose admissibility is in controversy must cite the pages of the transcript at which the evidence was identified, offered, and received or rejected.

(f) Briefs in a Case Involving Multiple Appellants or Respondents. In a case involving more than one appellant or respondent, including consolidated cases, any number of appellants or respondents may join in a brief, and any party may adopt by reference a part of another's brief. Parties may also join in reply briefs.

(g) Intervention by Tribe. If the Tribe intervenes in an appeal raising a constitutional issue as provided in these rules, the Tribe shall be considered a respondent to the appellant raising the constitutional issue for the purposes of filing briefs and presenting oral argument.

(h) Citation of Supplemental Authorities. If pertinent and significant authorities come to a party's attention after the party's brief has been filed, or after oral argument but before decision, a party may promptly advise the Tribal Court Administrator by letter, with a copy to all other parties, setting forth the citations. The letter must state the reasons for the supplemental citations, referring either to the page of the brief or to a point argued orally. The body of the letter must not exceed 350 words. Any response must be made promptly and must be similarly limited.

Rule 115. Cross-Appeals.

(a) Applicability. This rule applies to a case in which a cross-appeal is filed.

(b) Designation of Appellant. The party who files a notice of appeal first is the appellant for the purposes of this rule and Rule 120. If notices are filed on the same day, the plaintiff or petitioner in the proceeding below is the appellant. These designations may be modified by the parties' agreement or by court order.

(c) Briefs. In a case involving a cross-appeal:

(1) Appellant's Principal Brief. The appellant must file a principal brief in the appeal. That brief must comply with Rule 114(a).

(2) Respondent's Principal and Response Brief. The respondent must file a principal brief in the cross-appeal and must, in the same brief, respond to the principal brief in the appeal. That respondent's brief must comply with Rule 114(a), except that the brief need not include a statement of the case unless the respondent is dissatisfied with the appellant's statement.

(3) Appellant's Response and Reply Brief. The appellant must file a brief that responds to the principal brief in the cross-appeal and may, in the same brief, reply to the response in the appeal. That brief must comply with Rule 114(a)(1)-(9), except that none of the following need appear unless the appellant is dissatisfied with the respondent's statement in the cross-appeal:

- (i) The jurisdictional statement;
- (ii) The statement of the issues;
- (iii) The statement of the case; and
- (iv) The statement of the standard of review.

(4) Respondent's Reply Brief. The respondent may file a brief in reply to the response in the cross-appeal. That brief must comply with Rule 114(a)(1)-(2) and must be limited to the issues presented by the cross-appeal.

(5) No Further Briefs. Unless the court permits, no further briefs may be filed in a case involving a cross-appeal.

(d) Length. The appellant's principal brief must not exceed thirty (30) pages; the respondent's principal and response brief, thirty-five (35) pages; the appellant's response and reply brief, thirty (30) pages; and the respondent's reply brief, fifteen (15) pages.

(e) Time to Serve and File a Brief. Briefs must be served and filed as follows:

(1) The appellant's principal brief, within thirty (30) days after the record is filed;

(2) The respondent's principal and response brief, within thirty (30) days after the appellant's principal brief is served;

(3) The appellant's response and reply brief, within thirty (30) days after the respondent's principal and response brief is served; and

(4) The respondent's reply brief, within fourteen (14) days after the appellant's response and reply brief is served, but at least seven (7) days before argument unless the court, for good cause, allows a later filing.

Rule 116. Brief of Amicus Curiae.

(a) When Permitted. The Tribe may file an amicus curiae brief without the consent of the parties or leave of court. Any other person who is not a party may file an amicus curiae brief only by leave of court or if the brief states that all parties have consented to its filing.

(b) Motion for Leave to File. The motion must be accompanied by the proposed brief and state:

(1) The movant's interest; and

(2) The reason why an amicus brief is desirable and why the matters asserted are relevant to the disposition of the case.

(c) Contents and Form. An amicus brief must comply with Rule 118. In addition to the requirements of Rule 118, the cover must identify the party or parties supported and indicate whether the brief supports affirmance or reversal. An amicus brief need not comply with Rule 114, but must include the following:

(1) A table of contents, with page references;

(2) A table of authorities, including cases (alphabetically arranged), statutes, codes and other authorities, with references to the pages of the brief where they are cited;

(3) A concise statement of the identity of the amicus curiae, its interest in the case, and the source of its authority to file; and

(4) An argument, which may be preceded by a summary and which need not include a statement of the applicable standard of review.

(d) Length. Except by the court's permission, an amicus brief may be no more than one-half the maximum length authorized by these rules for a party's principal brief.

(e) Time for Filing. An amicus curiae must file its brief, accompanied by a motion for filing when necessary, no later than seven (7) days after the principal brief of the party being supported is filed. An amicus curiae that does not support either party must file its brief no later than seven (7) days after the appellant's principal brief is filed. A court may grant leave for later filing, specifying the time within which an opposing party may answer.

(f) Reply Brief. Except by the court's permission, an amicus curiae may not file a reply brief.

(g) Oral Argument.

(1) By the Tribe. The Tribe may present oral argument as amicus curiae by filing a notice to present oral argument. If a party objects to such oral argument, the court may reject the notice if the party shows that such participation will be prejudicial to a party or otherwise impede the court's consideration of the appeal.

(2) Other Amicus Curiae. Any other amicus curiae may participate in oral argument only with the court's permission.

Rule 117. Serving and Filing Briefs.

(a) Time to Serve and File a Brief. The appellant must serve and file a brief within thirty (30) days after the record is filed. The respondent must serve and file a brief within thirty (30) days after the appellant's brief is served. The appellant may serve and file a reply brief within fourteen (14) days after service of the respondent's brief but a reply brief must be filed at least seven (7) days before argument, unless the court, for good cause, allows a later filing.

(b) Number of Copies to be Filed and Served. One (1) original and three (3) copies of each brief must be filed with the Tribal Court Administrator and one (1) copy must be served on each party or its legal counsel. The court may by order in a particular case require the filing or service of a different number.

(c) Consequence of Failure to File. If an appellant fails to file a brief within the time provided by this rule, or within an extended time, a respondent may move to dismiss the appeal. A respondent who fails to file a brief will not be heard at oral argument unless the court grants permission.

Rule 118. Form of Briefs and Other Papers.

(a) Form of a Brief.

(1) Reproduction.

(i) A brief may be reproduced by any process that yields a clear black image on light paper. The paper must be opaque and unglazed. Only one side of the paper may be used.

(ii) Photographs, illustrations, and tables may be reproduced by any method that results in a good copy of the original; a glossy finish is acceptable if the original is glossy.

(2) Cover. Except for filings by unrepresented parties, the cover of the appellant's brief must be blue; the respondent's, red; an intervenor's or amicus curiae's, green; any reply brief, gray; and any supplemental brief, tan. The front cover of a brief must contain:

(i) The number of the case centered at the top;

(ii) The name of the court;

(iii) The title of the case;

(iv) The nature of the proceeding (e.g., Appeal, Petition for Review) and the name of the court below;

(v) The title of the brief, identifying the party or parties for whom the brief is filed; and

(vi) The name, office address, and telephone number of legal counsel representing the party for whom the brief is filed.

(3) Binding. The brief must be bound in any manner that is secure, does not obscure the text, and permits the brief to lie reasonably flat when open.

(4) Paper Size, Line Spacing, and Margins. The brief must be on 8 1/2 by 11 inch paper. The text must be double-spaced, but quotations more than two lines long may be indented and single-spaced. Headings and footnotes may be single-spaced. Margins must be at least one inch on all four sides. Page numbers may be placed in the margins, but no text may appear there.

(5) Length. Appellant's principal brief and respondent's response brief shall not exceed thirty (30) pages. Reply briefs shall not exceed fifteen (15) pages. The page limitations do not include the table of contents, table of authorities and any attachments or exhibits thereto. The page limits may be increased upon motion by any party or on the court's own motion.

(b) Form of Other Papers. Any other paper, excluding a motion governed by Rule 113, including a petition for rehearing, and any response to such a petition, must be reproduced in the manner prescribed by subsection (a), with the following exceptions:

(1) A cover is not necessary if the caption and signature page of the paper together contain the information required by subsection (a)(2). If a cover is used, it must be white.

(2) Subsection (a)(5) does not apply.

(c) Signature. Every brief, motion, or other paper filed with the court must be signed by the party filing the paper or, if the party is represented, by one of the party's legal counsel.

(d) Defective Briefs. When a brief fails to comply with the requirements of these rules, the court, on motion of any party or on its own initiative, and with or without notice may:

(1) Order the brief to be returned for correction and re-filed within a time specified in the order;

(2) Order the brief stricken with leave to file a new brief within a specified time; or

(3) Disregard the defects and consider the brief as if it were properly prepared.

Rule 119. Appeal Conferences. The court may direct legal counsel and, when appropriate, the parties to participate in one or more conferences to address any matter that may aid in disposing of the proceedings, including simplifying the issues and discussing settlement. A justice or other person designated by the court may preside over the conference, which may be conducted in person or by telephone. Before a settlement conference, legal counsel must consult with their clients and obtain as much authority as feasible to settle the case. The court may, as a result of the conference, enter an order controlling the course of the proceedings or implementing any settlement agreement.

Rule 120. Oral Argument.

(a) In General.

(1) Party's Statement. Any party may file a statement explaining why oral argument should, or need not, be permitted.

(2) Standards. Oral argument will be allowed only when requested or ordered by the court of appeals on its own motion. Oral argument must be allowed in every case where requested unless the court, after examining the briefs and record, unanimously agrees that oral argument is unnecessary for any of the following reasons:

(i) The appeal is frivolous;

(ii) The dispositive issue or issues have been authoritatively decided; or

(iii) The facts and legal arguments are adequately presented in the briefs and record, and the decisional process would not be significantly aided by oral argument.

(b) Notice of Argument; Postponement. The Tribal Court Administrator must advise all parties whether oral argument will be scheduled, and, if so, the date, time, and place for it, and the time allowed for each side. A motion to postpone the argument or to allow longer argument must be filed no less than five (5) days in advance of the hearing date.

(c) Order and Contents of Argument. The appellant opens and concludes the argument. Legal counsel must not read at length from briefs, records, or authorities.

(d) Cross-Appeals and Separate Appeals. If there is a cross-appeal, Rule 115(b) determines which party is the appellant and which is the respondent for purposes of oral argument. Unless the court directs otherwise, a cross-appeal or separate appeal must be argued when the initial appeal is argued. Separate parties should avoid duplicative argument.

(e) Nonappearance of a Party. If the respondent fails to appear for argument, the court must hear appellant's argument. If the appellant fails to appear for argument, the court may hear the respondent's argument. If neither party appears, the case will be decided on the briefs, unless the court orders otherwise.

(f) Submission on Briefs. The parties may agree to submit a case for decision on the briefs, but the court may direct that the case be argued.

(g) Use of Physical Exhibits at Argument; Removal. Legal counsel intending to use physical exhibits other than documents at the argument must arrange to place them in the courtroom on the day of the argument before the court convenes. After the argument, legal counsel must remove the exhibits from the courtroom, unless the court directs otherwise. The Tribal Court Administrator may destroy or dispose of the exhibits if counsel does not reclaim them within a reasonable time after the Tribal Court Administrator gives notice to remove them.

Rule 121. Decision of the Appellate Court.

(a) The court of appeals may not hold any trial, take testimony or receive evidence. The decision shall be based entirely on the record and if any testimony or evidence is required or a new trial needed, the court shall remand the case to the trial court for the same.

(b) The court of appeals decision may:

(1) Affirm, modify, vacate, set aside or reverse any judgment, decree or order of the trial court; or

(2) Remand the case and direct entry of an appropriate judgment, decree or order, or require such further proceedings as may be just and equitable under the circumstances.

(c) The court shall issue its decision within ninety (90) days of the last of the following events:

(1) Oral argument;

(2) Filing of any supplemental brief after oral argument, if the court requests such briefing;

(3) Filing of supplemental authorities and responses pursuant to 111(g); or

(4) Filing of the last reply brief, if the matter is submitted on the briefs without argument.

(d) If the court will not be able to submit a decision within ninety (90) days, the court shall notify the parties of such delay and state the time when it will issue a decision.

(e) The decision of the court of appeals shall be final and not subject to further review or appeal, except for rehearing permitted under these rules.

Rule 122. Entry of Judgment; Notice.

(a) Entry. A judgment is entered when it is noted on the docket. The Tribal Court Administrator must prepare, sign, and enter the judgment:

(1) After receiving the court's opinion, but if settlement of the judgment's form is required, after final settlement; or

(2) If a judgment is rendered without an opinion, as the court instructs.

(b) Notice. On the date when judgment is entered, the Tribal Court Administrator must serve on all parties a copy of the opinion, or the judgment if no opinion was written, and a notice of the date when the judgment was entered.

Rule 123. Interest on Judgment.

(a) When the Court Affirms. Unless the laws of the Tribe provide otherwise, if a money judgment is affirmed, whatever interest is allowed by the laws of the Tribe is payable from the date when the trial court's judgment was entered.

(b) When the Court Reverses. If the court modifies or reverses a judgment with a direction that a money judgment be entered in the trial court, the mandate must contain instructions about the allowance of interest.

Rule 124. Frivolous Appeal. If a court of appeals determines that an appeal is frivolous or that it has been taken for improper purpose, including delay, harassment or causing undue expense to a non-appealing party, it may, after a separately filed motion or notice from the court and reasonable opportunity to respond, sanction the appellant and award just damages, legal counsel's fees, and single or double costs to the respondent.

Rule 125. Costs.

(a) Against Whom Assessed. The following rules apply unless the laws of the Tribe provide, or the court orders, otherwise:

(1) If an appeal is dismissed, costs are taxed against the appellant, unless the parties agree otherwise;

(2) If a judgment is affirmed, costs are taxed against the appellant;

(3) If a judgment is reversed, costs are taxed against the respondent;

(4) If a judgment is affirmed in part, reversed in part, modified, or vacated, costs are taxed only as the court orders.

(b) Costs Against the Tribe. Costs against the Tribe, its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers and employees in their capacities as such will be assessed under subsection (a) only if expressly authorized by the laws of the Tribe.

(c) Bill of Costs: Objections; Insertion in Mandate.

(1) A party who wants costs taxed must, within ten (10) days after entry of judgment, file with the Tribal Court Administrator, with proof of service, an itemized and verified bill of costs.

(2) Objections must be filed within ten (10) days after service of the bill of costs, unless the court extends the time.

(3) The Tribal Court Administrator must prepare and certify an itemized statement of costs for insertion in the mandate, but issuance of the mandate must not be delayed for taxing costs. If the mandate issues before costs are finally determined, the Tribal Court Administrator must add the statement of costs, or any amendment of it, to the mandate.

(d) Costs on Appeal Taxable in the Trial Court. The following costs on appeal are taxable in the trial court for the benefit of the party entitled to costs under this rule:

(1) The preparation and transmission of the record;

(2) The reporter's transcript, if needed to determine the appeal;

(3) Premiums paid for a supersedeas bond or other bond to preserve rights pending appeal; and

(4) Any fee for filing the notice of appeal.

Rule 126. Petition for Rehearing.

(a) Time to File; Contents; Answer; Action by the Court if Granted.

(1) Time. Unless the time is shortened or extended by order or local rule, a petition for rehearing may be filed within ten (10) days after entry of judgment. But, the Tribe, its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers and employees in their capacities as such may file a petition within thirty (30) days after entry of judgment.

(2) Contents. The petition must state with particularity each point of law or fact that the petitioner believes the court has overlooked or misapplied and must argue in support of the petition. Oral argument is not permitted.

(3) Answer. Unless the court requests, no answer to a petition for panel rehearing is permitted.

(4) Action by the Court. If a petition for panel rehearing is granted, the court may do any of the following:

(i) Make a final disposition of the case without re-argument;

(ii) Restore the case to the calendar for re-argument or resubmission; or

(iii) Issue any other appropriate order.

(b) Form of Petition; Length. The petition must comply in form with Rule 118. Copies must be served and filed as Rule 111 prescribes. Unless the court permits otherwise, a petition for panel rehearing must not exceed fifteen (15) pages.

(c) Court's Inherent Power to Correct Orders. If the court at any time determines that there has been a change of law or an error in consideration of existing law or facts that warrants reconsideration of a prior order, it may do so on its own motion and enter a new or different order.

Rule 127. Mandate.

(a) Contents. Unless the court directs that a formal mandate issue, the mandate consists of a certified copy of the judgment, a copy of the court's opinion, if any, and any direction about costs.

(b) When Issued. The court's mandate must issue seven (7) days after the time to file a petition for rehearing expires, or seven (7) days after entry of an order denying a timely petition for rehearing or motion for stay of mandate, whichever is later. The court may shorten or extend the time.

(c) Effective Date. The mandate is effective when issued.

(d) Staying the Mandate. The timely filing of a petition for rehearing or motion for stay of mandate, stays the mandate until disposition of the petition or motion, unless the court orders otherwise.

Rule 128. Voluntary Dismissal of Appeal.

(a) Dismissal in the Trial Court. Before an appeal has been docketed by the Tribal Court Administrator, the trial court may dismiss the appeal on the filing of a stipulation signed by all parties or on the appellant's motion with notice to all parties.

(b) Dismissal in the Court of Appeals. The Tribal Court Administrator may dismiss a docketed appeal if the parties file a signed dismissal agreement specifying how costs are to be paid and pay any fees that are due. But no mandate or other process may issue without a court order. An appeal may be dismissed on the appellant's motion on terms agreed to by the parties or fixed by the court.

Rule 129. Case Involving a Constitutional Question When the Tribe is Not a Party.

(a) Constitutional Challenge to Tribal Law. If a party questions the constitutionality, or validity under the Indian Civil Rights Act, of a law of the Tribe or of an action of the Tribal Council or the Tribe or any of its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers or employees in their capacities as such in a proceeding in which the Tribe or one of its departments, agencies, commissions, instrumentalities, economic enterprises, officers or employees in their capacities as such is not a party, the questioning party must give written notice to the Tribal Court Administrator immediately upon the filing of the record or as soon as the question is raised in the court of appeals. The Tribal Court Administrator must then notify the Attorney for the Tribe.

(b) Intervention of Tribe. Unless the court sets a later time, the Attorney for the Tribe may intervene in the appeal within thirty (30) days after the notice is received. The Tribe shall file a brief as intervenor no later than (30) days after intervening.

The purpose of this Title is to provide for the protection and welfare of children and other individuals under the jurisdiction of the Tribe and to secure the care and guidance, preferably in his or her own home, which will serve the spiritual, emotional, mental, and physical welfare of such persons and the best interests of the Tribe. The primary objectives of this Title are:

1. To provide for the welfare, care and protection of the members, children, and families of the Tribe and others within the jurisdiction of the Tribe;

2. To preserve unity of the family, preferably by separating the child from his or her parents only when necessary;

3. To strengthen family ties;

4. To preserve and strengthen the cultural and Tribal identity of Ponca children;

5. To secure for every child removed from his or her home that care, control, and guidance as nearly equivalent to that which he or she should be given by his or her parents to help the child develop into a responsible, well-adjusted adult;

6. To improve any conditions or home environment which may be contributing to any danger or problem with the child's welfare;

7. To secure the rights of and ensure fairness to the children, wards, parents, guardians, custodians or other parties who come before the Court under the provisions of this Title;

Section 3-1-2. Definitions. Unless the context requires otherwise or another definition is provided for a particular chapter or section, in this Title:

1. "Abandoned" means the failure of the parent or legal custodian of a child, while being able, to provide reasonable support and maintain regular contact with his or her child, including providing normal supervision when such failure is intended by the parent or legal custodian to continue for an indefinite period in the future. Either voluntarily surrendering a child in accordance with Section 3-6-4 of this Title or failing to provide reasonable support and maintain regular contact with a child without just cause for a period of six (6) consecutive months shall constitute prima facie evidence of abandonment. For purposes of abandonment, "provide reasonable support and maintain regular contact" includes, but is not limited to, frequent and regular contact with the child through frequent and regular visitation or frequent and regular communication with the child, and the exercise of parental rights and responsibilities. Marginal efforts and incidental or token visits or communications are not sufficient to provide reasonable support and maintain regular contact with a child. Physical custody with relatives or voluntary consent to placement does not constitute abandonment.

2. "Adoption" means:

a. An adoption completed pursuant to Chapter 10 of this Title;

b. An adoption completed pursuant to the laws of another jurisdiction; or

c. An adoption in accordance with the customs and traditions of the Tribe which gives a child a permanent parent-child relationship with someone other than the child's biological parents without any Court involvement, regardless of whether the parental rights of the biological parents have been terminated and regardless of whether a decree recognizing the adoption has been issued under Chapter 10 of this Title.

3. "Child in need of assistance" means a child as defined in Chapter 6 of this Title.

4. "Child offender" means a child as defined in Chapter 7 of this Title.

5. "Child's tribe" means the federally recognized Indian tribe in which a child is a member or eligible to be a member.

6. "Clear and convincing evidence" means evidence that produces a firm belief or conviction as to the truth of the allegations sought to be established; evidence so clear, direct, weighty and convincing as to enable a person to come to a clear conviction, without hesitancy, of the truth of the precise facts in issue. Evidence may be uncontroverted, and yet not be clear and convincing. Conversely, evidence may be clear and convincing despite the fact that it has been contradicted.

7. "Court" means the Ponca Tribe of Nebraska Tribal Court, including the Court acting as the juvenile court of the Tribe.

8. "Custodian" means any person who has legal custody of a child or to whom temporary physical custody, care, and control has been transferred by the child's parent or guardian.

9. "Department" means the Ponca Tribe of Nebraska Department of Social Services.

10. "Extended family" and "relative" mean a person who is, whether by blood, marriage, foster care, adoption or recognition as such by Tribal custom or tradition, another person's:

- a. Parent;
- b. Step-parent;
- c. Grandparent;
- d. Aunt or uncle;
- e. Brother or sister, whether by the half or the whole blood;
- f. Brother-in-law or sister-in-law;
- g. Niece or nephew;
- h. Cousin;
- i. Parent of the person's brother or sister, whether by the half or the whole blood;

j. Significant family friend identified by the family or the Tribe; or

k. Extended family member or relative recognized as such by Tribal custom or tradition.

11. "Foster care" means any action removing a child from his or her parents or custodian for temporary placement in a foster home or institution or in the home of a guardian or where the parent or custodian cannot have the child returned upon demand, but where parental rights have not been terminated.

12. "Good cause" means adequate or substantial grounds or reason to take or fail to take an action.

13. "Guardian" means a person who is by law responsible for an adult or a minor, other than the minor's parent, and includes a person appointed as a guardian for a minor or adult.

14. "Least restrictive," "least restrictive placement" and "least restrictive setting" mean the least drastic method of achieving the best interests of a child; the restrictions placed on the child must be reasonably related to the Court's objectives and must be the least restrictive way of feasibly achieving that objective.

15. "Parent" means a person who has a legal parent-child relationship with another person and includes a biological parent of a person, a person for who parentage is presumed or established pursuant to the laws of the Tribe, and a person who has lawfully adopted another person, including adoptions under the laws of the Tribe.

16. "Placement" means the temporary placement of a child in the physical, but not legal, custody of an individual or agency pending a final determination of where the child shall reside on a permanent basis. A placement is considered involuntary if it is done without the consent of the child's parent, guardian or custodian.

17. "Preponderance of the evidence" means evidence that is just enough to make it more likely than not that the allegations sought to be established are true; the preponderance is based on the more convincing evidence and its probable truth or accuracy, and not on the amount of evidence.

3. The Court shall treat any written report resulting from an evaluation, examination or investigation ordered under this Section as it would consider all other evidence regardless of whether the report, any matter contained therein, or any exhibit attached thereto is formally introduced as evidence.

4. If the individual being ordered to submit to an evaluation or examination is eligible for services from the Health Services Department and the Health Services Department possesses the capability to perform or have performed such evaluation or examination, the exam may be conducted by the Health Services Department and, unless otherwise ordered by the Court, the Tribe may bear the costs of the examination unless otherwise ordered by the Court.

Section 3-6-21. Protective Orders.

1. The Court may issue a protective order in any proceeding under this Chapter if:

a. A child, previously placed by an order of the Court, runs from his or her placement;

c. If the Court otherwise determines such order is necessary.

3. After a scheduled hearing where the parties subject to the order appear or are provided notice to appear, a protective order may be terminated, modified, or extended if the Court finds it in the best interests of the child.

Section 3-6-22. Proceeding on Petition. Except as otherwise provided in this Title, the Court may adopt any mode of proceeding on a petition filed under this Chapter as it deems appropriate in its discretion that will best serve the purposes of this Title and assist in an amicable resolution that assists the child and family and promotes reunification and avoids termination of parental rights, including, by way of example but not limitation:

3. The Tribe's report to the court shall be based upon reports and input from the Department, including any contacts with the child and his or her parents, guardian or custodian. The Tribe may attach the Department's report to its report to the court as an exhibit or may include the necessary information from the Department's report directly in the Tribe's report to the court. The Tribe may also attach any homestudy investigations or other reports and documents as exhibits to its report to the court. Subject to objection from any party, the Court shall receive and accept any exhibit attached to the Tribe's report to the court and consider such exhibit as it would any other evidence presented.

4. In addition to the Tribe's report to the court, a foster parent, relative or other individual providing care for a child may also submit a report to the court regarding the child's adjustment, progress, and condition.

5. The Tribe's and any other report to the court, including any exhibits, shall be filed with the Court and served on the child, if represented, and all other parties at least five (5) days prior to the date set for the hearing. The Tribe and any other person who files a timely report to the court may also file and serve a supplement or modification to their report to the court based on new information within three (3) calendar days prior to the hearing. Any other supplementation or modification shall be made during the hearing.

6. During any hearing where a report to the court has been filed, any party to the proceedings shall be permitted to object or request modification or addition to the report to the court. Objections or requests for modification or addition may be made by filing the same with the Court or orally during the hearing. If the person who filed the report does not agree to any such objection, modification or addition, the Court shall determine whether the objection, modification or addition will be accepted. The Court shall accept the report to the court as altered due to any accepted objection, modification or addition.

7. The Court shall review and consider reports to the court, any information contained therein, and any attached exhibits as it would consider all other evidence regardless of whether the report to the court, any matter therein or any exhibit attached thereto is formally introduced as evidence.

Section 3-6-24. Advisory Hearing.

1. An advisory hearing shall be held as soon as practicably possible following the filing of a petition under this Chapter.

The respondents may admit or plead no contest to any or all of the allegations contained in the petition and the Court may accept the admission if the Court is satisfied there is a factual basis for the allegations. If the parties do not admit or plead no contest to any of the allegations contained in the petition, such allegations shall be deemed denied.

5. If any party who received actual notice of the advisory hearing fails to appear or fails to answer or otherwise respond to the petition, the party shall be deemed by the Court to be in default and the petition shall be taken as admitted to by that party.

3. The Court shall consider any and all reports required by this Chapter or ordered by the Court, and any additional relevant testimony or evidence presented at the hearing.

4. The allegations of the petition must be supported by clear and convincing evidence, provided that evidence that child abuse has occurred shall be prima facie evidence that the child is a child in need of assistance regardless of the allegations in the petition and such evidence shall be sufficient by itself to support a determination that the child is a child in need of assistance.

Section 3-6-27. Order After Adjudicatory Hearing.

1. After an adjudicatory hearing, the Court shall enter written findings of fact, conclusions of law and an order based on the results of said hearing. The order shall:

Section 3-6-28. Dispositional Report. After the entry of the Court's order after the advisory hearing where all allegations of the petition are admitted or after the adjudicatory hearing where the allegations of the petition are proven and prior to the dispositional hearing:

1. The Department shall prepare a written report describing all reasonably appropriate alternative dispositions of the child. The report shall contain:

a. A plan for care of and assistance to the child which is calculated to resolve the problems presented in the petition;

b. An explanation showing the necessity for the proposed plan of disposition and the benefits to the child under the proposed plan;

1. Following the dispositional hearing, a review hearing shall be held no less than every six (6) months after entry of the dispositional order until the jurisdiction of the Court over the child is terminated.

2. The primary purpose of a review hearing is to evaluate the progress of the child and family and determine whether court intervention should continue.

3. The Court shall consider the efforts or progress demonstrated by the child's parents, guardian or custodian and the extent to which they cooperated and availed themselves of services provided and, based on the Court's findings, do any of the following:

a. If there has been no material change of circumstances, continue the dispositional order in effect;

b. Order removal of the child from the physical custody of his or her parents, guardian or custodian if current facts justify such a removal under the standards set forth in Section 3-6-10 of this Chapter;

e. Order a child returned to the physical custody of his or her parents, guardian or custodian with any limitations, conditions or supervision the Court finds appropriate;

g. Provide for the permanent placement of the child or set the matter for a permanency hearing; or

h. Terminate the child's status as a child in need of assistance and order the child immediately returned to the legal and physical custody of his or her parents, guardian or custodian.

Section 3-6-33. Permanency Hearing.

1. In any proceeding where a child has been involuntarily removed from the home of the child's parents, guardian or custodian and placed in foster care, a permanency hearing shall be held no less than every twelve (12) months from the date the child is first placed in foster care until the jurisdiction of the Court over the child is terminated, provided that, in proceedings where the Court has determined that reasonable and active efforts to prevent the breakup of the family are not required, the first permanency hearing shall be held within thirty (30) days from the date the child is first placed in foster care. A permanency hearing may be combined with a review hearing conducted under this Chapter.

2. The primary purpose of a permanency hearing is to review the status of the child and the progress being made toward the child's return to his or her parents, guardian or custodian or to some other permanent home.

3. In conducting a permanency hearing, the Court shall determine:

2. If parental rights to the child have not been terminated and the Court determines at the permanency hearing that the return of the child would not cause a substantial risk of harm to the child's life, physical health or mental well-being, the Court shall order the child returned to his or her parents, guardian or custodian. In determining whether the return of the child would cause a substantial risk or harm to the child, the Court shall view the failure of the parent to substantially comply with the terms and conditions of the case service plan and dispositional order as evidence that return of the child to his or her parent would cause a substantial risk of harm to the child's life, physical health or mental well-being.

Section 3-6-35. Modification or Setting Aside Order or Decree.

1. A child, his or her parents, guardian or custodian or any other person having a legitimate interest in the child may, by motion in the same action in which the child was declared to be in need of assistance, request the Court to change or set aside any previous order, including an order removing custody from the parents, guardian or custodian, or to terminate the child's status as a ward of the Court or a child in need of assistance on the grounds of change of circumstances or new evidence.

2. A motion made under this Section shall identify the person making the motion and his or her relationship to or interest in the child and shall set forth in clear and concise terms any change of circumstances or new evidence which is alleged as grounds for such change or order or termination of status.

3. The Court shall hold a hearing on all motions filed under this Section upon notice given to the child, the Tribe, and the child's parents, guardian or custodian.

4. The Court may grant a motion made under this Section if it is in the best interests of the child and the Tribe and otherwise justified, except that, if the motion is based upon new evidence related to adjudication or disposition, the Court shall order a new adjudicatory or dispositional hearing, as appropriate, unless the Tribe agrees to the relief requested in the motion or the parties agree to alternative relief without a new hearing.

1. If a child is removed from the physical custody of his or her parents, guardian or custodian under this Chapter, preference shall be given to placement in the following order:

3. The Court shall treat any written report resulting from an evaluation, examination or investigation ordered under this Section as it would consider all other evidence regardless of whether the report, any matter therein or any exhibit attached thereto is formally introduced as evidence.

4. If the individual being ordered to submit to an evaluation or examination is eligible for services from the Health Services Department and the Health Services Department possesses the capability to perform or have performed such evaluation or examination, the exam may be conducted by the Health Services Department and, unless otherwise ordered by the Court, the Tribe may bear the costs of the examination unless otherwise ordered by the Court.

Section 3-7-14. Proceeding on Petition. Except as otherwise provided in this Title, the Court may adopt any mode of proceeding on a petition filed under this Chapter as it deems appropriate in its discretion that will best serve the purposes of this Title and assist in an amicable resolution that assists the child and family, including, by way of example but not limitation:

1. Informal resolution or problem-solving practices;
2. Adjudication by trial;
3. Adjudication by stipulation with or without admission of grounds;
4. Conducting a dispositional hearing without adjudication of the merits of the petition; or
5. Informal court review.

Section 3-7-15. Informal Conference.

1. The Tribal Attorney and/or the Department may, at any time before or after a petition is filed and prior to disposition, hold an informal conference with the child and the child's parents, guardian or custodian to discuss alternative courses of action in the particular case, or otherwise propose alternative courses of action to the child and the child's parents, guardian or custodian which may be accepted or rejected by the child and the child's parents.

2. Statements made by the child at an informal conference may or may not be used against the child in determining the truth of the allegations in the petition. The Court shall make the determination whether or not a statement is admissible.

3. At the informal conference or as a result of a proposal, the Tribe may enter into a written agreement with the child and the child's parents, guardian or custodian specifying particular conditions to be observed and/or programs to be completed. The agreement may also include a stipulated adjudication of the child as a child offender. The Court shall accept the agreement as a consent decree under this Chapter in lieu of a disposition of the child, subject to compliance with the agreement. The child and the child's parents, guardian or custodian shall enter into the agreement with the knowledge that consent is voluntary and that they may refuse to enter into the agreement and proceed through hearings in the proceeding before the Court.

4. The child may be represented by legal counsel at his or her own expense at any informal conference.

5. Upon the successful completion of the terms of a written agreement entered into under this Section, the case shall be dismissed and no further action taken in the case.

6. If the child fails to successfully complete the terms of the agreement, it shall be treated as a failure to fulfill the terms of a consent decree.

Section 3-7-16. Consent Decree.

1. At any time after the filing of a petition under this Chapter and before the entry of a judgment, the Court may, on motion of the Tribe or the child, suspend the proceedings under terms and conditions negotiated with the Tribe and agreed to by all the parties affected. The Court's order continuing the child under this Section shall be known as a consent decree.

2. Upon the successful completion of the terms of a consent decree, the case shall be dismissed and no further action taken in the case.

3. If, either prior to a discharge by the Court or expiration of the consent decree, the child fails to fulfill the terms of the decree, the Tribe may file a motion to revoke the consent decree. If the child is found to have violated the terms of the consent decree, the Court may:

a. Extend the period of the consent decree; or

b. Proceed with further formal proceedings on the petition in accordance with this Chapter, except that if the consent decree included any admission or plea of no contest in lieu of adjudication, the Court may accept such admission or plea as though given at an advisory hearing on the petition.

Section 3-7-17. Reports to Court.

1. To aid the Court in its decision, prior to any hearing in a proceeding under this Chapter except for an adjudicatory hearing, the Tribe shall file a report to the court on behalf of the Department and the Tribe consisting of a written evaluation of matters relevant to the resolution of the case.

2. The Tribe's report to the court shall include:

a. A summary of the immediately preceding hearing and order, if any;

b. If appropriate, a summary of the status and progress of the child and family since the last hearing, including:

i. Compliance with prior orders of the Court;

ii. What steps, if any, the child and the child's parent, guardian or custodian or Department personnel have taken to correct the problems which lead to the filing of the petition; and

iii. What services could be of benefit to the child and his or her parent, guardian or custodian;

c. Any other information the Tribe deems appropriate; and

d. Recommendations for the child, family and proceedings to be included in an order of the Court.

3. The Tribe's report to the court shall be based upon reports and input from the Department, including any contacts with the child and his or her parents, guardian or custodian. The Tribe may attach the Department's report to its report to the court as an exhibit or may include the necessary information from the Department's report directly in the Tribe's report to the court. The Tribe may also attach any other reports and documents as exhibits to its report to the court. Subject to objection from any party, the Court shall receive and accept any exhibit attached to the Tribe's report to the court and consider such exhibit as it would any other evidence presented.

4. In addition to the Tribe's report to the court, the child and his or her parents, guardian or custodian may also submit a report to the court regarding the child's progress and condition.

5. The Tribe's and any other report to the court, including any exhibits, shall be filed with the Court and served on the child, if represented, and all other parties at least five (5) days prior to the date set for the hearing. The Tribe and any other person who files a timely report to the court may also file and serve a supplement or modification to their report to the court based on new information within three (3) calendar days prior to the hearing. Any other supplementation or modification shall be made during the hearing.

6. During any hearing where a report to the court has been filed, any party to the proceedings shall be permitted to object or request modification or addition to the report to the court. Objections or requests for modification or addition may be made by filing the same with the Court or orally during the hearing. If the person who filed the report does not agree to any such objection, modification or addition, the Court shall determine whether the objection, modification or addition will be accepted. The Court shall accept the report to the court as altered due to any accepted objection, modification or addition.

7. The Court shall review and consider reports to the court, any information contained therein, and any attached exhibits as it would consider all other evidence regardless of whether the report to the court, any matter therein or any exhibit attached thereto is formally introduced as evidence.

Section 3-7-18. Advisory Hearing.

1. An advisory hearing shall be held as soon as practicably possible following the filing of a petition under this Chapter.

2. The primary purpose of the advisory hearing is to inform the child and his or her parents, guardian or custodian of the allegations of the petition and the possible consequences if the allegations are admitted or proven true as well as to receive the response of the respondents to the petition.

3. During the advisory hearing, the Court shall first:

a. Ascertain the need for any joinder or deletion of parties;

b. Determine the true names, addresses and tribal affiliation of the parties and their relationship to the child;

c. Determine the true name, date and place of birth, address, tribal affiliation and custodial status of the child;

e. Advise the child and his or her parents, guardian or custodian of their basic rights under Section 3-3-7 of this Title.

4. The Court shall then receive the answer, response, denial or admission of the child. The child may admit or plead no contest to any or all of the allegations contained in the petition and the Court may accept the admission if the Court is satisfied there is a factual basis for the allegations. If the child does not admit or plead no contest to any of the allegations contained in the petition, such allegations shall be deemed denied.

5. If the child received actual notice of the advisory hearing and fails to appear or fails to answer or otherwise respond to the petition, the child shall be deemed by the Court to be in default and the petition shall be taken as admitted to by the child.

Section 3-7-19. Order After Advisory Hearing. After an advisory hearing, the Court shall enter a written order based on the results of said hearing. The order shall:

1. State the appearances of all parties and failures to appear;

2. If the advisory hearing is continued, set a new date for the advisory hearing;

3. If the child admits the allegations contained in the petition and the Court accepts the admission:

a. Declare the child to be a child offender as admitted to by the child; and

b. Set the matter for a dispositional hearing and prescribe for the provision of notice of the hearing;

4. If the child denies one or more of the allegations contained in the petition, set the matter for an adjudicatory hearing as to the allegations of the petition denied and prescribe for the provision of notice of the hearing;

5. If appropriate, provide for the out-of-home placement of the child pending the next hearing;

6. Make any appointments of guardians ad litem or other personnel pursuant to Chapter 3 of this Title; and Section 3-7-20. Adjudicatory Hearing.

1. Following the advisory hearing where the child denies any of the allegations of the petition, an adjudicatory hearing shall be held on the allegations of the petition denied.

2. The sole purpose of the adjudicatory hearing is to determine whether the child is a child offender under this Chapter.

3. The Court shall consider any and all reports required by this Chapter or ordered by the Court, and any additional relevant testimony or evidence presented at the hearing.

4. The allegations of the petition must be supported by clear and convincing evidence.

Section 3-7-21. Order After Adjudicatory Hearing.

1. After an adjudicatory hearing, the Court shall enter written findings of fact, conclusions of law and an order based on the results of said hearing. The order shall:

a. If the Court determines that the child is a child offender under this Chapter:

i. State that the child is a child offender by clear and convincing evidence;

ii. Set the matter for a dispositional hearing approximately thirty (30) from the date of the adjudicatory hearing and prescribe for the provision of notice of the hearing;

i. Release the child, the child's parents, guardian or custodian, and other respondents from any orders previously entered; and

ii. Dismiss the action; and

c. Order any other matters the Court deems necessary or appropriate.

1. The Department shall prepare a written report describing all reasonably appropriate alternative dispositions of the child. The report shall contain:

a. A specific plan for care of and assistance to the child which is calculated to resolve the problems presented in the petition;

b. A detailed explanation showing the necessity for the proposed plan of disposition and the benefits to the child under the proposed plan;

c. If placement with the child's parents, guardian or custodian is not recommended, specific and detailed reasons why such recommendation is not made and is authorized under this Chapter; and

d. Such other information the Department determines relevant to the disposition of the child.

2. The Tribe's report to the court filed for the dispositional hearing shall be based on the dispositional report required by this Section. In addition to any other matters generally included in the Tribe's report to the court, the Tribe shall state its recommended disposition of the child.

Section 3-7-23. Dispositional Hearing.

1. Following the adjudicatory hearing and entry of an order from said hearing, a dispositional hearing shall be held.

2. The primary purpose of the dispositional hearing is to determine how to resolve the case once the child has been determined to be a child offender.

3. The disposition of the child shall be made in accordance with the following:

a. The disposition shall be consistent with the allegations of the petition and the problems or issues that resulted in the filing of the petition and the basis for adjudication of the child as a child offender;

b. Preference shall be given to dispositional alternatives which are least restrictive of the child's freedom, resolve problems and issues the child may have which resulted in the filing of the petition, otherwise lead to the rehabilitation of the child, and are consistent with the purposes of this Chapter and the interests of the Tribe; and

c. The disposition shall be consistent with the best interests of the child.

4. If the disposition of a child includes the involuntary placement of the child out of the physical custody of his or her parents, guardian or custodian, the Court shall ensure that the standards under Section 3-7-7 of this Chapter have been met.

Section 3-7-24. Order After Dispositional Hearing.

4. A dispositional order is a final order and subject to appeal in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing civil appeals.

Section 3-7-25. Review Hearings.

1. Following the dispositional hearing, a review hearing shall be held no less than every six (6) months after entry of the dispositional order until the jurisdiction of the Court over the child is terminated.

2. The primary purpose of a review hearing is to evaluate the progress of the child and family and determine whether court intervention should continue.

3. The Court shall consider the efforts or progress demonstrated by the child and, if appropriate, the child's parents, guardian or custodian and the extent to which they cooperated and availed themselves of services provided and, based on the Court's findings, do any of the following:

a. If there has been no material change of circumstances, continue the dispositional order in effect;

4. Order any other matters the Court deems necessary or appropriate.

Section 3-7-27. Modification or Setting Aside Order or Decree.

1. A child, his or her parents, guardian or custodian, or any other person having a legitimate interest in the child may, by motion in the same action in which the child was declared to be a child offender, request the Court to change or set aside any previous order, including an order removing custody from the parents, guardian or custodian, or to terminate the child's status as a ward of the Court or a child offender on the grounds of change of circumstances or new evidence.

2. A motion made under this Section shall identify the person making the motion and his or her relationship to or interest in the child and shall set forth in clear and concise terms any change of circumstance or new evidence which is alleged as grounds for such change or order or termination of status.

3. The Court shall hold a hearing on all motions filed under this Section upon notice given to the child, the Tribe, and the child's parents, guardian or custodian.

4. The Court may grant a motion made under this Section if it is in the best interests of the child and the Tribe and otherwise justified, except that, if the motion is based upon new evidence related to adjudication or disposition, the Court shall order a new adjudicatory or dispositional hearing, as appropriate, unless the Tribe agrees to the relief requested in the motion or the parties agree to alternative relief without a new hearing.

Section 3-7-28. Prohibition on Subsequent Petition. A child who is subject to a petition under this Chapter shall not again be subject of a petition under this Chapter based upon the same conduct and any such petition shall be dismissed with prejudice, unless the first petition was dismissed voluntarily by the Tribe prior to the entry of a dispositional order. Nothing in this Section precludes a civil suit against the child for damages arising from such conduct.

CHAPTER 8 TERMINATION OF PARENTAL RIGHTS

Section 3-8-1. Purpose. The purpose of this Chapter is to provide for the voluntary and involuntary termination of the parent-child relationship. This Chapter shall be construed in a manner consistent with the philosophy that the family unit is of most value to the Tribe, community, and the individual family members when that unit remains united and together, and that the parent-child relationship is of such vital importance that it should be terminated only as a last resort when all efforts have failed to avoid termination and it is in the best interests of the child concerned to proceed under this Chapter.

Section 3-8-2. Voluntary Termination of Parental Rights.

1. A child's parent may voluntarily consent to termination or relinquishment of parental rights in accordance with the following:

a. The consent shall be executed in writing and recorded under oath during a hearing of the Court, including a telephonic hearing;

b. The writing shall be dated and positively identify the party giving the consent and the child subject of the voluntary termination; and

c. The Court shall ensure, and the consent shall acknowledge in writing, that the terms and consequences of the voluntary termination are fully understood by the parent.

2. The parent may withdraw consent at any time and for any reason prior to the entry of a final decree of termination and request return of the child.

Section 3-8-3. Retention of Privileges.

1. A parent who consents to voluntary termination of parental rights under this Chapter may retain privileges with respect to the child, including the ability to have future contact, communication, and visitation with the child.

2. A retained privilege must be in writing and stated with specificity. The Court shall include a retained privilege in:

a. The Court's order terminating parental rights under this Chapter; and

b. Except as provided in this Section, any subsequent decree of adoption or order of guardianship involving the child.

3. After an order terminating parental rights under this Chapter is entered and before the entry of a decree of adoption or guardianship order involving the child, a prospective adoptive parent or guardian, as the case may be, may request that the Court decline to incorporate a privilege retained in an order terminating parental rights under this Section. The request may only be considered by the Court after providing at least twenty (20) days notice to the person who retained the privilege. The notice must:

- a. Describe the request;
- b. Explain that the recipient of the notice may submit a written statement to the Court that the recipient either agrees with or opposes the request; and
- c. Include the deadline for submitting the statement and the mailing address of the Court.

The Court may decline to incorporate a retained privilege if the person who retained the privilege agrees with the request or if the Court finds that it is in the child's best interest.

4. An order terminating parental rights may not be vacated on the ground that a retained privilege has been withheld from the parent or that the parent has been unable, for any reason, to act on a retained privilege. However, after an order terminating parental rights is entered, a person who has retained a privilege under this Section may request a review hearing, upon a showing of good cause, to seek enforcement or modification of or to vacate a privilege retained. The Court may modify, enforce, or vacate the retained privilege if the Court finds, by clear and convincing evidence, that it is in the best interest of the child to do so.

Section 3-8-4. Involuntary Termination of Parental Rights.

1. The Court may terminate the parental rights of a child's parent in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter if the Court finds such termination is in the best interests of the child and the Tribe and, by clear and convincing evidence, one or more of the following:

- a. The parent, including a parent who is unidentifiable, has abandoned the child for at least six (6) months and, during this period, while being able, the parent has made no attempt to resume physical custody of the child or make suitable arrangements for the child;

- b. The parent, including a parent who is unidentifiable, has voluntarily surrendered a child in accordance with Section 3-6-4 of this Title or other equivalent law in another jurisdiction

- c. The child has been adjudicated a child in need of assistance under Chapter 6 of this Title and:

i. The child has been involuntarily removed from the care and custody of his or her parent;

ii. Twelve (12) or more months have elapsed since the issuance of an initial disposition order or removal of the child;

iii. There is no court-approved plan for long-term placement or care of the child or the child otherwise is not in a permanent placement;

iv. All required reasonable and active efforts have been made to rehabilitate the family;

v. The conditions which led to the removal of the child from the custody of his or her parent still exist;

vi. There is little likelihood that the conditions which led to removal will be remedied so that the child can be returned to the custody of the child's parent;

vii. Custody of the child with the child's parent would likely result in serious emotional or physical harm to the child; and viii. Termination of parental rights is in the best interests of the child and the Tribe;

d. The child has been adjudicated a child in need of assistance under Chapter 6 of this Title and the child has been in foster care for fifteen (15) of the last twenty-two (22) months, provided such foster care does not constitute not a permanent placement under Chapter 6 of this Title or a guardianship;

e. The parent has willfully or recklessly subjected the child to sexual abuse;

f. The parent, without regards to intent, fails to provide proper care or custody for the child and there is no reasonable expectation that the parent will be able to provide proper care and custody within a reasonable time considering the age of the child;

g. The parent has committed murder, voluntary manslaughter or felony assault that led to serious bodily injury against the child or another child of the parent;

h. The parent committed an act of rape or sexual assault against the other parent of the child and the child was conceived as a result of the act of rape or sexual assault, provided that the Court shall accept a guilty plea or conviction of rape, sexual assault or comparable offense under the laws of the Tribe or other jurisdiction where the offense occurred against the other parent as conclusive proof that the parent committed the act of rape or sexual assault; or

i. Parental rights to one (1) or more siblings of the child have been terminated due to serious and chronic neglect or physical or sexual abuse, and prior attempts to rehabilitate the parents have been unsuccessful.

2. Involuntary termination of parental rights shall be considered only as a matter of last resort. Involuntary termination of parental rights shall only be granted:

a. In the most egregious situations; or

b. When it is clear that long-term guardianship or other placement away from the parent's physical custody is insufficient to meet the child's needs and an adoption has been arranged.

3. The fact that a child cannot be returned to his or her parent shall not by itself constitute grounds for the involuntary termination of parental rights if there is no proposed adoptive placement.

4. Termination of parental rights shall not be sought or granted for the purpose of punishment or penalization of the parent.

Section 3-8-5. Continuing Jurisdiction.

1. Jurisdiction of the Court over a proceeding and a child under this Chapter is retained after entry of an order terminating parental rights for purposes of reviewing the status of the child until such jurisdiction is terminated by any of the following situations:

a. The child is adopted;

b. The child becomes an adult; or

c. The Court enters an order closing the matter and removing it from its continuing jurisdiction.

2. Where the Court deems it appropriate, the Court may retain jurisdiction under this Section over children and their extended family members who leave the territory of the Tribe.

Section 3-8-6. Proceedings Involving Child of Another Tribe. In any proceeding under this Chapter involving termination of parental rights to a child who is not a member of the Tribe and is a member or eligible to be a member of another federally recognized Indian tribe:

1. The Court shall provide notice of the proceedings to the child's tribe as soon as possible, and preferably prior to the next hearing, after the Court knows or has reason to know that the child is not a member of the Tribe and is a member or eligible to be a member of another federally recognized Indian tribe, which shall include:

a. The nature of the proceedings;

b. Notification of the tribe's right to intervene in the proceedings; and

c. Notification of the tribe's right to request transfer of the proceedings involving that child to it;

2. The child's tribe shall have a right to intervene at any point in the proceedings; and

3. No termination of parental rights shall be ordered until at least ten (10) days after receipt of notice of the proceedings by the child's tribe.

Section 3-8-7. Initiation of Proceedings.

1. Proceedings in the Court to terminate the parent-child relationship shall be initiated by the filing of a petition.

2. Petitions may be filed by:

a. Either parent when termination is sought with respect to the other parent;

b. A parent when seeking the voluntary termination of his or her parental rights;

c. The Tribal Attorney, or in the absence of the Tribal Attorney, the Department on behalf of the Tribe; or

d. Any other person possessing a legitimate interest in the matter.

3. Other than proceedings to terminate parental rights in a proceeding under Chapter 6 or Chapter 10 of this Title, petitions to terminate parental rights, shall be captioned: "In Re the Matter of (child's or children's name(s)) and concerning (parent's name(s))". Proceedings to terminate parental rights in a child in need of assistance proceeding under Chapter 6 of this Title may be filed as a motion in, brought in, and captioned as the pending child in need of assistance proceeding. Petitions to terminate parental rights in an adoption proceeding under Chapter 10 of this Title may be combined with the petition for adoption, captioned as the adoption proceeding, and conducted as part of the adoption proceeding.

4. In addition to any other information required by the laws of the Tribe, all petitions under this Section shall contain the following information:

a. Unless the petitioner is the Tribe, the name and address of the petitioner;

b. The child's name, sex, date and place of birth, current residence and tribal membership or the reasons such information is unavailable;

c. Unless the petitioner is the Tribe, the relationship of the petitioner to the child, or the fact that no relationship exists;

d. The names, last known addresses and tribal membership of the child's parents or the reasons that such information is unavailable;

e. Where the child's parent is also a child, the names and addresses of the parent's parents or guardian or a statement that the parent has no parent or guardian, or the reasons that such information is unavailable;

f. The names, last known addresses and tribal membership of the persons having legal custody or guardianship of the child or the reasons that such information is unavailable;

g. The names, last know addresses and tribal membership of the child's extended family members, former care givers and others who have or may have a direct or substantial interest in the child, or the reasons such information is unavailable;

h. The basis for the Court's jurisdiction;

i. The grounds upon which termination of parental rights is sought under this Chapter; and

j. A request that the Court terminate the parental rights of the child's parent.

5. The child's parents, except a parent who is a petitioner, shall be included as named respondents.

6. Two (2) or more children having one (1) or more common parent may be included in the same petition.

7. A petition which substantially complies with the requirements of this Section shall not be dismissed for violation of this Section, provided that the Court shall maintain the authority to sanction any petitioner, other than the Tribe, pursuant to the Court's rules governing the same, including sanctions for filing petitions that are unreasonable, groundless, abusive or obstructionist.

Section 3-8-8. When Proceedings Mandated.

1. Except as provided in this Section, the Tribe shall seek termination of parental rights when:

a. A child has been adjudicated a child in need of assistance under Chapter 6 of this Title and has been in foster care for fifteen (15) of the last twenty-two (22) months;

b. The child has been abandoned; or

c. The parent has committed murder, voluntary manslaughter or felony assault as defined by the laws of the Section 3-9-21. Security.

1. The Court may, in its discretion, require a guardian or conservator to provide security in the form of a bond or otherwise in such amount as the Court may deem necessary to protect the ward's estate and affairs.

2. Any surety or other company of any security provided under this Section shall be deemed to have consented to the jurisdiction of the Court for the purposes of actions against such security in connection with any such security.

Section 3-9-22. Letters. Upon a guardian or conservator taking the oath required in this Chapter and filing proof of any security required by the Court, the Tribal Court Administrator or his or her designee shall issue letters under seal of the Court granting the guardian or conservator the powers authorized by the Court's order of appointment and this Chapter, as applicable. Any restriction or limitation on the powers of a guardian or conservator must be set forth in the letters. A guardian or conservator duly appointed shall be entitled to receive, without charge, three (3) certified copies of letters from the Court.

a. To the extent consistent with the terms of an order of the Court relating to detention or commitment of the ward, have custody of the person of the ward and establish the ward's place of residence, provided that the guardian shall give preference as follows:

i. To the least restrictive setting in which the ward's special needs, if any, will be met;

ii. To places within the territory of the Tribe, if residence within the territory of the Tribe and outside the territory of the Tribe would be substantially equivalent; and

b. Provide for the care, comfort and maintenance of the ward and, whenever appropriate, arrange for training and education of the ward;

c. Take reasonable care of the ward's clothing, furniture, vehicles, and other personal effects and begin protective proceedings if other property of the ward is in need of protection;

f. If no conservator has been appointed or the guardianship does not exclude guardianship of the ward's estate, to the extent consistent with the orders of the Court:

i. Institute a proceeding to compel a person under a duty to support the ward or to pay money for the ward's welfare to perform the duty;

ii. Receive money and tangible property deliverable to the ward and apply the same for the ward's care, comfort, maintenance and appropriate training and education while exercising care to conserve any excess for the ward's needs; provided, however, the guardian shall not use money from the ward's estate for room and board which is furnished by the guardian or his or her spouse, parent or child unless authorized by order of the Court;

g. If a conservator has been appointed, pay the conservator for management, pursuant to this Chapter, the amount of the ward's estate received by the guardian in excess of the amount the guardian expends for the ward's current care, comfort, maintenance and appropriate training and education, and account to the conservator for all amounts expended; and

2. Except as limited or modified by order of the Court, a guardian shall:

d. Provide the Court with annual written reports on the guardianship as provided in this Chapter; and

e. At the termination of the guardianship, deliver the assets of the ward to the persons entitled thereto.

3. A guardian may petition the Court for authority to do any act about which the guardian is uncertain, and the Court may grant such authority if such act appears to be in the best interests of the ward.

4. Except as provided by order of the Court, a guardian shall have no authority to relinquish a ward's membership in the Tribe without express permission of the Court.

5. The Court may impose restrictions and limitations on the duties and powers of a guardian and condition the appointment on the performance of specific duties.

Section 3-9-25. Powers and Duties of Conservators.

1. Except as limited or modified by order of the Court, a conservator shall be responsible for the collection, care, preservation, administration and protection of the ward's estate and, without limiting such responsibilities, shall have all of the following powers and duties without Court authorization or confirmation:

5. A conservator shall have no authority to relinquish a ward's membership in the Tribe.

6. The Court may impose restrictions and limitations on the duties and powers of a conservator and condition the appointment on the performance of specific duties.

Section 3-9-26. Limited Guardians and Conservators.

1. If the Court finds by clear and convincing evidence that grounds exist to appoint a guardian or conservator, but the proposed ward is only partially disabled in managing his or her estate and/or affairs, then a limited guardian or limited conservator may be appointed, as the case may be.

2. Any Court order appointing a limited guardian or limited conservator shall specify all duties and authority of the limited guardian or limited conservator and any time limits on the appointment.

3. A ward for whom a limited guardian or limited conservator has been appointed shall retain all rights except those which have been granted to the limited guardian or limited conservator by Court order or the exercise of which would be inconsistent with those granted by order of the Court.

Section 3-9-27. Fiduciary Duties of Guardians and Conservators.
All guardians and conservators shall:

1. Be in a fiduciary relationship to the ward;
2. Exercise a high degree of care in managing the ward's estate; and
3. Derive no personal benefit of any kind from the management of the ward's estate, excluding reimbursement from the ward's estate in accordance with this Title.

Section 3-9-28. Liability to Ward.

1. A guardian or conservator shall be liable to the ward for any losses to the ward's estate attributable to a breach of the guardian's or conservator's duties.

2. An action to hold a guardian or conservator liable for breach of duty may be brought by:

- a. The ward; or

b. A subsequently appointed guardian or conservator on behalf of the ward.

3. An action to hold a guardian or conservator liable for breach of duty may be brought anytime within two (2) years after either:

a. The appointment of a new guardian or conservator for the ward; or

b. The termination or expiration of the guardianship or conservatorship as provided in this Chapter.

Section 3-9-29. Liability to Third Persons.

1. A guardian is legally and morally responsible for acts of a ward who is a child pursuant to the laws of the Tribe. However, neither a guardian or conservator shall be liable to third persons for the acts of a ward solely by reason of the guardian and ward relationship or conservator and ward relationship, as the case may be.

2. Unless otherwise provided in a contract, a conservator shall not be personally liable to a third person on a contract properly entered into in a fiduciary capacity in the course of exercising any power or performing any duty unless the conservator failed to reveal the representative capacity and identify the ward's estate in connection with the contract.

3. A conservator shall not be personally liable to a third person for an obligation arising from ownership or control of the ward's estate or a tort committed in the course of exercising any power or performing any duty unless the conservator was personally at fault.

4. A claim based on a contract entered into by a conservator in a fiduciary capacity, an obligation arising from ownership or control of the ward's estate, or a tort committed in the course of administering the ward's estate may be asserted against the ward's estate by proceeding against the conservator in the conservator's fiduciary capacity, whether or not the conservator is personally liable for the claim.

5. Any question of liability between the estate of a ward and the guardian or conservator may be determined in a Court proceeding for accounting, surcharge, indemnification, or other appropriate proceeding or action.

Section 3-9-30. Transactions with Guardian or Conservator.

1. Any person who, in good faith, either assists or deals with a guardian in the conduct of a transaction may assume the existence and proper exercise of trust powers by the guardian. A third person is not bound to inquire whether a guardian may act or is properly exercising power. Unless the third person has actual knowledge that the guardian is exceeding or improperly exercising the guardian's powers, a third person shall be fully protected in dealing with the guardian as if the guardian properly exercised the power. This subsection does not apply to a limited guardian.

2. Any person who, in good faith, either assists or deals with a conservator for value in a transaction, excluding any transaction requiring a Court order under this Chapter, shall be protected as if the conservator properly exercised the power. The fact that a person knowingly deals with a conservator does not alone require the person to inquire into the existence of a power or the propriety of its exercise. This subsection does not apply to a limited conservator.

Section 3-9-31. Reimbursement.

1. A guardian or conservator shall be entitled to be reimbursed out of the ward's estate for necessary, reasonable, and proper expenditures incurred in the performance of his or her duties, subject to such limitations and requirements of this Section and as the Court may establish.

2. The Court may order reimbursement payments to be made on a regular schedule or on the request of the guardian or conservator, subject to the submission of adequate proof of the expenditure, the necessity of the expenditure, and the availability of funds.

Section 3-9-32. Compensation.

1. No guardian or conservator shall receive any compensation for acting as such without the prior approval of the Court.

2. A guardian or conservator may petition the Court to be compensated at a reasonable amount for services rendered.

3. The Court shall determine the amount of any such compensation, which if approved, shall be paid from the ward's estate and shall not exceed ten percent (10%) of the gross income of the estate.

4. A guardian or conservator shall be deemed to have waived any right to compensation for all periods prior to approval thereof by the Court.

Section 3-9-33. Reports.

1. All guardians and conservators shall file reports with the Court annually within thirty (30) days after the anniversary of the appointment, and at such other times as ordered by the Court.

2. All reports filed pursuant to this Section shall be served on the ward and other persons as directed by the Court in the manner provided under the laws of the Tribe.

3. All reports filed by a guardian shall provide complete and accurate information regarding the condition of the ward, including, but not limited to:

- a. The ward's mental, physical and social condition;
- b. The ward's educational status, if the ward is in school;
- c. The ward's present living arrangement and any changes to the same during the reporting period;
- d. If the ward is not residing with the guardian, the dates and times of the guardian's visits with the ward during the reporting period;
- e. A full accounting of the ward's estate, which is subject to the control or possession of the guardian, including but not limited to, all assets, liabilities, receipts, disbursements and other relevant financial information for the reporting period;
- f. If the ward is not a minor, a recommendation as to the need for continued guardianship; and
- g. Other information required by the Court or useful in the opinion of the guardian.

4. All reports filed by a conservator shall provide a full accounting of the ward's estate, verified under oath or affirmation of the conservator, which is subject to the control or possession of the conservator, including but not limited to:

a. All assets, liabilities, receipts, balances, investments, disbursements and other relevant financial information for the reporting period; and

b. All additions to and withdrawals from the estate, supported by cancelled checks, vouchers, receipts, statements, and the like.

5. The Court shall review and either approve or not approve any report filed by a guardian or conservator and, if not approved, the Court shall, by order, inform the guardian or conservator of the deficiencies in the report and set a deadline by which the report must be resubmitted. The Court shall reconcile or settle every account or balance in the report by allowing or disallowing it, either in whole or in part, and may charge or assess the guardian or conservator for any deficiencies.

6. The Court shall develop and provide forms to assist in completing reports required under this Section.

7. If a guardian or conservator fails to file a report or accounting as required by this Chapter or otherwise ordered by the Court, the Court shall take appropriate action. If the Court finds that the failure is willful or inexcusable, the guardian or conservator may be fined not to exceed $500.00 and such fine may be enforced and collected through a civil cause of action brought by the Tribal Attorney on behalf of the Tribe in a proceeding in the Court.

Section 3-9-34. Automatic Termination.

1. A guardianship shall terminate:

a. When a minor ward attains majority, unless the minor is an incapacitated person;

b. When a minor ward lawfully marries a person who is not subject to a guardianship or conservatorship;

c. When the Court adjudicates a former incapacitated person to no longer be incapacitated;

d. When a ward dies; or

e. By expiration of the term of the guardianship specified in the order appointing the guardian, unless prior to such expiration a motion has been filed and served seeking an extension of such term.

2. A conservatorship shall terminate:

a. When a minor ward attains majority, unless the minor is an incapacitated person;

b. When a minor ward lawfully marries a person who is not subject to a guardianship or conservatorship and the Court approves such termination;

c. When the Court adjudicates a former incapacitated person to be capable of handling his or her property;

d. When a ward dies; or

e. By expiration of the term of the conservatorship specified in the order appointing the conservator, unless prior to such expiration a motion has been filed and served seeking an extension of such term.

Section 3-9-35. Modification or Termination by Court.

1. On its own motion or on motion of the ward, a guardian ad litem of the ward, or a person interested in the welfare of the ward, the Court may modify or terminate a guardianship or conservatorship or remove or replace a guardian or conservator. Such motion shall state the specific reasons or grounds for modification, termination, or removal or replacement.

2. The Court may summarily deny a motion under this Section without scheduling a hearing if it appears, based on the contents of the motion or documents in the Court file, that the motion is frivolous. Any denial of a motion without a hearing shall be in writing with the reasons for the denial explained.

3. Upon a motion under this Section that is not summarily denied, the Court shall set a date for a hearing, provided that an order finding a ward to be an incapacitated person may specify a minimum period, not exceeding 180 days, during which a motion to terminate the guardianship or conservatorship shall not be filed without special leave of the Court.

4. At any hearing under this Section, the ward shall have all the rights afforded under an initial hearing to appoint the guardian or conservator.

5. The Court may terminate a guardianship or conservatorship if it is in the best interests of the ward and one of the following grounds exists:

a. The guardianship or conservatorship has automatically terminated as provided in this Chapter;

b. A ward who is an incapacitated person lawfully marries a person who is not subject to a guardianship or conservatorship;

c. The custody of a ward who is a minor child will be restored to the child's parents and parental rights have not been terminated; or

d. The grounds for guardianship or conservatorship set forth in this Chapter, as applicable, no longer permit the guardianship or conservatorship.

6. In all other proceedings under this Section, the Court may grant such relief as it deems just and in the best interest of the ward.

Section 3-9-36. Resignation of Guardian or Conservator. Any guardian or conservator who wishes to resign shall file a motion with the Court submitting their resignation. The motion may include a request to appoint a successor guardian or conservator. Subject to the filing of a final report as required in this Chapter, the Court may accept the resignation after a showing that no other actions in the interim are necessary to protect the ward or the ward's estate.

Section 3-9-37. Appointment of Successor. Upon the resignation, removal, or death of a guardian or conservator, the Court, if necessary, may appoint a successor and, prior to any such appointment, may enter an emergency or interim order which is in the best interests of the ward.

Section 3-9-38. Final Report. Upon termination of a guardianship or conservatorship or upon resignation, removal or death of a guardian or conservator, such guardian, conservator or his or her personal representative shall file a final report with the Court in the form required for the annual report required in this Chapter. Upon approval of the report and filing any proper receipts, the guardian or conservator shall be discharged and his or her bond released.

Section 3-9-39. Civil Fines. In addition to any liability a guardian or conservator may have to his or her ward, any guardian or conservator who steals, diverts, or grossly abuses the funds or property of a ward or who knowingly or recklessly abuses a ward or neglects a ward's rights under this Chapter or any other law of the Tribe shall, in addition to any crime, be subject to a civil fine not to exceed $1000 per occurrence.

CHAPTER 10 ADOPTION OF CHILDREN

Section 3-10-1. Purpose. The purpose of this Chapter is to protect the rights and the welfare of children, biological parents, and adoptive parents. The purpose of adoptions is to give the adoptive child a permanent home. It is the policy of the Tribe to promote the adoption of children who are members or eligible to be members of the Tribe by other family members and other members of the Tribe.

Section 3-10-2. Who May Be Adopted. Any child who is located within the territory of the Tribe or who is a member or eligible to be a member of the Tribe, regardless of location, may be adopted.

Section 3-10-3. Who May Adopt.

1. Any adult is eligible to adopt a child, provided, that no non-member who is not a member of the child's extended family may adopt a child who is a member or eligible to be a member of the Tribe except in compelling circumstances as determined by the Court when the best interests of the Tribe or the child so require.

2. Spouses, not lawfully separated, may jointly adopt children but a person may not adopt a child without the consent and approval of the adopting person's spouse, provided the spouse is capable of giving such consent.

3. A person adopting a child must be at least ten (10) years older than the child adopted.

Section 3-10-4. Recognition of Customary Adoption.

1. A person may petition the Court under this Chapter to recognize an adoption under the customs and traditions of the Tribe. The Court shall issue a decree recognizing the adoption if:

a. The biological parents of the person adopted acknowledge the traditional or customary adoption; or

b. At least two (2) reliable witnesses attest to the traditional or customary adoption;

2. The Court shall issue a decree recognizing the adoption even if the parental rights of the biological parents of the person adopted have not been terminated.

3. Upon request of the customary adoptive parents and/or the biological parents of the person adopted, the Court shall resolve any questions that arise over the respective rights of the biological parents and the adoptive parents in a traditional or customary adoption based on the best interests of the person adopted and where the sense of family is for the person adopted.

Section 3-10-5. Consent to Adoption; Waiver.

f. The Department or any other person or agency with legal custody of the child; and

g. The child, if twelve (12) years of age or older.

2. Consent is not necessary from the following:

iii. Who has abandoned his or her child for a period of one (1) year;

iv. Who has been convicted of any crime punishable by imprisonment for a period that, in the opinion of the Court, will deprive the child of a parent's companionship for a critical period of time;

v. Who has been adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be incompetent or an incapacitated person; or

vi. Who committed an act of rape or sexual assault against the other parent of the child and the child was conceived as a result of the act of rape or sexual assault, provided that the Court shall accept a guilty plea or conviction of rape, sexual assault or comparable offense under the laws of the Tribe or other jurisdiction where the offense occurred against the other parent as conclusive proof that the parent committed the act of rape or sexual assault;

b. The father of a child born out of wedlock where parentage has not been established by acknowledgment, subsequent marriage to the mother, or a court of competent jurisdiction;

c. The guardian of the child, if the guardian is adopting the child; and

d. The parents, guardian or custodian of the child in the case of recognition of a customary adoption.

3. The Court may waive any requirement for the consent of any person, except a parent and the child when, after a hearing, the Court determines that the best interests of the child will be promoted thereby. In such a case, the Court shall make written findings of all facts upon which its order is based.

4. The consent of a parent to the adoption of a child shall not constitute or be construed as constituting a relinquishment or termination of the parental rights of such parent.

Section 3-10-6. Form of Consent.

1. Except for the child to be adopted whose consent is required, all consents to an adoption shall be executed in writing, signed by the person giving the consent under oath or affirmation and filed with the Court prior to the hearing on a petition for adoption.

2. Consent by a child to be adopted whose consent is required shall be made:

a. Orally either in open court or in chambers with only the judge, any other persons the judge deems necessary, and the child present; and

3. A consent given prior to, or within, ten (10) days after the birth of the child to be adopted shall not be valid.

4. A consent by a parent or guardian to an adoption shall designate one of the following:

Section 3-10-7. Withdrawal of Consent.

1. Any consent given under the provisions of this Chapter may be withdrawn by the person or agency which gave the consent at any time prior to the entry of a decree of adoption.

2. No reason need to be stated and no hearing need be held on any withdrawal of consent under this Section.

3. All withdrawals shall be in writing and notarized or witnessed by the Tribal Court Administrator with the original being filed with the Court.

4. If a parent withdraws consent under this Section, the child shall be returned to the parent withdrawing consent if such parent would otherwise be entitled to the custody and control of the child.

Section 3-10-8. Proceedings Involving Child of Another Tribe. In any proceeding under this Chapter involving a child who is not a member of the Tribe and is a member or eligible to be a member of another federally recognized Indian tribe:

1. The Court shall provide notice of the proceedings to the child's tribe as soon as possible, and preferably prior to the next hearing, after the Court knows or has reason to know that the child is not a member of the Tribe and is a member or eligible to be a member of another federally recognized Indian tribe, which shall include:

a. The nature of the proceedings;

b. Notification of the tribe's right to intervene in the proceedings; and

c. Notification of the tribe's right to request transfer of the proceedings involving that child to it; and

2. The child's tribe shall have a right to intervene at any point in the proceedings.

Section 3-10-9. Nature of Adoption.

1. Except as expressly provided in this Section, adoptions under this Chapter shall be open adoptions. An open adoption is intended to not permanently deprive the child of connections to, or knowledge of, his or her biological family. The following shall apply to all orders and decrees of an open adoption:

a. The adoptive child shall have an absolute right, absent a convincing and compelling reason to the contrary, to information and knowledge about his or her biological family and tribal heritage;

b. Unless termination of parental rights is required under another provision of the laws of the Tribe, the termination or relinquishment of the parental rights of the child's biological parents shall not be required, provided that:

i. The Court may provide for the respective rights and duties of the biological parents and the adoptive parents based on the best interests of the child or, to the extent consistent with the best interests of the child, the agreement of the biological parents and the adoptive parents; and

ii. In the absence of the Court providing for the respective rights and duties of the biological parents and the adoptive parents, the rights, powers, privileges, duties and obligations of a parent, including to custody, to control visitation and to support, shall reside with the adoptive parents;

c. The adoptive child and members of the child's biological extended family, including parents, may have the right to reasonable visitation, subject to reasonable controls of the adoptive parents, unless otherwise restricted by the Court for a compelling reason; and

d. Adoption shall not serve to prevent an adoptive child from inheriting from a biological parent in the same manner as any other biological child.

2. At the request of the petitioner, the child's biological parents, or the Department and if deemed reasonable by the Court, adoption proceedings may be made closed adoptions. A closed adoption is intended to sever all ties between the child and his or her biological family. The following shall apply to all orders and decrees of a closed adoption:

a. The adoptive child shall have an absolute right, absent a convincing and compelling reason to the contrary, to information and knowledge about his or her biological family and tribal heritage upon reaching the age of majority;

b. The termination or relinquishment of the parental rights of the child's biological parents shall be required;

c. The child's biological family shall not be entitled to or have access to any information regarding the child; and

d. The adoptive child shall not be entitled to inherit from his or her biological parents by intestate succession.

Section 3-10-10. Placement Preferences.

1. In any adoption proceeding except the recognition of a customary adoption, preference shall be given to placement in the following order:

a. A relative of the child who is a member of the tribe in which the child is a member or eligible to be a member;

b. A relative of the child who is not a member of the tribe in which the child is a member or eligible to be a member;

c. A non-relative member of the tribe in which the child is a member or eligible to be a member; or

d. A member of a federally recognized Indian tribe.

2. If a child who is a member or eligible to be a member of the Tribe is to be adopted by a non-Ponca family, the following placement conditions, when reasonable, should be imposed:

a. The child should have reasonable access to Ponca family members, including, but not limited to, visitation, phone calls, and correspondence;

b. If the child wishes to observe or participate in the Tribe's cultural and religious ceremonies and activities, appropriate arrangements should be made;

c. All correspondence from the Tribe (such as the Tribal Newsletter, special mailings, etc.) must be accepted; and

d. The Tribe must be kept informed of all address changes.

3. Notwithstanding anything in this Section, the Court, with good cause shown, may place the child in a placement that serves the best interests of the child.

Section 3-10-11. Initiation of Proceedings.

1. Proceedings in the Court to adopt a child or recognize a customary adoption shall be initiated by the filing of a petition.

2. Petitions may only be filed by the person desiring to adopt the child or who claim a customary adoption, provided that spouses desiring to adopt a child shall file a joint petition for adoption unless one of the spouses is the biological or adopted parent of the proposed adoptee.

Section 4-2-1. Purpose. This Chapter shall be liberally construed and applied to promote its underlying purposes, which are to:

1. Recognize and acknowledge that marriage is a fundamental human right and an institution that strengthens family relationships and preserves the integrity, cohesiveness, and continuity of the Tribe;

2. Ensure that couples of the same sex and couples of opposite sex have equal access to marriage and to the protections, responsibilities, and benefits that result from marriage;

3. Provide adequate procedures for the solemnization and registration of marriage; and

4. Strengthen and preserve the integrity of marriage and safeguard family relationships.

Section 4-2-2. Jurisdiction. The Tribe shall have jurisdiction over all marriages licensed and performed within the territory of the Tribe and shall have the authority to issue marriage licenses to individuals who are residents within the territory of the Tribe.

Section 4-2-3. Nature of Marriage.

1. Marriage is a personal relationship between two persons arising out of a civil contract to which the consent of the parties is essential.

2. A marriage licensed, solemnized, and registered as provided in this Chapter is valid in the territory of the Tribe.

3. Nothing in this Chapter shall be deemed to repeal or render invalid any otherwise valid common law or traditional marriage that complies with Section 4-2-10 of this Chapter.

4. A marriage may be contracted, maintained, invalidated, or dissolved only as provided by law.

Section 4-2-4. Who May Marry. The following persons may marry:

1. Every person, otherwise competent, who has attained the age of majority; and

a. A marriage entered into prior to the dissolution of an earlier marriage of one of the parties;

b. A marriage entered into where one or both parties are less than seventeen (17) years of age;

c. A marriage between lineal descendants or between siblings, whether the relationship is by the half or the whole blood or by adoption;

d. A marriage between an uncle or aunt and a niece or nephew, whether the relationship is by the half or the whole blood; and

e. A marriage between the children of two siblings or the children of two first cousins, whether the relationship is by the half or the whole blood.

2. Parties to a marriage prohibited under this Section who cohabit after removal of the impediment are lawfully married as of the date of the removal of the impediment.

3. Children born of a prohibited marriage are legitimate.

Section 4-2-6. Marriage License and Certificate.

1. The Court shall prescribe the form for an application for a marriage license, which shall include the following information:

2. The Court shall prescribe the forms for the marriage license, the marriage certificate, and the consent to marriage.

Section 4-2-7. License to Marry.

1. When a marriage application has been completed and signed by both parties to a prospective marriage and at least one party has appeared before the Tribal Court Administrator or his or her designee and paid the marriage license fee to be determined by the Court, the Tribal Court Administrator or his or her designee shall issue a license to marry and a marriage certificate form upon being furnished:

a. Satisfactory proof that each party to the marriage will have attained the age of majority at the time the marriage license is effective, or will have attained the age of seventeen (17) years and has either the consent to the marriage of his or her parents, guardian or custodian, or judicial approval; and

b. Satisfactory proof that the marriage is not prohibited.

2. A license to marry becomes effective when issued, unless the Court orders that the license is effective at a different time, and expires 180 days after it becomes effective.

Section 4-2-8. Judicial Approval.

1. The Court, after a reasonable effort has been made to notify the parents or guardian of each underage party, may order the Tribal Court Administrator to issue a marriage license and a marriage certificate form to a party aged at least seventeen (17), but not yet the age of majority, who has no parent capable of consenting to his or her marriage, or whose parent, guardian or custodian has not consented to his or her marriage.

2. A marriage license and a marriage certificate form may be issued under this Section only if the Court finds that the underage party is capable of assuming the responsibilities of marriage and the marriage will serve his or her best interests. Pregnancy alone does not establish that the best interests of the party will be served.

3. The Court shall authorize performance of a marriage by proxy upon the showing required by the provisions on solemnization.

Section 4-2-9. Solemnization and Registration.

1. A marriage may be solemnized by a judge of a court of record, by a public official whose powers include solemnization of marriages, or in accordance with any mode of solemnization recognized by any religious denomination, Indian nation or tribe, or native group. Either the person solemnizing the marriage, or, if no individual acting alone solemnized the marriage, a party to the marriage, shall complete the marriage certificate form and forward it to the Tribal Court Administrator.

2. If a party to a marriage is unable to be present at the solemnization, he or she may authorize in writing, notarized as an acknowledgment verifying the identity and confirmation of the signature of the party, a third person to act as his or her proxy. If the person solemnizing the marriage is satisfied that the absent party is unable to be present and has consented to the marriage, he or she may solemnize the marriage by proxy. If he or she is not satisfied, the parties may petition the Court for an order permitting the marriage to be solemnized by proxy.

3. Upon receipt of the marriage certificate, the Tribal Court Administrator or his or her designee shall register the marriage.

4. A marriage solemnized before a person professing to have authority to perform marriages is valid regardless of such lack of authority if the parties, or either of them, believe that they have been lawfully joined in marriage.

Section 4-2-10. Common Law and Traditional Marriage.

1. Even where there has been no solemnization or ceremony and no certificate of marriage issued, two persons shall be considered married in a common law marriage if:

1. Domestic partnership is a personal relationship between two persons arising out of a civil contract to which the consent of the parties is essential. For all purposes under the laws of the Tribe, domestic partners:

a. Shall be considered as and treated the same as married spouses; and

b. Any privilege, immunity, right, benefit, or responsibility granted or imposed by the laws of the Tribe to an individual because the individual is or was a spouse, or because the individual is or was an in-law to another individual, is granted on equal terms, substantive and procedural, to an individual because the individual is or was in a domestic partnership or is or was, based on a domestic partnership, related to another individual.

2. Without the requirement of any solemnization or ceremony, two persons may enter into a domestic partnership if:

- a. Each party is eligible to marry under this Chapter;
- b. Each party consents to the domestic partnership;
- c. The parties cohabit;
- d. The domestic partnership, if it were a formal marriage, would not be a prohibited marriage under this Chapter.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 4-2-13, a domestic partnership contracted within or outside the territory of the Tribe shall not be recognized as valid if:

- a. One or more of the parties is not at least the age of majority; or
- b. Were it a formal marriage, it would be a prohibited marriage under this Chapter.

4. Two individuals wishing to become partners in a domestic partnership may obtain a domestic partnership certificate upon completing and filing a registration of domestic partnership with the Tribal Court Administrator and payment of the fee for a marriage license. The Court shall prescribe the form for registration of a domestic partnership, which shall include any information required to obtain a marriage license under this Section along with a declaration that both persons:

- a. Cohabit with one another;
- b. Have chosen to share one another's lives in an intimate and committed relationship of mutual caring; and
- c. Desire of their own free will to enter into a domestic partnership.

6. Nothing in this Section shall be deemed to repeal or render invalid any otherwise valid domestic partnership.

7. A domestic partnership may only be invalidated or dissolved as provided by law with respect to marriage, provided that a domestic partnership shall automatically terminate if the parties enter into a formal marriage to each other.

Section 4-2-12. Putative Spouse.

1. Any person who has cohabited with another to whom he or she is not legally married in the good faith belief that he or she was married to that person is a putative spouse until knowledge of the fact that he or she is not legally married terminates his or her status and prevents acquisition of further rights.

2. A putative spouse acquires the rights conferred upon a legal spouse, including the right to maintenance following termination of his or her status, whether or not the marriage is prohibited or declared invalid.

3. If there is a legal spouse or other putative spouses, rights acquired by a putative spouse do not supersede the rights of the legal spouse or those acquired by other putative spouses, but the Court shall apportion property, maintenance, and support rights among the claimants as appropriate in the circumstances and in the interests of justice.

Section 4-2-13. Existing Marriages.

1. Except as expressly provided in this Chapter, all marriages which are valid under the laws of the jurisdiction where and when performed shall be recognized and valid within the territory and jurisdiction of the Tribe.

2. All marriages performed or entered into within the territory of the Tribe prior to the effective date of this Chapter, including common law marriages and those perfected according to Tribal custom and tradition, are declared valid for all purposes under this Code. Section 4-3-4. Initiation of Proceedings.

1. Proceedings in the Court to declare a marriage invalid shall be initiated by the filing of a petition.

2. A final declaration of invalidity shall restore the parties to the status of unmarried persons.

3. An order declaring a marriage invalid or denying that a marriage is invalid is a final order and subject to appeal in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing civil appeals.

b. Enjoining a party from harassing or disturbing the peace of the other party or of any child;

c. Excluding a party from the family home or from the home of the other party upon a showing that physical or emotional harm would otherwise result;

d. Enjoining a party from removing a child from the jurisdiction of the Court; and

e. Providing other injunctive relief proper in the circumstances.

3. The Court may issue a temporary restraining order without requiring notice to the other party only if it finds on the basis of the moving affidavit or other evidence that irreparable injury will result to the moving party if no order is issued until the time for responding has elapsed.

4. Unless another time is specified in the temporary restraining order, a response may be filed within the time period provided in the rules of procedure for the Court for answering or responding to a motion.

5. On the basis of the showing made and in conformity with the provisions of this Chapter governing maintenance and Chapter 6 of this Title governing child support, the Court may issue a temporary injunction and an order for temporary maintenance or support in amounts and on terms just and proper in the circumstance.

6. A temporary order or temporary injunction:

a. Does not prejudice the rights of the parties or the child which are to be adjudicated at subsequent hearings in the proceeding;

b. May be revoked or modified before a final decree on a showing by affidavit of the facts necessary for revocation or modification of a final decree under this Chapter; and

c. Terminates when the final decree is entered or when the petition for dissolution or legal separation is dismissed.

Section 4-4-6. Separation Agreements.

1. To promote amicable settlement of disputes between parties to a marriage attendant upon their separation or the dissolution of their marriage, the parties may enter into a written separation agreement containing provisions for disposition of any property owned by either of them, maintenance of either of them, and/or support, custody, and visitation of their children.

2. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation, the terms of the separation agreement, except those providing for the support, custody, visitation and parenting time of children, are binding upon the Court unless it finds, after considering the economic circumstances of the parties and any other relevant evidence produced by the parties, on their own motion or on request of the Court, that the separation agreement is unconscionable.

3. If the Court finds the separation agreement is unconscionable, it may request the parties to submit a revised separation agreement or may make orders for the disposition of property, maintenance, and support.

4. The terms of the separation agreement providing for child custody, visitation and parenting time shall comply with and be subject to approval of the Court in accordance with Chapter 5 of this Title.

5. The terms of the separation agreement providing for child support shall comply with and be subject to approval of the Court in accordance with Chapter 6 of this Title.

6. If the Court finds that the separation agreement is not unconscionable as to disposition of property or maintenance, and not unsatisfactory as to support and custody, visitation and parenting time:

a. Unless the separation agreement provides to the contrary, its terms shall be set forth in the decree of dissolution or legal separation and the parties shall be ordered to perform them; or

b. If the separation agreement provides that its terms shall not be set forth in the decree, the decree shall identify the separation agreement and state that the Court has found the terms not unconscionable.

7. Terms of the agreement set forth in the decree are enforceable by all remedies available for enforcement of a judgment, including contempt, and are enforceable as contract terms.

8. Except for terms concerning the support, custody, visitation and parenting time of children, the decree may expressly preclude or limit modification of terms set forth in the decree if the separation agreement so provides. Otherwise, terms of a separation agreement set forth in the decree are automatically modified by modification of the decree.

9. On the written agreement of the parties or on the Court's own motion, the Court may order or refer parties to a proceeding under this Chapter to mediation or traditional dispute resolution regarding disposition of their property, maintenance, and/or support, custody, and visitation of their children to assist them in entering into a separation agreement pursuant to this Section, with the costs allocated between the parties, provided that:

a. The Court shall not order or refer the parties to mediation or traditional dispute resolution if an order for protection is in effect involving the parties or a preponderance of the evidence demonstrates that domestic or family abuse has occurred between the parties; and

b. If a party alleges that domestic or family abuse has occurred between the parties, but the allegation is not supported by a preponderance of the evidence, the Court shall order appropriate measures be taken to ensure the physical and emotional safety of the alleged victim of domestic or family abuse, including ordering that the parties not be required to have face-to-face contact and be placed in separate rooms during the mediation or traditional dispute resolution.

Section 4-4-7. Hearing on Petition.

1. Upon the filing of a petition under this Chapter, the Court shall schedule and conduct a hearing on the petition.

2. The primary purpose of a hearing on the petition is to determine whether the marriage is irretrievably broken and, if so, determine the disposition of any property owned by the parties, maintenance of either of the parties, and support, custody, visitation, and parenting time of the parties' children.

3. The Court shall consider any and all relevant testimony or evidence presented at hearing.

4. The Court shall make a finding of irretrievable breakdown in accordance with the following:

a. If both of the parties by petition or otherwise have stated under oath or affirmation that the marriage is irretrievably broken, or one of the parties has so stated and the other has not denied it, the Court, shall find the marriage is irretrievably broken;

b. If one of the parties has denied under oath or affirmation that the marriage is irretrievably broken, the Court shall consider all relevant factors, including the circumstances that gave rise to filing the petition and the prospect of reconciliation, and shall:

i. Make a finding whether the marriage is irretrievably broken; or

ii. Continue the matter for further hearing not fewer than thirty (30) nor more than sixty (60) days later and may suggest to the parties that they seek counseling. The Court, at the request of either party shall, or on its own motion may, order a conciliation conference. At the next hearing the Court shall make a finding whether the marriage is irretrievably broken.

c. A finding of irretrievable breakdown is a determination that there is no reasonable prospect of reconciliation.

5. The Court shall make findings on the disposition of property and maintenance in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter.

6. The Court shall make findings on the custody and visitation of the parties' children, including the entry or approval of a parenting plan, in accordance with Chapter 5 of this Title.

7. The Court shall make findings on child support for the parties' children in accordance with Chapter 6 of this Title.

Section 4-4-8. Decree.

1. The Court shall enter a decree of dissolution or a decree of legal separation if:

a. The Court finds that one of the parties, at the time the action was commenced, was domiciled within the territory of the Tribe and that the domicile has been maintained for at least ninety (90) days prior to the Court entering the decree; and

b. The Court finds that the marriage is irretrievably broken.

2. In addition to any other matters necessary for an order of the Court, a decree of dissolution or legal separation shall include:

a. The basis for the Court's jurisdiction;

b. The disposition of property and debts between the parties, or provision for a separate, later hearing to complete such matters;

c. If there are children from the relationship, findings and determinations with respect to child custody, including the entry or approval of a parenting plan, and child support in accordance with the provisions of this Title, or provision for a separate, later hearing to complete such matters;

d. Determinations with respect to maintenance of either spouse in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter, or provision for a separate, later hearing to complete such matters;

e. If it is a decree of dissolution, an order returning the surname of either party to their surname before the marriage, if requested;

f. An order for either or both parties to sign or deliver all necessary legal documents to effect the provisions of the decree; and

g. Any other findings or orders the Court deems necessary or desirable.

3. If a party requests a decree of legal separation rather than a decree of dissolution of marriage, the Court shall grant the decree in that form unless the other party objects.

4. A decree of dissolution or of legal separation, if made, shall not be awarded to one of the parties, but shall provide that it affects the status previously existing between the parties in the manner decreed.

5. A decree of dissolution shall terminate the marriage of the parties. A decree of legal separation shall not terminate the marriage of the parties.

6. No earlier than six (6) months after entry of a decree of legal separation, the Court on motion of either party shall convert the decree to a decree of dissolution of marriage.

7. The Tribal Court Administrator shall give notice of the entry of a decree of dissolution or legal separation to the appropriate official of the jurisdiction where the marriage is registered, with the request that such official enter the fact of dissolution in the appropriate record.

8. A decree of dissolution or legal separation is a final order and subject to appeal in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing civil appeals.

Section 4-4-9. Disposition of Property.

1. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation, or in a proceeding for disposition of property following dissolution of marriage or legal separation by the court of another jurisdiction which lacked jurisdiction over one of the spouses or to dispose of the property, the Court shall set apart to each spouse his or her separate property and shall divide the marital property, without regard to marital misconduct, in such proportions as the Court deems just and equitable after considering all relevant factors including:

- a. The duration of the marriage and any prior marriage of either party;
- b. Any antenuptial agreement of the parties;
- c. The age, health, station, occupation, amount and sources of income, vocational skills, employability, estate, liabilities, and needs of each of the parties;
- d. Custodial provisions;
- e. The value of the property set apart to each spouse;
- f. Whether the apportionment is in lieu of or in addition to maintenance;
- g. The opportunity of each for future acquisition of capital assets and income;
- h. The contribution or dissipation of each party in the acquisition, preservation, depreciation, or appreciation in value of the respective estates; and
- i. The contribution of a spouse as a homemaker or to the family unit.

2. For purposes of this Chapter, "marital property" means all property, including retirement benefits, acquired by either spouse subsequent to the marriage except for property that is:

- a. Separate property as provided in this Section; and
- b. Excluded by valid agreement of the parties.

3. For purposes of this Chapter, "separate property" means property of a spouse that is:

a. Owned by the spouse before marriage and the increase, rents, issues and profits of that property;

b. Acquired by the spouse before or during the marriage by gift, bequest, devise, or descent or in exchange for property acquired by gift, bequest, devise, or descent, and the increase, rents, issues and profits of that property;

c. Acquired by the spouse after service of a petition for dissolution of marriage, legal separation or declaration of invalidity of marriage if the petition results in a decree of dissolution of marriage, legal separation or invalidity of marriage; and

d. Held in trust by the United States for the benefit of the spouse, whether acquired before or during the marriage.

4. In a proceeding under this Chapter, the Court may protect and promote the best interests of the child of the parties by setting aside a portion of the jointly and separately held estates of the parties in a separate fund or trust for the support, maintenance, education, and general welfare of any minor, dependent, or incompetent child of the parties.

Section 4-4-10. Maintenance.

1. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation, or in a proceeding for maintenance following dissolution of marriage or legal separation by the court of another jurisdiction which lacked jurisdiction over one of the spouses, the Court may grant a maintenance order for either spouse only if it finds that the spouse seeking maintenance:

- a. Lacks sufficient property to provide for his or her reasonable needs; and

b. Is unable to support himself or herself through appropriate employment or is the custodian of a child whose condition or circumstances make it appropriate that the custodian not be required to seek employment outside the home.

2. The maintenance order shall be in amounts and for periods of time the Court deems just, without regard to marital misconduct, and after considering all relevant factors including:

a. The financial resources of the party seeking maintenance, including marital property apportioned to him or her, his or her ability to meet his or her needs independently, and the extent to which a provision for support of a child living with the party includes a sum for that party as custodian;

b. The time necessary to acquire sufficient education or training to enable the party seeking maintenance to find appropriate employment;

c. The standard of living established during the marriage;

d. The duration of the marriage;

e. The age and the physical and emotional condition of the spouse seeking maintenance; and

f. The ability of the spouse from whom maintenance is sought to meet his or her needs while meeting those of the spouse seeking maintenance.

3. Upon its own motion or upon motion of either party, the Court may order at any time that maintenance payments be made to the Tribal Court Administrator as trustee for remittance to the person entitled to receive the payments in accordance with the following:

a. The Tribal Court Administrator shall maintain records listing the amount of payments, the date payments are required to be made, and the names and addresses of the parties affected by the order; and

b. The parties affected by the order shall inform the Tribal Court Administrator of any change of address or of other condition that may affect the administration of the order.

4. The Court may order the person obligated to pay maintenance to make an assignment of a part of his or her periodic earnings or other income to the person entitled to receive the payments. The assignment shall be binding on the employer or other payor of the funds two (2) weeks after service upon it of notice that the assignment has been made. The employer or other payor shall withhold from the earnings or other income payable to the person obligated to support the amount specified in the assignment and shall transmit the payments to the person specified in the order. An employer shall not discipline, discharge from employment or refuse to employ any person because his or her wages are subject to assignment under this subsection. An employer who disciplines, discharges from employment, or refuses to employ a person because of an assignment under this subsection shall be subject to a civil fine not to exceed eight hundred dollars ($800).

5. If a party fails to make a required maintenance payment, the obligee may file a motion in the original proceeding to enforce the payment against the obligor, including requesting contempt proceedings.

Section 4-4-11. Child Custody. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation, or in a proceeding for child custody following dissolution of marriage or legal separation by the court of another jurisdiction which lacked jurisdiction over one of the spouses or the child of the parties, the Court shall order the custody, visitation and parenting time, including the entry or approval of a parenting plan, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 5 of this Title.

Section 4-4-12. Child Support. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation, or in a proceeding for child support following dissolution of marriage or legal separation by the court of another jurisdiction which lacked jurisdiction over one of the spouses or the child of the parties, the Court shall order either or both parents owing a duty of support to a child to pay child support in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 6 of this Title.

Section 4-4-13. Legal Counsel's Fees. The Court, after considering the financial resources of both parties, may order a party to pay a reasonable amount for the cost to the other party of maintaining or defending any proceeding under this Chapter and for legal counsel's fees, including sums for legal services rendered and costs incurred prior to the commencement of the proceeding or after entry of judgment. The Court may order that the amount be paid directly to the legal counsel, who may enforce the order in his or her name.

Section 4-4-14. Independence of Provisions of Decree. If a party fails to comply with a provision of a decree or temporary order or injunction, the obligation of the other party to make payments for support or maintenance or to permit visitation or parenting time is not suspended, but he or she may move the Court to grant an appropriate order.

Section 4-4-15. Modification and Termination of Decree.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, either party subject to a decree which includes provisions for maintenance may, by motion in the same action in which the decree was issued, request the Court to modify or vacate the provision respecting maintenance in accordance with the following:

a. The provisions respecting maintenance may only be modified or vacated on the grounds of:

i. Changed circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the terms unconscionable; or

ii. Unless it is otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree that maintenance would continue, either party has died or the party receiving maintenance has remarried; and

b. The provisions of any decree respecting maintenance may be modified or vacated only as to installments accruing subsequent to the motion.

2. The provisions of a decree as to property disposition may not be revoked or modified unless the Court finds the existence of conditions that otherwise justify the reopening of a judgment under the laws of the Tribe.

3. The provisions of any decree respecting child custody may be modified in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 5. Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, provisions respecting child custody shall terminate in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 5.

4. The provisions of any decree respecting child support may be modified in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 6. Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, provisions respecting child support shall terminate in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 6.

CHAPTER 5
CHILD CUSTODY AND VISITATION

Section 4-5-1. Purpose. This Chapter shall be liberally construed and applied to promote its underlying purposes, which are to:

1. Ensure that the best interests of children are the primary concern when making any orders regarding the physical or legal custody or visitation of children;

2. To assure that children have frequent and continuing contact with both parents after the parents have ended their relationship;

3. To encourage parents to share the rights and responsibilities of child rearing after the parents have ended their relationship; and

4. To maintain children's connection to their family and the Tribe even when their custody is in dispute.

Section 4-5-2. Definitions. Unless the context requires otherwise, in this Chapter:

1. "Custody decree" means a judgment, decree, or other order of a court providing for the legal custody, physical custody, visitation, or parenting time with respect to a child and includes permanent and temporary orders, and initial orders and modifications.

2. "Joint custody" means joint physical custody and joint legal custody.

3. "Joint legal custody" means that both parents shall share the right and the responsibility to make the decisions relating to the health, education, and welfare of a child.

4. "Joint physical custody" means that each of the parents shall have significant periods of physical custody. Joint physical custody shall be shared by the parents in such a way so as to assure a child of frequent and continuing contact with both parents.

5. "Sole legal custody" means that one parent shall have the right and the responsibility to make the decisions relating to the health, education, and welfare of a child.

6. "Sole physical custody" means that a child shall reside with and be under the supervision of one parent, subject to the power of the Court to order visitation with the other parent.

Section 4-5-3. Jurisdiction.

1. The Court shall have jurisdiction to decide child custody matters by initial or modification decree if:

a. The child has resided in the territory of the Tribe for at least six (6) months before commencement of the proceedings;

b. The child had been residing in the territory of the Tribe within six (6) months before commencement of the proceedings and is absent from the territory of the Tribe because of his or her removal or retention by a person claiming his or her custody or for other reason, and a parent or person acting as parent continues to live in the territory of the Tribe;

c. It is in the best interests of the child that the Court assume jurisdiction because:

i. The child and his or her parents, or the child and at least one contestant, have a significant connection with the Tribe; and

ii. There is available in the territory of the Tribe substantial evidence concerning the child's present or future care, protection, training, and personal relationships;

d. The child is physically present in the territory of the Tribe and:

i. Has been abandoned; or

ii. It is necessary in an emergency to protect him or her because he or she has been subjected to or threatened with mistreatment or abuse or is neglected or dependent;

e. No other Indian tribe or state has jurisdiction under prerequisites substantially in accordance with paragraphs (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this subsection, or another Indian tribe or state has declined to exercise jurisdiction on the ground that the Tribe is the more appropriate forum to determine custody of the child, and it is in the child's best interests that the Court assume jurisdiction.

2. Except under paragraphs (d) and (e) of subsection (1) of this Section, physical presence of the child or of the child and one of the contestants in the territory of the Tribe is not alone sufficient to confer jurisdiction on the Court to make a child custody determination.

3. Physical presence of the child, while desirable, is not a prerequisite for jurisdiction to determine his or her custody.

Section 4-5-4. Continuing Jurisdiction.

1. Jurisdiction of the Court over a proceeding under this Chapter is exclusively retained until terminated by any of the following situations:

a. The Court determines that neither the child, nor the child and one parent, nor the child and a person acting as a parent have a significant connection with the Tribe and that substantial evidence is no longer available in the territory of the Tribe concerning the child's care, protection, training, and personal relationships;

b. The Court or a court of another Indian tribe or state determines that the child, the child's parents, and any person acting as a parent do not presently reside in the territory of the Tribe; or

c. The Court dismisses a petition or enters an order closing the matter.

2. Where the Court deems it appropriate, the Court may retain jurisdiction under this Section over persons who leave the territory of the Tribe.

Section 4-5-5. Custody of Child.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, each parent of an unemancipated child, including a presumed parent, is equally entitled to the child's custody, services, and earnings and neither can transfer such custody, services, and earnings to any other person without the written consent of the other parent except in case of death, desertion, or abandonment.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, each parent of a child has the following rights and duties whether the parent is the custodian or non-custodial parent, provided that the Court may restrict or exclude any right or duty if the Court states the reason in support of the restriction or exclusion in its order:

a. The right to access and obtain copies of the child's educational, medical, dental, insurance, and other records or information;

b. The right of access to information regarding health or dental insurance available to the child;

c. The right to be informed by school officials about the child's welfare, educational progress and status, and attend educational conferences concerning the child, provided no school shall be required to hold a separate conference with each parent;

d. The right to reasonable access to the child by written, telephonic, and electronic means;

e. The duty to inform the other parent as soon as reasonably possible of a serious accident or serious illness for which the child receives health care treatment, including the name of the health care provider and the place of treatment;

f. The duty to inform the other parent if the child is the victim of an alleged crime, including the name of the investigating law enforcement officer or agency unless the other parent is the alleged perpetrator;

g. The duty to immediately inform the other parent of a change in residential telephone number and address, unless the Court finds such information should be withheld because of safety concerns; and

h. The duty to keep the other parent informed of the name and address of the school the child attends, unless the Court finds such information should be withheld because of safety concerns.

3. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, in any proceeding under this Chapter, the Court shall determine whether to grant joint or sole legal and physical custody to the parents or proposed custodian of the child subject of the proceedings, taking into account:

a. The ability of the parents and/or proposed custodian to cooperate effectively and consistently in matters that directly affect the joint parenting of the child, but not considering the inability of the parents and/or proposed custodian to cooperate effectively and consistently in matters that do not directly affect the joint parenting of the child;

b. The residential circumstances of each parent and proposed custodian; and

c. The best interests of the child.

4. Joint physical custody does not require an absolutely equal division of time between the parents and any proposed custodian.

5. A parent shall have sole responsibility for making routine decisions with respect to the child and for emergency decisions affecting the child's health and safety during that parent's parenting time.

6. Except for agreements and parenting plans related to custody permitted in this Chapter, an agreement, including an antenuptial agreement, which defines the rights or duties of the parties regarding physical or legal custody, parenting time, access, visitation, or other custodial rights or duties with respect to a child is void and may not be enforced.

Section 4-5-6. Visitation.

1. Except as provided in this Chapter, a non-custodial parent of a child is entitled to reasonable visitation rights, including parenting time, unless the Court finds by clear and convincing evidence, after a hearing, that visitation and/or parenting time would endanger the child's physical, mental, or emotional health.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, any immediate or extended family member or person with a significant connection to the child who is not granted custody of the child may be granted reasonable visitation rights unless the Court finds by clear and convincing evidence, after a hearing, that visitation would endanger the child's physical, mental, or emotional health or such visitation would interfere with the parent-child relationship.

3. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, a parent or any other immediate or extended family member or person with a significant connection to the child may file a petition under this Chapter at any time requesting visitation rights.

4. In a proceeding under this Chapter, the Court shall determine visitation and allocate parenting time according to the child's best interests. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, visitation and parenting time shall be granted to a parent in a frequency, duration, and type reasonably calculated to promote a strong relationship between the child and the parent. An order of the Court governing visitation shall protect the non-custodial parent's visitation rights where the non-custodial parent participates in family functions.

5. The Court may reduce, restrict or limit the visitation rights and/or parenting time of any person or any provision of a parenting plan if it finds, after a hearing:

a. In the case of a parent or custodian, the parent or custodian has willfully abandoned the child for an extended period of time;

b. In the case of a parent or custodian, the parent or custodian substantially refuses to perform parenting functions;

c. The person has a long term emotional or physical impairment resulting from drug, alcohol or other substance abuse that interferes with the person's ability to care for the child, including, in the case of a parent or custodian, the performance of parenting functions;

d. The person or a person residing with the person has engaged in physical, sexual, or emotional abuse of the child;

e. The person engages in abusive use of conflict that creates the danger of serious damage to the child's psychological development;

f. In the case of a parent or custodian, the parent or custodian withholds access to the child from the other parent for a protracted period without good cause;

g. The person or a person residing with the person has engaged in acts of domestic or family abuse, assault, or sexual assault which have caused bodily harm or the fear of such harm;

h. Any other basis for limiting or restricting custody or visitation provided in this Chapter; or

i. Such other factors as the Court expressly finds adverse to the best interests of the child.

6. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the laws of the Tribe, the Court may award visitation by and/or parenting time to a person who committed domestic or family abuse only if the Court finds that adequate provision for the safety of the child and the person who is a victim of domestic or family abuse can be made.

Section 4-5-7. Custody and Visitation When Sexual Assault.

1. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the laws of the Tribe, a person who commits an act of rape, incest, or sexual assault against another person which results in the birth of a child conceived as a result of the act of rape, incest, or sexual assault shall have no right to nor be granted custody of, visitation of, or parenting time with the child unless the victim of the rape, incest, or sexual assault expressly and voluntarily consents to such custody, visitation or parenting time.

2. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the laws of the Tribe, a persons who commits an act of rape, incest, or sexual assault against another person which results in the birth of a child conceived as a result of the act of rape, incest, or sexual assault shall be prohibited from bringing an action for custody, visitation or parenting time relating to such child.

Section 4-5-8. Allocation of Parental Responsibilities.

1. Except as otherwise agreed by the parties in writing at the time of the custody decree or otherwise provided in the custody decree, the custodian may determine the child's upbringing, including his or her:

a. Education, including the choice of schools and tutors;

b. Health, including all decisions relating to the medical, dental, and psychological needs of the child and to the treatments arising or resulting from those needs; and

c. Extracurricular activities.

2. The Court may limit a custodian's authority, after hearing and motion by the non-custodial parent, if the Court finds by clear and convincing evidence that, in the absence of a specific limitation of the custodian's authority, the child's physical health would be endangered or his or her emotional development significantly impaired.

3. The parties may agree or the Court may, according to the child's best interests, allocate decision-making responsibilities between the parties, including when the Court orders joint legal custody.

Section 4-5-9. Best Interests of Child.

1. The Court shall determine custody, visitation, and parenting time in accordance with the best interests of the child, which shall include the best means to secure the child's sense of belonging to family, community and the Tribe. It is presumed to be in the best interests of a child for the child to have a strong relationship with both of his or her parents, but, between parents there is no presumption as to who will better promote the best interests of the child.

2. In determining the best interests of the child under this Chapter, the Court shall consider:

a. The wishes of the child's parent or parents as to his or her custody;

b. The wishes of the child as to his or her custodian, if the child is twelve (12) years of age or older;

c. The recommendation of the child's primary caretaker;

d. The love, affection, and other emotional ties existing between the parents or proposed custodian and child;

e. The interaction and interrelationship of the child with his or her parent or parents, siblings, extended family, any person who resides in, is present, or frequents the household where the child resides, and any other person who may significantly affect the child's best interests;

f. The child's adjustment to his or her home, school, and community;

g. The person best suited to provide parental guidance to the child in accordance with the beliefs, customs and traditions of the Tribe or, in the case of a non-member child, other cultural context of the child;

h. Availability of extended family to assist in the care and custody of the child;

i. The mental and physical health of all individuals involved, provided that a disability of a proposed custodian or the child shall not be determinative of custody unless the proposed custodial arrangement does not serve to protect the child's needs and sense of belonging;

j. The capacity and disposition of the proposed custodian to give the child love, affection, and guidance, and to continue educating and raising the child in the child's Tribal ways or, in the case of a non-member child, other cultural context of the child in addition to the child's religion or creed, if any;

k. Tribal affiliation of the parents and the child;

l. The child's Tribal, community, family and cultural background;

m. The extent of the participation of the proposed custodian in Tribal cultural activities or, in the case of a non-member child, other cultural activities of the child;

n. The making of false allegations, not made in good faith, by one parent or proposed custodian against the other, of harm to a child;

o. The effect of domestic or family abuse on the child if such abuse has occurred within the household of the child;

p. Except in cases in which a finding of domestic or family abuse has been made, the disposition of each proposed custodian to encourage and permit frequent and continuing contact with the child by the parents and other family of the child; and

q. Any other factors considered by the Court to be relevant to a particular proceeding under this Chapter.

3. In determining the best interests of the child, the Court may not use one factor to the exclusion of all others and shall not consider conduct of a parent or proposed custodian that does not affect his or her relationship to the child.

4. In a proceeding under this Chapter where the Court determines that domestic or family abuse has occurred:

a. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that it is detrimental to and not in the best interests of the child to be placed in the sole legal or physical custody or joint legal or physical custody of the perpetrator of the domestic or family abuse;

b. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that it is in the best interest of the child to be placed in the sole custody of and reside with the parent or proposed custodian who is not a perpetrator of domestic or family abuse in the location of that parent's choice, within or outside the territory of the Tribe;

c. In addition to the other factors that the Court must consider, the Court shall also consider:

i. The safety and well-being of the child and of the person who is the victim of domestic or family abuse as primary; and

ii. The perpetrator's history of causing physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or causing reasonable fear of physical harm, bodily injury, or assault, to another person; and

d. If a parent or proposed custodian is absent or relocates because of domestic or family abuse by the another party, the absence or relocation shall not be a factor that weighs against the parent or proposed custodian in determining custody, visitation, or parenting time.

Section 4-5-10. Initiation of Proceedings.

1. Proceedings in the Court for custody and/or visitation of a child shall be initiated by the filing of a petition.

2. Petitions may be filed by:

a. A parent of the child;

3. If it finds that a public hearing may be detrimental to the child's best interests, the Court may exclude the public from the hearing, but shall admit any person who has a direct and legitimate interest in the particular case and may admit any person who has a legitimate educational or research interest in the work of the Court. If the Court finds it necessary to protect the child's welfare that the record of any interview, report, investigation, or testimony in a proceeding under this Chapter be kept secret, the Court may make an appropriate order sealing the record.

4. The Court shall consider any and all reports allowed under this Chapter or ordered by the Court, and any additional relevant testimony or evidence presented at hearing.

5. A hearing on any modification due to an intent to relocate shall be given a priority on the Court's docket. 4. A party served with a summons pursuant to this Section shall have fourteen (14) days from the date of service of such summons to file an objection to recognition and enforcement of the custody decree.

a. Apply the standard of this Section;

b. Apply the standard that would be applied by such federally recognized Indian tribe or state to a custody decree of the Court; or

If the objecting party demonstrates to the Court that an appeal from the custody decree is pending or will be taken, or that a stay of execution has been granted, the Court shall stay enforcement of the custody decree until the appeal is concluded, the time for appeal expires, or the stay of execution expires or is vacated.

9. The Court shall not seek or make a modification of any custody decree subject to recognition and enforcement under this Section unless:

a. The Court has jurisdiction to enter such a custody decree itself, notwithstanding the existence of the prior action in the court or administrative agency of the other federally recognized Indian tribe or state; and

- i. An agency of another government engaged in the establishment of parentage, child support, or the enforcement of child support for the child subject of the proceedings; or
- j. Any other person, by order of the Court, having legitimate interest in the particular case or the work of the Court, provided the Court may place appropriate restrictions on such access to ensure the confidentiality of records.

3. The Court shall not release information on the location or whereabouts of a party or a child to another person:

a. Against whom an order for protection is in effect with respect to the party or the child; or

b. If the Court has reason to believe that the release of the information to that person may result in physical or emotional harm to the party or the child.

4. When providing service by publication in a proceeding under this Chapter, the name of the child in the matter shall not be disclosed, provided that the child's initials may be published.

5. Any person who willfully discloses confidential information protected under this Section other than as expressly authorized in this Section shall be subject to a civil fine not to exceed eight hundred dollars ($800).

Section 4-6-5. Confidentiality of Hearings. The general public shall be excluded from all hearings under this Chapter and only the following shall be allowed to be present in the hearings:

- 1. The parties and their legal counsel;
- 2. Witnesses; and
- 3. Other persons determined to be appropriate by the Court, in its discretion.

Section 4-6-6. Child Support Guidelines.

1. Subject to the approval of the Tribal Council, the Law and Justice Committee shall establish by rule of the Court child support guidelines which shall apply to all child support cases that come before the Court. Subject to the approval of the Tribal Council, the Law and Justice Committee may, in lieu of developing child support guidelines, designate the child support guidelines of a state as the child support guidelines of the Tribe.

2. The guidelines shall establish the scale of minimum child support contributions and shall be used to determine the amount an obligor must pay for support of a child.

3. The guidelines shall, at a minimum:

a. Take into account:

i. All earnings, income and resources of both parents, including real and personal property;

ii. Non-cash contributions of both parents, including fuel, clothing and child care, provided that the guidelines identify the types of non-cash resources which are permitted and the specific dollar amount of the support obligation which the non-cash resources satisfy;

iii. The earnings history and potential of each parent;

iv. The reasonable necessities of the child and each parent;

v. The number of children to be supported;

vi. The educational, physical and emotional needs of the child for whom child support is sought;

vii. Any preexisting child support orders the parents are subject to;

viii. Any other current dependents of both parents other than the child for whom child support is sought;

ix. The percentage of parenting time of each parent, whether designated as visitation, physical custody, or parenting time, provided that the parenting time of less than ten percent (10%) shall not be taken into account; and

x. Any other criteria the Law and Justice Committee determines to be appropriate;

b. Set forth standards for determining and applying imputed income for a parent who is voluntarily unemployed or voluntarily and unreasonably underemployed;

c. Reflect the best interests of the child;

d. Be based on specific descriptive and numeric criteria;

e. Result in a computation of an amount of child support which is sufficient to meet the basic needs of the child for housing, clothing, food, education, health care, recreation and goods and services required by physical and/or mental disability;

f. Provide for the actual child care expenses reasonably necessary to enable both parents to maintain employment or education, or to conduct an active search for employment;

g. Provide for the child's health care needs, through health insurance coverage or otherwise, which supplements any health care provided by the Tribe or another government, where appropriate;

h. Provide for a minimum child support amount per child;

i. Provide for circumstances, which may support written findings on the record of a Court proceeding for the award of child support, in reducing support contributions on the basis of hardship to parent paying child support or other children while considering the best interests of the child who is subject of the Court proceeding; and

j. Provide for an imputed income to be applied when the Court has no reliable evidence upon which to base a child support award.

4. The guidelines may provide for certain circumstances which will permit deviation from the standard formula of the guidelines, including, but not limited to:

a. Costs of a health plan or insurance incurred by the parents; and

b. Social security, veteran's benefits or other government benefits paid to the child, or another administering the funds for the use and benefit of the child, as a result of a parent's disability or retirement.

5. There shall be a rebuttable presumption in any proceeding for the award of child support that the amount of the award that results from the application of the guidelines established pursuant to this Section is the correct amount of child support to be awarded.

6. The guidelines shall be reviewed and updated at least every four (4) years to ensure that their application results in the determination of appropriate child support amounts, including accounting for increases or decreases in the costs associated with the care and support of children.

Section 4-6-7. Duty to Support Child.

1. The parents of a child are jointly and severally obligated for the necessary maintenance, education and support of the child suitable to the child's circumstances and in accordance with their respective means.

2. If the parent of a child is a minor, the parents of the minor parent shall bear the responsibility for support of the child until the minor parent reaches the age of majority or is emancipated.

3. The termination of parental rights to a child terminates the parent's child support obligation from the date of such termination of parental rights, but not before.

4. Subject to the circumstances of each case, any other person, agency, organization or institution may be secondarily liable for the support of a child, provided the Court finds that such person, agency, organization or institution has assumed the obligation of support.

5. The Court may compel either or both parents to provide for the support of their child in accordance with this Chapter.

6. An agreement purporting to relieve a person with a duty to support a child of any current or future duty of child support is void and may not be enforced.

Section 4-6-8. Duration of Support Obligation.

1. Unless dates for the commencement or termination of a child support obligation are specified by an order of child support, an order of child support is effective in the month in which the order is entered and continues until the end of the month in which the child support obligation terminates as provided in this Section.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a parent's child support obligation terminates upon the earliest of:

a. The date of entry of an order terminating the parent's parental rights to the child or the effective date of such termination, whichever is later, but not prior to such date;

b. The date of entry of an adoption decree for the child or the effective date of such adoption, whichever is later, but not prior to such date, provided the parent's parental rights to the child are not retained;

c. The date of entry of an order of emancipation of the child or the effective date of such emancipation, whichever is later, but not prior to such date, provided that the obligation of support shall resume upon the revocation of such emancipation;

d. The date entered on a marriage certificate if the child lawfully marries, but not prior to such date;

e. The death of the child or the parent; or

f. When the child reaches the age of majority.

3. The Court, in its discretion, may order the payment of child support to continue after the age of majority if:

a. The child continues to reside with the person to whom child support is paid and requires substantial care because of a mental or physical disability and will not be capable of self-support and the disability exists or the cause of the disability is known to exist on or before the date the child reaches the age of majority, provided that payment of child support shall terminate at the end of the month in which the child obtains the age of twenty-one (21);

b. The child is still in primary or secondary school when he or she reaches the age of majority and continues to reside with the person to whom child support is paid, provided that payment of child support shall terminate at the end of the first month in which the child:

i. Graduates; or

ii. Otherwise ceases to attend school on a regular basis; or

c. It is appropriate to provide for the medical support of a child who attends post-secondary school, including college or university, provided that payment of medical support shall terminate at the end of the month in which the child:

i. Graduates;

ii. Otherwise ceases to attend school on a regular basis; or

iii. Reaches the age of twenty-four (24) years.

4. If an arrearage for child support or fees or costs exists at the time a child support obligation terminates, payments shall continue in the same amount and be applied to the arrearage until all arrearages and fees or costs are satisfied or until further order of the Court.

Section 4-6-9. Amount of Support Obligation.

1. Payments ordered for the support of a minor child shall be in such amounts as to meet the reasonable needs of the child for health, education, and maintenance, having due regard to the estates, earnings, conditions, accustomed standard of living of the child and the parties, the child care and homemaker contributions of each party, and other facts of the particular case.

2. Unless the Court finds that the best interests of the child require a lump sum child support payment, child support shall be on a monthly basis, due and payable on the first day of each month, provided that the monthly basis of child support payments shall not affect the availability of wage withholding or garnishment based on an obligor's pay period.

3. The Court shall first determine the amount of child support payments by applying the child support guidelines established by the Law and Justice Committee pursuant to this Title.

4. Upon request of a party, the Court may deviate from the amount of child support payments which would be required under the child support guidelines if, after considering all of the circumstances of the case, the Court:

a. Finds that use of the child support guidelines is unjust to or inappropriate for the child or any of the parties;

b. Identifies the amount of child support that would be required under the child support guidelines; and

c. Makes findings of fact as to the criteria that justify varying from the child support guidelines and the basis for the amount ordered.

5. This Section shall not prohibit or limit the Court from entering a child support order that is agreed to by the parties that deviates from the child support guidelines, provided such agreement is in the best interests of the child.

6. Until a child support order is entered, the amount of a parent's child support obligation shall be the amount determined in accordance with the child support guidelines commencing on the first day of a parent's physical absence from the home for a period of at least thirty (30) consecutive days where the nature of such absence is the result of substantial severance of marital and/or family ties and responsibilities resulting in the child losing or having a substantial reduction of physical care, communication, guidance and support from the parent.

Section 4-6-10. Child Care Expenses.

1. The Court may order the payment of child care expenses of a child where such expenses are necessary for any of the parties to be employed, seek employment, or attend school or training to enhance employment income. Such child care expenses shall be divided between the parties based on their proportionate share of income determined pursuant to the child support guidelines, provided that any child care support ordered must be based on the actual child care expenses incurred and shall be adjusted by the amount of the estimated federal and state child care credit payable on behalf of the child.

2. The Court shall determine child care expenses in accordance with the following:

a. The Court shall require verification of employment or school attendance and documentation of child care expenses from the parties;

b. If child care expenses fluctuate during the year because of a party's seasonal employment or school attendance or extended periods of parenting time with the other party, the Court shall determine child care expenses based on an average monthly cost; and

c. The Court may allow the party with whom the child does not reside to care for the child while the party with whom the child resides is working or attending school, provided that allowing the party with whom the child does not reside to care for the child shall not be a reason to deviate from the guidelines.

3. If there is a substantial increase or decrease in child care expenses, the parties may request that the Court modify the order in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter and the Court may provide that a change in the amount of the child care support which is based on a substantial increase or decrease in the actual child care expenses is effective as of the date the expense is increased or decreased.

4. An order to pay child care support under this Section shall separately state the amount allocated for child care support. Such amount shall be considered child support but shall not be subject to a cost-of-living adjustment.

Section 4-6-11. Medical Support.

1. The Court may order a party to provide medical support for the child. An order to provide medical support may require one or both parties to:

a. Provide medical, hospital, dental and other health insurance for the child; and

b. Pay the medical, hospital, dental or other health care related expenses of the child not covered by insurance.

2. If a party has appropriate health insurance, the Court shall order the party to carry health insurance for the child. Health insurance shall be considered appropriate if it is accessible by the child, provides comprehensive coverage, and is reasonable in cost. If more than one party has appropriate health insurance, the Court shall order the party with the most appropriate health insurance to carry health insurance for the child, provided that if all available health insurance is comparable with regard to accessibility and comprehensiveness for the child, the Court shall presume that the least costly health insurance is the most appropriate.

3. The Court shall order the actual health care of the child not covered by appropriate health insurance, including if no party has appropriate health insurance available and all unreimbursed and uninsured health expenses, to be paid by the parties based on their proportionate share of income determined pursuant to the child support guidelines.

4. When the Court orders a party to carry health insurance for a child that is provided by an employer or other third party, notice of such order shall be served on such employer or other third party in accordance with the Tribal Rules of Civil Procedure within ten (10) business days of entry of the order. Such notice shall include:

a. A copy of the order to provide medical support;

b. Information regarding the employer's or other third party's rights and responsibilities under this Section; and

c. The civil fines and other remedies under this Section.

5. An employer or other third party who has been properly served with a notice regarding medical support is required to:

a. If applicable or necessary, forward the medical support order to its health plan administrator within ten

(10) business days after the notice was served on the employer or other third party;

b. If enrollment of the party ordered to carry health insurance for the child is necessary to obtain dependent health care coverage under the plan and the party is not enrolled in the health plan, enroll the party in the plan;

c. Enroll the child as a beneficiary in the health plan and withhold any required premiums from the income or wages of the party ordered to carry health insurance for the child;

d. Enroll the party, if necessary, and the child immediately and without regard to any open enrollment periods;

e. Within thirty (30) calendar days after the notice was served on the employer or other third party, provide written proof to the other parties to the order and the Court that the child has been enrolled or that application for enrollment has been made; and

f. Promptly notify the other parties to the order and the Court in writing:

i. When there is any change in the applicable insurance coverage;

ii. When the party ordered to carry health insurance for the child terminates employment or otherwise ceases to be entitled to health insurance from the employer or other third party, and provide the party's last known address and the name and address of his or her new employer, if known;

iii. Of the employer's or third party's inability to comply with the order for any reason.

6. A requirement that a child be covered by health insurance shall promptly terminate as to future coverage when the employer or other third party receives notice from the Court that the coverage is no longer required.

7. If an employer or other third party knowingly fails to comply with an order under this Section after being served with a notice of the order, the Court may:

a. Find the employer or other third party in contempt in accordance with the laws of the Tribe;

b. Hold the employer or other third party liable for one hundred percent (100%) of any uninsured medical expenses incurred by the child while the child was eligible to be enrolled in the health plan and for any other premium costs incurred as a result of the employer's or other third party's failure; and

c. Impose a civil fine on the employer or third party in an amount not to exceed eight hundred dollars ($800).

8. An employer shall not discipline, discharge from employment or refuse to employ any person because he or she is ordered to provide health insurance for the person's child. An employer who disciplines, discharges from employment, or refuses to employ a person because of an order to provide health insurance for the person's child shall be subject to a civil fine not to exceed eight hundred dollars ($800).

9. A party ordered to provide health insurance for a child may challenge such order at any time by motion. Such a motion shall set forth in clear and concise terms the basis for challenging the order. The Court shall hold a hearing on a motion filed under this subsection upon notice given to the parties to the child support proceeding and may withdraw or modify the order to provide health insurance, as appropriate, if the movant proves one or more of the following by a preponderance of the evidence:

a. The enrollment of the child in the health insurance plan is improper due to a mistake of fact; or

b. There is an agreement between the parties for an alternative method of providing health insurance for the child approved by the Court.

10. If a party is ordered to provide health insurance for a child, such party shall:

a. Provide written notice to the other party of any change in the applicable insurance coverage; and

b. Be liable for any medical, hospital, dental or other health expenses incurred from the date of the order that would have been covered by insurance had it been in force, if such fails to maintain the insurance coverage for the child.

11. The Tribe shall comply with an order issued by the Court in accordance with this Section for any person employed by the Tribe, provided that the Tribe shall not be subject to any fines, penalties or other enforcement provisions in this Section, except that the Court may find an officer or employee of the Tribe responsible for enrolling the child in the health plan in contempt in accordance with the laws of the Tribe for refusal to comply with an order issued by the Court in accordance with this Section without regard to any immunity of such officer or employee.

Section 4-6-12. Payment to Court.

1. Unless the Court finds that child support payments must be made to another person or agency, including an agency to whom child support payments have been assigned, or there is good cause that payment should be made directly to the obligee, any child support payments ordered by the Court, including past due support, arrearages and reimbursement of public assistance, shall be paid to the Tribal Court Administrator or his or her designee, on behalf of the Court, for remittance to the obligee or other person entitled to receipt of such payments.

2. Unless provided otherwise by a child support order or applicable law, with each child support payment received, the Tribal Court Administrator shall:

a. First apply the payment to satisfy current child support and, second, to satisfy any arrearages; and

b. Remit any portion of the payment due a government agency for the provision of public assistance and any remaining amount not remitted to such government agency to the obligee.

3. If the Tribal Court Administrator receives a child support payment pursuant to a request for assistance in collecting support from another child support enforcement agency, the Tribal Court Administrator shall apply and remit the payment in accordance with its arrangement with the child support enforcement agency.

Section 4-6-13. Exemption from Attachment. Except as expressly provided in this Chapter, child support shall not be subject to execution, garnishment, attachment, or other process except to satisfy that child support.

Section 4-6-14. Voluntary Agreement. In lieu of or in settlement of a proceeding under this Chapter, the parents may enter into a voluntary child support agreement which may include provisions for medical support and child care expenses in accordance with this Chapter. The agreement shall be submitted to the Court for approval, subject to any conditions and limitations the Court may impose. Once the agreement is filed with the Court and approved by the Court, such agreement shall have the same force and effect, retroactively and prospectively, in accordance with the terms of said agreement, as a child support order entered by the Court and shall be enforceable and subject to modification in the same manner.

Section 4-6-15. Initiation of Proceedings.

1. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Chapter, proceedings in the Court for a child support order shall be initiated by the filing of a petition.

2. Petitions may be filed by:

a. A parent, guardian, or custodian of the child for whom support is sought;

b. A parent, guardian or other legal representative of a minor parent on behalf of or for the benefit of the minor parent's child; or

3. Petitions for a child support order shall be captioned: "(name(s) of petitioner(s)), Petitioner(s) vs. (name(s) of respondent(s)), Respondent(s)". A request for a child support order may be combined with a proceeding for invalidity of a marriage, dissolution of marriage, legal separation, or child custody under this Title, captioned as such proceeding, and conducted as part of such proceeding.

4. In addition to any other information required by the laws of the Tribe, all petitions under this Section shall contain the following information:

retroactive relief to the date of the child's birth or two (2) years prior to the date of the filing of the petition, whichever is less.

8. A petition which substantially complies with the requirements of this Section shall not be dismissed for violation of this Section.

Section 4-6-18. Hearing on Petition.

1. Upon the filing of a petition under this Chapter, the Court shall schedule and conduct a hearing on the petition.

2. The primary purpose of a hearing on the petition is to determine whether the respondent has a child support obligation for the child named in the petition and, if so, the amount of the obligation, and to enter any other appropriate order.

3. The Court shall consider any and all reports allowed under this Chapter or ordered by the Court, and any additional relevant testimony or evidence presented at hearing.

4. The Court shall enter a child support order if the Court finds that any party has an obligation to support the child and pay child support to another under the laws of the Tribe.

5. The burden of proof for establishment of an obligation to support and the amount of child support shall lie with the proponent of such obligation and amount to demonstrate that such obligation and amount are appropriate under the provisions of this Chapter by a preponderance of the evidence.

Section 4-6-19. Child Support Order.

1. In addition to any other matters necessary for an order of the Court, a child support order shall include:

a. The name, date of birth, and last four digits of the social security number of each of the parties, including the child for whom support is sought;

j. If appropriate health insurance for the child is available:

i. Which parent must carry health insurance for the child;

p. Any other findings or orders the Court deems necessary or desirable.

2. The amount of child support in a child support order shall not be construed to be an amount per child unless specified by the Court in the child support order.

3. A child support order is a final order and subject to appeal in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing civil appeals.

Section 4-6-20. Modification of Support.

1. Any party subject to a child support order, a party to the action in which a child support order was issued, or, in the case public assistance is being paid to or for the benefit of the child subject of the child support order, the Tribe may, by motion in the same action in which the child support order was issued, request the Court to modify or vacate the child support order in accordance with this Section.

2. A child support order may be modified on the grounds of:

a. A substantial change in circumstances, provided that at least six (6) months have passed since the entry of the current child support order;

b. Incarceration or involuntarily institutionalization of one of the parties for longer than sixty (60) consecutive days, unless the obligor has the means to pay support while incarcerated or involuntarily institutionalized;

4. A motion made under this Section shall identify the person making the motion and shall set forth in clear and concise terms the grounds for modifying or vacating the child support order.

5. The Court shall hold a hearing on all motions filed under this Section upon notice given to the parties to the original proceeding.

- j. Providing security for child support payments by means of a bond, mortgage, deed of trust, or any other means ordinarily used to secure an obligation to pay money;
- k. Injunction;

1. The appointment of receivers;
- m. Lien against real property, provided the order sets out the amount of the lien in a sum certain and adequately describes the real property affected;
- n. Contempt proceedings in accordance with the laws of the Tribe; and
- o. Any and all other enforcement remedies available to enforce an order of the Court.

Section 4-6-22. Income Withholding.

1. Except as provided in this Section, all child support orders issued by the Court shall include a provision requiring the obligor to pay support by income withholding.

2. The Court may grant an exception to the mandatory income withholding required in this Section if:

a. A party demonstrates there is good cause not to require immediate withholding and, at a minimum:

i. Implementing immediate income withholding would not be in the best interests of the child;

ii. There is proof of timely payment of previously ordered support, if any; and

iii. The obligor is required to keep the Court informed of any employment-related health insurance to which the obligor has access; or

b. The parties, including any assignee of child support payments, reach a written agreement that provides for an alternative arrangement for assuring the regular payment of child support, provided that any failure to comply with the agreement shall subject the obligor to income withholding under this Section and the agreement, at a minimum:

i. Describes the manner in which regular child support payments are assured;

ii. Is reviewed and approved by the Court and entered into the Court's records; and

iii. The obligor is required to keep the Court informed of any employment-related health insurance to which the obligor has access.

3. An income withholding order shall direct that the obligor's wages, income and other benefits be withheld in an amount equal to the monthly child support payment divided proportionally over the number of payments due the obligor during the month.

4. If there are any arrearages in child support payments, an income withholding order may also direct that an additional twenty percent (20%) of the child support payment or such amount as the Court may order after notice and hearing shall be withheld each month until the delinquency is satisfied.

5. Notwithstanding anything else to the contrary in this Section, the total amount withheld from an obligor's wages, income or other benefits shall not exceed fifty (50%) of the obligor's disposable income for a week.

6. An obligor may execute a voluntary income assignment voluntarily authorizing income withholding from current or future income due the obligor from an employer or payer in an amount sufficient to meet any child support obligation.

7. When an obligor is subject to more than one withholding for child support, whether pursuant to an income withholding order or voluntary income assignment, withholding for current child support shall have priority over past-due support. Where two or more child support orders for current child support exist, each family shall receive a pro rata share of the total amount withheld based on the respective child support orders being enforced. The Tribal Court Administrator shall allocate withheld amounts across multiple child support orders to ensure that allocation shall not result in withholding for one of the child support obligations not being implemented.

8. The Tribal Court Administrator shall serve notice to withhold pursuant to an income withholding order or voluntary income assignment on the employer or other payer of the obligor in accordance with the Tribal Rules of Civil Procedure within ten (10) business days of entry of the order, provided that notice of a voluntary income assignment may be provided to the employer or payer in any manner agreed to by the employer or payer. Such notice shall be on the form required by applicable law and include:

a. A copy of the income withholding order or voluntary income assignment, as the case may be;

b. Information regarding the employer's or payer's rights and responsibilities under this Section;

c. The amount of disposable income attributable to the employer or payer on which the withholding is based;

d. The civil fines and other remedies under this Section; and

e. The maximum amount of disposable income that may be withheld as provided in this Section.

9. An employer or payer who has been properly served with a notice to withhold is required to:

a. Begin withholding from the first payment due the obligor that occurs fourteen (14) calendar days following the date the notice to withhold was served on the employer or payer;

b. Within seven (7) business days of the date the obligor is paid, send the amount withheld and the date the amount was withheld to the Tribal Court Administrator or as otherwise directed in the income withholding order or voluntary income assignment;

c. Continue withholding until further notice from the Court;

d. Withhold for child support before withholding pursuant to any other legal process against the same disposable income;

e. Promptly notify the obligee and the Court in writing:

i. If there are one or more orders of child support withholding for the obligor;

ii. When the obligor terminates employment or otherwise ceases to be entitled to disposable income from the payer, and provide the obligor's last known address and the name and address of his or her new employer, if known;

iii. Of the employer's or payer's inability to comply with the withholding for any reason; and

f. Cooperate fully with the verification of the amount of the obligor's disposable income.

10. A requirement that income be withheld for child support shall promptly terminate as to future payments when the employer or payer receives notice from the Court that the withholding is no longer required, provided that withholding shall not be terminated for any valid arrearages until such arrearages are paid in full.

11. If an employer or payer knowingly fails to withhold and/or remit child support as required by this Section after being served with a notice to withhold, the Court may:

a. Find the employer or payer in contempt in accordance with the laws of the Tribe;

b. Hold the employer or payer liable for one hundred percent (100%) of the amount of child support ordered or the amount of monies that should have been withheld, whichever is less; and

c. Impose a civil fine on the employer or payer in an amount not to exceed eight hundred dollars ($800).

12. An employer shall not discipline, discharge from employment or refuse to employ any person because his or her wages are subject to an income withholding order or voluntary income assignment. An employer who disciplines, discharges from employment, or refuses to employ a person because of an income withholding order or voluntary income assignment shall be subject to a civil fine not to exceed eight hundred dollars ($800).

13. An employer or other payer may deduct a fee of up to three dollars ($3.00) per month for administrative costs incurred by the employer for withholding amounts pursuant to an income withholding order under this Section.

14. An obligor may challenge an income withholding order at any time by motion. Such a motion shall set forth in clear and concise terms the basis for challenging the income withholding order. The Court shall hold a hearing on a motion filed under this subsection upon notice given to the parties to the child support proceeding and may withdraw or modify the income withholding order, as appropriate, only if the movant proves a mistake of fact by a preponderance of the evidence. Demonstration of a mistake of fact shall require a showing of one or more of the following:

- a. In a case where withholding is based on arrearages:
 - i. That there has been a mistake in the identity of the obligor; or
 - ii. That the delinquency has been cured;
- b. There is an error in the amount of support or arrearages;
- c. There is a mistake in the identity of the obligor;
or
- d. There is an agreement between the obligor and the obligee for an alternative method of payment approved by the Court.

15. The Tribal Court Administrator shall promptly refund any monies improperly withheld from an obligor's income and shall ensure that income withholding is promptly terminated where there is no longer a current child support order and any arrearages have been satisfied.

16. The Tribe shall withhold and remit child support in accordance with an income withholding order issued by the Court in accordance with this Section or a voluntary income assignment executed under this Section for any obligor employed by the Tribe, provided that the Tribe shall not be subject to any fines, penalties or other enforcement provisions in this Section, except that the Court may find an officer or employee of the Tribe responsible for withholding support in contempt in accordance with the laws of the Tribe for refusal to comply with an income withholding order issued by the Court in accordance with this Section without regard to any immunity of such officer or employee.

Section 4-6-23. Seek Employment Order.

1. Any obligee or other person receiving payments under a child support order may, by motion in the same action in which the child support order was issued or by separate petition, request the Court to enter an order requiring the obligor subject to a child support order to seek employment if:

- a. Employment of the obligor cannot be verified;
 - b. The obligor has arrearages in an amount equal to or greater than three times the obligor's monthly child support payment; and
 - c. The obligor is not in compliance with a written payment plan.
2. The Court shall hold a hearing on all motions or petitions filed under this Section upon notice given to the parties subject of the child support order.
3. The Court may enter an order to seek employment if it finds that the obligor:
- a. Has not provided proof of gainful employment; and
 - b. Has not consented to income withholding in accordance with this Chapter or entered into a written payment plan approved by the Court.
4. In addition to any other matters necessary for an order of the Court, an order to seek employment shall:
- a. Order that the obligor seek employment within a specified amount of time;
 - b. Order that the obligor file a written report with the Court on a weekly basis which contains:
 - i. At least five (5) new attempts to find employment or a report of having found employment;
 - ii. The names, addresses, and telephone numbers of any employers with whom the obligor attempted to seek employment; and
 - iii. The name of the individual contact with whom the obligor made application or inquiry for employment;
 - c. Notify the obligor that failure to comply with the order may subject the obligor to other enforcement actions under this Chapter, including contempt;

d. Order that the obligor provide the Court with verification of any reason for noncompliance with the order; and

e. Specify the duration of the order, not to exceed three (3) months.

Section 4-6-24. Receipt of Public Assistance.

1. Acceptance of public assistance by or on behalf of a child creates a debt, in the amount of public assistance paid, due and owing to the Tribe by the responsible parent, guardian or custodian of the child, provided that:

a. If child support was required to be paid pursuant to a child support order during the time of receipt of public assistance, the debt shall be limited to the amount specified in such order; and

b. The debt shall only attach with respect to the period of time during which public assistance is granted and only if the responsible parent, guardian or custodian was financially able to furnish support during this period.

2. A party who receives public assistance may be required to assign accrued child support rights and payments for the public assistance to the government agency which provided the public assistance. The assignment of rights shall authorize the Tribe or government agency providing the public assistance to bring an action in the Court to establish a child support order and to collect on that order on behalf of the government expending the public assistance and to distribute monies collected to such government.

3. No action to collect a debt or assignment under this Section shall be commenced after the expiration of five (5) years subsequent to the receipt of the last grant of public assistance.

Section 4-6-25. Non-Cash Child Support. A non-cash child support payment may satisfy a child support obligation, including arrearages, only where:

1. The parties agree to the non-cash child support as a form of payment for child support;

2. The Court approves of the non-cash child support in a written order;

3. The order states the specific dollar amount of the child support obligation;

4. The order describes the type of non-cash child support that will be permitted to satisfy the child support obligation;

5. The order states the value of the permitted non-cash child support in a specific dollar amount based on the fair market value of the non-cash child support;

6. No more than fifty percent (50%) of any child support obligation is met by the non-cash child support; and

7. The non-cash child support is not used to satisfy child support that has been assigned to a public agency.

Section 4-6-26. Overpayments. If an obligor has overpaid child support because of a modification or error in the amount owed or collected, other than the result of an improper income withholding, the Tribal Court Administrator shall:

1. Apply the amount of the overpayment to reduce the amount of any child support arrearages or other debts owed to the obligee; and

2. If an overpayment exists after the reduction of any arrearage or other debt, reduce the amount of the child support remitted to the obligee by an amount no greater than twenty percent (20%) of the current monthly child support amount and remit this amount to the obligor until the overpayment is reduced to zero.

Section 4-6-27. Arrearages.

1. The remedies available for the collection and enforcement of child support in this Chapter apply to arrearages, including those in which the child for whom support is owed is emancipated and the obligor owes past support or has an accumulated arrearage as of the date of the child's emancipation.

2. Parties may compromise any arrearages owed by one party to another, whether or not such arrearages have been entered in a court order or judgment.

3. An obligee or other person receiving payments under a child support order, may enter into agreements with obligors to reduce and otherwise manage arrearages, including, but not limited to:

a. In the case of the Tribe or another jurisdiction receiving payments by assignment or reimbursement for public assistance, agreements to compromise or charge-off arrearages owed to the Tribe or such other jurisdiction;

b. Graduated payment plans tailored to the individual financial circumstances of the obligor; and

c. Agreements suspending or waiving interest on arrearages as an incentive for satisfying a child support obligation or complying with a payment plan, provided that any interest that is suspended or waived may be reinstated if the obligor fails to comply with the payment plan.

4. Any agreement to compromise or charge off any arrearages shall be submitted to the Court for approval. In approving any such proposed agreement, the Court shall take into consideration:

a. The best interests of the child for whom the arrearages are intended;

b. The amount of the arrearages;

c. The amount of the current support order;

d. Any pending request for modification;

e. The earnings and individual financial circumstances of the obligor; and

f. The obligor's ability to make any proposed payment in the agreement.

5. An agreement purporting to waive past-due child support or arrearages is void and may not be enforced unless the obligee and any assignee of the child support payments have consented to the agreement in writing and the agreement has been approved by the Court in accordance with this Section.

Section 4-6-28. Foreign Child Support Orders.

1. Any party subject to a child support order or an income withholding order made by the court or administrative agency of another federally recognized Indian tribe or state may, by petition, request the Court to recognize and enforce such child support order or income withholding order in accordance with this Section.

2. A petition filed under this Section shall include:

a. Two copies, including one certified copy, of all child support orders or income withholding orders to be recognized and enforced, including any modification of an order;

b. A sworn statement by the party seeking recognition and enforcement or a certified statement by the custodian of the records showing the amount of any arrearages;

c. The name of the obligor and, if known, the obligor's address, social security number, date of birth, employer name and address, and any other source of income;

d. A description and location of any property of the obligor within the territory of the Tribe not exempt from execution;

e. The name and address of the obligee and, if applicable, the agency or person to whom child support payments are to be remitted; and

f. Any specific remedies or enforcement allowed under the laws of the Tribe sought and the grounds for such remedies or enforcement.

3. Upon the filing of a petition under this Section, a summons shall be issued and served in accordance with the Tribal Rules of Civil Procedure. In addition to all other requirements of a summons issued by the Court, the summons shall also state that the obligor or any other person claimed to be bound by the order shall have the right to object to the recognition and enforcement of the order within the time permitted as provided in this Section and that if no such objection is filed, the order will be recognized and enforced without a hearing.

4. A party served with a summons pursuant to this Section shall have fourteen (14) days from the date of service of such summons to file an objection to recognition and enforcement of the order.

5. If an objection is filed within the time period allowed, the Court shall set the matter for hearing. If no objections are timely filed, the Tribal Court Administrator or his or her designee shall issue a certification that no objections were timely filed and the Court shall enter an order that the order is recognized and enforced pursuant to this Section.

6. Notwithstanding any objections filed, the Court shall recognize and enforce a child support order or income withholding order made by a court or administrative agency of another federally recognized Indian tribe or state unless the objecting party demonstrates to the Court at least one of the following:

a. The court or administrative agency did not have subject matter jurisdiction to hear the matter and enter an order;

b. The court or administrative agency did not have personal jurisdiction over the parties claimed to be bound by the order; or

c. The parties claimed to be bound by the order were not given reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard.

7. If the objecting party demonstrates to the Court that an appeal from the child support order or income withholding order is pending or will be taken, or that a stay of execution has been granted, the Court shall stay enforcement of the child support order or income withholding order until the appeal is concluded, the time for appeal expires, or the stay of execution expires or is vacated.

8. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section, the Tribe may enforce a child support order or income withholding order made by the court or administrative agency of another federally recognized Indian tribe or state involving an employee or officer of the Tribe regardless of whether such child support order or income withholding order has been recognized by the Court, provided that such child support order or income withholding order appears valid on its face. Any employee or officer of the Tribe subject to such a child support order or income withholding order which has not been recognized by the Court may challenge the enforcement of such order by filing a petition with the Court which includes the grounds for objecting to enforcement of the order and the Court shall determine whether such order may be enforced in accordance with the provisions of this Section.

9. The Court shall not seek or make a modification of any child support order subject to recognition and enforcement under this Section unless:

a. The Court has jurisdiction to enter such a child support order itself, notwithstanding the existence of the prior action in the court or administrative agency of the other federally recognized Indian tribe or state; and

b. Either:

i. The child and each party subject of the child support order no longer resides in the jurisdiction which issued the child support order; or

ii. Each party subject of the child support order has filed written consent with the court or administrative agency that issued the child support order for a court of another jurisdiction to modify the child support order and assume continuing, exclusive jurisdiction over the child support order.

10. Any child support order or income withholding order issued by a court or administrative agency of another jurisdiction that is not a federally recognized Indian tribe or state may be recognized and enforced in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing the recognition and enforcement of foreign orders generally.

11. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, no child support order or income withholding order issued by a foreign court or administrative agency shall be enforced until it has been recognized by the Court in accordance with the laws of the Tribe.

12. Except for any limitations under this Section, a child support order or income withholding order recognized pursuant to this Section shall be treated in all respects as an order of the Court and may be enforced in the same manner as though it was originally issued by the Court, except that, unless otherwise ordered by the Court, the law of the jurisdiction which issued the order shall apply to the nature, extent, amount and duration of payments and other obligations under the order.

13. This Section shall apply to a child support order issued by the Court that has been lawfully modified by the court or administrative agency of another jurisdiction.

Section 4-6-29. No Limitation of Actions. Notwithstanding any other law of the Tribe, there shall be no time limitation in which to commence a cause of action to enforce a child support order or collect arrearages.

CHAPTER 7 PARENTAGE

Section 4-7-1. Purpose. The Tribe recognizes that parentage is a multi-faceted relationship that is often more than just a biological relationship. Parentage also involves social and economic parenthood which may or may not accompany a biological relationship and which may result in a child having more than two parents in some cases. The primary purposes and objectives of this Chapter are:

1. To establish a process by which the parental heritage of the children of the Tribe may be identified;
2. To determine parentage in accordance with the realities of a particular family and the intentions of the family; and
3. To ensure that the interests of children are protected to the fullest extent possible.

Section 4-7-2. Definitions. Unless the context requires otherwise or another definition is provided for a particular section, in this Chapter:

1. "Acknowledged parent" means a person who has established a parent-child relationship by executing a recognition of parentage in accordance with this Chapter.
2. "Adjudged parent" means a person who has been adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction to be the parent of a child.
3. "Alleged parent" means a person who alleges himself or herself to be, or is alleged to be, the parent or a possible parent of a child, but whose parentage has not been determined. The term does not include:
 - a. A presumed parent;

b. A person whose parental rights have been terminated or declared not to exist; or

c. A donor.

4. "Assisted reproduction" means a method of causing pregnancy other than sexual intercourse, including, but not limited to:

a. Intrauterine insemination;

b. Donation of eggs;

c. Donation of embryos;

d. In-vitro fertilization and transfer of embryos; and

e. Intracytoplasmic sperm injection.

5. "Donor" means a person who produces or provides his or her own human reproductive material from which a child is conceived or an embryo created through the use of his or her own human reproductive material for assisted reproduction, but does not include:

a. A husband who provides sperm or a wife who provides eggs to be used for assisted reproduction by the wife;

b. A woman who gives birth to a child by means of assisted reproduction, except for gestational mothers; or

c. A person who is a parent or intended parent as a result of assisted reproduction or pursuant to a gestational agreement.

6. "Genetic testing" means an analysis of genetic markers to exclude or identify a person as the parent of a child. The term includes an analysis of one or a combination of the following:

a. Deoxyribonucleic acid; and

b. Blood-group antigens, red-cell antigens, human-leukocyte antigens, serum enzymes, serum proteins, or red-cell enzymes.

7. "Gestational mother" means an adult woman who gives birth to a child under a gestational agreement.

8. "Human reproductive material" means a sperm, an ovum or another human cell or human gene, and includes a part of any of them.

9. "Intended parent" means a person who intends, or two persons who are married or in a marriage-like relationship who intend, to be a parent of a child and, for that purpose, the person or two persons make an agreement with another person before the child is conceived that:

a. The other person will be a donor or the birth mother of a child conceived through assisted reproduction; and

b. The person, or the two persons, will be the child's parent or parents on the child's birth, regardless of whether that person's or those persons' human reproductive material was used in the child's conception.

10. "Parentage index" means the likelihood of genetic parentage calculated by computing the ratio between:

a. The likelihood that the tested person is the parent, based on the genetic markers of the tested person, the other parent, and child, conditioned on the hypothesis that the tested person is the parent of the child; and

b. The likelihood that the tested person is not the parent, based on the genetic markers of the tested person, the other parent, and child, conditioned on the hypothesis that the tested person is not the parent of the child and that the parent is of the same ethnic or racial group as the tested person.

11. "Presumed parent" means a person who, pursuant to this Chapter, is recognized as the parent of a child until that status is rebutted or confirmed in a judicial proceeding.

12. "Surrogacy" means an arrangement where a woman agrees to be the birth mother of a child and will surrender the child to the intended parents of the child who will be the child's parents, regardless of whether the child is conceived using her own human reproductive material.

Section 4-7-3. No Discrimination Based on Marital Status. A child born to parents who are not married to each other has the same rights under the law as a child born to parents who are married to each other.

Section 4-7-4. Parental Liability for Child.

1. Except as provided in this Section or expressly elsewhere in the laws of the Tribe, neither parent nor child is answerable, as such, for the acts of the other.

2. The parent of an unemancipated child residing with such parent, or placed by such parent under the care of other persons, may be held liable for damages to property or for personal injury attributable to an intentional, willful, malicious or wanton act of the child, but not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500.00).

3. Maximum recovery from any parent or parents of a child shall not exceed the amount provided in this Section for any one act of such child or children, if two or more children of the same parent or parents commit the same act.

4. Damages allowed under this Section may be assessed by the Court in any dispositional order in any case brought against the child or parent by the Tribe pursuant to Title III of this Code.

5. Nothing in this Section shall limit the amount of damages recoverable by an action against the child, except that any amount so recovered shall be reduced and apportioned by any amount received from the parent or parents.

Section 4-7-5. Establishment of Parent-Child Relationship.

1. Unless the person cannot be considered a parent of a child under another provision of this Chapter, a person is considered the parent of a child where:

a. There is a presumption of parentage that has not been rebutted;

b. The person is the birth mother or biological father of the child and the child is not born as a result of assisted reproduction or surrogacy;

c. If the child was born as a result of assisted reproduction and not surrogacy:

i. The person is the birth mother of the child;

ii. The person was married to or in a marriage-like relationship with the birth mother of the child when the child was conceived, unless the person did not consent to be the child's parent or withdrew consent to be the child's parent before the child was conceived;

iii. The person is an intended parent, unless the person withdrew from the agreement providing for him or her to be an intended parent before the child was conceived; or

iv. If the person became deceased prior to the child being conceived, the person consented to assisted reproduction and being the child's parent even after the person's death;

d. If the child was born as a result of surrogacy pursuant to a gestational agreement, the person is an intended parent under the gestational agreement and the person did not withdraw from the agreement before the child was conceived;

e. The person is a gestational mother or donor and there is an agreement with the parents or intended parents that the person will be a parent of the child;

f. The person has executed a recognition of parentage consistent with this Chapter, unless the recognition has been timely rescinded or successfully challenged;

g. The person adopted the child; or

h. The person has been adjudicated to be the parent of the child by a court of competent jurisdiction.

2. Except as otherwise specifically provided by the laws of the Tribe, unless and until parental rights are terminated, a parent-child relationship established under this Chapter applies for all purposes.

3. Nothing in this Chapter shall be construed as limiting the number of individuals that can be considered a parent of a child.

Section 4-7-6. Presumption of Parentage.

1. A person is presumed to be the parent of a child if:

a. Unless the person has joined in a recognition of parentage recognizing another person as the parent, he or she was married to or in a marriage-like relationship with the child's other parent:

i. On the day of the child's birth; or

ii. Within three hundred (300) days before the child's birth, if the marriage was terminated by death, declaration of invalidity, decree of separation, or decree of dissolution;

b. After the birth of the child, the person and the child's other parent married each other or entered into a marriage-like relationship, the person voluntarily asserted his or her parentage of the child, and:

i. The assertion is made in writing and filed with the Court, the Enrollment Department, or a government agency maintaining birth records;

ii. He or she agreed to be and is named as the child's parent on the child's birth certificate; or

iii. He or she is obligated to support the child as his or her own in a written document or pursuant to a child support order;

c. Scientifically reliable genetic testing reveals a statistical probability of parentage at ninety-two percent (92%) or more;

d. A birth certificate of the child is signed by the person; or

e. While the child is under the age of majority, he or she has resided in the same household with the child and openly holds out the child as his or her own.

2. There shall be no presumption of parentage under this Section if:

a. The person is excluded from being considered a parent under the provisions of this Chapter; or

b. The parentage of the person would conflict with the parentage of another person under Section 4-7-5 of this Chapter.

3. If two or more presumptions arise which conflict with each other, the presumption which on the facts is founded on the weightier considerations of policy and logic shall control.

4. For purposes of this Section, marriage includes a marriage in apparent compliance with the law, even if the marriage is or could be declared invalid.

5. A presumption of parentage under this Section may be rebutted only by an adjudication under the provisions of this Chapter.

Section 4-7-7. Persons Not Considered Parents.

1. A donor shall not be a parent of a child conceived by means of assisted reproduction, unless there is a written agreement with the parents or intended parents expressly providing that the donor will be a parent of the child.

2. A gestational mother shall not be a parent of a child conceived in accordance with a gestational agreement, unless the gestational agreement expressly provides that the gestational mother will be a parent of the child.

3. An individual who withdraws consent to assisted reproduction before the placement of human reproductive material shall not be a parent of the resulting child.

4. A person who commits an act of rape, incest, or sexual assault against another person which results in the birth of a child conceived as a result of the act of rape, incest, or sexual assault shall not be a parent of the child, provided that the victim of the rape, incest, or sexual assault or the child, once an adult, may bring an action to establish the parentage of such person. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Chapter, a persons who commits an act of rape, incest, or sexual assault against another person which result in the birth of a child conceived as a result of the act of rape, incest, or sexual assault shall be prohibited from bringing a parentage action under this Chapter relating to such child.

Section 4-7-8. Recognition and Denial of Parentage.

1. At any time, including during a parentage proceeding under this Chapter, a parent of a child and a person claiming to be the genetic parent of a child may acknowledge parentage for the child in a written recognition of parentage. A recognition of parentage shall:

a. Be in writing;

b. Be signed and notarized under penalty of perjury by the parent of the child and the parent seeking to establish his or her parentage;

c. Other than the parent of the child party to the recognition, state that the child whose parentage is being acknowledged:

i. Does not have a presumed parent or has a presumed parent whose full name is stated; and

ii. Does not have another acknowledged or adjudged parent which conflicts with the parentage of the person acknowledging parentage;

d. State that the parent seeking to establish his or her parentage is not a gestational mother or donor of the child;

e. State whether there has been genetic testing and, if so, that the acknowledging parent's claim of parentage is consistent with the results of the testing, if applicable to the basis for establishing parentage; and

f. State that the signatories understand that the acknowledgment is the equivalent of a judicial adjudication of parentage of the child and that after the rescission period has ended a challenge to the acknowledgment is permitted only on the basis of fraud, duress, or material mistake of fact.

2. A recognition of parentage is void if:

a. It states that another person is a presumed parent, unless a denial of parentage is signed or otherwise authenticated by the presumed parent, or the other presumed parentage does not conflict with the acknowledged parentage;

b. Another person other than the parent of the child signing the recognition has acknowledged parentage in a previous valid recognition of parentage, unless the previous recognition has been timely rescinded or successfully challenged, or the previously acknowledged parentage does not conflict with the current acknowledged parentage;

c. Another person other than the parent of the child has been adjudicated to be a parent, unless the adjudicated parentage does not conflict with the acknowledged parentage;

d. The person seeking to establish his or her parentage is a gestational mother or donor of the child, unless there is a written agreement with the parents or intended parents expressly providing that the gestational mother or donor will be a parent of the child;

e. It falsely denies the existence of a presumed, acknowledged, or adjudged parent of the child; or

f. It falsely states that the person seeking to establish his or her parentage is not a gestational mother or donor of the child.

3. A presumed parent may sign a denial of his or her parentage. The denial is valid only if:

a. A recognition of parentage signed, or otherwise authenticated, by another parent is filed with the Court, the Enrollment Department, or a government agency maintaining birth records;

b. The denial is in writing, and is signed, or otherwise authenticated, under penalty of perjury; and

c. The presumed parent has not previously:

i. Recognized his or her parentage, unless the previous recognition has been timely rescinded or successfully challenged; or

ii. Been adjudicated to be the parent of the child.

4. A recognition of parentage and a denial of parentage:

a. May be contained in a single document or may be signed in counterparts;

b. May be executed separately or simultaneously, provided that if the recognition and denial are both necessary, neither is valid until both are executed;

c. May be signed before the birth of the child;

d. Take effect on the birth of the child or the execution of the document, whichever occurs later; and

e. May be signed by a minor if the document is otherwise in compliance with this Chapter.

5. Parties shall send a recognition of parentage and denial of parentage to the appropriate agency maintaining birth records to request the amendment of the birth record of the child, if appropriate.

6. Except as otherwise provided in Section 4-7-9 of this Chapter:

a. A valid recognition of parentage filed with the Court, the Enrollment Department, or a government agency maintaining birth records is equivalent to an adjudication of parentage of a child and confers upon the acknowledged parent all of the rights and duties of a parent; and

b. A valid denial of parentage by a presumed parent filed with the Court, the Enrollment Department, or a government agency maintaining birth records in conjunction with a valid recognition of parentage is equivalent to an adjudication of the nonparentage of the presumed parent and discharges the presumed parent from all rights and duties of a parent.

7. The Court shall give full faith and credit to a recognition of parentage or denial of parentage effective in another federally recognized Indian tribe or state if the recognition or denial has been signed and is otherwise in compliance with the law of the other jurisdiction.

8. The Court shall prescribe standard forms that parents may sign to recognize and deny parentage under this Section and shall not charge for filing a recognition of parentage, denial of parentage, or rescission of either. A valid recognition of parentage or denial of parentage is not affected by a later modification of the prescribed form.

Section 4-7-9. Rescinding and Challenging Recognition or Denial of Parentage.

1. A signatory may rescind a recognition of parentage or denial of parentage by commencing a proceeding to rescind before the earlier of:

a. Sixty (60) days after the effective date of the recognition or denial; or

b. The date of the first hearing, in a proceeding to which the signatory is a party, before the Court to adjudicate an issue relating to the child, including a proceeding that establishes child support or child custody.

2. After the period for rescission under this Section has expired, a signatory of a recognition of parentage or denial of parentage may commence a proceeding to challenge the recognition or denial only on the basis of fraud, duress, or material mistake of fact. There is no time limitation on when a party may commence a proceeding to challenge the recognition or denial of parentage under this subsection.

3. Every signatory to a recognition of parentage and any related denial of parentage shall be made a party to a proceeding to challenge the recognition or denial.

4. For the purpose of challenging a recognition of parentage or a denial of parentage, a signatory submits to the personal jurisdiction of the Court by signing the recognition or denial.

5. Except for good cause shown, during the pendency of a proceeding to challenge a recognition of parentage or a denial of parentage, the Court shall not suspend the legal responsibilities of a signatory arising from the recognition, including the duty to pay child support.

6. A proceeding to challenge a recognition of parentage or a denial of parentage shall be conducted in the same manner as a proceeding to adjudicate parentage under this Chapter.

7. At the conclusion of a proceeding to rescind a recognition of parentage or a denial of parentage, the Court shall send its order, or instruct the parties to do so, to the appropriate state agency to request the amendment of the birth record of the child, if appropriate.

Section 4-7-10. Gestational Agreements.

1. A prospective gestational mother, her spouse if married, a donor or the donors, and the intended parents may enter into a written agreement which provides that:

a. The prospective gestational mother agrees to pregnancy by means of assisted reproduction;

b. The prospective gestational mother, her spouse if married, and the donors relinquish all rights and duties as the parents of a child conceived through assisted reproduction, unless the parties agree otherwise; and

c. The intended parents will be the parents of the child.

2. A gestational agreement may provide for payment of consideration.

3. To be valid, a gestational agreement must be approved by the Court under this Section. The intended parents and the prospective gestational mother and her spouse, if married, may, by petition, request the Court to approve the gestational agreement in accordance with this Section. The Court shall enter an order approving the gestational agreement if:

a. Each intended parent, the gestational mother and her spouse, if any, are each party to the agreement;

b. Each party has voluntarily entered into the agreement and understands its terms;

c. Adequate provision has been made for all reasonable health-care expense associated with the agreement until the birth of the child, including responsibility for those expenses if the agreement is terminated;

d. The agreement does not limit the right of the prospective gestational mother to make decisions to safeguard her health or that of the embryos or fetus;

e. The consideration, if any, paid to the prospective gestational mother is reasonable;

f. Unless waived by the Court, a home study has been completed by the Department of Social Services or another agency or individual qualified to perform a home study; and

g. The Court finds that the intended parents are fit to be the parents of the child.

4. A gestational agreement may be terminated:

a. By the prospective gestational mother, her spouse if married, or any of the intended parents before the prospective gestational mother becomes pregnant by means of assisted reproduction, by giving written notice of termination to all other parties; or

b. By the Court for good cause shown.

5. A party who terminates a gestational agreement shall file a notice of the termination with the Court in the same action in which the agreement was approved. On receipt of the notice, the Court shall vacate the order approving the gestational agreement and the agreement shall be unenforceable unless the terminating party is an intended parent and there is still at least one more intended parent, the other parties to the agreement do not wish to terminate the agreement, and the agreement is otherwise still subject to Court approval under this Section. Neither a prospective gestational mother nor her spouse, if any, shall be liable to the intended parents for terminating a gestational agreement pursuant to this Section.

6. Upon birth of a child to a gestational mother, the intended parents shall file notice with the Court that the child has been born to the gestational mother within three hundred (300) days after assisted reproduction. Upon the filing of such notice, the Court shall issue an order:

a. Confirming that the intended parents are the parents of the child;

b. If necessary, ordering that the child be surrendered to the intended parents; and

c. Directing the government agency maintaining birth records to issue a birth certificate naming the intended parents as parents of the child.

7. A gestational agreement does not apply to the birth of a child conceived by means of sexual intercourse.

8. If a birth results under a gestational agreement that is not approved by the Court in accordance with this Section, the parent-child relationship shall be determined in accordance with this Chapter, provided that the Court shall have the authority to retroactively approve a gestational agreement that otherwise substantially complies with this Section.

9. Nothing in this Section shall prevent the Court from recognizing a gestational agreement entered into in another jurisdiction and valid under the laws of that jurisdiction.

Section 4-7-11. Confidentiality of Court Records.

1. The Court record of proceedings under this Chapter shall include transcripts, recordings of hearings, complaints, petitions, motions, memoranda, briefs, reports, findings of the Court, Court orders, and any other reports or papers filed in the action, whether maintained in paper form, electronically, or otherwise.

3. The Court shall not release information on the location or whereabouts of a party or a child to another person:

a. Against whom an order for protection is in effect with respect to the party or the child; or

b. If the Court has reason to believe that the release of the information to that person may result in physical or emotional harm to the party or the child.

4. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Chapter, a final order issued in a proceeding under this Chapter shall be available for public inspection.

5. When providing service by publication, the name of the child in the matter shall not be disclosed, provided that the child's initials may be published.

6. Any person who willfully discloses confidential information protected under this Section other than as expressly authorized in this Section shall be subject to a civil fine not to exceed eight hundred dollars ($800).

2. Petitions may be filed by:

a. The child for whom parentage is sought to be established;

b. A parent, guardian, or custodian of the child for whom parentage is sought to be established;

c. A parent, guardian or other legal representative of a minor parent on behalf of or for the benefit of the minor parent's child;

A request for establishment of parentage may be combined with a proceeding for invalidity of marriage, dissolution of marriage, legal separation, child support, or child custody under this Title, a proceeding for adoption or termination of parental rights under Title 3 of this Code, a probate proceeding, or any other appropriate proceeding, captioned as such proceeding, and conducted as part of such proceeding.

4. In addition to any other information required by the laws of the Tribe, all petitions under this Section shall contain the following information:

a. Unless the petitioner is the Tribe, the name, address, and tribal affiliation of the petitioner;

b. The name, last known address, and tribal affiliation of the respondent or the reasons that such information is unavailable;

c. The relationship of the petitioner to the child for whom parentage is sought to be established;

h. The basis for the Court's jurisdiction;

i. The basis alleged for the respondent being a parent of the child;

j. If an agreement or acknowledgment of parentage exists, the details of such agreement;

k. A request that the Court enter an order establishing the respondent as a parent of the child or such other relief requested.

5. The child's parent, except a parent who is a petitioner, and any person whose parentage of the child is to be adjudicated shall be included as named respondents. If not the petitioner, the child shall also be made a party to the action.

6. Two (2) or more children for whom parentage is sought to be established in a common parent may be included in the same petition.

7. A petition to establish parentage of a child who has become an adult may only be brought by the child.

8. If a petition to establish parentage of a child is filed before the birth of the child, the proceeding shall be stayed until after the birth of the child, except for service of process, discovery, and, except as prohibited by this Chapter, collection of specimens for genetic testing.

9. A petition which substantially complies with the requirements of this Section shall not be dismissed for violation of this Section.

Section 4-7-14. Admission of Parentage. A party in a proceeding under this Chapter may admit to the parentage of a child by filing a pleading to that effect or by admitting parentage under penalty of perjury when making an appearance or during a hearing. If the Court finds that there is no reason to question the admission, the Court shall issue an order adjudicating the child to be the child of the person admitting parentage.

Section 4-7-15. Temporary Orders for Support.

1. In a proceeding under this Chapter, the Court may issue a temporary child support order if such child support order is appropriate and the individual ordered to pay support is:

- a. A presumed parent of the child;
- b. Petitioning to have his or her parentage adjudicated;
- c. Identified as the parent through genetic testing conducted in accordance with this Chapter;
- d. An alleged parent who has declined to submit to genetic testing;
- e. Shown by clear and convincing evidence to be the parent of the child; or
- f. The parent of the child.

2. A temporary child support order issued under this Section may also include provisions for custody and visitation in accordance with the provisions of this Title.

Section 4-7-16. Orders to Facilitate Proceedings. In any proceeding under this Chapter, on motion of any party or on the Court's own motion, the Court may issue orders, including subpoenas, necessary to facilitate the proceeding and the establishment of parentage of the child, including orders for genetic testing and to assist in locating a parent or other party required to adjudicate the parentage of the child.

Section 4-7-17. Hearing on Petition.

1. Upon the filing of a petition under this Chapter, the Court shall schedule and conduct a hearing on the petition.

2. The primary purpose of a hearing on the petition is to determine whether the respondent is the parent of the child named in the petition and, if so, enter any other appropriate order.

3. The Court shall consider any and all reports allowed under this Chapter or ordered by the Court, and any additional relevant testimony or evidence presented at hearing.

4. The Court shall enter a parentage order if the Court finds the respondent is a parent of the child under the laws of the Tribe.

5. The burden of proof for establishment of parentage shall lie with the proponent of such parentage to demonstrate that the person is a parent by clear and convincing evidence.

Section 4-7-18. Order of Parentage.

1. In addition to any other matters necessary for an order of the Court, a parentage order shall include:

a. The name, date of birth, and last four digits of the social security number of each of the parties, including the child for whom parentage is sought to be established;

d. A decision as to whether the respondent or other party to the proceeding is a parent of the child;

e. If requested by a party for good cause shown, an order that the name of the child is changed;

f. If the determination of parentage differs from the child's birth certificate, an order to have the birth certificate appropriately amended;

g. Any other provision in the best interest of the child, including payment of support, payment of expenses of the mother's pregnancy, custody of the child, and visitation with the child; and

h. Any other findings or orders the Court deems necessary or desirable.

2. An order issued under this Section is a final order and subject to appeal in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing civil appeals.

Section 4-7-19. Binding Effect of Parentage Determination.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a determination of parentage is binding on:

a. All signatories to a recognition or denial of parentage; and

b. All parties to an adjudication by a court acting under circumstances that satisfy the jurisdictional requirements of this Title.

2. A child is not bound by a determination of parentage under this Chapter unless:

a. The determination was based on an unrescinded recognition of parentage and the recognition is consistent with the results of genetic testing;

b. The adjudication of parentage was based on a finding consistent with the results of genetic testing and the consistency is declared in the determination or is otherwise shown; or

c. The child was a party or was represented in the proceeding determining parentage by legal counsel or a guardian ad litem.

3. In a proceeding to dissolve a marriage, the Court is deemed to have made an adjudication of the parentage of a child if the Court acts under circumstances that satisfy the jurisdictional requirements of this Title and the final order:

a. Expressly identifies a child as a "child of the marriage," "issue of the marriage," or similar words indicating that the spouse is the parent of the child; or

b. Provides for support of the child by the spouse unless parentage is specifically disclaimed in the order.

4. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a determination of parentage may be a defense in a subsequent proceeding seeking to adjudicate parentage by an individual who was not a party to the earlier proceeding.

5. A party to an adjudication of parentage may challenge the adjudication only under the laws of the Tribe relating to appeal, vacating judgments, or other judicial review.

Section 4-7-20. Order for Genetic Testing.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, the Court shall order the child and other designated individuals to submit to genetic testing in accordance with this Chapter if:

a. The order for testing is supported by the sworn statement of a party to the proceeding alleging parentage and stating facts establishing a reasonable probability of the requisite sexual contact between the individuals;

b. The order for testing is supported by the sworn statement of a party to the proceeding denying parentage and stating facts establishing a possibility that sexual contact between the individuals, if any, did not result in the conception of the child; or

c. The Court otherwise finds that there is good cause to believe the individuals are the genetic parents of the child and are not otherwise excluded from being the parents of the child.

2. The Court may deny issuing an order for genetic testing if the Court determines that:

a. The conduct of the parent or the alleged parent bars that party from denying parentage and it would be inequitable to disprove the parent-child relationship between the child and the alleged parent;

b. The parentage of the child is based on another provision of this Chapter other than genetic parentage and the results of genetic testing would not alter or modify that parentage determination;

c. A legal proceeding for adoption of the child whose parentage is sought to be established is pending in a court of competent jurisdiction, unless establishment of parentage is required for the purposes of the adoption proceeding; or

d. The genetic testing or establishment of parentage is reasonably likely to result in physical or emotional harm to the child or to the child's parent, guardian or custodian or otherwise would not be in the best interests of the child.

3. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Chapter, the Court shall not order genetic testing if the alleged parent is otherwise excluded from being considered a parent of the child under the provisions of this Chapter, provided that if the alleged parent committed an act of rape, incest, or sexual assault which resulted in the birth of the child conceived as a result of the act of rape, incest, or sexual assault, the Court may order the genetic testing if the victim of the rape, incest, or sexual assault or the child, once an adult, expressly and voluntarily consents to such genetic testing.

4. If a request for genetic testing of a child is made before birth, the Court may not order in-utero testing.

5. If two or more individuals are subject to court-ordered genetic testing, the testing may be ordered concurrently or sequentially.

6. Upon the request of a party who contests the result of genetic testing, the Court shall order additional genetic testing, provided that, if the previous genetic testing identified a person as the parent of the child under this Chapter, the Court may not order additional testing unless the party provides advance payment for the testing.

Section 4-7-21. Standards for Genetic Testing.

1. Genetic testing must be of a type reasonably relied upon by experts in the field of genetic testing and performed in a testing laboratory accredited by:

a. The American Association of Blood Banks, or a successor to its functions;

b. The American Society for Histocompatibility and Immunogenetics, or a successor to its functions; or

c. An accrediting body designated by the federal Secretary of Health and Human Services.

2. A specimen used in genetic testing may consist of one or more samples, or a combination of samples, of blood, buccal cells, bone, hair, or other body tissue or fluid. The specimen used in the testing need not be of the same kind for each individual undergoing genetic testing.

3. If a genetic-testing specimen is not available from a person who may be the parent of a child and the Court finds that a need for genetic testing outweighs the legitimate interests of the individual sought to be tested, the Court may order the following individuals to submit specimens for genetic testing:

a. The parents of the person;

b. Brothers and sisters of the person;

c. Other children of the person and their parents; and

d. Other immediate or extended family members of the person necessary to complete genetic testing.

4. Based on the ethnic or racial group of an individual, the testing laboratory shall determine the databases from which to select frequencies for use in calculation of the probability of parentage. If there is disagreement as to the testing laboratory's choice, the following rules shall apply:

a. The individual objecting may require the testing laboratory, within thirty (30) days after receipt of the report of the test, to recalculate the probability of parentage using an ethnic or racial group different from that used by the laboratory;

b. The individual objecting to the testing laboratory's initial choice shall:

i. If the frequencies are not available to the testing laboratory for the ethnic or racial group requested, provide the requested frequencies compiled in a manner recognized by accrediting bodies; or

ii. Engage another testing laboratory to perform the calculations; and

c. The testing laboratory may use its own statistical estimate if there is a question regarding which ethnic or racial group is appropriate and, if available, the testing laboratory shall calculate the frequencies using statistics for any other ethnic or racial group requested.

5. If, after recalculation using a different ethnic or racial group, genetic testing does not rebuttably identify a person as the parent of a child under this Chapter, an individual who has been tested may be required to submit to additional genetic testing.

6. Any person gathering a specimen for genetic testing pursuant to an order of the Court, at the request of the parent and alleged parent, or as otherwise authorized under the laws of the Tribe and any hospital, laboratory or other entity employing such person, may not be held liable for damages to the party from whom the specimen is gathered if the specimen is gathered with usual and ordinary care.

Section 4-7-22. Report of Genetic Testing Results.

1. The results of genetic testing shall be set forth in a report and, if ordered as part of a proceeding under this Chapter, filed with the Court.

2. A report of genetic testing must be in writing and signed under penalty of perjury by a designee of the testing laboratory. A report made under the requirements of this Chapter is self-authenticating.

3. Documentation from the testing laboratory of the following information is sufficient to establish a reliable chain of custody that allows the results of genetic testing to be admissible without testimony:

- a. The names and photographs of the individuals whose specimens have been taken;
- b. The names of the individuals who collected the specimens;
- c. The places and dates the specimens were collected;
- d. The names of the individuals who received the specimens in the testing laboratory; and
- e. The dates the specimens were received.

Section 4-7-23. Results of Genetic Testing.

1. Under this Chapter, a person is rebuttably identified as the parent of a child if the genetic testing complies with this Chapter and the results disclose that:

- a. The person has at least a ninety-two percent (92%) probability of parentage, using a prior probability of 0.50, as calculated by using the combined parentage index obtained in the testing; and
- b. A combined parentage index of at least 100 to 1.

2. A person identified under this Section as the parent of the child may rebut the genetic testing results only:

- a. By other genetic testing satisfying the requirements of this Chapter which:
 - i. Excludes the person as a genetic parent of the child; or
 - ii. Identifies another person as the possible parent of the child; or
- b. By demonstrating by clear and convincing evidence that the person is excluded from being considered a parent of the child under the provisions of this Chapter.

3. If a child has a presumed, acknowledged, or adjudged parent in addition to the child's other parent, the results of genetic testing are inadmissible to adjudicate parentage unless performed:

a. With the consent of both the parent and the presumed, acknowledged, or adjudged parent; or

b. Pursuant to an order of the Court issued under this Chapter.

Section 4-7-24. Payment of Costs of Genetic Testing. Subject to the assessment of costs in accordance with the Tribal Rules of Civil Procedure, the cost of initial genetic testing shall be paid:

1. By the individual who made the request;
2. As agreed by the parties; or
3. As otherwise ordered by the Court.

Section 4-7-25. Limitations of Actions.

1. An action to establish parentage of a child may be commenced by the child at any time, even after the child becomes an adult or an earlier proceeding to adjudicate parentage has been dismissed based on the application of a statute of limitations then in effect.

2. An action to establish parentage of a child may be commenced by a person other than the child at any time until the child reaches the age of majority, but not thereafter.

If the tenant fails to provide the Authority with an address for sending any amounts remaining from the security deposit and the Authority cannot locate the tenant to return any such amounts, the tenant shall have six (6) months to demand such amounts from the Authority and, if the tenant fails to do so, the Authority may retain such amounts and the interest of the tenant in his or her security deposit shall terminate at that time; and

h. If the Authority fails to comply with this subsection or fails to pay any amounts to which the tenant is entitled under this subsection, the tenant may recover the security deposit.

4. When the Authority's interest in a dwelling unit terminates, the Authority shall:

a. If the lease continues, not later than thirty (30) days after termination of the Authority's interest:

i. Transfer to the person succeeding the Authority's interest in the dwelling unit any security deposit being held by the Authority; and

ii. Notify the tenant in writing of the transfer, the successor's name and address, and the amount transferred; or

b. If the lease terminates as a result of the termination of the Authority's interest, comply with subsection (3) of this Section.

5. A successor to the Authority's interest in a dwelling unit has all rights and obligations of a landlord under applicable law with respect to any security deposit transferred by the Authority to the successor.

6. This Section does not preclude the Authority or tenant from recovering other damages to which either may be entitled under this Title.

Section 5-3-10. Rules and Regulations. The Authority, from time to time, may adopt a rule or regulation, however described, concerning the tenant's use and occupancy of the premises. Such a rule or regulation is enforceable against the tenant only if:

1. Its purpose is to promote the convenience, peace, and safety or welfare of the tenant in the premises, preserve the Authority's property from abusive use, or make a fair distribution of services and facilities held out for the tenant generally;

2. It is reasonably related to the purpose of which it is adopted;

3. It applies to all tenants in the premises in a fair manner;

4. It is sufficiently explicit in its prohibition, direction or limitation of the tenant's conduct or fairly informs the tenant what such tenant must or must not do to comply;

5. It is not for the purpose of evading the obligations of the Authority; and

6. The Authority has provided written notice of the rule or regulation to the tenant:

a. By including such rule or regulation in the lease;

b. By delivering a copy of such rule or regulation to the tenant; or

c. By posting such rule or regulation conspicuously in any public area of the premises.

CHAPTER 4 TERMINATION OF TENANCIES OF AUTHORITY

Section 5-4-1. Termination of Tenancies.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Title, in the absence of a provision in the lease or other written agreement signed by the Authority and tenant otherwise, the Authority or tenant may terminate a periodic tenancy:

a. For a period less than month to month, by giving the other party at least seven (7) days written notice of the party's intent to terminate the tenancy on a specified date; and

b. For month to month, by giving the other party at least thirty (30) days' written notice of the party's intent to terminate the tenancy at the end of the monthly period.

2. A tenancy for a fixed term continues until the end of the term, provided that the Authority or tenant may terminate a tenancy for a fixed term prior to the end of the term:

a. By mutual agreement;

b. Unless prohibited by this Title, as provided in the lease; or

c. As otherwise permitted in this Title.

3. Unless a specified form of service is required by other applicable law, if the Authority terminates a tenancy under this Section, the Authority shall serve the written notice required by this Section on the tenant as follows:

a. By delivering such notice to the tenant personally;

b. If the tenant cannot be located for personal service, by delivering the notice to any family member of the tenant over the age of majority residing with the tenant;

c. If service cannot be made personally or on a family member, by posting the notice at a conspicuous place on the dwelling unit of the tenant and mailing a copy of such notice to the tenant by certified mail.

4. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Title, the Authority shall not deny or terminate a tenancy to a blind, deaf, or physically handicapped person because of the guide, signal or service dog of such person, unless such dog is found to be vicious or destructive of property.

5. Except as otherwise provided in this Title, whenever either party to a tenancy rightfully elects to terminate such tenancy, the duties of each party under the tenancy shall cease and be determined upon the effective date of the termination and the parties shall discharge any remaining obligations under this Title as soon as practicable.

Section 5-4-2. Holdover Tenant.

1. If a tenant remains in possession without the Authority's consent after the expiration of the term of the lease or termination of a tenancy, the Authority may immediately bring an action for eviction and damages under this Title. If the tenant's holdover is willful and not in good faith, the Authority may also compute and prorate the rent on a daily basis for each month or portion thereof that the tenant remains in possession.

2. Unless the Authority and tenant otherwise agree in writing, if the tenant remains in possession with the Authority's consent after expiration of the term of the lease or termination of a tenancy, a periodic tenancy for month to month is created.

Section 5-4-3. Destruction of Dwelling Unit. Unless the damage or destruction is caused by the deliberate or negligent act or omission of the tenant, a member of the tenant's immediate or extended family, the tenant's animal or pet, or another person or animal on the premises with the tenant's consent, if the dwelling unit is damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty to an extent that enjoyment of the dwelling unit is substantially impaired, the tenant may:

1. Vacate the premises immediately and, not later than seven (7) days after vacating the premises, give the Authority written notice of the tenant's intent to terminate the lease, in which case the lease terminates as of the date the tenant vacates the premises; or

2. If continued occupancy of the dwelling unit is possible, vacate that part of the dwelling unit unusable by the fire or casualty, in which case the tenant's liability for rent is reduced in proportion to the diminution in the fair value of the dwelling unit.

Section 5-4-4. Abandonment.

1. If the tenant abandons the dwelling unit before the end of the term of the lease, the Authority may:

a. Accept the tenant's abandonment of the dwelling unit by written notice given to the tenant, in which case the lease terminates on the date of abandonment; or

b. Treat the abandonment as wrongful.

2. If the Authority treats the abandonment as wrongful, the Authority shall make a reasonable effort to rent the abandoning tenant's dwelling unit, subject to the following rules:

a. If the Authority leases the dwelling unit to another person for a term beginning before the expiration of the term of the lease of the abandoning tenant, the lease of the abandoning tenant terminates as of the date of the new tenancy and the Authority and the other person may enter into a new lease;

b. If the Authority makes a reasonable effort to lease the dwelling unit but is unable to lease it or is able to lease it only for an amount less than the rent payable by the abandoning tenant, the Authority shall have a cause of action for damages against the abandoning tenant for the rent owed under the lease or, in the case of a periodic tenancy, the remaining amount of the relevant period of the tenancy;

c. If the Authority fails to make a reasonable effort to lease the dwelling unit, the lease terminates as of the date the Authority has knowledge of the abandonment.

Section 5-4-5. Disposition of Property.

1. If household goods, furnishings, fixtures, or any other personal property remains on the premises after the tenant vacates the premises at the termination of the tenancy, including pursuant to an eviction under this Title or court order, or the tenant abandons the premises under this Chapter and the Authority and tenant do not agree otherwise at the time of relinquishment, the Authority may take possession of the property and:

a. If, in the judgment of the Authority, any of the property has no ascertainable or apparent value, dispose of such property without any duty of accounting or any liability to any party;

b. If the dwelling unit or any of the property tests positive for the presence of any illegal drug or other dangerous substance, dispose of such property without any duty of accounting or any liability to any party;

c. Inventory any of the property not disposed of and store it on the premises or in another place of safekeeping and exercise reasonable care in moving or storing the property; and

d. Give the tenant written notice of the disposal of any property under this subsection and the tenant's right to retrieve any property not disposed of in accordance with this Section.

2. The notice required by this Section must be posted at the premises and:

a. Be sent to any forwarding address the tenant provided to the landlord, an address otherwise provided to the Authority by the tenant, another address of the tenant in the records of the Authority, or, if no address is provided or known, to the address of the premises;

b. Inform the tenant of the right to contact the Authority to claim the property within a stated period of time which is no less than fourteen (14) days after receipt of the notice, subject to payment of the Authority's inventorying, moving, and storage costs; and

c. Provide a telephone number, e-mail address, or mailing address at which the Authority may be contacted.

3. Unless located in a dwelling unit that tests positive for the presence of any illegal drug or other dangerous substance, if any abandoned personal property is of cultural, religious, or ceremonial significance, the Authority shall locate the former tenant's heir or nearest relative to return such property or, if such heir or relative cannot be located, deliver such property to the Culture Department of the Tribe.

4. If a tenant contacts the Authority to claim personal property not later than the time provided by the Authority in the notice to the tenant, the Authority shall permit the tenant to retrieve such property subject to the following:

a. The tenant shall pay the reasonable costs of any removal and storage of the property, unless the Authority waives such payment;

b. The Authority shall not condition the retrieval of the property on the payment of any costs or fees other than the costs of any removal and storage of the property; and

c. If the Authority attempts to condition retrieval of the property on payment of any cost or fee other than removal and storage, the Authority shall forfeit its right to recover the costs of removal and storage.

5. Any personal property of a former tenant not retrieved in accordance with this Section, including the payment of any costs of removal and storage, after the time provided by the Authority in the notice to the tenant shall be deemed to be abandoned and the Authority may:

a. Sell the property; or

b. Dispose of the property in any manner which the Authority deems reasonable and proper without any liability to any party.

6. If the Authority sells personal property pursuant to this Section, the Authority shall:

a. Upon request by the former tenant, provide the former tenant with pertinent information concerning the sale, including the time, date, and location of the sale;

b. Apply the proceeds from such sale to the costs of removal and storage of the property; and

c. Pay any proceeds from the sale in excess of the costs of removal and storage to the former tenant.

CHAPTER 5 RIGHTS AND DUTIES

Section 5-5-1. Authority Duties.

e. Except in the case of a single-family residence or where the service is supplied by direct and independently metered utility connections to the dwelling unit, supply running water and reasonable amounts of hot water at all times and reasonable heat;

f. Not enter the dwelling unit unless:

i. Except where notice is impractical, entry is at a reasonable time and the Authority has provided the tenant at least one (1) day's notice of its intent to enter, provided that the Authority and its agents and employees may enter the dwelling unit without notice or consent of the tenant in the case of emergency;

ii. Entry is under a court order; or

iii. Entry is otherwise permitted under this Title.

2. The Authority and tenant may agree, by a conspicuous writing independent of the lease, that the tenant is to perform specified repairs, maintenance tasks, alterations, or remodeling.

3. Any agreement, assignment, conveyance, trust deed, or security instrument which authorizes a person other than the Authority to act as a landlord of a dwelling unit or premises owned by the Authority shall not relieve the Authority of the duty to conform with this Title and any other law of the Tribe concerning the maintenance and operation of the premises.

Section 5-5-2. Authority's Noncompliance.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Title, the Authority shall be in noncompliance if the Authority fails to comply with the lease or Section 5-5-1(1) of this Title.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this Title, if the Authority's noncompliance is material:

a. The tenant may deliver written notice to the Authority stating:

i. The acts and omissions constituting the material non-compliance; and

ii. That the lease will terminate on a specified date which is not less than thirty (30) days after the Authority's receipt of the notice if the non-compliance is not remedied within fourteen (14) days after the Authority's receipt of the notice; and

b. If the Authority fails to remedy the non-compliance within the time specified, the lease shall terminate.

3. Except as otherwise provided in this Title, if the Authority's noncompliance involves a repair which is less than one hundred dollars ($100.00):

a. The tenant may deliver written notice to the Authority stating:

i. The repair which constitutes the non-compliance; and

ii. That the tenant will make the repair and deduct the cost from the rent if the Authority fails to make the repair within fourteen (14) days after the Authority's receipt of the notice or, in the case of an emergency, or as promptly as conditions require;

b. If the Authority fails to make the repair within the time specified, the tenant may:

i. Make the repairs in a workmanlike manner;

ii. Submit an itemized statement of the cost of the repairs to the Authority; and

iii. Deduct the actual and reasonable cost of the repairs from the rent.

4. Except as otherwise provided in this Title, if, contrary to the lease, the Authority willfully or negligently fails to supply heat, running water, hot water, or electric, gas, or other essential service, the tenant may deliver written notice to the Authority stating the noncompliance and:

a. Terminate the lease immediately by stating in such written notice to the Authority of the tenant's intent to terminate the lease immediately;

b. Procure reasonable amounts of heat, running water, hot water, or electric, gas, or other essential service during the period of the Authority's noncompliance and deduct the actual and reasonable cost from the rent;

c. Recover damages based on the reduced fair rental value of the dwelling unit; or

d. Procure reasonable substitute housing during the period of the Authority's noncompliance, in which case the tenant is excused from paying rent for the period of the Authority's noncompliance.

5. Except as otherwise provided in this Title, if the Authority's noncompliance renders the dwelling unit uninhabitable or poses an imminent threat to the health and safety of any occupant of the dwelling unit and the noncompliance is not remedied as promptly as conditions require, the tenant may terminate the lease immediately by giving written notice to the Authority of the tenant's intent to terminate the lease immediately.

6. If the Authority unlawfully enters the tenant's dwelling unit, enters the tenant's dwelling unit in an unreasonable manner, or harasses the tenant by making repeated unreasonable demands to enter the tenant's dwelling unit, the tenant may recover actual damages and either:

a. Obtain an order from the Tribal Court to prevent the recurrence of the conduct; or

b. Terminate the lease by giving written notice to the Authority.

7. If the Authority wrongfully removes or excludes a tenant from a dwelling unit, the tenant may recover two (2) times the average monthly rent or two (2) times the tenant's actual damages, whichever is greater and either:

a. Recover possession of the dwelling unit in a proceeding brought in the Tribal Court; or

b. Terminate the lease by giving written notice to the Authority.

8. If a lease is terminated under this Section, the Authority shall return any security deposit and prepaid and unearned rent to which the tenant is entitled under this Title.

9. The tenant shall have no rights under this Section:

a. If written notice is required under this Section, the tenant has given such written notice to the Authority; or

b. If the noncompliance or condition was caused by the deliberate or negligent act or omission of:

i. The tenant;

ii. A member of the tenant's immediate or extended family;

iii. The tenant's animal or pet; or

iv. Another person or animal on the premises with the tenant's consent.

Section 5-5-3. Tenant Duties. The tenant shall at all times during the tenancy:

2. If the tenant fails to pay rent when due, the Authority may:

a. Terminate the lease by giving written notice to the tenant of the Authority's intent to terminate the lease on a specified date which is at least ten (10) calendar days after such rent was due; and

b. Bring an action for recovery of the unpaid rent at any time, regardless of whether the Authority terminates the lease.

3. If the tenant refuses to allow the Authority to enter the dwelling unit as permitted in this Title, the Authority may:

a. Obtain an order from the Tribal Court to compel access; or

b. Terminate the lease by giving written notice to the tenant of the Authority's intent to terminate the lease on a specified date which is at least ten (10) days after receipt of such notice if the tenant does not allow entry.

Section 5-6-3. Procedure.

2. Requests for discovery from an opposing party shall be made no later than three (3) calendar days after the Court sets a date for the hearing on the complaint.

3. Discovery shall be completed within five (5) calendar days before the date of the hearing on the complaint.

6. Evidence in proceedings under this Chapter shall be governed by the Federal Rules of Evidence.

Section 5-6-4. Notice to Quit.

1. When the Authority desires to obtain possession of a dwelling unit and there exists one or more reasons to evict the tenant, the Authority shall give notice to the tenant to quit possession of the premises according to the provisions of this Section.

2. The notice to quit is intended to provide the tenant notice that the Authority is seeking to evict the tenant from the premises and to provide the tenant with the reasons for such eviction so that the tenant can understand how to advocate against the eviction process.

3. The notice to quit shall:

i. The tenancy shall terminate on a specified date which is at least five (5) days after receipt of the written notice; and

ii. The tenant has no right to cure or correct the grounds for termination;

b. If the tenant does not vacate the premises within the time specified in the written notice of termination, the Authority may file a verified complaint for immediate eviction in the Tribal Court which:

c. The Tribal Court shall schedule a hearing on the complaint as soon as practicably possible without regard to any time requirements or constraints in this Chapter; and

d. The Tribal Court shall issue an order of eviction at the conclusion of such hearing if the Authority is entitled to such order as provided in this Chapter.

Section 5-6-5. Appeal of Notice to Quit.

1. A tenant may appeal a notice to quit to the Authority's Executive Director within fourteen (14) days of receiving the notice to quit and the Executive Director shall meet with the tenant and render a decision on the matter. Such meeting may take place by telephone or other remote form of instant communication. There is no protocol for such meeting and it may take whatever form reasonably allows the tenant to express the tenant's position to the Executive Director.

2. The Executive Director shall render a decision either upholding the notice to quit or overturning the notice to quit within five (5) days of meeting with the tenant. The Executive Director's decision shall be in writing and served upon the tenant in the same manner for service of the notice to quit provided in this Chapter. The decision of the Executive Director shall be the final decision of the Authority.

3. If a tenant fails to appeal a notice to quit within the time permitted in this Section, the notice to quit shall be the final decision of the Authority.

Section 5-6-6. Judicial Review.

1. If a tenant is not satisfied with the decision of the Executive Director, the tenant may petition the Tribal Court for review of the Executive Director's decision.

2. A petition for review must be filed with the Tribal Court within fourteen (14) days from the date the Executive Director's decision is served upon tenant.

3. A petition for review:

6. Proceedings in the Tribal Court on a petition for review filed under this Section, including any counterclaims of the Authority, shall be governed by the rules of procedure for the Tribal Court which are not in conflict with this Chapter.

7. The tenant's filing of a petition for review with the Tribal Court pursuant to this Section shall stay an eviction while the review is pending.

8. The Authority may file a motion for relief from the stay of eviction provided under this Section. If the Authority shows the tenant's continued occupancy creates a risk to the health or safety of other persons, the Tribal Court shall order the stay lifted and may also order the immediate eviction of the tenant. If the Tribal Court orders the immediate eviction of the tenant pursuant to this subsection and the tenant prevails on the petition for review, the Tribal Court may order the tenant returned to possession of the dwelling unit. The Authority shall not be liable to the tenant for any damages resulting from the filing of a motion or obtaining an order of immediate eviction under this subsection.

9. In reviewing the Executive Director's decision on a petition for review, the Tribal Court shall take evidence and hear argument from the tenant and the Authority. The Tribal Court shall determine facts and apply the law.

10. If the Tribal Court determines that the facts and the law do not support the Executive Director's decision, the Tribal Court shall reverse and vacate the Executive Director's decision and order that the tenant remain in possession of the dwelling unit.

11. If the Tribal Court determines that the Executive Director's decision is supported by the facts and the law, the Tribal Court shall affirm the Executive Director's decision, order the immediate eviction of the tenant from the dwelling unit, and grant the Authority such other relief the Tribal Court finds appropriate based upon the facts and law.

12. If a tenant fails to file a petition for review within the time permitted in this Section, the Executive Directors' decision shall not be appealable.

Section 5-6-7. Initiation of Eviction Proceedings.

4. The Authority shall attach to the complaint any required notice to quit and the Executive Director's decision, if there is one, along with proof of service of all documents served.

5. The Tribal Court may, in its discretion, on motion from the Authority, order the tenant to pay into the Tribal Court rents for the use and occupancy during the pendency of the eviction case.

Section 5-6-8. Summons and Service of Process.

1. When a complaint is filed under this Chapter, it shall be presented to a judge of the Tribal Court on the date of filing or, if no judge is present, the first regular Tribal Court day after filing or when a judge may first be found.

3. The summons shall be served in accordance with the Tribal Rules of Civil Procedure and shall be made at least ten (10) days before the first hearing on the complaint.

Section 5-6-9. Response to Complaint.

1. The tenant may contest the complaint in person before the Tribal Court or in writing.

2. Any written response shall state any defenses or factual disputes and shall be served upon the Authority within five (5) calendar days of the date set for the first hearing on the complaint.

Section 5-6-10. Defenses.

1. The Tribal Court shall grant the remedies allowed in this Title, unless it appears by the evidence that:

a. The premises are untenable, uninhabitable, or constitute a situation where there is a constructive eviction of the tenant, in that the premises are in such a condition, due to the fault of the Authority, that they constitute a real and serious hazard to human health and safety and not a mere inconvenience;

b. The Authority has failed or refused to make repairs which are its responsibility after a reasonable demand by a tenant to do so, without good cause, and the repairs are necessary for the reasonable enjoyment of the premises;

c. There are monies due and owing to the tenant because he or she has been required to make repairs which are the obligation of the Authority and the Authority has failed or refused to make them after a reasonable notice, provided such sums may be a defense only to the extent that such sums set off monies owed for occupancy and a tenant may be evicted after such a set off if he or she fails or refuses to pay the reasonable rental value of the dwelling unit;

d. That due to the conduct of the Authority, there is injury to the tenant in such a way that justice requires that relief be modified or denied. This shall include the equitable defenses of estoppel, laches, fraud, misrepresentation, and breaches of serious and material obligations for public health, safety, and peace standards;

e. That there are such serious and material breaches of applicable housing law on the part of the Authority that it would be unjust to grant it a remedy;

f. The Authority is evicting the tenant because of his/her race, sex, sexual orientation, religion, age, marital status, family status, or because the tenant is disabled; or

g. The Authority terminated the tenancy in retaliation for the tenant's attempt to secure his or her rights under this Title or to force the Authority to comply with its duties under this Title.

2. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section, if the tenant has not filed a petition for review pursuant to this Title, the tenant shall have no right to challenge the final decision of the Authority, other than to challenge the service of the notice to quit or service of the Executive Director's decision, if any.

Section 5-6-11. Settlement.

1. After a notice to quit has been served upon a tenant and anytime before the entering of an order of eviction by the Tribal Court in a proceeding under this Chapter, the Authority and tenant may engage in discussions to avoid a proceeding to evict or otherwise settle the issues between the parties.

2. The Authority and the tenant are encouraged to maintain settlement negotiations throughout the eviction process. In reaching an agreement, the parties may consider, but are not limited to the following options:

a. The parties may employ the use of advocates or attorneys;

b. The parties may employ the use of a mediator or conciliator;

c. The parties may agree to arbitrate the issues in binding arbitration;

d. The parties may agree to any other barter for services and goods, or to any other means of securing a fair exchange of value for the use and occupancy of the dwelling unit;

e. The parties may agree to dismiss the matter in exchange for any agreement reached;

f. The parties may agree to stipulate to a judgment to be entered by the Tribal Court.

3. The agreement to enter into discussions pursuant to this Section or otherwise will not affect the rights of the parties unless the parties agree expressly in writing to waive any of their rights.

Section 5-6-12. Continuance. A tenant may obtain continuance of a hearing under this Chapter beyond the time limit within which the hearing is otherwise required to be held for good cause shown and upon the payment of a reasonable sum for the fair rental value of the dwelling unit from the date on which the complaint was filed through the date of the hearing, provided that the Tribal Court:

1. May deny a continuance where the complaint is based upon a nuisance; and

2. Shall not continue the date of the hearing where the complaint is based upon conduct which is alleged to constitute a serious danger to public health, safety, or peace.

Section 5-6-13. Hearing on Complaint.

1. If the tenant makes no challenge to the service of the Authority's notice to quit or the Executive Director's decision, if any, the Tribal Court shall issue an order of eviction in accordance with this Chapter removing the tenant from the premises.

2. At the hearing, the Tribal Court shall inform the tenant that if he or she is evicted and does not vacate the premises voluntarily by the date set forth in the order of eviction, he or she and any other occupants will be subject to forcible eviction and their property will be subject to storage, sale, and disposal as set forth in this Title.

3. The Authority's claims for damages, if any, shall be determined in accordance with this Chapter.

4. The burden of proof in all proceedings under this Title shall be preponderance of the evidence.

Section 5-6-14. Judgment.

1. Within five (5) calendar days of the date of the hearing, the Tribal Court shall enter judgment granting all relief that the parties are entitled to as of the date of the judgment.

2. If a tenant fails to appear in person or in writing on or before the date of the hearing, the Tribal Court shall enter judgment in favor of the Authority following a hearing to determine whether relief should be granted and the kind of relief that should be granted.

3. The judgment shall state the relief granted by the Tribal Court to any party. The judgment may:

a. Order the immediate eviction of a tenant and delivery of the premises to the Authority no later than fourteen (14) days after the entry of the judgment unless the parties agree otherwise;

b. Grant actual damages as provided in the agreement of the parties or this Title, including interest;

c. Order the parties to carry out an obligation required by applicable law;

d. Establish a payment plan for the tenant;

e. Order rent payments out of per capita payment or through garnishment;

f. Establish a power of attorney in another person or agency to fulfill rights or obligations of either the Authority or the tenant;

g. Order the payment of legal counsel fees and, where allowed by the laws of the Tribe or agreement of the parties, costs and expenses of litigation; and

h. Grant any other relief provided in this Title or allowed in the laws of the Tribe.

4. Appeals of judgments entered pursuant to this Chapter shall be in accordance with the Tribal Rules of Appellate Procedure.

Section 5-6-15. Stay of Judgment.

1. If judgment for possession of premises is entered in favor of the Authority, the tenant may apply for a stay of execution of the judgment or order if within five (5) days of the entry of the judgment, the tenant establishes:

a. Good and reasonable grounds affecting the well being of the tenant or his or her immediate family; or

b. There would be no substantial prejudice or injury to the Authority during the period of the stay; or

c. A bond is posted or monies paid to the Tribal Court to satisfy the judgment or payment for the reasonable use and occupancy of the dwelling unit during the period of time following the judgment.

2. The Tribal Court Administrator shall distribute any monies or bond deposited to the Authority in accordance with any order of the Tribal Court.

3. No stay may exceed three (3) months in the aggregate.

Section 5-6-16. Notice to Vacate.

1. Any notice to vacate premises shall be by written order of the Tribal Court.

2. A notice to vacate shall be delivered to the tenant as follows:

a. Personally by a law enforcement officer of the Tribe or an agency of the United States government or other person authorized by the Tribal Court; or

b. If the notice to vacate cannot be delivered personally or the tenant cannot be found:

i. Mailing the notice to vacate by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the last known address of the tenant; or

ii. Securely fixing a copy of the notice to quit on the main entry door of the dwelling unit in such a manner that it is not likely to blow away, posting a copy of the notice to quit in some public place near the dwelling unit, such as a Tribal office, public store, or other commonly frequented place, and mailing a copy by first class mail, postage prepaid, to the tenant at the address of the dwelling unit.

3. Delivery of a notice to vacate shall be effective when it is:

a. Personally delivered to the tenant with a copy delivered by mail; or

b. Personally delivered to an adult person residing in the dwelling unit with a copy delivered by mail; or

c. Personally delivered to an adult agent of the tenant with a copy delivered by mail.

Section 5-6-17. Enforcement of Eviction Order.

1. Where the Tribal Court orders an eviction and the tenant or any other occupant of the dwelling unit refuses to vacate the premises voluntarily by the date set in the order, the tenant and other occupants may be forcibly removed from the premises by a Tribal law enforcement officer or law enforcement officer authorized by the Tribal Court.

2. An order of eviction may be executed by a duly authorized law enforcement officer or officer of the Tribal Court appointed by the Tribal Court for such a purpose.

3. To execute an order of eviction, the officer shall:

a. Remove all the evicted persons from the premises and verbally order them not to re-enter;

b. Provide a copy of the order of eviction to all adult tenants;

c. Post copies of the order of eviction on the doors of the dwelling unit if there is not any adult tenant present at the time of enforcement; and

d. Supervise the removal of the possessions of the evicted persons.

4. Any law enforcement officer shall, upon receipt of an order of eviction of the Tribal Court, enforce the order within five (5) calendar days of the date of the judgment or order and make a report to the Tribal Court on what was done to enforce it.

5. Following eviction, the Tribal Court may allow the Authority or the United States government access to any property leased by either of them for purposes of preserving and securing it.

6. All provisions of a judgment other than eviction entered pursuant to this Chapter shall be subject to enforcement in any manner provided under the laws of the Tribe.

ii. Ordering the removal of a guardian or conservator who is the respondent;

iii. When there is a reasonable suspicion of drug and/or alcohol use, ordering the respondent to submit to alcohol and drug testing and attend and successfully complete alcohol and drug evaluation, education, and/or treatment;

iv. Ordering the respondent to attend and successfully complete appropriate counseling services;

v. Ordering the respondent to pay the petitioner's legal counsel's fees;

vi. Ordering the respondent to pay rent or make payment on a mortgage on the petitioner's residence shared with the respondent and pay for the support of the petitioner and minor child if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or minor child;

vii. Ordering the respondent to reimburse the petitioner or other person for any expenses associated with the conduct which constitutes grounds for issuing the order for protection, including but not limited to medical expenses, counseling, shelter, and repair or replacement of damaged property;

viii. Requiring the respondent to pay restitution as compensatory damages to the petitioner for any injuries or damages resulting from the respondent's acts;

ix. Ordering the respondent to pay the costs and fees incurred by the petitioner in bringing the action;

j. Ordering such other relief as the court deems necessary to protect and provide for the safety of the petitioner and any other appropriate persons, including children and immediate and extended family and household members of the petitioner as well as the petitioner's pet, service animal, emotional support animal, horse, or livestock; and

k. Ordering any other matters the Court deems necessary or appropriate.

3. On a showing of good cause, an order for protection, including an emergency order, issued under this Chapter may include other named immediate or extended family members, household members, or friends.

4. An order for protection issued against a respondent that is an entity or organization shall apply to all of the owners, members, partners, shareholders, officers, directors, employees, and agents of the entity or organization.

5. No order issued under this Chapter shall in any manner affect title to any real property.

6. The Court shall not grant a mutual order for protection to opposing parties.

7. Unless the order provides a lesser time, an order for protection issued upon notice and hearing is effective for one (1) year from the date of entry and no longer, provided that the petitioner may file a motion to renew a protection order on or after thirty (30) days before the expiration of the previous protection order.

8. The issuance of an order of protection under this Chapter or any relief authorized under this Chapter shall not preclude any other relief provided by the laws of the Tribe.

9. Unless the respondent has received actual notice of the existence and substance of the order through personal appearance in Court to hear the terms of the order from the Court, if a respondent is not served with an order for protection issued by the Court within sixty (60) days after the order for protection is issued, the Court, after notice to the petitioner, shall vacate the order and dismiss the action without prejudice against the respondent or order that service be made within a specified time. But, if the petitioner shows good cause for the failure, the Court shall extend the time for service for an appropriate period.

10. Unless otherwise provided in an order vacating, terminating, dismissing, or modifying an order for protection, an order vacating, terminating, dismissing, or modifying an order for protection shall have only prospective effect and shall not affect or implicate the validity of the order for protection prior to the entry or other effective date of the order vacating, terminating, dismissing, or modifying the order for protection.

11. An order for protection is a final order and subject to appeal in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing civil appeals.

Section 6-4-21. Restitution.

1. When the Court orders restitution in an order for protection, such order shall direct the respondent to pay the victim the full amount of the victim's losses, including:

a. Medical services relating to physical, psychiatric, or psychological care;

b. Veterinary services relating to physical care for the victim's pet, service animal, emotional support animal, horse, or livestock;

c. Physical and occupational therapy or rehabilitation;

d. Necessary transportation, temporary housing, and child care expenses;

e. Lost income;

f. Legal counsel's fees plus any costs incurred in obtaining an order for protection;

g. Any funds, assets, or property lost as a result of exploitation of the victim; and

h. Any other losses suffered by the victim as a result of the conduct which constituted grounds for issuing the order for protection.

2. In the event the Tribe has provided any services to a victim subject to restitution under this Section, the order of restitution shall provide that the respondent pay such amount to the Tribe regardless of whether the Tribe is or becomes a party to the proceeding. The Department shall be permitted to submit any documentation of costs to the Tribe on behalf of the victim resulting from the respondent's acts for purposes of restitution and the Court shall accept such documentation in calculating the amount of restitution due the Tribe without requiring the Tribe to become a party to the proceedings. The Tribe shall have the right to intervene in any proceeding under this Chapter for the purposes of seeking such restitution.

3. An order for restitution shall be enforceable in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action and may be enforced by the victim named in the order even if the victim is not the petitioner.

Section 6-4-22. Delivery of Order.

1. Upon issuance of an order for protection, including an emergency order, the Court shall transmit, by the end of the next business day after the order is issued, a copy of the order for protection to any and all appropriate law enforcement agencies or agencies designated by the petitioner.

2. The Court or any party in a proceeding under this Chapter may deliver an order for protection granted pursuant to this Chapter to any appropriate law enforcement agency at any time while the order is effective.

3. Each law enforcement agency which receives an order for protection issued by the Court under this Chapter shall have the authority to make such order and its contents available to other law enforcement officers for enforcement of such order.

4. If the Court vacates, dismisses, or modifies an order for protection, including an emergency order, the Court shall transmit the order vacating, dismissing, or modifying the order for protection to the same agencies and registries to which it transmitted the original order for protection.

Section 6-4-23. Effect of Action by Parties. If a respondent is excluded from the residence of a petitioner or ordered to stay away from the petitioner, an invitation by the petitioner to act contrary to the exclusion or order does not waive or nullify an order for protection.

Section 6-4-24. Court-Ordered Mediation Prohibited. The Court shall not order parties to a proceeding under this Chapter into mediation or traditional dispute resolution or refer them to mediation or traditional dispute resolution for resolution of the issues in a petition for an order for protection.

Section 6-4-25. Rights of Victims. A person's right to seek an order for protection under this Chapter shall not be affected by:

1. The departure of that person from the residence or household to avoid conduct which constitutes grounds for an order for protection under this Chapter;

2. The person's use of reasonable force in self-defense against the perpetrator of conduct which constitutes grounds for an order for protection under this Chapter;

3. Evidence that the person previously filed a petition under this Chapter or any similar law and subsequently reconciled with the perpetrator of conduct constituting grounds for an order for protection under this Chapter;

4. Solely a lapse of time between an act constituting grounds for an order for protection and the filing of a petition under this Chapter;

5. Evidence that a married victim did not file an action for divorce, legal separation, and/or invalidity of marriage; or

6. Evidence that the victim left the territory of the Tribe.

Section 6-4-26. Effect of Other Proceedings.

1. At any hearing in a proceeding under this Chapter, each party has a continuing duty to inform the Court of any civil or criminal action involving both parties filed within the previous five (5) years that was not listed in the petition.

2. An order for protection is in addition to and not in lieu of any other available civil or criminal proceedings.

3. A petitioner is not barred from seeking an order pursuant to this Chapter because of other pending proceedings.

4. Except as expressly provided in the laws of the Tribe, the Court shall not dismiss a proceeding under this Chapter or delay granting relief in such proceeding because of the existence of a pending action between the parties unless agreed to by all parties to the proceeding, including the victim.

Section 6-4-27. Modification of Order.

1. Any party to an order for protection issued under this Chapter or, if different, the person filing the petition in the proceeding in which such order was issued may, by motion in the same action in which the order for protection was issued, request the Court to modify, terminate, or vacate the order in accordance with this Section, including extending such order.

2. A motion made under this Section shall identify the person making the motion and shall set forth in clear and concise terms the reasons for modifying, terminating, or vacating the order for protection.

3. The Court shall hold a hearing on all motions filed under this Section upon notice given to the parties to the original proceeding.

4. The Court may modify, terminate, or vacate an order for protection pursuant to a motion made under this Section if the movant proves by a preponderance of the evidence that there are grounds for such modification, termination, or vacating.

5. If there has been no violation of the existing order for protection prior to the motion to modify or vacate, the Court shall take this fact as evidence of the effectiveness of the order for protection in assuring the safety of the petitioner. The Court shall not use the fact that there has been no violation of the order for protection to determine that no further need for the order for protection exists.

Section 6-4-28. Violation of Order.

1. Any person who knowingly, willfully, or purposely violates, or attempts or intends to knowingly, willfully, or purposely violate, an order for protection issued under this Chapter shall be subject to a civil fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500) for each such violation, provided that any subsequent violation of an order for protection by the same person within one (1) year shall result in a civil fine not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) for each such violation.

2. In addition to the civil fines provided herein, the Court may enforce an order for protection issued under this Chapter using any and all other enforcement remedies available to enforce an order of the Court.

Section 6-4-29. Foreign Protection Orders.

1. An order for protection made by the court of another federally recognized Indian tribe or state may be recognized and enforced in accordance with the provisions governing foreign protection orders in Chapter 8 of Title IV of this Code.

2. Any order for protection issued by a court of another jurisdiction that is not a federally recognized Indian tribe or state may be recognized and enforced in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing the recognition and enforcement of foreign orders generally.

CHAPTER 5 DECLARATORY RELIEF

Section 6-5-1. Power of Court.

1. The Court, in a civil cause of action and controversy within its jurisdiction, shall have the power to declare rights, status, and other legal relations whether or not further relief is or could be claimed.

2. No action or proceeding shall be open to objection on the ground that a declaratory judgment or decree is prayed for.

3. The declaration in a declaratory judgment or decree may be either affirmative or negative in form and effect and such declarations shall have the force and effect of a final judgment or decree.

4. Nothing in this Chapter shall be construed as creating a cause of action.

Section 6-5-2. Limitations. The Court shall not issue or grant a declaratory judgment:

1. When such judgment would be solely advisory or answer moot or abstract questions;

2. When there is no proper civil cause of action or actual controversy between the parties;

3. When the party seeking relief does not have a legally protectable interest; or

4. When the facts upon which such judgment would be based are hypothetical or contingent facts which may or may not arise in the future.

Section 6-5-3. Granting of Relief.

1. The Court may refuse to issue or enter a declaratory judgment or decree where such judgment or decree, if issued or entered, would not terminate the uncertainty or controversy giving rise to the proceeding.

2. The Court may grant further relief based on a declaratory judgment or decree whenever necessary or proper. The request for such further relief shall be by complaint or appropriate pleading. If the request is sufficient, the Court shall, on reasonable notice, require any adverse party whose rights have been adjudicated by the declaratory judgment or decree to show cause why further relief should not be granted.

3. Subject to the granting of further relief as provided in this Section, a declaratory judgment or decree may only be granted as a final judgment or decree in a civil cause of action conducted under and in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing civil causes of action.

4. All orders, judgments, and decrees issued pursuant to this Chapter may be reviewed as other orders, judgments, and decrees including, where available, by appeal in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing civil appeals.

Section 6-5-4. Parties. When declaratory relief is sought, all persons shall be made parties who have or claim any interest which would be affected by the declaration, and no declaration shall prejudice the rights of persons not parties to the proceeding.

CHAPTER 6
WRIT OF MANDAMUS

Section 6-6-1. Power of Court.

1. The Court, in a civil cause of action and controversy within its jurisdiction, may issue writs of mandamus, which may be alternative, peremptory, or continuing, in accordance with this Chapter.

2. Nothing in this Chapter shall be construed as creating a cause of action or conferring jurisdiction upon the Court.

Section 6-6-2. Limitations. A writ of mandamus may not be issued or granted:

1. Where there is or was an adequate remedy at law;
2. To provide monetary damages or retroactive relief;
3. When there is no proper civil cause of action or actual controversy between the parties;
4. Where it would control or dictate discretion committed by law to an officer or employee, inferior tribunal or court, business entity, or board or commission;
5. To review a decision or ruling of an inferior court or tribunal which can or could have been reviewed by appeal;
6. Directly against the Tribe or any of its branches, departments, agencies, boards, commissions, instrumentalities, or economic enterprises; or
7. Without a hearing.

Section 6-6-3. Grounds for Mandamus.

1. A writ of mandamus may be issued to any officer or employee of the Tribe, any inferior court or tribunal of the Tribe, any business entity, or board or commission to compel performance of an act if:

- a. Applicable law specially imposes a duty to perform the act requested on the officer, employee, inferior court or tribunal, business entity, or board or commission which is clear, plainly defined, imperative, nondiscretionary, and ministerial;

b. The party requesting the writ has a clear and undisputable legal right under the applicable law not possessed by members or the public generally to the performance of the duty imposed on the officer, employee, inferior court or tribunal, business entity, or board or commission;

c. The party requesting the writ only requests prospective relief and does not seek or request monetary damages or retroactive relief;

d. There is, and was in the past, no other remedy available; and

e. The Court finds that issuing the writ is otherwise appropriate under the circumstances.

2. The Court may issue a writ of mandamus to any inferior court or tribunal to review a decision or ruling of the inferior court or tribunal before a final order or judgment is issued if:

a. There is no other remedy available or the matter cannot be reviewed meaningfully on appeal from a final order or judgment;

b. The inferior court or tribunal is about to exceed its jurisdiction resulting in irreparable harm;

c. Action of the inferior court or tribunal may effectively decide the case; or

d. Review of the decision of the inferior court or tribunal will settle or establish a new rule of practice affecting other litigants.

Section 6-6-4. Form of Writ.

1. A writ of mandamus may be alternative, peremptory, or continuing.

2. In addition to any other matters necessary for an order of the Court, all writs of mandamus shall state the facts and law showing the obligation of the defendant to perform the act and his or her omission to perform it.

3. An alternative writ shall command the defendant to do the act required to be performed immediately upon receipt of the writ or at some other specified time or else show cause before the Court at a specified time and place why he or she has not done so.

4. A peremptory writ shall command the defendant to do the act required to be performed immediately upon receipt of the writ or at some other specified time and shall not require the defendant to show cause why he or she has not done as commanded. A peremptory writ may only be issued when the right to require the performance of the act is clear and it is apparent that no valid excuse for nonperformance can be given. The peremptory writ should not be issued if there is any doubt that a valid excuse may exist.

5. A continuing writ shall command the defendant to do the act required to be performed from the receipt of the writ or from some other specified time and continuing for an unspecified period of time or until performance is fully satisfied.

Section 6-6-5. Granting of Relief.

1. Upon the filing of a complaint requesting a writ of mandamus, the Court shall review the complaint and if it finds the complaint insufficient to justify relief under this Chapter, may deny it without an answer.

2. If the Court determines that the complaint is sufficient to justify relief under this Chapter, a summons shall be issued to and served on the defendant in accordance with the general rules governing the issuance of summons by the Court.

3. Subject to the Court permitting an expedited proceeding in accordance with this Chapter, the defendant shall be permitted to file an answer to the complaint in accordance with the rules of procedure of the Court.

4. If the defendant fails to respond or file an answer, the Court may issue a writ of mandamus against the defendant, provided that no writ of mandamus shall be granted by default and the action shall be heard by the Court even if the defendant does not appear.

5. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, proceedings for a writ of mandamus shall be heard by the Court in the same manner as other civil actions.

6. A writ of mandamus may only be granted as a final judgment or decree in a civil cause of action conducted under and in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing civil causes of action.

7. A writ of mandamus, unless issued by the Court of Appeals, shall be a final order and subject to appeal in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing civil appeals.

Section 6-6-6. Expedited Proceedings.

1. On motion of any party, on written agreement of the parties, or on its own initiative, the Court may order that any proceeding for a writ of mandamus be expedited with respect to some or all procedural steps if the Court finds there is good cause to expedite and a failure to expedite is likely to result in irreparable harm to a party.

2. Any party filing a motion under this Section shall:

a. Describe the circumstances justifying expediting the proceedings;

b. Describe the irreparable harm that would result if the motion is not granted; and

c. Submit affidavits to support any representations of fact with the motion.

Section 6-6-7. Review of Continuing Mandamus.

1. If the Court grants the privilege of the writ of continuing mandamus, the Court may require the defendant to submit periodic reports detailing the progress and execution of the judgment, and the Court may evaluate and monitor compliance through review hearings conducted after issuance of the writ. The plaintiff may submit its comments or observations on the execution of the judgment and appear at any hearing to evaluate and monitor compliance.

2. On motion of any party, on written agreement of the parties, or on its own initiative, the Court may order the entry of satisfaction of judgment in accordance with the rules of procedure of the Court if the performance required by the continuing writ of mandamus has been satisfied.

3. The Court shall not require periodic reports under this Section for a writ of continuing mandamus which requires performance for an unspecified period of time.

1. The Court, in a civil cause of action and controversy within its jurisdiction, may issue writs of prohibition, which may be alternative or peremptory, in accordance with this Chapter.

Section 6-7-2. Limitations. A writ of prohibition may not be issued or granted:

1. Where there is or was an adequate remedy at law;
2. To provide monetary damages or retroactive relief;

5. To review or challenge a decision or ruling of an inferior court or tribunal which can or could have been reviewed by appeal;
6. Directly against the Tribe or any of its branches, departments, agencies, boards, commissions, instrumentalities, or economic enterprises; or Section 6-7-3. Grounds for Prohibition. A writ of prohibition may be issued to any officer or employee of the Tribe, any inferior court or tribunal of the Tribe, or any business entity, or board or commission exercising judicial or quasi-judicial functions to halt proceedings before such officer, employee, inferior court or tribunal, business entity, or board or commission if:

1. The officer, employee, inferior court or tribunal, business entity, or board or commission is about to exceed its jurisdiction or legitimate power and authority under the law;

2. The party requesting the writ only requests prospective relief and does not seek or request monetary damages or retroactive relief;

4. The Court finds that issuing the writ is otherwise appropriate under the circumstances.

Section 6-7-4. Form of Writ.

1. A writ of prohibition may be alternative or peremptory.

2. In addition to any other matters necessary for an order of the Court, all writs of prohibition shall state the facts and law showing the lack of jurisdiction or authority of the defendant.

3. An alternative writ shall command the defendant to desist or refrain from further proceedings in the action or matter specified in the writ immediately upon receipt of the writ or at some other specified time or else show cause before the Court at a specified time and place why he or she has not done so.

4. A peremptory writ shall command the defendant to desist or refrain from further proceedings in the action or matter specified in the writ immediately upon receipt of the writ or at some other specified time and shall not require the defendant to show cause why he or she has not done as commanded. A peremptory writ may only be issued when the lack of jurisdiction or power and authority is clear and it is apparent that no valid excuse for continuing the proceedings can be given. The peremptory writ should not be issued if there is any doubt that a valid excuse may exist.

Section 6-7-5. Granting of Relief.

1. Upon the filing of a complaint requesting a writ of prohibition, the Court shall review the complaint and if it finds the complaint insufficient to justify relief under this Chapter, may deny it without an answer.

2. If the Court determines that the complaint is sufficient to justify relief under this Chapter, a summons shall be issued and served in accordance with the general rules governing the issuance of summons by the Court to the defendant.

3. Subject to the Court permitting an expedited proceeding in accordance with this Chapter, the defendant shall be permitted to file an answer to the complaint in accordance with the rules of procedure of the Court.

4. If the defendant fails to respond or file an answer, the Court may issue a writ of prohibition against the defendant, provided that no writ of prohibition shall be granted by default and the action shall be heard by the Court even if the defendant does not appear.

5. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, proceedings for a writ of prohibition shall be heard by the Court in the same manner as other civil actions.

6. A writ of prohibition may only be granted as a final judgment or decree in a civil cause of action conducted under and in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing civil causes of action.

7. A writ of prohibition, unless issued by the Court of Appeals, shall be a final order and subject to appeal in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing civil appeals.

Section 6-7-6. Expedited Proceedings.

1. On motion of any party, on written agreement of the parties, or on its own initiative, the Court may order that any proceeding for a writ of prohibition be expedited with respect to some or all procedural steps if the Court finds there is good cause to expedite and a failure to expedite is likely to result in irreparable harm to a party.

2. Any party filing a motion under this Section shall:

a. Describe the circumstances justifying expediting the proceedings;

b. Describe the irreparable harm that would result if the motion is not granted; and

c. Submit affidavits to support any representations of fact with the motion.

CHAPTER 8

1. The Trial Court or Court of Appeals, on the motion of a party to pending litigation or on its own motion, may certify a question of law to the highest court of another jurisdiction if:

a. The pending litigation involves a question to be decided under the law of the other jurisdiction;

b. The answer to the question may be determinative of an issue in the pending litigation; and

c. The question is one for which an answer is not provided by a controlling law of the other jurisdiction.

2. The Court of Appeals may answer a question of law certified to it by a court of another jurisdiction if the answer may be determinative of an issue in pending litigation in the certifying court and there is no controlling law of the Tribe.

3. The Court of Appeals may reformulate a question of law certified to it.

Section 6-8-2. Certification Order.

1. The court certifying a question of law to the Court of Appeals shall issue a certification order and forward it to the Tribal Court Administrator. the Tribe is alleged to be unconstitutional or invalid under the Indian Civil Rights Act or other law, the Tribe and the Tribal Attorney shall each be served with a copy of the pleading, motion, or document containing the allegation at the same time the other parties in the action are served and shall be entitled to be heard.

Section 6-9-2. Notice With Service. If a pleading, motion, or document containing an allegation of unconstitutionality or invalidity is served on the Tribe and the Tribal Attorney pursuant to this Chapter, a notice of claim of unconstitutionality shall be attached to the pleading, motion, or document as the cover page and shall include the following:

Section 6-9-3. Failure to Serve. If the Tribe and the Tribal Attorney are not served in a timely manner with notice pursuant to this Chapter, on motion by the Tribe, the Court shall vacate any finding of unconstitutionality or invalidity and shall give the Tribe a reasonable opportunity to prepare and be heard.

Section 6-9-4. Tribe as Party. This Chapter shall not be construed to compel the Tribe to intervene as a party in any proceeding or to permit the Tribe to be named as a party in a proceeding. The Tribe may intervene as a party, may file briefs in the matter, or may choose not to participate in a proceeding that is subject to the notice requirements of this Chapter.

2. Unless the law establishing or governing the civil fine provides otherwise, a complaint to impose, enforce, or collect a civil fine may only be filed by the Tribal Attorney on behalf of the Tribe.

3. If the law establishing or governing the civil fine provides that a private party may bring an action to enforce or collect the civil fine, such private party may file a complaint to impose, enforce, or collect such civil fine in the name of the Tribe and shall caption the cause of action as "Ponca Tribe of Nebraska ex rel. (name(s) of private party(s)) vs. (name(s) of violator(s)), Defendant(s)".

4. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section, on its own initiative, the Court may impose a civil fine in accordance with the law establishing or governing the civil fine against any party to a proceeding before the Court.

Section 6-10-3. Judgment of Civil Fine.

1. The Court shall impose a civil fine on a violator in accordance with the law establishing or governing the civil fine if a preponderance of the evidence demonstrates that the violator has violated the law establishing or governing the civil fine.

2. Subject to the maximum fine set forth in the law establishing or governing the civil fine, the Court shall consider the following factors in determining the amount of the civil fine:

- a. The gravity of the violation;
- b. Any actions taken by the violator to correct the violation; and

c. Any previous violations committed by the violator.

3. Any violation of a law establishing or governing a civil fine and any civil fine imposed by the Court shall be set forth in a formal judgment of the Court and shall be enforceable the same as any other judgment of the Court.

Section 6-10-4. Effect of Civil Fine. For purposes of appointment to any Tribal office, agency, board, commission, or committee, a finding of a violation of a law establishing or governing a civil fine shall constitute the commission of:

2. This Chapter shall not apply to civil fines imposed by departments, agencies, boards, and commissions of the Tribe where the laws of the Tribe permit such department, agency, board, or commission to impose a civil fine, provided that this Chapter shall be available to any such department, agency, board, or commission to enforce or collect a civil fine imposed by such department, agency, board, or commission.

3. The provisions of this Chapter shall not be construed to limit the power of the Tribe to proceed in any other civil or criminal proceeding or in any other forum or manner to obtain enforcement of the laws of the Tribe, including laws of the Tribe providing for the imposition of civil fines.

CHAPTER 11

c. An agreement or provision in an agreement providing for indemnification of the Tribe by another party which is not otherwise a contract for insurance.

3. "Insurer" means a person or entity whom the Tribe has engaged by contract in the form of an insurance policy.

Section 6-11-3. Applicability and Exclusivity.

1. This Chapter does not apply to:

a. Claims or reviews of claims involving a health care plan or program; or

b. Claims or reviews of claims where applicable law provides another remedy or procedure for the particular claim.

2. Except for claims set forth in subsection 1 of this Section:

a. The remedy and procedures provided in this Chapter are exclusive of any other civil action or proceeding for money damages against the Tribe where the Tribe is covered by an insurance policy; and

b. Any other civil action or proceeding for money damages against the Tribe where the Tribe is covered by an insurance policy is precluded without regard to when or where the act or omission occurred.

Section 6-11-4. Invalidity of Contract Provisions.

1. No term, clause, provision, or endorsement of any contract, insurance policy, or self-insurance program shall prevent or hinder the Court's authority and jurisdiction under this Chapter.

2. Any term, clause, provision, or endorsement of a contract, insurance policy, or self-insurance program which conflicts with or purports to alter any of the provisions of this Chapter shall be void and unenforceable and severed from the contract, insurance policy, or self-insurance program.

Section 6-11-5. Payment of Claim as Bar. The payment of any claim by an insurer and acceptance thereof by the claimant shall constitute a complete bar to any action by the claimant, by reason of the same occurrence or subject matter, against the insurer or the Tribe and shall require dismissal of any action commenced prior to or subsequent to such payment and acceptance.

Section 6-11-6. Subject Matter Jurisdiction.

1. The Court shall have original and exclusive subject matter jurisdiction over all matters arising under this Chapter.

2. In any matter arising under this Chapter, if a prior action on the same matter has been or was commenced in the court of another jurisdiction involving the same claim, cause of action, or occurrence:

a. The Court shall assert original subject matter jurisdiction under this Chapter, but shall require the prior action to be dismissed prior to proceeding with the claim under this Chapter;

b. The filing of the prior action shall not toll any limitations period or other time limit applicable to the claim or cause of action; and

c. The cause of action shall not be deemed commenced under this Chapter unless and until the prior proceeding is dismissed, including for purposes of any time limit or limitations period.

Section 6-11-7. Personal Jurisdiction. The Court shall have personal jurisdiction over any insurer for a claim brought in accordance with this Chapter. Notwithstanding any provision of law or the applicable insurance policy to the contrary, an insurer shall be deemed to have consented to the personal jurisdiction of the Court for matters related to such insurance policy by accepting payments from the Tribe for the insurance policy.

Section 6-11-8. Initiation of Proceedings.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, a claimant may seek review of an insurer's denial of a claim in the Court by filing a complaint in the manner provided for civil causes of action in the Rules of Civil Procedure.

2. In addition to any other requirements of the laws of the Tribe, a complaint seeking review of an insurer's denial of a claim shall:

Section 6-11-9. Proper Parties.

1. Relief may be sought only against the insurer in any action under this Chapter. The Tribe shall not be named or considered a necessary or indispensable party to any claim or cause of action under this Chapter.

2. In the event a claimant names or otherwise purports to join the Tribe to a claim or cause of action under this Chapter without the Tribe's express and unequivocal consent, the Court shall, upon the Court's own motion or the motion of the Tribe, prior to any other proceedings in the matter, including discovery:

a. Dismiss the Tribe from the action and complaint; and

b. If necessary, substitute the insurer for the Tribe as the proper party.

3. A cause of action shall not be deemed filed under this Chapter for any purpose, including the periods of time in which an answer, reply, or other pleading or response of any kind is required or discovery may be sought, until the insurer has been properly named as a party and served in accordance with the Rules of Civil Procedure.

Section 6-11-10. Summons and Service of Process. The summons shall be issued by the Court to and served, with a copy of the complaint, upon the insurer in accordance with the Rules of Civil Procedure governing the issuance of summons and service of process.

Section 6-11-11. Stay Pending Insurer Review.

1. If a claim subject to a complaint filed under this Chapter has not been presented to the insurer for review or action:

a. The proceedings shall be stayed for fifteen (15) days to permit the claimant to present his or her claim to the insurer;

b. Upon presentation of the claim to the insurer, the claimant shall file notice with the Court and the Court shall extend the stay for at least thirty (30) days to permit the insurer to make a determination of the claim; and

c. If the claimant fails to present his or her claim to the insurer by the expiration of the stay, the Court shall dismiss the complaint with prejudice unless the claimant shows good cause for the failure.

2. If a claim subject to a complaint filed under this Chapter has been presented to the insurer for review or action, but the insurer has not denied or otherwise responded to or determined the claim:

a. The proceedings shall be stayed for at least thirty (30) days to permit the insurer to make a determination of the claim; and

b. Upon determination of the claim, the insurer shall file its determination with the Court and the Court shall lift the stay.

3. If an insurer fails to make a determination on a claim by the expiration of any stay made under this Section for such purpose, the Court shall treat the failure as a denial of the claim and lift the stay, unless the insurer shows good cause for the failure or the parties agree to extend the stay.

4. During a stay under this Section, nothing limits or prevents:

a. The parties from agreeing to a separate stay or extension of the stay in order to negotiate a settlement or otherwise resolve the claim or other issues raised in the complaint;

b. The claimant from voluntarily dismissing the complaint in accordance with the Rules of Civil Procedure;

c. The insurer paying the claim and the claimant accepting such payment; or

d. The parties from entering into a settlement agreement or otherwise resolving the claim and agreeing to dismissal of the complaint.

Section 6-11-12. Proceedings on Complaint.

1. Except as modified by this Chapter, the Court shall hear a review of an insurer's denial of a claim as it hears other civil matters.

2. Except where provided otherwise in this Chapter, the laws of the Tribe, including the Rules of Civil Procedure, governing the conduct of Court proceedings shall apply to any review of an insurer's denial of a claim under this Chapter, provided that the provisions of the Rules of Civil Procedure applicable to the Tribe in any civil cause of action governing the awarding of costs, stays, and periods of time shall apply and be available to the insurer in an action brought under this Chapter.

3. Any matter or information relevant and material to the subject matter of the proceeding is admissible and may be received in evidence. Hearsay evidence will not be excluded as long as it is reasonably reliable.

Section 6-11-13. Obtaining Evidence. In any proceeding under this Chapter, by order upon motion and showing of sufficient relevancy and admissibility, and subject to applicable laws related to privilege and confidentiality, the Court may:

1. Require the appearance and testimony of any official, officer, agent, or employee of the Tribe with personal and first-hand knowledge necessary to the proper resolution of the claim; and

2. Require any official, officer, agent, or employee of the Tribe to deliver to the Court documentary or physical evidence necessary to the proper resolution of the claim, provided that any such documentary or physical evidence shall be kept under seal and not made available to the public and shall be returned to the Tribe upon termination of the proceedings before the Court.

Section 6-11-14. Defenses of Insurance Carrier.

1. In any action or proceeding under this Chapter, an insurer may assert any defense that would be available to the Tribe if the Tribe were the defendant in the action or proceeding, except that an insurer shall not be permitted to assert:

a. The Tribe's sovereign immunity with respect to any claim, judgment, damages, or other relief within the terms, coverage, or limits of the applicable insurance policy;

b. Any lack of personal jurisdiction of the Court over the Tribe; or

c. Any lack of subject matter jurisdiction of the Court over an action or proceeding involving the Tribe.

2. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Title, an insurer shall have the right and authority to waive any and all defenses available to it under this Chapter or other law of the Tribe, provided any such waiver shall not extend to the Tribe directly.

Section 6-11-15. Decision of Court.

1. After hearing a review of an insurer's denial of a claim, the Court may determine all issues properly before it, including fault, and enter judgment as it enters judgment in other civil proceedings, subject to the following:

a. The Court may award damages, enter judgment, or grant other relief only against or in favor of the insurer and/or the claimant;

b. The Court shall not have jurisdiction over the Tribe or any cause of action brought against the Tribe or to award damages, enter judgment, or grant any other relief against the Tribe, regardless of any fault or conduct of the Tribe;

c. The Court shall not have jurisdiction to award damages, enter judgment, or grant other relief for events, occurrences, acts, or omissions not covered by the applicable insurance policy;

d. The Court shall not have jurisdiction to award any damages or other monies in an amount in excess of the amounts of coverage in the applicable insurance policy; and

e. Any award of damages, judgment, or other relief granted a claimant shall be enforceable only against the insurer and only for events, occurrences, acts, and omissions, and in such amounts, established by the applicable insurance policy.

2. Nothing in this Section shall limit or prohibit the Court from construing the insurance policy as necessary to properly resolve the proceedings.

Section 6-11-16. Limitations of Actions.

1. An action brought under this Chapter must be commenced within the limitations period applicable to the underlying cause of action as if the Tribe were a party.

2. For purposes of determining whether a cause of action under this Chapter has been timely filed:

a. The cause of action shall not be deemed to have been commenced unless and until any prior proceeding not brought under this Chapter in any jurisdiction, including the Court, is dismissed or, for an action in the Court, the complaint amended to comply with this Chapter;

b. The cause of action shall not be deemed to have been commenced unless and until the insurer has been joined as a party and, if named, the Tribe dismissed as a party; and

c. The failure to properly name the insurer or bring the cause of action under, pursuant to, and in accordance with this Chapter shall not toll any period of limitations.

3. If no complaint is filed under this Chapter within the time allowed, any decision or determination of the insurer is final and not subject to any challenge or appeal in any court, provided that the insurer may, in its sole discretion, pay a claim notwithstanding the expiration of any limitations period applicable to the claim.

or

e. The subject matter of the dispute resolution agreement, contract, or dispute is otherwise closely connected to the jurisdiction agreed upon.

3. A choice of law in a dispute resolution agreement subject to this Chapter or a contract subject to or containing a dispute resolution agreement which is otherwise valid and enforceable is subject to the following:

a. If such law is not the laws of the Tribe exclusive of choice of law principles, language such as "governed by," "subject to," or similar import shall mean solely for construction and interpretation of the dispute resolution agreement or the contract and shall not include enforcement, jurisdiction, or authority;

b. If such law is not the laws of the Tribe exclusive of choice of law principles, such law will be limited to the use of the substantive law of the jurisdiction specified solely as a reference for the purpose of construction and interpretation and shall not in any manner constitute or be construed as:

i. A consent or agreement to the jurisdiction, authority, or applicability of such law to any party;

ii. Authorization for the enforcement of any such law against any party or the exercise of any regulatory authority over any party;

iii. An agreement to enforcement of the dispute resolution agreement, including compelling dispute resolution and enforcement of any award, pursuant to such law or in the jurisdiction whose law is specified, unless expressly and unequivocally stated otherwise; or

iv. An agreement to submit any dispute or other matter to the courts or other tribunals of the jurisdiction whose law is specified;

c. Any such law which conflicts with this Chapter shall not be applied or used and the provisions of this Chapter shall govern, apply, and be used;

d. If the use or application of any principle, portion, or provision of such law would result in a party being in violation of or acting contrary to the laws of the Tribe otherwise applicable to the party, such principle, portion, or provision of such law shall not be applied or used; and

e. Any other limitations or requirements in the laws of the Tribe regarding choice of law in a contract.

4. If a choice of law in a dispute resolution agreement or a contract subject to or containing a dispute resolution agreement is not valid and enforceable, the dispute resolution agreement or the contract shall be deemed to not specify any law to be utilized for its construction and interpretation or enforcement.

5. If a dispute resolution agreement or a contract subject to or containing a dispute resolution agreement does not specify the law to be utilized for the construction and interpretation of the dispute resolution agreement, the dispute resolution agreement shall be construed and interpreted in accordance with the following:

a. If the contract specifies the substantive law governing it or its interpretation and construction, such specified law shall be utilized for the construction and interpretation of the dispute resolution agreement, subject to the limitations in this Section or elsewhere in the laws of the Tribe;

b. If the contract does not specify any substantive law governing it or its interpretation and construction, the dispute resolution agreement shall be governed by and interpreted and construed exclusively in accordance with the laws of the Tribe, including this Chapter and exclusive of any choice of law principles, regardless of:

i. The location where the dispute resolution is or may be held; or

ii. Any designation of a court or tribunal for disputes or the enforcement of the dispute resolution agreement or the contract.

6. If a dispute resolution agreement or a contract subject to or containing a dispute resolution agreement does not specify the law governing or to be utilized for enforcement of the dispute resolution agreement, including compelling dispute resolution and confirming or enforcing any award, this Chapter shall exclusively govern enforcement of the dispute resolution agreement, including compelling dispute resolution and confirming and enforcing any award, regardless of:

a. Whether the dispute resolution agreement or the contract specifies the law governing or to be utilized for the dispute resolution agreement or the contract, including the law governing or to be utilized for either of their interpretation or construction;

b. The location where the dispute resolution is or may be held; or

c. Any designation of a court or tribunal for disputes or the enforcement of the dispute resolution agreement, contract, or an award.

7. In any proceeding where a dispute resolution agreement or a contract subject to or containing a dispute resolution agreement is subject to interpretation and construction or enforcement in accordance with the law of another jurisdiction as provided in this Section, the Court shall apply the substantive law of the other jurisdiction in accordance with this Section, but the proceedings will otherwise be governed by the rules of procedure for the Court.

Section 6-12-12. Choice of Tribunal.

1. The parties to a dispute resolution agreement or a contract subject to or containing a dispute resolution agreement may agree upon the jurisdiction, court, or other tribunal which will hear any dispute or enforcement action relating to the dispute resolution agreement.

2. If a dispute resolution agreement or a contract subject to or containing a dispute resolution agreement does not specify the jurisdiction, court, or other tribunal which will hear any dispute or enforcement action relating to the dispute resolution agreement, the Court shall have exclusive jurisdiction to hear any dispute or any enforcement action, including compelling dispute resolution and confirming or enforcing any award, regardless of:

a. Whether the dispute resolution agreement or the contract specifies the law governing or to be utilized for the dispute resolution agreement or the contract, including the law governing or to be utilized for either of their interpretation or construction or for enforcement; or

b. The location where the dispute resolution is or may be held.

Section 6-12-13. Breach of Dispute Resolution Agreement.

1. If a party is in material breach of a dispute resolution agreement or otherwise in default of the dispute resolution, the party waives the party's right to compel dispute resolution under the dispute resolution agreement.

2. If a dispute resolution agreement requires, either expressly or through application of any law of any jurisdiction or any rule of the dispute resolution provider organization, a particular party to pay certain fees and costs before the dispute resolution can proceed, if the fees or costs to initiate dispute resolution are not paid within thirty (30) days after the due date, the party is in material breach of the dispute resolution agreement and in default of the dispute resolution.

3. If a party materially breaches the dispute resolution agreement or is in default under the dispute resolution, the other party may do any of the following:

a. Properly refuse to negotiate, mediate, or arbitrate the dispute, or withdraw the dispute from an existing dispute resolution, and proceed in a court of appropriate jurisdiction with the statute of limitations governing any dispute brought in dispute resolution tolled as of the date of the first filing of the dispute in dispute resolution; or

b. Compel dispute resolution with the breaching or defaulting party required to pay all reasonable attorney's fees and costs related to the dispute resolution and compelling thereof.

Section 6-12-14. Appointment of Mediator or Arbitrator.

1. If a dispute resolution agreement provides a method of appointing a mediator or arbitrator, that method shall be followed.

2. If a dispute resolution agreement does not provide a method for appointing a mediator or arbitrator, the parties to the dispute resolution agreement who are to participate in the dispute resolution may agree on a method of appointing a mediator or arbitrator and that method shall be followed.

3. In the absence of an agreed method for appointing a mediator or arbitrator, if the agreed method fails or for any reason cannot be followed, or if a mediator or arbitrator appointed fails to act and a successor has not been appointed, any party to the dispute resolution agreement who is to participate in the dispute resolution may file a complaint for appointment of a mediator or arbitrator and the Court shall appoint a mediator or arbitrator as provided in this Section.

4. When the Court will appoint a mediator or arbitrator under this Chapter, the Court shall nominate five (5) persons from lists of persons supplied jointly by the parties to the dispute resolution or obtained from a governmental department, agency, or branch or from a disinterested dispute resolution provider organization. The parties who will participate in the dispute resolution may within five (5) days of receipt of notice of the nominees from the Court jointly select the mediator or arbitrator whether or not the mediator or arbitrator is among the nominees. If the parties fail to select a mediator or arbitrator within the five (5) day period, the Court shall appoint the mediator or arbitrator from the nominees.

5. A party shall have the right to disqualify one court-appointed mediator or arbitrator without cause in any single mediation or arbitration, and may petition the Court to disqualify a subsequent appointee only upon a showing of cause.

Section 6-12-15. Conduct of Mediators and Arbitrators.

1. A person serving as a mediator or arbitrator pursuant to a dispute resolution agreement shall conform their conduct to such rules or code of conduct adopted by or designated by the Law and Justice Committee of the Tribe. In the absence of such rules or code of conduct, a person serving as a mediator or arbitrator pursuant to a dispute resolution agreement shall conform their conduct to the same rules or code of conduct governing judges of the Court.

2. In any dispute resolution pursuant to a dispute resolution agreement subject to this Chapter, within ten (10) calendar days of service of notice of a proposed nomination or appointment, a proposed mediator or arbitrator shall disclose, by written declaration under penalty of perjury, all matters that could cause a person aware of the facts to reasonably entertain a doubt that the proposed mediator or arbitrator would be able to be impartial, including all of the following:

a. The existence of any ground specified in the laws of the Tribe for disqualification of a judge;

b. Any financial or personal interest in the outcome of the dispute resolution;

c. Whether or not the proposed mediator or arbitrator has a current arrangement concerning prospective employment or other compensated service as a dispute resolution neutral or is participating in, or, within the last two (2) years, has participated in, discussions regarding such prospective employment or service with a party to the proceeding;

d. The names of the parties to all prior or pending cases in which the proposed mediator or arbitrator served or is serving as a mediator or arbitrator for any party to the dispute resolution or for legal counsel for a party and the results of each case mediated or arbitrated to conclusion, including the date of the award, identification of the prevailing party, the names of the parties' attorneys and the amount of monetary damages awarded, if any; and

e. Any existing or past relationship the proposed mediator or arbitrator or his or her immediate family has or has had with any party to the dispute resolution agreement or dispute resolution, their legal counsel or representatives, or any witness.

3. A mediator or arbitrator has a continuing obligation to disclose the information required in this Section and any facts which a reasonable person would consider likely to affect the impartiality of the arbitrator to all parties to the dispute resolution agreement and dispute resolution that the mediator or arbitrator learns after accepting appointment.

4. An appointed mediator or arbitrator who does not disclose information required by this Section, any other known, direct, and material interest in the outcome of the dispute resolution, or a known, existing, and substantial relationship with a party is presumed to act with evident partiality and bias.

5. A proposed mediator or arbitrator shall be disqualified if he or she fails to comply with the disclosure requirements of this Section and any party entitled to receive the disclosure serves a notice of disqualification within fifteen (15) calendar days after the proposed mediator or arbitrator fails to comply.

6. A proposed mediator or arbitrator shall be disqualified on the basis of the disclosure statement required under this Section after any party entitled to receive the disclosure serves a notice of disqualification within fifteen (15) calendar days after service of the disclosure statement.

7. If any ground specified for disqualification of a judge under the laws of the Tribe exists, a mediator or arbitrator shall disqualify himself or herself upon the demand of any party made before the conclusion of the dispute resolution.

8. Before a dispute arises that is subject to a dispute resolution agreement, a party to the agreement may not waive any provision of this Section.

Section 6-12-16. Negotiation and Mediation Privilege.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a statement, whether oral, in writing, verbal, or nonverbal, made during a negotiation or mediation or for purposes of negotiation or mediation is confidential, privileged, and not subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any proceeding unless waived.

2. The privilege under this Section may be claimed, and a statement prevented from disclosure, as follows:

a. A party to the negotiation or mediation may refuse to disclose, and may prevent any other person from disclosing, a privileged statement of anyone;

b. A mediator may refuse to disclose a privileged statement by anyone and may prevent any other person from disclosing a privileged statement of the mediator;

c. Another participant in the negotiation or mediation may refuse to disclose, and may prevent any other person from disclosing, a privileged statement of the participant.

3. A privilege under this Section may be waived in writing or orally during a proceeding if it is expressly waived by all parties to the negotiation or mediation and:

a. In the case of the privilege of a mediator, expressly waived by the mediator; and

b. In the case of the privilege of a participant in the negotiation or mediation who is not a party, expressly waived by the participant.

4. The privilege in this Section does not apply to a statement that is:

a. In a written agreement signed by all parties to the agreement, including a dispute resolution agreement;

b. In a written award signed by all the parties to be bound thereby;

c. Made during a session of a negotiation or mediation which is open, or is required by law to be open, to the public;

d. A threat or statement of a plan to inflict bodily injury or commit a crime of violence;

e. Intentionally used to plan, commit, attempt to commit, or conceal a crime, criminal activity, or violation of law punishable by civil fine;

f. Offered or used in a court proceeding related to or involving the negotiation or mediation, provided that the court takes all necessary actions to protect the privileged statement from disclosure to third parties not entitled to the statement;

g. Sought or offered to prove or disprove a claim or complaint of professional misconduct or malpractice filed against a mediator, negotiation or mediation party, other participant in the negotiation or mediation, or representative of a party based on conduct occurring during a negotiation or mediation;

h. Sought or offered to prove or disprove a claim or complaint of validity or invalidity of a mediation award based on the partiality, bias, corruption, or misconduct of the mediator; or

i. Sought or offered to prove or disprove abuse, neglect, abandonment, or exploitation.

5. If a statement is not privileged under this Section, only the portion of the communication necessary for the application of the exception from nondisclosure may be admitted.

6. The privilege provided in this Section does not relieve a person from any duty imposed pursuant to applicable law requiring reporting of abuse, neglect, abandonment, or exploitation.

7. Before a dispute arises that is subject to a dispute resolution agreement, a party to the agreement may not waive any provision of this Section.

Section 6-12-17. Authority of Arbitrator.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, an arbitrator shall have only the power and authority granted by the parties in the arbitration agreement.

2. Notwithstanding the terms of any dispute resolution agreement, the terms of any contract subject to or containing a dispute resolution agreement, any rule of a dispute resolution provider organization, or any other provision of any law of any jurisdiction, an arbitrator may certify a question of law to the Court as provided in this Title the same as any court of another jurisdiction, including questions regarding the applicability, interpretation, and construction of this Chapter.

3. Subject to any limitations in this Chapter or the arbitration agreement, an arbitrator may issue such orders for provisional remedies, including interim awards, as the arbitrator finds necessary to protect the effectiveness of the arbitration proceeding and to promote the fair and expeditious resolution of the dispute, to the same extent and under the same conditions as if the dispute were the subject of a civil action, provided that a party to an arbitration proceeding may move the Court for a provisional remedy if the matter is urgent and the arbitrator is not able to act timely or the arbitrator cannot provide an adequate remedy.

4. Notwithstanding the terms of any dispute resolution agreement, the terms of any contract subject to or containing a dispute resolution agreement, any rule of a dispute resolution provider organization, or any other provision of any law of any jurisdiction, no arbitrator has the power or authority to:

a. Declare any law of the Tribe unconstitutional or unenforceable;

b. Determine whether an arbitration agreement is subject to this Chapter;

c. Determine the validity or enforceability of an arbitration agreement subject to this Chapter; or

d. Hear, determine, make or issue an award upon, or in any manner conduct an arbitration related to any dispute not subject to arbitration or other dispute resolution under this Chapter or the terms of the arbitration agreement.

Section 6-12-18. Conduct of Arbitration.

1. Unless the arbitration agreement provides otherwise or the parties to the arbitration otherwise provide by separate written agreement:

a. An arbitration shall be by a single neutral arbitrator;

b. If there is more than one arbitrator:

i. The powers and duties of the arbitrators may be exercised by a majority of the arbitrators; or

ii. By unanimous agreement of the arbitrators, the powers and duties of the arbitrators may be delegated to one of them, provided the power to make or correct the arbitration award may not be so delegated;

c. An arbitrator may permit such discovery as the arbitrator decides is appropriate in the circumstances, taking into account the needs of the parties to the arbitration and other affected persons and the desirability of making the proceeding fair, expeditious, and cost effective;

d. If an arbitrator permits discovery as provided in this subsection, the arbitrator may order a party to the arbitration to comply with the arbitrator's discovery-related orders and take action against a noncomplying party to the extent the Court could under the Tribal Rules of Civil Procedure;

e. The arbitrator shall appoint a time and place for the hearing on the merits and cause notice thereof to be served in the same manner as service of a summons under the Tribal Rules of Civil Procedure on the parties to the arbitration not less than sixty (60) days before the hearing, provided that appearance at an arbitration hearing waives any right to notice;

f. Each party shall within fifteen (15) days of receipt of notice of a hearing on the merits have the right to demand in writing that the other party provide a list of witnesses it intends to call, designating which witnesses will be called as expert witnesses, and a list of documents it intends to introduce at the hearing, with a copy of such demand and all such lists served on the arbitrator and all listed documents made available for inspection and copying at reasonable times prior to the hearing;

g. An arbitrator may conduct an arbitration in such manner as the arbitrator considers appropriate for a fair and expeditious disposition of the proceeding;

h. An arbitrator may hold conferences with the parties to the arbitration before the hearing;

i. The arbitrator may adjourn a hearing from time to time as necessary;

j. On request of a party to the arbitration for good cause, or upon the arbitrator's own determination, the arbitrator may postpone the hearing to a time not later than the date fixed for making the arbitration award or to a later date if the parties to the arbitration consent;

k. The arbitrator shall preside at the hearing, rule on the admission and exclusion of evidence and on questions of hearing procedure, and exercise all powers relating to the conduct of the hearing;

l. Rules of evidence and rules of judicial procedure need not be observed;

m. On request of any party to the arbitration, the testimony of witnesses shall be given under oath;

n. Upon request of a party to or a witness in an arbitration, an arbitrator may permit a deposition of any witness to be taken for use as evidence at the hearing, including a witness who cannot be summoned for or is unable to attend a hearing, provided the arbitrator shall determine the conditions under which the deposition is taken;

o. An arbitrator may decide a request for summary disposition of a dispute or particular issue:

i. If all interested parties agree; or

ii. Upon request of one party to the arbitration if that party gives notice to all other parties to the arbitration and the other parties have a reasonable opportunity to respond; and

p. If an arbitrator intends to base an arbitration award upon information not obtained at the hearing, the arbitrator shall disclose the information to all parties to the arbitration and give the parties an opportunity to respond to it and present evidence on the information.

2. The parties to an arbitration are entitled to be heard, present evidence, and cross-examine witnesses appearing at the hearing.

3. An arbitrator may not determine the dispute or issue an award based solely on the default of a party. However, if a court has ordered a person to arbitrate a dispute, the arbitrator may hear and determine the dispute upon the evidence produced notwithstanding the failure of a party ordered to arbitrate, who has been duly notified, to appear.

4. An arbitrator may issue a protective order to prevent the disclosure of privileged information, confidential information, trade secrets, and other information protected from disclosure to the extent the Court could if the controversy were the subject of a civil action in the Court. A party may petition the Court to confirm such protective order and enter the same as an order of the Court. If an arbitrator fails or refuses to enter a protective order, a party may seek such protective order from the Court.

5. An arbitrator may issue a summons in writing for the attendance of a witness and for the production of records and other evidence at any hearing or discovery proceeding authorized by the arbitration and may administer oaths. A summons from an arbitrator shall:

a. Be issued in the name of and signed by the arbitrator;

b. Be directed to the person required to attend and testify or provide documentary or physical evidence;

c. Describe with particularity any documentary or physical evidence to be provided; and

d. Be served in the same manner as subpoenas issued by the Court.

6. If a person summoned as provided in this Section refuses to appear or testify or to provide the evidence set forth in the summons, the arbitrator may request the Court to issue a subpoena requiring attendance and testimony of such person or the production of evidence, as the case may be. Upon a showing of sufficient relevancy and admissibility and subject to applicable laws related to privilege and confidentiality, the Court shall issue such subpoena which shall be served and have the same effect as a subpoena issued for a proceeding pending before the Court.

7. A party to an arbitration has the right to have a certified reporter transcribe any deposition, proceeding, or hearing. The transcript shall be the official record of the deposition, proceeding, or hearing. In the case of an arbitration agreement which is an adhesion contract or contained in an adhesion contract or with a consumer, notwithstanding any provision of the arbitration agreement or contract to the contrary, the drafting party shall incur the expense and pay for the certified reporter and transcript. In all other cases, if the arbitration agreement does not provide for a certified reporter, the party requesting the transcript shall incur the expense of the certified reporter. If an arbitrator refuses to allow a party to have a certified reporter transcribe any deposition, proceeding, or hearing pursuant to this subsection, the party may petition the Court for an order to compel the arbitrator to grant the party's request.

8. An arbitration award shall include a determination of all the questions submitted to the arbitrator the decision of which is necessary in order to determine the dispute.

9. The arbitrator shall serve a signed copy of the arbitration award on each party to the arbitration personally or by registered or certified mail or as provided in the agreement.

10. The arbitrator shall make an arbitration award within the time fixed therefor by the arbitration agreement or other agreement of the parties or, if not so fixed, within such time as the Court orders on petition of a party to the arbitration. The parties to the arbitration may extend the time either before or after the expiration thereof. A party to the arbitration waives the objection that an arbitration award was not made within the time required unless the party gives the arbitrator written notice of the party's objection prior to the service of a signed copy of the arbitration award on the party. The making of an arbitration award after such objection does not render the arbitration award timely.

11. If an arbitrator ceases or is unable to act during the arbitration, a replacement arbitrator must be appointed in accordance with this Chapter to continue the arbitration and resolve the dispute.

12. Notwithstanding any dispute resolution agreement, any contract, any rule of a dispute resolution provider organization, or any other provision of any law of any jurisdiction, no costs, expenses, or fees of another party may be awarded against Tribe and any provision of an arbitration agreement, contract, or arbitration award providing otherwise shall be void and unenforceable.

13. Except where this Section expressly permits an arbitration agreement to provide otherwise, before a dispute arises that is subject to an arbitration agreement, a party to the agreement may not waive any provision of this Section. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any rule of a dispute resolution provider organization, or any other provision of any law of any jurisdiction, a party to an arbitration agreement may not agree to waive or unreasonably restrict any right under this Section to notice of the initiation of an arbitration, conference, or hearing.

Section 6-12-19. Requirements of Award.

1. An award in negotiation shall be in writing and signed by all parties to the negotiation who agree to the award or are to be bound thereby.

2. An award in mediation shall be in writing and signed by the mediator and all parties to the mediation who agree to the award or are to be bound thereby. If there is more than one mediator, the award must be signed by all mediators.

3. An award in arbitration shall be in writing and signed by the arbitrator. If there is more than one arbitrator, the award must be signed by all arbitrators concurring therein, which must be a majority of the arbitrators or such higher number required by the arbitration agreement or other written agreement of the parties.

4. Unless and until confirmed or vacated as provided in this Chapter, an award has the same force and effect as a contract in writing between the parties to the dispute resolution or signing the award.

5. The provisions of this Section may not be waived.

Section 6-12-20. Stay of Proceedings.

1. If any cause of action or proceeding is brought in the Court upon any issue referable to dispute resolution under a dispute resolution agreement, upon being satisfied that the issue involved in such cause of action or proceeding is required to be referred to dispute resolution under such agreement and the provisions of this Chapter, the Court shall, on motion of one of the parties, stay the action or proceeding until such dispute resolution has been had in accordance with the terms of the dispute resolution agreement and the provisions of this Chapter, provided that the applicant for the stay is not in breach of the dispute resolution agreement or in default of such dispute resolution.

2. If a court in another jurisdiction has ordered dispute resolution of an issue which is an issue in an action or proceeding pending before the Court, the Court shall, upon motion of a party to such action or proceeding, stay the action or proceeding until the dispute resolution is had in accordance with the order to submit to dispute resolution or until such earlier time as the Court specifies, provided the order of the other court is otherwise enforceable by the Court pursuant to the laws of the Tribe and does not violate the provisions of this Chapter.

3. If an issue which is subject to dispute resolution under a dispute resolution agreement is severable from the remainder of the cause of action or proceeding, a stay issued under this Section may be with respect to that issue only.

Section 6-12-21. Compelling Dispute Resolution.

1. A party to a dispute resolution agreement who seeks dispute resolution as specified in the dispute resolution agreement may seek an order compelling another party to the dispute resolution agreement to submit a dispute between them to dispute resolution as designated in the dispute resolution agreement by filing a complaint with the Court in the manner provided in the Rules of Civil Procedure.

2. In addition to any other information required by the laws of the Tribe, a complaint under this Section shall contain the following information:

a. A description of the dispute between the parties alleged to be subject to the dispute resolution agreement;

b. A valid copy of the alleged dispute resolution agreement which requires the parties to submit the dispute to the form of dispute resolution requested, attached as an exhibit;

c. If the dispute resolution agreement is an arbitration agreement with the Tribe, the resolution of the Tribal Council or, in the case of an enterprise or instrumentality of the Tribe authorized to agree to arbitration, the board of directors of the enterprise or instrumentality, approving and granting the arbitration agreement in accordance with this Chapter;

d. Information demonstrating that the plaintiff has demanded or requested dispute resolution in accordance with the dispute resolution agreement;

e. Information demonstrating that the defendant has refused to participate in dispute resolution with respect to the dispute in accordance with the dispute resolution agreement; and

f. A request that the Court order the defendant to participate in dispute resolution with respect to the dispute in accordance with the dispute resolution agreement.

3. Upon the filing of a complaint under this Section, a summons shall be issued to and served upon each defendant in accordance with the general rules governing the issuance of summons by the Court and service of complaints.

4. Each defendant may file and serve a responsive pleading within the time period provided in the rules of procedure for the Court for answering or responding to a complaint, provided that failure to file a responsive pleading shall not constitute an admission of any allegation contained in the complaint and the plaintiff shall be required to prove all matters alleged in the complaint to obtain an order to compel dispute resolution even in the event of a default on the part of any defendant.

5. The Court shall hear a complaint filed under this Section as it hears other civil matters.

6. The Court shall dismiss the proceeding under this Section as to any person named as a defendant if the Court determines that such person was not bound by or a party to the dispute resolution agreement.

7. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, the Court shall issue an order that the plaintiff and defendant participate in dispute resolution as provided in the dispute resolution agreement with respect to the dispute set forth in the complaint if the Court determines that:

a. A valid and enforceable dispute resolution agreement exists between the parties;

b. The dispute resolution agreement requires or mandates the parties to submit a dispute between them to the particular dispute resolution requested and is not optional or discretionary on the part of the defendant; and

c. The dispute set forth in the complaint is a dispute subject to dispute resolution under the dispute resolution agreement, including the particular form of dispute resolution requested; and

d. The plaintiff is otherwise entitled to compel the defendant to submit the dispute to the dispute resolution requested.

8. The Court shall not enter an order to submit to dispute resolution if the Court determines that:

a. The right to compel dispute resolution has been waived by the plaintiff;

b. The dispute resolution agreement, by its terms or as a matter of law, only provides for the defendant to submit a dispute to dispute resolution at the discretion, option, request, or consent of the defendant and the defendant has not exercised such discretion or option, made such request, or given such consent;

c. The dispute resolution agreement, by its terms or as a matter of law, otherwise does not mandate or require dispute resolution of the dispute;

d. The dispute is not subject to dispute resolution by the terms of the dispute resolution agreement or pursuant to this Chapter or other applicable law;

e. The terms of the dispute resolution agreement do not provide for the particular form of dispute resolution requested, provided the Court may order the proper form of dispute resolution if otherwise authorized under this Section;

f. The dispute resolution agreement is void, invalid, or otherwise unenforceable against the defendant; or

g. Grounds exist for rescission of the dispute resolution agreement and the defendant has not waived or declined to exercise such rescission; or

h. The plaintiff is otherwise not entitled to compel the defendant to submit the dispute to the dispute resolution requested

9. If the dispute resolution agreement is an arbitration agreement and the Court determines that a party to the arbitration agreement is also a party to a pending action or proceeding with a third party, arising out of the same transaction or series of related transactions, and there is a possibility of conflicting rulings on a common issue of law or fact, including a pending action or proceeding initiated by the party refusing to arbitrate after the complaint was filed, but prior to a final hearing on the complaint, the Court shall not enter an order to arbitrate, but may:

a. Refuse to enforce the arbitration agreement and order intervention or joinder of all parties in a single action or proceeding;

b. Order intervention or joinder as to all or only certain issues;

c. Order arbitration among the parties who have agreed to arbitration and stay the pending action or proceeding pending the outcome of the arbitration proceeding; or

d. Stay arbitration pending the outcome of the action or proceeding.

10. If the Court determines that a valid and enforceable dispute resolution agreement between the parties exists and governs the dispute, an order to submit that dispute to dispute resolution may not be refused on the ground that the plaintiff's contentions lack substantive merit.

11. If the Court determines that there are other issues between the plaintiff and defendant, or involving either of them, which are not subject to dispute resolution as provided in the dispute resolution agreement and which are the subject of a pending action or proceeding between the plaintiff and defendant and that a determination of such issues may make the dispute resolution unnecessary, the Court may delay its order to submit to dispute resolution until the determination of such other issues or such earlier time as the Court specifies.

12. An order issued in a proceeding under this Section is a final order and subject to appeal in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing civil appeals.

Section 6-12-22. Consolidating Arbitrations.

1. A party to an arbitration agreement may petition the Court to consolidate separate arbitration proceedings, and the Court may order consolidation of separate arbitration proceedings when separate arbitration agreements or proceedings exist between the same parties and either:

a. The disputes arise from the same transaction or occurrence or series of related transactions or occurrences; or

b. There is one or more common issues of law or fact creating the possibility of conflicting rulings by more than one arbitrator.

2. If all of the applicable arbitration agreements name the same arbitrator or dispute resolution provider organization, the Court shall order the consolidated arbitration to be heard before the arbitrator or dispute resolution provider organization agreed to by the parties. If the applicable arbitration agreements name separate arbitrators or dispute resolution provider organizations, the Court shall, in the absence of an agreed method of selection by all parties to the consolidated arbitration, appoint an arbitrator for the consolidated arbitration in accordance with this Chapter.

3. In the event that the arbitration agreements governing consolidated arbitrations contain inconsistent provisions, the Court shall resolve such conflicts and determine the rights and duties of the various parties to achieve substantial justice under all the circumstances, subject to the provisions of this Chapter.

4. The Court may exercise its discretion under this Section to deny consolidation of separate arbitration proceedings or to consolidate separate arbitration proceedings only as to certain issues, leaving other issues to be resolved in separate proceedings.

Section 6-12-23. Confirmation of Award.

1. Any party to dispute resolution in which an award has been made may seek an order confirming the award by filing a complaint with the Court in the manner provided in the Rules of Civil Procedure.

2. A complaint to confirm an award shall name as defendants all parties to the dispute resolution. The complaint may also name as defendants any other persons bound by the award.

3. In addition to any other information required by the laws of the Tribe, a complaint under this Section shall contain the following information:

a. A valid copy of the dispute resolution agreement attached as an exhibit;

b. If the dispute resolution agreement is an arbitration agreement with the Tribe, the resolution of the Tribal Council or, in the case of an enterprise or instrumentality of the Tribe authorized to agree to arbitration, the board of directors of the enterprise or instrumentality, approving and granting the arbitration agreement in accordance with this Chapter;

c. If the award is from mediation or arbitration:

i. The names of all mediators or arbitrators, as the case may be, who made the award; and

ii. Information on the selection or appointment of the mediator or arbitration;

d. Each extension of time, if any, agreed to or granted to make the award;

e. A valid copy of the award, signed as required by this Chapter, attached as an exhibit;

f. If the award is an arbitration award:

i. Any written opinion of the arbitrator, attached as an exhibit; and

ii. Evidence that the award was served on each party to the dispute resolution as required by this Chapter; and

g. A request that the Court confirm the award and issue a judgement thereon.

Such an application must be submitted not later than thirty (30) days after service of a signed copy of the arbitration award on the applicant. Upon or before making such application, the applicant shall deliver or mail a copy of the application to all of the other parties to the arbitration. If no decision on the application is served within thirty (30) days of filing, the application for correction shall be deemed denied on the last day thereof. An application to correct an arbitration award and the decision of an arbitrator thereon shall not effect a party's right to seek vacation, modification, or correction by the Court as provided in this Section.

A responsive pleading may include a request for the Court to confirm the arbitration award in accordance with this Chapter.

7. The Court shall hear a complaint filed under this Section as it hears other civil matters.

8. The Court shall dismiss the proceeding under this Section as to any person named as a defendant if the Court determines that such person was not bound by the arbitration award and was not a party to the arbitration.

within a reasonable time of knowing it was voidable, invalid, or unenforceable.

1. A mediator, upon written application of all parties bound by the award or provision to be corrected, may correct a mediation award upon any of the grounds set forth in this Section or to clarify the award not later than thirty (30) days after the award is signed by all parties to the mediation. Upon or before making such application, the applicant shall deliver or mail a copy of the application to all of the other parties to the mediation not joining in the application. Section 7-2-3. Posting Notice.

Compromise of any claim by the covered employee or his or her dependents at an amount less than the compensation provided under this Title shall be made only with written approval of the insurance carrier liable to pay the claim.

7. The Election Board may establish additional procedures to those in this Section provided that any such additional procedure shall be supplementary and in addition to the requirements of this Title and not in derogation thereof. tie occur, then this tie will be broken by a flip of the coin performed by the Chairperson of the Election Board.

2. The number of votes for each candidate or for or against each question shall be placed on the appropriate election results sheet and the winner of that position or question shall be noted on the top of that sheet. There shall also be a line for spoiled ballots which shall indicate the number of spoiled ballots for that candidate or question.

Otherwise, the Election Board shall hold a hearing within five (5) business days of the filing of the challenge to give the challenger an opportunity to present the grounds for their challenge and any substantiating evidence, provided that the Election Board may extend the time for determining whether to summarily deny a challenge or hold a hearing for up to ten (10) additional calendar days in order to validate the evidence.

4. If, in the opinion of the Election Board, the challenge is valid and the evidence and basis for the challenge warrants a recount or new election, the Election Board shall order a recount or new election.

5. In the case of a new election, the Election Board shall notify the affected candidate(s) that a new election shall be held within forty-five (45) business days after the Election Board issues the order for a new election. 1. The landlord shall deliver physical possession of the premises to the tenant at the commencement of the term of the lease.

2. If a landlord does not deliver physical possession of the premises to the tenant, the tenant is not required to pay rent until possession is delivered and may:

- a. Terminate the lease by giving written notice to the landlord at any time before the landlord delivers possession of the premises to the tenant; or
- b. Demand performance of the lease by the landlord, recover actual damages, and obtain possession of the premises from the landlord or any person wrongfully in possession by any lawful means.

3. If a landlord unlawfully removes or excludes the tenant from the premises or willfully interrupts or causes the interruption of an essential service the landlord has the duty to provide to the tenant, the tenant may recover three (3) times the periodic rent or three (3) times the actual damages, whichever is greater, or, where the Tribe is the landlord, the actual damages, and:

a. Recover possession; or

b. Terminate the lease by giving the landlord written notice of the tenant's intent to terminate the lease immediately or on a later specified date.

4. If a tenant terminates the lease pursuant to this Section, the landlord shall return any amounts received from the tenant before the commencement of the term of the lease or, if the term of the lease has commenced, any security deposit and unearned rent.

Section 11-2-9. Separation of Rent from Duties. A lease, assignment, sublease, conveyance, trust deed, or security instrument may not authorize a person to receive rent without assuming the duties imposed on the landlord by the lease and this Title.

Section 11-2-10. Assignment and Sublease.

1. When a tenant transfers his or her entire interest in a lease for the remaining term of the lease, the transfer is an assignment. If a tenant assigns his or her lease:

a. The tenant's right to possession of the premises terminates when the assignee takes possession;

b. The assignee obtains all of the tenant's right to possession under the lease;

c. The tenant shall not be a landlord in relation to the assignee for purposes of this Title;

d. Unless the lease or another agreement between the landlord and tenant provides otherwise, the tenant shall remain liable for the tenant's obligations under the lease;

e. The assignee is liable for the tenant's obligations under the lease to the same extent as the tenant; and

f. The landlord may enforce the lease and this Title against the assignee the same as the tenant regardless of whether the landlord was a party to or approved the assignment.

2. When a tenant transfers less than his or her entire interest in a lease or less than the remaining term of the lease, the transfer is a sublease and the tenant retains a reversionary interest under the lease. For purposes of this Title, providing accommodations for boarders, lodgers, or others who are not parties to the lease shall be deemed a sublease. If a tenant subleases his or her lease:

a. The tenant's and sublessee's rights to possession of the premises shall be determined based on the provisions of the sublease;

b. The tenant shall be a landlord in relation to the sublessee for purposes of this Title;

c. Unless the lease or another agreement between the landlord and tenant provides otherwise, the tenant shall remain liable for the tenant's obligations under the lease;

d. Unless a provision of the sublease or another agreement between the landlord and sublessee provides otherwise, the sublessee shall not be liable for the tenant's obligations under the lease; and

e. Unless a provision of the sublease or another agreement between the landlord and sublessee provides otherwise, the landlord may not enforce the lease against the sublessee, but the landlord may enforce this Title against the sublessee.

3. Except where applicable law other than this Title provides otherwise, unless a provision of the lease provides otherwise:

a. A tenant may not assign or sublease the lease without the written consent of the landlord;

b. The landlord may unconditionally withhold consent without cause to any assignment or sublease;

c. Except where the Tribe is the landlord, if the landlord unreasonably withholds consent to an assignment or sublease, the tenant may terminate the lease by giving written notice to the landlord of the tenant's intent to terminate the lease on a specified date at least thirty (30) days after the notice and such termination shall be the sole remedy of the tenant;

d. If the landlord reasonably withholds consent to an assignment or sublease or, where the Tribe is the landlord and withholds consent for any reason without regard to whether it is reasonable, there shall be no assignment or sublease and the tenant shall not be released from the lease;

e. The landlord may request that the tenant provide additional information to enable the landlord to make a decision on a request for consent to an assignment or sublease within ten (10) days after receipt of the tenant's request, provided such request for additional information shall not be unduly burdensome;

f. If the landlord fails to notify the tenant of the landlord's consent or denial of consent within thirty (30) days after receipt of the tenant's request or additional information requested by the landlord, whichever is later:

i. Where the Tribe is the landlord, the Tribe shall be deemed to have denied consent to the assignment or sublease; and

ii. In all other cases, the landlord shall be deemed to consent to the assignment or sublease.

4. Any assignment or sublease which does not comply with the provisions of this Section shall constitute a material breach of the lease and, where the Tribe is the landlord, shall be void and of no effect against the Tribe or the premises covered thereby.

5. Nothing in this Section shall prohibit the lease or another agreement between the landlord and tenant from providing additional transfers of interests in a lease or additional events which shall be deemed to constitute an assignment or sublease and such additional transfers of interests or additional events shall be subject to this Section.

Section 11-2-11. Encumbrance of Lease.

1. Unless a provision of the lease expressly permits a tenant to mortgage or encumber the lease, a tenant may not mortgage or encumber the lease, tenancy, or any interest of the tenant in the premises without the written consent of the landlord, which consent may be unconditionally withheld without cause.

2. Any mortgage or encumbrance of a lease or interest of the tenant in the premises which does not comply with the provisions of this Section shall constitute a material breach of the lease and the mortgage or encumbrance shall be void and of no effect against the landlord or the premises covered thereby.

Section 11-2-12. Legal Counsel Fees. Unless the other party is the Tribe, in an action to enforce a right or remedy arising under a lease or this Title, the Tribal Court may award the prevailing party reasonable legal counsel's fees if the Tribal Court determines that the other party:

1. Did not act in good faith;
2. Willfully performed an act prohibited by the lease or this Title; or
3. Willfully refrained from performing an act required by the lease or this Title.

Section 11-2-13. Security Deposits.

1. Except when the Tribe is the landlord, a landlord may not demand or receive security, however denominated, in an amount or value in excess of two (2) months periodic rent, provided such limit shall not include the first month's rent or fees.

2. Except as otherwise provided by applicable law other than this Title, if a tenant keeps a pet on the premises or is permitted by the lease to make alterations to the premises, the landlord may require the tenant to pay an additional security deposit in an amount commensurate with the additional risk of damage to the premises. Nothing in this subsection shall require a landlord to permit a tenant to keep a pet on the premises except where applicable law other than this Title provides otherwise.

3. Any security, if nonrefundable, must be so stated in writing by the landlord.

4. The following rules apply to interests in a security deposit:

a. The landlord's interest is limited to a security interest and shall not be subject to execution, garnishment, attachment, or other process;

b. Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, the landlord's security interest is effective against and has priority over each creditor of and transferee from the tenant;

c. A creditor of and transferee from the landlord can acquire no greater interest in a security deposit than the interest of the landlord;

d. Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, the tenant's interest has priority over any right of setoff the bank in which the security deposit is held may have for obligations owed to the bank; and

e. The tenant's interest is not adversely affected if the deposit is commingled with the deposits of other tenants or other funds.

5. With respect to funds constituting a security deposit, a landlord:

a. Shall maintain the ability to identify the funds:

i. By holding the funds in a bank account that is used exclusively for security deposits, that is maintained with a federally insured bank, and the title of which indicates that it contains security deposits; and

ii. By maintaining records that indicate at all times the amount of the funds attributable to each tenant whose funds are being held in the account; and

b. May commingle the funds received from other tenants as security deposits in the same bank account but may not commingle other funds, including the landlord's personal or business funds, in the account.

6. Subsection 5 of this Section shall not apply to security deposits held by the Tribe as a landlord provided that the Tribe shall maintain records that indicate at all times funds in its possession attributable to each tenant whose funds are being held by the Tribe as a security deposit.

7. If a landlord other than the Tribe fails to comply with subsection 5 of this Section, the tenant may recover actual damages or one (1) times the periodic rent, whichever is greater.

8. A bank in which a landlord deposits funds constituting a security deposit has no duty to ensure that the landlord properly applies the funds.

9. Unless a lease provides otherwise, the landlord is not required to deposit a security deposit into an interest-bearing account or to pay the tenant interest on the deposit.

10. Upon termination of the tenancy:

a. The tenant is entitled to the amount by which the security deposit and any unearned rent exceeds the amount the landlord is owed under the lease or this Title;

b. Not later than thirty (30) days after a tenancy terminates and the tenant vacates the premises, the landlord shall determine the amount the landlord believes the tenant is entitled to under this subsection and:

i. Tender that amount to the tenant;

ii. Send that amount by first-class mail, postage prepaid, to an address provided by the tenant or, in the absence of that address, to the relevant address specified in Section 11-2-3; or

iii. Cause a funds transfer in that amount to be made, with the cost of transfer paid by the landlord, to a bank account designated by the tenant;

c. If the amount paid to the tenant under this subsection is less than the sum of the tenant's security deposit and any unearned rent, the landlord shall provide the tenant on or before returning such amount to the tenant a written itemization specifying each item of property damage or other unfulfilled obligation of the tenant to which the security deposit or unearned rent was applied and the amount applied to each item;

d. If the amount to which the tenant is entitled under this subsection is greater than the amount paid to the tenant, the tenant may recover the difference;

e. If a security deposit and unearned rent held by a landlord are insufficient to satisfy the tenant's obligations under the lease and this Title, the landlord may recover from the tenant the amount necessary to satisfy those obligations; and

f. If the landlord fails to comply with this subsection or fails to pay any amounts to which the tenant is entitled under this subsection, the tenant may recover the property and money due the tenant together with, in the case of a landlord other than the Tribe, damages in an amount equal to twice the amount wrongfully withheld.

11. When a landlord's interest in the premises terminates, the landlord shall:

a. If the lease continues, not later than thirty (30) days after the termination of the landlord's interest:

i. Transfer to the person succeeding the landlord's interest in the premises any security deposit being held by the landlord;

ii. Notify the tenant in writing of the successor's name and address, the amount transferred, and any claim previously made against the security deposit; or

b. If the lease terminates as a result of the termination of the landlord's interest, comply with subsection 10 of this Section.

12. A successor to a landlord's interest in the premises has all rights and obligations of the landlord under this Title with respect to any security deposit held by the predecessor landlord which has not been returned to the tenant, whether or not the security deposit was transferred or distributed to the successor. If a predecessor landlord fails to transfer or distribute the security deposit to the successor as provided in this Section, the tenant shall have no action against the successor, but the tenant or, if he or she pays the tenant amounts due under this Section, the successor may recover from the predecessor landlord an amount equal to twice the amount due the tenant under this Section or, where the predecessor landlord is the Tribe, the actual amount due the tenant.

13. This Section shall not preclude the landlord or tenant from recovering other damages to which either may be entitled under this Title.

Section 11-2-14. Rules of Landlord.

1. Except as otherwise provided in the laws of the Tribe, a landlord may enforce a rule of the landlord in existence at the time the lease commenced only if the rule was disclosed to the tenant under Section 11-2-2.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, after commencement of the term of a lease, the landlord may adopt or modify a rule concerning the tenant's use and enjoyment of the premises, but the rule or modification may not take effect earlier than thirty (30) days after the landlord gives the tenant written notice of the rule or modification.

3. In a periodic tenancy, a rule or modification adopted after commencement of the term of the lease may not take effect before the expiration of the period during which the tenant or landlord could have exercised the right to terminate the tenancy.

Section 11-2-15. Title to Premises.

1. When a person enters into possession of real property under a lease, he or she may not, while in possession, deny the title of the landlord in an action brought upon the lease by the landlord.

2. Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary:

a. No possession by any person, no matter how long continued, of any land, water, water right, easement, or other property whatsoever in the territory of the Tribe dedicated to, held in trust for, or owned by the Tribe or any of its councils, commissions, boards, agencies, departments, divisions, instrumentalities, or economic enterprises shall ever ripen into any title, interest, or right against the Tribe or such council, commission, board, agency, department, division, instrumentality, or economic enterprise;

b. No prescription or statute of limitations shall run, or continue to run, against the title of the Tribe or any of its councils, commissions, boards, agencies, departments, divisions, instrumentalities, or economic enterprises to lands in the territory of the Tribe;

c. No title to any lands of the Tribe or any of its councils, commissions, boards, agencies, departments, divisions, instrumentalities, or economic enterprises in the territory of the Tribe, or any right therein, shall be acquired by adverse possession or prescription or otherwise than by conveyance from the Tribe or such council, commission, board, agency, department, division, instrumentality, or economic enterprise.

CHAPTER 3 TERMINATION OF TENANCIES

Section 11-3-1. Termination of Tenancies.

1. A periodic tenancy continues until the landlord or tenant gives the other the notice required in this Section.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this Title, in the absence of a provision in the lease or other written agreement signed by the landlord and tenant providing otherwise, a landlord or tenant may terminate a periodic tenancy:

a. For week to week, by giving the other at least seven (7) days' written notice of the party's intent to terminate the tenancy at the end of the weekly period;

b. For month to month, by giving the other at least thirty (30) days' written notice of the party's intent to terminate the tenancy at the end of the monthly period; and

c. For other successive periods, by giving the other at least ninety (90) days' written notice of the party's intent to terminate the tenancy at the end of the period.

3. A tenancy for a fixed term continues until the end of the term, provided that a landlord or tenant may terminate a tenancy for a fixed term prior to the end of the term:

a. By mutual agreement;

b. Unless prohibited by this Title, as provided in the lease; or

c. As otherwise permitted in this Title.

Section 11-3-2. Holdover Tenant.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Title, if a tenant remains in possession without the landlord's consent after expiration of a tenancy for a fixed term or termination of a periodic tenancy, the landlord may bring an action for eviction pursuant to this Title. If the tenant's holdover is willful, the landlord may recover three (3) times the periodic rent or three (3) times the actual damages, whichever is greater.

2. Unless a landlord and tenant otherwise agree in writing, if the tenant remains in possession with the landlord's consent after expiration of a tenancy for a fixed term, a periodic tenancy for month to month arises under the same terms as the expired lease.

3. In addition to the ability to bring an action for eviction pursuant to this Section, if a tenant remains in possession of land owned by or held in trust for the Tribe without the Tribe's consent after expiration of a tenancy for a fixed term or termination of a periodic tenancy, such possession shall also be deemed a trespass subject to any applicable civil or criminal law governing the same, including criminal prosecution and a civil fine not to exceed eight hundred dollars ($800) per day of such trespass.

Section 11-3-3. Death of Tenant.

1. If a sole tenant under a lease of a dwelling unit dies before the end of a tenancy for a fixed term or a periodic tenancy:

a. The tenant's surviving spouse who resides in the dwelling unit may assume the lease and become the tenant under the lease by giving the landlord written notice stating the intent of the spouse to assume the lease no later than twenty (20) days after the tenant's death; or

b. Except as otherwise provided in applicable law other than this Title, no sooner than twenty (20) days after the tenant's death, a landlord or tenant representative may terminate the lease by giving to the other and to a surviving spouse of the tenant who resides in the dwelling unit written notice which states:

i. The lease will terminate on a specified date after receipt of the notice which must be, in the case of a periodic tenancy, consistent with the provisions of this Chapter, and, in the case of a tenancy for a fixed term, at least thirty (30) days; and

ii. In the case of notice to a surviving spouse, that the surviving spouse has twenty (20) days after receipt of the notice to assume the lease and, if the spouse assumes the lease, the spouse will become the tenant under the lease.

2. Unless the lease provides otherwise, if a sole individual tenant or principal owner of a tenant that is not an individual under a non-residential lease dies before the end of a tenancy for a fixed term or a periodic tenancy:

a. In the case of a tenancy for a fixed term, the lease will remain in force and the personal representative for the deceased tenant's estate shall become the tenant for the duration of the lease term;

b. In the case of a periodic tenancy, the tenancy will automatically terminate at the end of the current periodic term unless the personal representative for the deceased tenant's estate assumes the tenancy and becomes the tenant under the lease by giving the landlord written notice stating the intent of the personal representative to assume the tenancy no later than twenty (20) days after the tenant's death; and

c. Notwithstanding any provision of the lease to the contrary, if the personal representative for the deceased tenant's estate becomes the tenant under the lease or periodic tenancy, such personal representative shall have the authority to assign the lease in accordance with the provisions of this Title without approval of the landlord, other than a landlord that is the Tribe, to the heir or successor of the tenant who shall become the tenant under the lease.

3. If a landlord is unable to contact a deceased tenant's surviving spouse who resides in a dwelling unit or tenant representative the purpose of terminating a lease under this Section, the landlord may terminate the lease without notice if rent that was due was not paid for at least twenty-five (25) days.

Section 11-3-4. Destruction of Premises.

1. If leased premises or part of the leased premises is substantially damaged or destroyed by a fire, other casualty, or natural disaster and:

a. If the premises or part of the premises is uninhabitable or inaccessible or continued occupancy of the premises is unlawful or dangerous, the tenant may vacate the premises immediately and, not later than fourteen (14) days after vacating the premises, give the landlord written notice of the tenant's intent to terminate the lease, in which case the lease terminates as of the date the tenant vacates the premises;

b. If the premises are habitable and continued occupancy of the premises is lawful and not dangerous, subject to the landlord's right to terminate the lease under this subsection, the tenant may continue the lease, subject to the remedies available to the tenant under Chapter 4 of this Title; or

c. If continued occupancy of the premises is unlawful or dangerous or requires repairs that can be made only if the tenant vacates the premises, the landlord may terminate the lease by giving the tenant written notice that the lease will terminate on a specified date, which must be at least five (5) days after the notice is given.

2. If a lease is terminated under this Section, the landlord shall return any security deposit and unearned rent to which the tenant is entitled under this Title.

3. This Section does not preclude:

a. A landlord from seeking actual damages from the tenant for damage to the premises caused by an act or omission of the tenant or the tenant's guest; or

b. If the landlord leases the abandoned premises to another person for a term beginning before the expiration of the term of the lease of the abandoning tenant, the lease terminates as of the date of the new tenancy and the landlord may recover actual damages from the abandoning tenant;

e. After deducting the landlord's actual damages, the landlord shall return any security deposit and unearned rent to which the tenant is entitled under this Title.

The landlord may require a person retrieving the property to prepare and sign an inventory of the property being retrieved and pay the reasonable inventorying, moving, and storage costs before retrieving the property.

4. This Section does not prohibit a landlord from immediately disposing of perishable food, hazardous material, garbage, and trash or transferring an animal to an animal-control officer, humane society, or other person willing to care for the animal.

5. The landlord shall pay the tenant representative the deceased tenant's security deposit and unearned rent to which the tenant otherwise would have been entitled under this Title.

6. If a deceased tenant's personal property is not retrieved within the time specified in this Section, the landlord may dispose of the property in compliance with Section 11-3-8.

b. If a sale is not economically feasible, the landlord may dispose of the property in any manner the landlord considers appropriate.

2. If personal property that is deemed abandoned under this Section is of cultural, religious, or ceremonial significance, the landlord shall return such personal property to the tenant, the tenant's immediate or extended family, and/or the Culture Department of the Tribe.

1. If a victim, and not a perpetrator, of an act of domestic or family violence is a tenant of a dwelling unit and has a reasonable fear of suffering psychological harm or a further act of domestic or family violence if the victim continues to reside in the dwelling unit, the tenant, without the necessity of the landlord's consent, is released from the lease if the tenant gives the landlord a notice that complies with this Section and:

a. A copy of a court order that restrains a perpetrator from contact with the tenant;

b. Evidence of the conviction or adjudication of a perpetrator for an act of domestic or family violence against the tenant; or

c. A verification that complies with this Section.

2. To be released from a lease under this Section, the tenant must give the landlord written notice which:

a. States the tenant's intent to be released from the lease on a date which must be at least thirty (30) days from the date of the notice or, if the perpetrator is a cotenant of the dwelling unit, an earlier date;

b. States facts giving rise to the fear of psychological harm or suffering a further act of domestic or family violence if the victim continues to reside in the dwelling unit; and

c. Is given to the landlord:

i. Not later than ninety (90) days after an act of domestic or family violence against the tenant;

ii. When a court order exists that restrains a perpetrator from contact with the tenant because of an act of domestic or family violence; or

iii. If the perpetrator was incarcerated, not later than ninety (90) days after the tenant acquired knowledge that the perpetrator is no longer incarcerated.

3. A verification given by a tenant under this Section must be under oath and include the following:

a. From the tenant:

i. The tenant's name and the address of the dwelling unit;

ii. The approximate dates on which an act of domestic or family violence occurred;

iii. The approximate date of the most recent act of domestic or family violence;

iv. A statement that because of an act of domestic or family violence, the tenant has a reasonable fear that the tenant or immediate or extended family member residing in the dwelling unit will suffer psychological harm or a further act of domestic or family violence if the tenant or family member continues to reside in the dwelling unit; and

v. A statement that the representations in the verification are true and accurate to the best of the tenant's knowledge and the tenant understands that the verification could be used as evidence in court; and

b. From an attesting third party:

i. The name, address, and telephone number of the party;

ii. The capacity in which the party received the information regarding the act of domestic or family violence;

iii. A statement that the party has read the tenant's verification and been advised by the tenant

iv. A statement that the party, based on the tenant's verification, believes the tenant and understands that the verification may be used as the ground for releasing the tenant from a lease or terminating the tenant's interest under the lease.

a. A release under this Section terminates the lease on the date specified in the notice under this Section if the tenant vacates the dwelling unit on or before that date; and

b. The tenant is not liable for rent accruing after the lease terminates or other actual damages resulting from termination of the lease, but the tenant remains liable to the landlord for rent and other amounts owed to the landlord before termination of the lease.

5. If there are multiple individual tenants of the dwelling unit:

a. The tenant who gave notice under this Section is released from the lease as of the date specified in the notice if the tenant vacates the dwelling unit on or before the specified date, but the release of one tenant under this Section does not terminate the lease with respect to other tenants;

b. The tenant released from the lease is not liable to the landlord or any other person for rent accruing after the tenant's release or actual damages resulting from the tenant's release;

c. Any other tenant under the lease may recover from the perpetrator actual damages resulting from the termination; and

d. The landlord is not required to return to the tenant released from the lease or a remaining tenant any security deposit or unearned rent to which the tenant is otherwise entitled under this Title until the lease terminates with respect to all tenants.

b. Failure of a tenant to receive notice of the landlord's intent to terminate the perpetrator's interest shall not affect the landlord's right to terminate under this subsection or expose the landlord to any liability;

c. If a landlord terminates a perpetrator's interest under a lease under this subsection, any other tenant under the lease may recover from the perpetrator actual damages resulting from the termination;

d. Termination of a perpetrator's interest under a lease under this subsection does not terminate the interest or alter the obligations of any other tenant under the lease;

e. The landlord shall not be required to return to the perpetrator or any remaining tenant any security deposit or unearned rent until the lease terminates with respect to all tenants; and

f. In an action between a landlord and tenant involving the right of the landlord to terminate the tenant's interest under this subsection, the landlord must prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the landlord had a reasonable belief that the tenant was a perpetrator.

10. On issuance of a court order requiring a perpetrator to vacate a dwelling unit because of an act of domestic or family violence, other than an order granted ex parte without a hearing and subject to the provisions of Title IV of this Code governing orders for possession related to orders for protection, neither the landlord nor tenant has a duty to:

Section 12-3-11. Refunds.

b. An issue determined in an appeal may not be reopened by filing a claim for refund.

2. If any overpayment arises from an action of a Tribal, federal or state agency or court, other than in an appeal under this Chapter, the time for filing a claim for refund will be one (1) year from the date of such action.

3. A claim for refund may take the form of an amended return for the period for which the overpayment was made. The return must contain a clear statement of the amount of the refund being claimed and the facts or other basis for determining an overpayment.

4. At the option of the taxpayer, an overpayment may be applied toward tax due for a current or future period.

3. The Commission may relieve a taxpayer from the operation of this Section for good cause shown, considering all surrounding facts and circumstances, including the pattern of compliance of the taxpayer, mistake, the absence of negligence or intentional disregard of the law, or the presence of substantial issues of interpretation of the law.

4. If the Commission determines to charge costs of collection to a taxpayer, the Commission shall issue a notice of assessment to the taxpayer which itemizes all costs charged.

Section 12-3-14. Penalties.

1. A taxpayer who fails to file a return by the time due shall be assessed a penalty of ten percent (10%) of the tax due for the assessment date or period, but not less than one hundred dollars ($100), provided that a return filed on or before the date of a granted extension for filing shall be deemed timely filed. For each full month a return is overdue, an additional penalty of one percent (1%) of the tax due will be assessed up to an amount equal to twenty-four percent (24%) of the tax. The Commission may waive the penalty under this subsection after the return is filed if the taxpayer shows the failure to timely file was due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect.

2. A taxpayer who fails to pay an amount of tax by the time it is due shall be assessed a penalty of five percent (5%) of the amount of the underpayment, provided that a payment made on or before the date of a granted extension for paying shall be deemed timely filed. For each full month a payment is overdue, an additional penalty of one-half percent (1/2%) of the amount of the underpayment will be assessed up to an amount equal to thirty-six percent (36%) of the underpayment. The Commission may waive the penalty under this subsection after the tax is paid if the taxpayer shows the failure to timely pay was due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect.

3. Any taxpayer who is under-assessed by reason of providing incomplete or incorrect information, or who understates tax imposed, through negligent or intentional disregard of the laws of the Tribe governing taxation shall be assessed a penalty of two hundred fifty dollars ($250) plus twenty-five percent (25%) of the amount of the underpayment of tax. If any part of such under-assessment or understatement of tax is due to fraud, the taxpayer will be assessed an additional penalty of fifty percent (50%) of the amount of the underpayment of tax. Any person who assists a taxpayer in such fraud will be subject to a penalty of five hundred dollars ($500), plus twenty-five percent (25%) of the amount of the underpayment of the tax.

4. Any taxpayer who violates any provision of this Title or other law of the Tribe governing taxation for the purpose of evading the payment of taxes shall be assessed a penalty of five hundred dollars ($500) plus twenty-five percent (25%) of the amount of the tax due.

Section 12-3-15. Enjoining Business. In addition to any other remedies available to it, the Commission may bring, in the name of the Tribe, an action in any appropriate court to enjoin the operation of any unlicensed business, activity, or function when this Title or other law of the Tribe governing taxation requires a license for the conduct of such business, activity or function. The enjoining of a business pursuant to this Section shall be deemed an exclusion of the business pursuant to the Tribe's power to exclude and other inherent powers and authority of the Tribe.

Section 12-3-16. Tax Lien.

1. If a taxpayer fails to pay any amount set forth in a notice of assessment by the date required in such notice, the amount shall be a lien in favor of the Tribe against all property of the taxpayer then owned and thereafter acquired that is not exempt from garnishment or attachment under the laws of the Tribe.

2. A lien for unpaid amounts in a notice of assessment shall commence upon the date of the notice of assessment and shall continue until the amount of the lien is satisfied or released or ten (10) years from the date of the notice of assessment, whichever occurs first.

3. A lien for unpaid amounts in a notice of assessment shall not be effective against other parties until a notice of lien is recorded in the office of the Commission in a form available for inspection by the public.

4. The Commission may file or record a notice of lien for unpaid taxes against specified personal or real property of a taxpayer in any office of any jurisdiction in the manner permitted under the laws of such jurisdiction, provided that the Commission shall file a release of any such lien in the same office upon the satisfaction or release of the lien.

5. The Commission may enforce a lien against the property of a taxpayer transferred to another person and the person takes subject to the lien if:

3. Within ten (10) business days of any seizure of property pursuant to this Section, the Commission shall file a complaint for forfeiture against such property in the Tribal Court. The complaint shall be served on the taxpayer and any and all other persons known by the Commission to claim an ownership interest, right of possession to, or other interest in the property.

4. Upon the Commission showing by clear and convincing evidence that such property is contraband under this Title, the Tribal Court shall enter an order that such property is forfeited and that all title and ownership interest in such property is vested in the Tribe.

5. Any person who claims an ownership interest, right of possession to, or other interest in property seized pursuant to this Section may intervene in the Tribal Court action and raise any defense he or she may have. Such persons may redeem the property at any time prior to final judgment of forfeiture by depositing with the Court all taxes assessed or owing with respect to such property.

Section 12-3-18. Sale of Property.

1. Upon a final order of forfeiture entered by the Tribal Court or receipt of property through foreclosure, execution or other appropriate means, the Commission shall convert such property into money through public sale of such property in accordance with this Section.

2. Prior to any public sale of property, the Commission shall provide notice of the public sale at least twenty (20) days prior to the date of such public sale. The notice shall be posted at all Tribal governmental offices and on the Tribe's website and, if an edition of the Tribal newsletter will be released prior to the public sale, published in the Tribal newsletter. The Commission may post and publish the notice in such other locations and periodicals as the Commission deems appropriate. The notice shall include:

3. All public sales pursuant to this Section shall be held at one of the government offices of the Tribe and all property shall be sold at public auction to the highest bidder.

4. The amount received for any property sold at public auction in accordance with this Section shall be deemed to be the fair market value of such property for any purpose under applicable law.

5. All revenue from the sale of property at a public sale shall be applied as a payment to the Commission to the credit of the taxpayer who previously owned the property and deposited in the accounts of the Commission, provided that the taxpayer shall not receive any excess funds from the sale of property seized as contraband and such excess funds shall become the property of the Tribe. If the revenues from the sale of property of a taxpayer do not satisfy the total amount owed by the taxpayer, the taxpayer shall remain liable for any remaining balance.

6. The Commission may conduct a public sale at such times as it deems sufficient property has accumulated to make the sale profitable.

Section 12-3-19. Abatement of Taxes.

1. In response to a written request but before any court acquires jurisdiction in the matter, or at any time when an assessment is found to be incorrect, the Commission may abate any part of an assessment which it determines was incorrectly, erroneously, or illegally made.

2. A request for an abatement must:

a. Be made in writing to the Commission or its designee;

b. State the abatement sought; and

c. Contain a complete statement of the facts relied on, together with any information and documents necessary to present those facts.

3. Abatements in excess of $1,000 will be recorded in the offices of the Commission in a form available for public inspection and shall maintained for a minimum of six (6) years after the date of abatement.

Section 12-3-20. Settlement Agreements.

1. At any time after an assessment of taxes, the Commission may compromise the liability of a taxpayer by entering with the taxpayer into a written settlement agreement that adequately protects the interests of the Tribe.

2. If a settlement agreement is entered into after a court acquires jurisdiction over the matter, the settlement agreement shall be made part of a stipulated order or judgment disposing of the case.

3. As a condition for entering into a settlement agreement, the Commission may require the provision of security for payment of any taxes due according to the terms of the agreement.

4. Upon the compromise of a liability and according to the terms of the settlement agreement, the Commission will cause the abatement of the appropriate amount of the assessment.

5. A settlement agreement is conclusive as to the liability or non-liability for payment of taxes for the assessment dates or periods referred to in the agreement, except upon a showing of fraud, malfeasance, or misrepresentation or concealment of a material fact.

2. In addition to any other consequences for a violation of this Title, a person who commits a violation of this Title shall be subject to a civil fine of five hundred dollars ($500) per occurrence, which may be imposed by the Commission pursuant to a notice of assessment and thereafter enforced and collected through a civil cause of action brought by the Commission on behalf of the Tribe in a proceeding in the Court.

3. The Commission may report any violation of this Title to the appropriate officials of other jurisdictions and request an investigation and, if appropriate, prosecution of such violation as a violation of the laws of that jurisdiction, including the criminal laws of that jurisdiction.

Section 12-3-22. Effectiveness of Notices.

1. Any notice required to be given by the Commission shall be deemed effectively given to a person if it is mailed to the individual last designated by the person at the address shown on the designation.

2. Where a person has not designated an individual, notice shall be deemed effectively given if mailed to any owner of an interest in the business or property subject of the notice.

3. Public notice of lien shall be deemed effective as to all property and rights to property of a taxpayer, business, or person if the description of the taxpayer, business, or person is sufficient to put a reasonable person on inquiry to ascertain the existence of a lien on the property.

4. Nothing in this Section shall preclude the use of other methods of providing notice, including publication, so long as such methods comport with due process.

Section 12-3-23. Limitations of Actions.

1. Any claim or request for credit or refund must be filed within four (4) years of the date the taxes from which such refund or credit is claimed or requested were due and not afterward.

c. Except for a claim or request for refund or credit, for any period for which a return is not filed.

5. The issuance of a notice of assessment shall commence a cause of action for collection of any amounts stated in the notice as well as any penalties and interest which may later be added to such amounts for purposes of any civil statute of limitations which may apply to the collection of such amounts.

6. The filing of a written request for refund or credit with the Commission shall commence a cause of action for a return of such amount claimed as well as any interest applicable to such amount for purposes of any civil statute of limitations which may apply to the collection of such refund so long as such request for refund is diligently pursued.

Section 12-3-24. Prohibition of Suits. No suit to restrain the assessment and collection of any tax imposed by this Title or any other law of the Tribe shall be maintained in any court by any person, whether or not such person is the one on whom such taxes were assessed.

Section 12-3-25. Sovereign Immunity in Enforcement.

1. Except for valid judicial review of a decision of the Commission as provided in this Title, nothing in this Title shall be construed as limiting, waiving or abrogating the sovereignty or the sovereign immunity of the Commission or any of its agents, officers, officials, personnel or employees.

2. An action brought or taken by the Commission, including without limitation the bringing of suit for the collection of taxes or fines or enjoining a business, activity or function, shall not constitute a waiver of sovereign immunity as to any counterclaim, regardless of whether the asserted counterclaim arises out of the same transaction or occurrence or in any other respect.

3. No economic enterprise of the Tribe may claim sovereign immunity as a defense to any action brought or taken by the Commission, including a suit for the collection of taxes or fines or enjoining a business, activity or function of such economic enterprise and, to the extent necessary, the Tribe waives the sovereign immunity of its economic enterprises in any action brought or taken by the Commission against such economic enterprise.

2. Any seller operating two (2) or more places of business shall file a consolidated return covering all such places of business.

5. "Operator" means any person operating a hotel, including, but not limited to, the owner, proprietor, lessee, sub-lessee, and mortgagee in possession, licensee, or any other person otherwise operating such hotel or entitled to receive consideration for the use of space in a hotel.

Section 12-9-3. Tax Imposed.

1. For the privilege of conducting a hotel business and the privilege of use and occupancy of a hotel in the territory of the Tribe, there is levied and there shall be collected a tax at the rate set by the Tribal Council as provided in this Title, but initially at the rate of seven percent (7%), upon the gross consideration charged for occupancy of any space furnished by any hotel located on Tribal lands.

2. Every operator shall collect the tax imposed by this Chapter from the occupant. Until collected by the operator, such tax shall constitute a debt owed to the operator from the occupant and shall be recoverable as such. Whether collected or not, the tax shall constitute a debt of the operator owed to the Tribe and collectible by the Tribe as such.

3. For any occupancy of any space in a hotel consummated by trade, barter, or exchange of anything other than money, the amount of gross consideration from such occupancy for computing the tax imposed by this Chapter shall be the fair market value of the space furnished.

Section 12-9-4. Exemptions.

1. In computing the amount of tax imposed by this Chapter, an operator shall deduct from the amount of gross consideration and shall not collect lodging tax on the following:

a. Space furnished to the Tribe or any of its agencies or departments;

b. Space furnished to the government of a state or another federally recognized Indian tribe when the state or tribe grants a reciprocal exemption to the Tribe and its agencies and departments; or

c. The provision of complimentary space in a hotel.

2. In computing the amount of lodging tax due under this Chapter, an operator shall deduct from the amount of tax due the amount of tax actually paid by the operator to a state or territory of another federally recognized Indian tribe when such state or tribe grants a reciprocal exclusion or an exemption to similar transactions in the territory of the Tribe.

Section 12-9-5. Tax as Additional Tax. The tax imposed by this Chapter shall be in addition to all other taxes imposed by the Tribe or another jurisdiction.

Section 12-9-6. Legal Incidence of Tax. Without limiting the liability of an occupant to pay the tax to the operator, the legal incidence of the tax imposed by the Chapter shall be on the hotel and operator.

Section 12-9-7. Tax Stated Separately.

1. Each operator shall state the tax imposed by this Chapter separately from the gross consideration on any receipt, invoice, or other instrument recording the transaction or occupancy. If the operator does not state the tax separately on the instrument recording the transaction, then the operator shall account for the tax separately in the operator's records of the transaction.

2. In computing the tax imposed by this Chapter, the amount of gross consideration for occupancy of any space in a hotel shall be conclusively presumed to be the price quoted in any price list, rental document, contract, or other agreement between the operator and occupant without tax unless the operator advertises the price as including the tax imposed by this Chapter.

Section 12-9-8. License.

1. Any person who engages in operating a hotel on Tribal lands shall be required to first obtain a lodging tax license from the Commission. If a person operates hotels at two or more separate places of business on Tribal lands, a separate lodging tax license shall be required for each place of business.

2. A lodging tax license shall be granted or renewed only upon application stating the name and address of the person desiring such a license, the name of the hotel and the location, including the street number of such hotel, and such other facts as the Commission may require.

3. A lodging tax license issued by the Commission shall be in force and effect for one (1) year following the date it is issued, unless sooner revoked.

4. The Commission, after at least ten (10) days notice and a full hearing, may revoke the lodging tax license of any person found by the Commission to have violated any provision of this Chapter or any other provision of this Title with respect to the tax imposed by this Chapter.

5. Any person liable for the tax imposed by this Chapter who fails to obtain a lodging tax license under this Section or who continues to operate a hotel after such license has been revoked shall forfeit his or her right to operate a hotel on Tribal lands until he or she complies with all of the provisions of this Title.

Section 12-9-9. Return.

1. Any operator subject to the tax imposed by this Chapter shall, on or before the twentieth (20th) day following the end of each calendar month, complete a return for the preceding month, on a form prescribed by the Commission, showing the entire amount of gross consideration received for its hotel, the allowable deductions, and the amount of tax for which the operator is liable. The return shall be signed by the operator or its duly authorized agent and, if applicable, the person and/or firm preparing the return.

2. Any operator operating two (2) or more hotels shall file a consolidated return covering all such hotels.

3. No return need be filed by any operator who is exempt under this Chapter, provided that the Commission may require such operator to file the information necessary to establish his or her exempt status.

Section 12-9-10. Payment. An operator shall remit the amount of tax due under this Chapter with its return and such tax shall be due at the time the return is due.

5. In this Section, "expenses" means all costs and expenses reasonably related to a proceeding, including attorney's fees, and any judgment or penalty, or settlement payment in lieu thereof, paid in connection with a proceeding against an owner or manager in such capacity.

6. A business entity may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an owner or manager against liability asserted against or incurred by the owner or manager in that capacity or arising from that status even if the organizational documents could not eliminate or limit the owner's or manager's liability to the business entity for the conduct giving rise to the liability.

Such Tribal business entities and their directors, officers, managers, and employees shall be entitled to all of the privileges and immunities enjoyed by the Tribe, including but not limited to, immunity from suit and other judicial process in Tribal, federal, and state courts and federal, state, and local taxation or regulation.

5. Nothing in this Title shall be construed as creating any liability or waiving of sovereign immunity of the Tribe in any manner, provided that the assets of a Tribal business entity may be subject to liabilities and claims except where otherwise provided in this Chapter or other law of the Tribe. In no event shall any action taken by the Tribe as an owner with respect to a Tribal business entity be construed as a waiver of immunity or creation of a liability on the part of the Tribe separate and apart from its interests as an owner of the Tribal business entity.

6. No Tribal business entity may claim sovereign immunity as a defense or bar to any action brought or taken by the Tribe in any capacity or, in the case of a subsidiary of a Tribal business at any level, its parent Tribal business entity acting as owner.

Section 14-4-7. Waivers of Sovereign Immunity.

1. A Tribal business entity may specifically grant a limited waiver of its immunity from suit and consent to be sued in Tribal Court or another court of competent jurisdiction or consent to binding arbitration only in accordance with the provisions of its public organizational documents, subject to the following:

a. The waiver or consent to suit shall be in writing in a written contract or agreement to which the Tribal business entity is a full party;

b. The language of the waiver shall explicitly limit the waiver to a specific dollar amount not to exceed the dollar amount of the contract or agreement or to other specific, limited non-monetary relief;

c. The waiver or consent shall not be general, but shall be specific and limited as to:

i. The party for whose benefit the waiver or consent is granted;

ii. The duration of the waiver or consent;

iii. The transaction and claims or classes of claims for which the waiver or consent is granted;

iv. The property of the Tribal business entity which may be subject to execution to satisfy any judgment which may be entered;

v. Whether court action, arbitration, mediation, other alternative dispute resolution, or combination of the foregoing is authorized, the requirements and procedures for initiating mediation or arbitration, if applicable, and, if the waiver or consent includes court other than the Tribal Court, the court in which an action may be brought; and

vi. The law to be applied in any action pursuant to the waiver or consent, provided the application of such law shall not permit or allow any violation of the laws of the Tribe applicable to such Tribal business entity;

d. The board of directors of the Tribal business entity or, in the absence of a board of directors, the owner's board of directors, must adopt a resolution for the specific purpose of approving and granting the waiver or consent;

e. Any waiver or consent to suit shall be strictly limited to the terms of such waiver or consent to suit;

f. Any contract or agreement containing written language of any such waiver or consent to suit shall be reviewed and approved by an attorney representing the Tribe or the Tribal business entity prior to the execution of such contract or agreement;

g. Any such waiver or consent to suit shall in no manner or way extend to any action against the Tribe or be deemed a waiver of any of the rights, privileges, or immunities of the Tribe;

h. Any recovery against the Tribal business entity shall be limited to the assets of the Tribal business entity or such portion of the assets of the Tribal business entity authorized in the waiver or consent; and

i. The Tribe shall not be liable for the payment or performance of any of the obligations of the Tribal business entity and no recourse shall be had or allowed against any assets or revenues of the Tribe in order to satisfy the obligations of the Tribal business entity, including assets of the Tribe leased, loaned, or otherwise assigned without transfer of title to the Tribal business entity for its use.

2. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, a purported waiver of sovereign immunity or consent to be sued in any court or resolve disputes by any means or in any tribunal shall not be valid and shall be void unless it complies with the provisions of this Section.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section, a Tribal business entity may specifically grant a limited waiver of its immunity from suit for participation in a federal program to the extent and in the manner required by federal regulations governing such program.

Section 14-4-8. Management.

1. Except in the case of a partnership, a Tribal business entity formed pursuant to the laws of the Tribe where the Tribe or a Tribal governmental entity is an owner shall be managed by a board of directors in the manner described in the Tribal business entity's public organizational documents in accordance with the following:

a. The qualifications, number, terms, and method for selecting and removing directors of the Tribal business entity shall be specified in the Tribal business entity's public organizational documents, subject to requirements set forth in this Chapter; and

b. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in its organizational documents, the Tribal Council shall have the power to appoint and remove the directors of all Tribal business entities wholly owned by the Tribe, provided that the public organizational documents may modify or limit the appointment and removal of directors serving in an ex-officio capacity.

2. A subsidiary of a Tribal business entity at any level formed pursuant to the laws of the Tribe may be managed by the owner or a manager as designated in the subsidiary's public organizational documents in accordance with the following:

3. The board of directors of any Tribal business entity which has a board of directors shall be composed of members of the Tribal Council, members of the Tribe, and/or individuals experienced in business and Tribal government.

4. In addition to any other requirements set forth in its public organizational documents, the directors of a Tribal business entity shall meet the following requirements, provided that the public organizational documents may provide different requirements for directors serving in an ex-officio capacity:

a. Be at least twenty-five (25) years of age;

b. Possess at least a bachelor's degree or possess a high school diploma or a equivalency diploma plus at least five (5) years of business, financial, legal, government contracting, or industry experience;

c. Not have been convicted or pled guilty or no contest to any felony in any jurisdiction;

e. Be willing and able to perform the director's duties in compliance with the laws of the Tribe;

f. Not be an employee of the Tribal business entity or any of its subsidiaries, provided that an employee may be selected as a director on the condition the employee shall resign as an employee upon commencement of service as a director; and

g. Submit to a background investigation for purposes of determining the director's qualifications for appointment.

5. The owner's determination as to whether an individual is qualified to be a director of a Tribal business entity, including whether the conviction, pleading guilty or no contest to, or admission to committing a particular crime or civil violation disqualifies an individual under this Section, shall be final and not subject to appeal, review, challenge, or other action in any court or tribunal, including the Tribal Court.

6. Except as otherwise expressly provided in its public organizational documents, a director of a Tribal business entity may be removed with or without cause by the owner. For purposes of this subsection, "cause" shall include:

- a. Breach of a fiduciary duty;
- b. Conviction or pleading guilty or no contest to a felony in any jurisdiction;

- h. Dissatisfaction with the performance of the director or the Tribal business entity; or
- i. The happening of any event which would have made the director ineligible for appointment if the event had occurred prior to appointment.

7. Unless otherwise expressly provided in the public organizational documents of a Tribal business entity:

- a. No person who has served as a director may appeal or challenge his or her removal in any court or tribunal, including the Tribal Court; and
- b. The owner's decision to remove a director of a Tribal business entity shall be solely within the discretion and determination of the owner and shall not be subject to appeal, review, challenge, or other action in any court or tribunal, including the Tribal Court.

8. All managers and officers of Tribal business entities owe fiduciary duties to the Tribal business entity and the owner. In addition to any other requirements of a business entity governing the conduct of its business, carrying on its operations, and having and exercising its powers, a Tribal business entity and its managers and officers, as part of their fiduciary duties, shall consider the effects of any action or inaction on the interests of the Tribe and its members and not take any action or fail to act on any matter which would be detrimental to the interests of the Tribe and its members.

9. Unless otherwise provided in its organizational documents, a director of a Tribal business entity may resign by delivering a written resignation to the board of directors or owner and shall be effective upon receipt, unless the resignation states otherwise.

10. For purposes of this Section, "owner" includes the Tribal Council, a board, commission, or other body overseeing a Tribal governmental entity, and board of directors of a Tribal business entity acting as the representative of or on behalf of the owner of the Tribal business entity.

11. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, a Tribal business entity shall not lend any money to or guarantee the personal debts or obligations of any manager, director, officer, or employee of the Tribal business entity under any circumstances.

Section 14-4-9. Voting of Owners.

1. The ownership interests in all Tribal business entities where the Tribe is an owner and any action which the Tribe is required or permitted to take with respect to any vote, approval, consent, appointment, direction, or other matter with respect to such Tribal business entities shall be voted in accordance with the Tribal Council's procedures for voting and passing motions or resolutions.

2. The ownership interests in a Tribal business entity in which a Tribal governmental entity is an owner or a subsidiary of a Tribal business entity at any level and any action which the owner is required or permitted to take with respect to any vote, approval, consent, appointment, direction, or other matter with respect to such Tribal business entities shall be voted as provided in the subsidiary's public organizational documents.

3. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the organizational documents of a Tribal business entity, the affirmative vote, approval, or consent of the owner shall be required for any Tribal business entity to do any of the following:

a. Adopt, amend, restate, or revoke the Tribal business entity's public organizational documents;

b. Issue an interest in the Tribal business entity to any person;

c. Except in the case of a mortgage, pledge, or other grant a security interest, sell, exchange, or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of the assets of the Tribal business entity;

Section 14-4-10. Meetings of Owner.

1. Unless otherwise provided in its public organizational documents, each Tribal business entity in which the Tribe is an owner shall hold an annual meeting of the owner at such time and place designated in the public organizational documents of the Tribal business entity or, if not stated therein, by the Tribal Council for any purpose and the board of directors of the Tribal business entity, if such board exists, shall attend the annual meeting.

2. Unless otherwise provided in its public organizational documents or prohibited by a law of the Tribe other than this Title, the Tribal Council, acting as owner, may call special meetings of the owner for any purpose and may require that the board of directors of a Tribal business entity in which the Tribe is an owner, if such board exists, attend the special meeting.

Section 14-4-11. Manager as Agent. No board of directors or other manager of a Tribal business entity shall have the authority to bind the Tribe in any manner, provided that the Tribe's interest as an owner may be bound by such board of directors or other manager as provided in the laws of the Tribe other than this Chapter or the public organizational documents of the Tribal business entity.

Section 14-4-12. Liability to Third Parties.

1. Notwithstanding any provision of any law or its organizational documents to the contrary:

a. A debt, obligation, or other liability of a Tribal business entity, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise, is solely the debt, obligation, or other liability of the Tribal business entity and may only be enforced, to the extent permitted by law, against the assets or revenues of the Tribal business entity;

b. The Tribe is not liable, directly or indirectly, by way of contribution or otherwise, for a debt, obligation, or other liability of a Tribal business entity solely by reason of being or acting as an owner; and

c. No recourse shall be had or allowed against any assets or revenues of the Tribe in order to satisfy the debts, obligations, or other liabilities of a Tribal business entity, including assets of the Tribe leased, loaned, or otherwise assigned without transfer of title to the Tribal business entity for its use; and

d. The failure of a Tribal business entity to observe formalities relating to the exercise of its powers or management of its activities and affairs is not a ground for imposing liability on the Tribe for a debt, obligation, or other liability of the Tribal business entity.

2. Notwithstanding any provision of law or its organizational documents to the contrary, no Tribal business entity shall have the power to pledge or encumber the assets or revenues of the Tribe. The Tribe, as owner, may pledge, encumber, or consent to recourse against the assets or revenues of the Tribe if and only if such pledge, encumbrance, or consent is contained in a written resolution of the Tribal Council specifically identifying both:

a. The assets or revenues pledged, encumbered, or subject to recourse; and

b. The specific debt, obligation, or liability of the Tribal business entity for which such assets or revenues are pledged, encumbered, or subject to recourse.

3. The Tribe is not a proper party to a proceeding by or against a Tribal business entity solely by reason of being an owner, except if the action is brought by the Tribe.

4. This Section applies regardless of the type of business entity of the Tribal business entity and regardless of the dissolution of the Tribal business entity.

Section 14-4-13. Property of Tribal Business Entities.

1. Except where the title to such property is retained by or in the name of the Tribe, all property transferred to a Tribal business entity is property of the Tribal business entity and not the Tribe.

2. Except as provided otherwise in this Section or law of the Tribe other than this Chapter:

a. All property acquired by a Tribal business entity in its name is property of the Tribal business entity and not the Tribe; and

b. Property acquired with funds of a Tribal business entity is presumed to be property of the Tribal business entity.

3. Except as otherwise provided in its public organizational documents, whenever a Tribal business entity purchases lands or otherwise acquires or obtains title to lands located within the territory of the Tribe:

a. Such lands may be purchased, acquired, or obtained in the name of the Tribe or in the name of the Tribal business entity, provided that the Tribal Council may direct in whose name a particular piece or parcel of land shall be purchased, acquired, or obtained;

b. Any such lands purchased, acquired, or obtained in the name of the Tribe shall be property of the Tribe and not the Tribal business entity regardless of the source of funds used to acquire such lands;

c. Any such lands purchased, acquired, or obtained in the name of the Tribe shall be deemed assigned to the Tribal business entity for its exclusive use and management in accordance with the laws of the Tribe for the purposes of the Tribal business entity;

d. Unless the Tribal Council directs otherwise, the Tribal business entity shall pay, be responsible for, and indemnify the Tribe for the payment of any such lands purchased, acquired, or obtained in the name of the Tribe and any taxes, assessments, or other fees related to any such lands purchased, acquired, or obtained in the name of the Tribe or their purchase, acquisition, or obtainment unless and until the Tribal business entity relinquishes the assignment and use of such lands to the Tribe;

e. Notwithstanding that any lands of the Tribal business entity are acquired in the name of the Tribe pursuant to this subsection, unless the Tribal Council directs otherwise, if funds of the Tribal business entity are used to purchase, acquire, or obtain the lands, the Tribal business entity shall have the authority to sell, transfer, or otherwise alienate any such lands not held in trust for the Tribe by the United States or otherwise subject to a restriction against alienation and retain any income or revenues from such sale, transfer, or alienation.

Section 14-4-14. Interest in Business Entities.

1. All interests in any Tribal business entity shall be held by and for the Tribe or, in the case of a subsidiary of a Tribal business entity at any level, by the parent Tribal business entity. No individual member of the Tribe shall have any personal ownership interest in any Tribal business entity, whether by virtue of such person's status as a member of the Tribe, as an officer of the Tribe or its government, or otherwise.

2. No ownership interest of the Tribe in any Tribal business entity may be alienated or encumbered, expressly or by operation of law, unless expressly approved by a duly adopted resolution of the Tribal Council.

3. No ownership interest in any subsidiary of a Tribal business entity at any level may be alienated or encumbered, expressly or by operation of law, unless expressly approved by a duly adopted resolution of the board of directors of the parent Tribal business entity.

Section 14-4-15. Reports. In addition to any reports required by the laws of the Tribe or the organizational documents of a Tribal business entity, the board of directors of each Tribal business entity in which the Tribe is an owner shall submit the following information to the Tribal Council:

1. Promptly after such statements are furnished to the board of directors, copies of any periodic financial statements, including monthly or quarterly balance sheets, profit and loss statements, and cash flow statements, as may be prepared in the ordinary course of business;

2. Within one hundred twenty (120) days after the close of each fiscal year, a full report of the activities of the Tribal business entity;

3. Within one hundred twenty (120) days after the close of each fiscal year, a proposed annual plan for the following fiscal year, including any proposed funding from the Tribe or anticipated distributions to the Tribe; and

4. Unless otherwise provided in its public organizational documents, such other reports from time to time as reasonably requested by the Tribal Council.

Section 14-4-16. Audits. In addition to any rights of inspection provided in the laws of the Tribe to owners of business entities and in the public organizational documents of a Tribal business entity, the Tribal Council may, at any time, by process set forth in such law of the Tribe or the public organizational documents, require that any Tribal business entity be audited by an independent auditor hired by the Tribe who shall have the absolute right to require access to all of the Tribal business entity's records and documents necessary for such an audit.

Section 14-4-17. Distributions.

1. Subject to the Tribe's ultimate ownership right to all income generated by Tribal business entities, a Tribal business entity wholly owned by the Tribe shall distribute its net income to the Tribe as set forth in a dividend plan adopted in accordance with the Tribal business entity's public organizational documents and approved by the Tribal Council, except that a Tribal business entity may retain reserves necessary to carry on its business in a reasonably prudent manner and as recommended by the board of directors, subject to any additional limitations set forth in the laws of the Tribe governing the Tribal business entity and its public organizational documents.

2. Subject to the Tribe's or Tribal governmental entity's ultimate ownership right to all income generated by Tribal business entities owned by a Tribal governmental entity, a Tribal business entity wholly owned by a Tribal governmental entity shall distribute its net income to the Tribe or Tribal governmental entity as set forth in a dividend plan adopted in accordance with the Tribal business entity's public organizational documents and approved by the owner, except that the Tribal business entity may retain reserves necessary to carry on its business in a reasonably prudent manner and as recommended by the board of directors, subject to any additional limitations set forth in the laws of the Tribe governing the Tribal business entity and its public organizational documents.

3. Subject to the parent Tribal business entity's ultimate ownership right to all income generated by its subsidiaries, a subsidiary of a Tribal business entity shall distribute its net income to the parent Tribal business entity as set forth in a dividend plan adopted in accordance with its public organizational documents and duly approved by its parent Tribal business entity, except that a subsidiary may retain reserves necessary to carry on the subsidiary's business in a reasonably prudent manner and as recommended by its board of directors or other manager, subject to any additional limitations set forth in the laws of the Tribe governing the subsidiary and its public organizational documents.

4. When any income or assets of a Tribal business entity are distributed or otherwise transferred to the Tribe, Tribal governmental entity, or, in the case of a subsidiary, its parent Tribal business entity, such income and assets shall cease being income or assets of the Tribal business entity and shall become income and assets of the Tribe, Tribal governmental entity, or, in the case of subsidiary, its parent Tribal business entity, and shall not be subject to any attachment or other process which may reach the income or assets of the Tribal business entity.

Section 14-4-18. Actions By Owner.

1. The Tribe or Tribal governmental entity, as owner of any Tribal business entity, or the parent Tribal business entity, acting as owner of any of its subsidiaries, may bring a civil action against the Tribal business entity to:

a. Enjoin temporarily or permanently any action of the Tribal business entity that:

i. Is outside the authority of the Tribal business entity;

ii. Has caused or could cause material harm to the assets of the Tribal business entity, the Tribe, or owner if no immediate action is taken; or

iii. Is otherwise unlawful; or

b. Require the distribution of the Tribal business entity's surplus net income to the extent permitted by its public organizational documents, this Chapter, or other law of the Tribe governing the Tribal business entity.

2. The filing of any action against a Tribal business entity pursuant to this Section must be authorized by the Tribe or Tribal governmental entity as owner or, in the case of a subsidiary, the parent Tribal business entity in the manner provided in this Chapter for voting of the owner, provided that the request for consideration of the proposed court action may be made by any member of the Tribal Council, the board, commission, or other body of the Tribal governmental entity that is an owner, or, in the case of a subsidiary, any member of the board of directors of the parent Tribal business entity.

3. In any action brought under this Section, the Tribal Court may, based on a preponderance of the evidence:

a. Issue a declaratory judgment, temporary restraining order, preliminary injunction, permanent injunction, or other appropriate relief pursuant to and in accordance with the laws of the Tribe governing the same, except that no bond, obligation, or other security shall be required from the Tribe, Tribal governmental entity, or, in the case of an action against a subsidiary, parent Tribal business entity; or

b. Order that funds of the Tribal business entity be distributed to the extent permitted by its public organizational documents, this Chapter, or other law of the Tribe governing the Tribal business entity.

4. An action against Tribal business entity pursuant to this Section by the Tribe, a Tribal governmental entity, or a parent Tribal business entity acting as owner shall not act as a waiver of the Tribe's, the Tribal governmental entity's, or the parent Tribal business entity's sovereign immunity from suit of any kind nor otherwise authorize a suit of any kind, including a countersuit or counterclaim by the Tribal business entity, its board of directors or other manager, or its officers.

5. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe.

CHAPTER 6
FOREIGN BUSINESS ENTITIES

Section 14-6-1. Governing Law.

1. The law of the jurisdiction of formation of a foreign business entity governs:

a. The internal affairs of the foreign business entity; and

b. The liability that a person has as an owner, director, officer, or manager for a debt, obligation, or liability of the foreign business entity.

2. A foreign business entity is not precluded from registering to do business in the territory of the Tribe because of any difference between the law of its jurisdiction of formation and the laws of the Tribe.

3. Registration of a foreign business entity to do business in the territory of the Tribe does not:

a. Grant any rights and privileges greater than a domestic business entity; or

b. Authorize the foreign business entity to engage in any activities and affairs or exercise any power that a domestic business entity may not engage in or exercise in the territory of the Tribe.

4. This Section applies even if a foreign business entity fails to register under this Chapter.

Section 14-6-2. Registration.

1. A foreign business entity may not do business in the territory of the Tribe until it registers with the Office of the Secretary under this Chapter.

2. A foreign business entity doing business in the territory of the Tribe may not maintain an action or proceeding in the territory of the Tribe or regarding a business transaction in the territory of the Tribe or with the Tribe or its members, including in the Tribal Court, unless it is registered to do business in the territory of the Tribe.

3. No waiver of sovereign immunity by the Tribe, consent to jurisdiction in any court or tribunal, including the Tribal Court, or agreement to arbitrate or otherwise submit a dispute to arbitration asserted or claimed by, or purportedly granted in favor of, a foreign business entity doing business in the territory of the Tribe or with the Tribe or its members shall be valid or enforceable unless the foreign business entity is registered to do business in the territory of the Tribe.

4. Neither the successor to a foreign business entity that does business in the territory of the Tribe without registering under this Chapter nor the assignee of a cause of action arising out of that business may maintain an action or proceeding based on that cause of action in the territory of the Tribe, including the Tribal Court, unless the foreign business entity or its successor or assignee is registered to do business in the territory of the Tribe.

5. The Tribal Court shall dismiss any action or proceeding maintained by a foreign business entity or any successor or assignee thereof which is not registered under this Chapter, provided that the Tribal Court may stay such action or proceeding until the foreign business entity, successor, or assignee is registered pursuant to this Title if the foreign business entity, successor, or assignee requests such a stay and represents that it will obtain such registration.

6. The failure of a foreign business entity to register to do business in the territory of the Tribe does not:

a. Impair the validity of a contract or act of the foreign business entity or its title to any property in the territory of the Tribe;

b. Affect the right of any person to maintain an action or proceeding against the foreign business entity; or

c. Preclude the foreign business entity from defending an action or proceeding in the territory of the Tribe, including the Tribal Court.

7. A limitation on the liability of an owner, officer, director, or manager of a foreign business entity is not waived solely because the foreign business entity does business in the territory of the Tribe without registering to do business in the territory of the Tribe.

8. The provisions of this Section shall supersede any contrary provision of any contract or agreement and no provision of a contract or agreement which purports to exempt or avoid the provisions of this Section shall be valid, including a provision of a contract or agreement providing for:

a. A particular law to govern the contract or agreement;

b. A particular law to be utilized for the construction or interpretation of the contract or agreement; or rights provided to them under the plan of division and to any appraisal rights they have under the laws of the Tribe.

2. Except as otherwise provided in the law of the jurisdiction of formation or organizational documents of the dividing entity, the division does not give rise to any rights that an owner, manager, or third party would have upon a dissolution, liquidation, or winding-up of the dividing entity.

3. When a division becomes effective, a foreign business entity that is a resulting entity may be served with process in the territory of the Tribe for the collection and enforcement of any of its debts, obligations, and other liabilities as provided in this Title.

4. If the dividing entity is a qualified foreign business entity, its authority, registration, or other qualification to do business in the territory of the Tribe is canceled when the division becomes effective if the foreign business entity does not survive the division.

Section 14-11-8. Allocation of Obligations.

1. Except as provided in this Section, when a division becomes effective, each resulting entity is liable, jointly and severally, with the other resulting entities for the obligations of the dividing entity that existed immediately before the effectiveness of the division, and all those obligations of the dividing entity are automatically obligations of each resulting entity without assignment, assumption, or delegation.

2. A resulting entity is not liable for an obligation of the dividing entity if and to the extent:

a. The obligee has consented in writing to the obligations being allocated to, or continuing to be the obligation of, one or more of the other resulting entities and the plan of division states that the obligation is being allocated to, or will continue to be the obligation of, those entities, or those entities have otherwise expressly assumed the obligation;

b. A court or other tribunal of competent jurisdiction or a governmental agency having jurisdiction as to the matter has issued an order, finding, rule, regulation, or other ruling that has become final and non-appealable and in which the obligation is deemed to be allocated to, or to continue to be the obligation of, one or more of the other resulting entities;

c. Recourse regarding the obligation is, by contract or by law, limited to an asset of one or more of the other resulting entities; or

d. Recourse regarding the obligation is, by contract or by law, limited to one or more of the other resulting entities.

3. A resulting entity may enter into agreements or other arrangements for purposes of mitigating risks associated with the entity's liability for an obligation of the dividing entity. The agreements or arrangements may be entered into with one or more of the other resulting entities or with third parties. The agreements or arrangements may include indemnification, contribution, guaranty, insurance, offset, loan, investment, or any other lawful means of dealing with the risks associated with the liability for the obligation.

4. Unless the obligee has otherwise agreed or consented, liens, security interests, and other encumbrances on the property of the dividing entity are not impaired by the division regardless of:

a. Whether that property has become the property of a resulting entity that is not the dividing entity;

b. The dividing entity is one of the resulting entities; and

c. Any otherwise enforceable allocation of obligations of the dividing entity.

5. If the dividing entity is bound by a security agreement and the security agreement provides that the security interest attaches to after-acquired collateral, each resulting entity is bound by the security agreement unless the secured party has otherwise agreed or consented.

6. For purposes of and notwithstanding any provision of the law of the jurisdiction of formation of the dividing entity or any resulting entity, the division is deemed not to be a dividend or other distribution by the dividing entity or any resulting entity.

Section 14-11-9. Ineffectiveness of Division Due to Foreign Law.

1. If a statement of division is filed with the Office of the Secretary involving a foreign business entity but the division is not authorized by the law of the relevant foreign jurisdiction as required by this Chapter, the division is ineffective.

4. The business entity that attempted the division is both:

a. Responsible to any other person for any obligation incurred by that person that arises out of or relates to the ineffectiveness of the attempted division, unless the business entity establishes that the obligation was not incurred in good faith; and

b. Deemed to have appointed the Office of the Secretary as its agent for service of process for any action arising under this Section unless the business entity is a domestic business entity or a qualified foreign business entity.

5. If they were acting in good faith, the business entity that attempted the division and its owners, managers, or other representatives are not civilly or criminally liable and may not be found guilty in connection with an ineffective division under any laws of the Tribe pertaining to:

a. The filing of a false or otherwise misleading or inaccurate document;

b. The making of a false or otherwise misleading or inaccurate statement; or

1. Upon formation of a limited liability company, a person becomes an owner:

a. As agreed upon the formation of the limited liability company; or

b. Unless the articles of organization or operating agreement provide otherwise, by acquiring an interest in the limited liability company.

2. After the formation of a limited liability company, a person becomes an owner:

a. As provided in the operating agreement;

b. As the result of a merger, interest exchange, conversion, or domestication;

c. With the affirmative vote or consent of all the owners;

d. Unless the articles of organization or operating agreement provide otherwise, by acquiring an interest in the limited liability company; or

e. If the person acquires an interest in the limited liability company by assignment, as provided in the operating agreement or this Title.

3. A person may become an owner of a limited liability company without:

- a. Acquiring a transferable interest; or
- b. Making or being obligated to make a contribution to the limited liability company.

Section 15-3-2. Dissociation.

1. A person ceases to be an owner of a limited liability company and is dissociated as an owner when:

a. Unless the operating agreement provides that the person does not have the power to voluntarily withdraw, the person voluntarily withdraws as an owner and the limited liability company knows or has notice of the person's express will to withdraw as an owner, provided the person may designate a date of withdrawal as owner;

b. An event stated in the operating agreement as causing the person's dissociation occurs;

c. The person is expelled as an owner pursuant to the operating agreement or this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the limited liability company;

d. The person is expelled as an owner by the affirmative vote or consent of all the other owners if:

i. It is unlawful to carry on the limited liability company's activities and affairs with the person as an owner; or

ii. There has been a transfer of all the person's transferable interest in the limited liability company, other than a transfer for security purposes;

e. Unless provided otherwise in the operating agreement or by the written consent of all owners, the person:

i. Becomes a debtor in bankruptcy;

ii. Signs an assignment for the benefit of creditors; or

iii. Seeks, consents to, or acquiesces in the appointment of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator of the person or of all or substantially all the person's property;

f. The person is an entity and:

i. Has filed a statement of dissolution or the equivalent;

ii. Has been administratively dissolved or the equivalent;

iii. Had its charter or the equivalent revoked;

iv. Had its right to conduct business suspended in its jurisdiction of formation; or

v. Has been liquidated;

g. If the person is a trust or estate, the trust's or estate's entire transferable interest in the limited liability company is distributed;

h. On application by the limited liability company or an owner in an action brought in Tribal Court, the person is expelled as an owner by order of the Tribal Court because the person:

i. Has engaged or is engaging in wrongful conduct that has affected adversely and materially, or will affect adversely and materially, the limited liability company's activities and affairs;

ii. Has committed willfully or persistently, or is committing willfully or persistently, a material breach of the operating agreement, this Title, other law of the Tribe applicable to the limited liability company, or a duty or obligation to the limited liability company; or

iii. Has engaged or is engaging in conduct relating to the limited liability company's activities and affairs which makes it not reasonably practicable to carry on the activities and affairs with the person as an owner;

i. Unless provided otherwise in the operating agreement or by the written consent of all owners, in the case of an individual:

i. The individual dies;

ii. A guardian or general conservator for the individual is appointed; or

iii. A court orders that the individual has otherwise become incapable of performing the individual's duties as an owner under this Title or the operating agreement;

j. In the case of a person that is not an individual, the existence of the person terminates;

k. The limited liability company participates in a merger, interest exchange, conversion, or domestication under Title XIV of this Code and:

i. The limited liability company does not survive the transaction; or

ii. Otherwise as a result of the transaction, the person ceases to be an owner; or

l. The limited liability company dissolves and completes winding up.

2. The operating agreement may provide for other events which result in a person ceasing to be an owner of the limited liability company.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, upon notice of a merger, interest exchange, conversion, or division of the limited liability company, an owner who did not vote in favor of the merger, interest exchange, conversion, or division may, within twenty (20) days after receipt of the notice, voluntarily dissociate from the limited liability company under this Section and receive any distribution and value for the owner's interest to which the owner would otherwise be entitled upon dissociation under this Title.

4. If a person is dissociated as an owner:

a. The person's right to participate as an owner in the management and conduct of the limited liability company's activities and affairs terminates;

b. The person's duties and obligations as an owner end with regard to matters arising and events occurring after the person's dissociation; and

c. Subject to the provisions of this Chapter and any other law of the Tribe applicable to the limited liability company, any transferable interest owned by the person in the person's capacity as an owner immediately before dissociation is owned by the person solely as a transferee.

5. In addition to pursuing any remedies otherwise available under the operating agreement or applicable law, if a person has the power to withdraw as an owner, but the withdrawal is a breach of the operating agreement, the limited liability company may offset the damages against the amount otherwise distributable to the owner.

6. A person's dissociation as an owner does not of itself discharge the person from any debt, obligation, or other liability to the limited liability company or the other owners which the person incurred while an owner.

7. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe as owner or as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereign immunity of the Tribe.

Section 15-3-3. Management.

1. A limited liability company is an owner-managed limited liability company unless the articles or organization or operating agreement vests management in one or more managers.

2. Subject to the provisions of this Title and the operating agreement, in an owner-managed limited liability company, the following rules apply:

a. Except as expressly provided in this Title, the management and conduct of the limited liability company are vested in the owners;

b. Each owner has equal rights in the management and conduct of the limited liability company's activities and affairs;

c. A difference arising among owners as to a matter in the ordinary course of the activities and affairs of the limited liability company may be decided by a majority of the owners; and

d. The affirmative vote or consent of all the owners is required to undertake an act outside the ordinary course of the activities and affairs of the limited liability company.

3. Subject to the provisions of this Title and the operating agreement, in a manager-managed limited liability company, the following rules apply:

a. Except as expressly provided in this Title, any matter relating to the activities and affairs of the limited liability company is decided exclusively by the manager or, if there is more than one manager, by a majority of the managers;

b. Each manager has equal rights in the management and conduct of the limited liability company's activities and affairs;

c. The affirmative vote or consent of all owners is required to undertake an act outside the ordinary course of the limited liability company's activities and affairs;

d. The manager or managers shall be designated, appointed, elected, removed, or replaced by a vote of a majority of the owners;

e. A manager remains a manager until a successor has been chosen, unless the manager at an earlier time resigns, is removed, or dies;

f. A person need not be an owner or an individual to be a manager; and

g. A person's ceasing to be a manager does not discharge any debt, obligation, or other liability to the limited liability company or owners which the person incurred while a manager.

4. An action requiring the vote or consent of owners under this Title may be taken without a meeting, and an owner that is not the Tribe may appoint a proxy or other agent to vote, consent, or otherwise act for the owner by signing an appointing record, personally or by the owner's agent.

5. The dissolution of a limited liability company does not affect the applicability of this Section. However, a person that wrongfully causes dissolution of the limited liability company loses the right to participate in management as an owner and a manager.

6. An owner is not entitled to remuneration for services performed for an owner-managed limited liability company, except for reasonable compensation for services rendered in winding up the activities of the limited liability company.

Section 15-3-4. Voting of Owners.

1. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, this Title, or other law of the Tribe applicable to the limited liability company, an affirmative vote, approval, or consent shall be required to decide any matter connected with the business of a limited liability company as follows:

a. In an owner-managed limited liability company, a majority in interest of the owners; and

b. In a manager-managed limited liability company, more than fifty percent (50%) of the managers.

2. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, this Title, or other law of the Tribe applicable to the limited liability company, the affirmative vote, approval, or consent of all owners shall be required to do any of the following:

a. Amend the articles of organization;

b. Issue an interest in the limited liability company to any person;

c. Adopt, amend, or revoke the operating agreement;

d. Allow the limited liability company to accept any additional contribution from an owner;

e. Allow a partial redemption of an interest in the limited liability company;

f. Value contributions of owners; or

g. Authorize a manager, owner, or other person to do any act on behalf of the limited liability company that contravenes the articles of organization or operating agreement.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, if any owner is precluded from voting with respect to a given matter, the interests in the limited liability company which the owner would otherwise have been entitled to vote shall be excluded from the total interests in the limited liability company for purposes of determining the majority in interest of the owners.

4. Unless otherwise provided in its operating agreement, this Title, or other law of the Tribe applicable to the limited liability company, if all or part of an interest in a limited liability company is assigned, the assigning owner shall be considered the owner of the assigned interest for purposes of determining the majority of interests in the limited liability company until the assignee of the interest becomes an owner.

Section 15-3-5. Action by Written Consent.

1. Unless the articles of organization or operating agreement require that action be taken only at an owners' meeting, any action that may be taken by the owners may be taken without a meeting if each owner entitled to vote on the action consents in writing to the action.

2. Consent under this Section may be withdrawn by an owner in writing at any time before the limited liability company receives a consent from each owner entitled to vote.

3. Consent to any action may specify the effective date or time of the action.

Section 15-3-6. Duties of Owners and Managers.

1. All owners and managers owe to the limited liability company and the owners fiduciary duties.

2. The fiduciary duties of an owner or manager include:

a. To act in a manner the owner or manager reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the limited liability company;

b. To discharge their duties with the care that a person in a like position would reasonably believe appropriate under similar circumstances;

c. To disclose, or cause to be disclosed, to the other owners or managers information not already known by them but known by the owner or manager to be material to the discharge of the decision-making or oversight functions of the owners or managers, unless disclosure would violate another duty imposed under applicable law, a legally enforceable obligation of confidentiality, or a professional ethics rule;

d. To account to the limited liability company and hold as trustee for it any property, profit, or benefit derived by the owner or manager:

i. In the conduct or winding up of the limited liability company's activities and affairs;

ii. From a use by the owner or manager of the limited liability company's property; or

iii. From the appropriation of a limited liability company opportunity;

e. To refrain from dealing with the limited liability company in the conduct or winding up of the limited liability company's activities and affairs as or on behalf of a person having an interest adverse to the limited liability company;

f. To refrain from competing with the limited liability company in the conduct of the limited liability company's activities and affairs before the dissolution of the limited liability company;

g. To refrain from engaging in grossly negligent or reckless conduct, willful or intentional misconduct, a violation of any law involving moral turpitude, or knowing violation of other applicable law;

h. To refrain from a willful failure to deal fairly with the limited liability company or its owners in connection with a matter in which the owner or manager has a material conflict of interest; and

i. To refrain from a transaction from which the owner or manager may derive an improper personal profit.

3. All owners and managers shall discharge their duties and obligations and exercise any rights under this Title, any other law of the Tribe applicable to the limited liability company, or the operating agreement consistently with the contractual obligation of good faith and fair dealing.

4. All the owners of a limited liability company may authorize or ratify, after full disclosure of all material facts, a specific act or transaction that otherwise would violate the fiduciary duties in this Section.

5. Every owner and manager shall account to the limited liability company and hold as trustee for it any improper personal profit derived by that owner or manager without the consent of a majority of the disinterested owners or managers from:

a. A transaction connected with the organization, conduct, or dissolution and winding up of the limited liability company; and

b. A use by an owner or manager of the property of the limited liability company, including confidential or proprietary information or other matters entrusted to the person as a result of the person's status as an owner or manager.

6. A limited liability company's operating agreement or other private organizational documents may impose duties on its owners and managers that are in addition to, but not in abrogation of, those provided in this Section.

Section 15-3-7. Owner or Manager as Agent. Subject to the effect of a statement of authority filed with the Office of the Secretary under the laws of the Tribe, the following rules apply:

1. In an owner-managed limited liability company:

a. Each owner is an agent of the limited liability company for the purpose of its business, but not of any of the other owners; and

b. The act of any owner, including the execution in the name of the limited liability company of an instrument for apparently carrying on the ordinary course of business of the limited liability company, binds the limited liability company in the particular matter unless the person with whom the owner is dealing knows or should know that the owner has no authority to act in the matter.

2. If the Tribe is an owner of a limited liability company, the Tribe's authority shall be exercised pursuant to Chapter 4 of Title XIV.

3. In a manager-managed limited liability company:

a. No owner, solely by being an owner, is an agent of the limited liability company or of the other owners;

b. Each manager is an agent of the limited liability company for the purpose of its business, but not for the owners; and

c. The act of any manager, including the execution in the name of the limited liability company of an instrument for apparently carrying on the ordinary course of business of the limited liability company, binds the limited liability company in the particular matter unless:

i. The manager in fact has no authority to act for the limited liability company in the matter; and

ii. The person with whom the manager is dealing knows or should know that the manager has no authority to act in the matter.

4. No act of an owner or manager that is not apparently authorized for carrying on the ordinary course of business of the limited liability company shall bind the limited liability company unless the act is in fact authorized at the time of the transaction or ratified thereafter.

Section 15-3-8. Representations of Owner or Manager.

1. In an owner-managed limited liability company, an admission or representation made by an owner concerning the business of a limited liability company within the scope of the owner's actual authority may be used as evidence against the limited liability company in any legal proceeding.

2. In a manager-managed limited liability company:

a. An admission or representation made by a manager concerning the business of a limited liability company within the scope of the manager's authority may be used as evidence against the limited liability company in any legal proceeding; and

b. The admission or representation of any owner, acting solely in the owner's capacity as an owner, is not evidence against the limited liability company in any legal proceeding.

Section 15-3-9. Knowledge of Owner or Manager.

1. In an owner-managed limited liability company, the following operates as notice to or knowledge of the limited liability company:

a. Notice to any owner of any matter relating to the business of the limited liability company;

b. Knowledge of any owner acting in the particular matter acquired while an owner or known by the person at the time of becoming an owner; and

c. Knowledge of any owner who reasonably could and should have communicated it to the acting owner.

2. In a manager-managed limited liability company:

a. The following operates as notice to or knowledge of the limited liability company:

i. Notice to any manager of any matter relating to the business of the limited liability company;

ii. Knowledge of the manager acting in the particular matter acquired while a manager or known by the person at the time of becoming a manager; and

iii. Knowledge of any other manager who reasonably could and should have communicated it to the acting manager; and

b. Notice to or knowledge of any owner while the owner is acting solely in the capacity of an owner is not notice to or knowledge of the limited liability company.

Section 15-3-10. Rights to Information and Records.

1. On reasonable request, an owner may inspect and during regular business hours copy, at the owner's expense, any record maintained by the limited liability company regarding the limited liability company's activities, affairs, financial condition, and other circumstances, unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement or this Title.

2. The limited liability company shall furnish to each owner or the owner's legal representative:

a. Without demand, any true and full information concerning the limited liability company's activities, affairs, financial condition, and other circumstances which the limited liability company knows and is material to the proper exercise of the owner's rights and duties under the operating agreement or this Title; and

b. On demand, any other true and full information concerning the limited liability company's activities, affairs, financial condition, and other circumstances.

Section 15-3-11. Direct Action by Owner.

1. An owner may maintain a direct action against another owner, a manager, or the limited liability company to enforce the owner's rights and protect the owner's interests, including rights and interests under the operating agreement or this Title or arising independently of the ownership relationship.

2. An owner maintaining an action under this Section must plead and prove an actual or threatened injury that is not solely the result of an injury suffered or threatened to be suffered by the limited liability company.

Section 15-3-12. Derivative Actions.

1. An owner may maintain a derivative action to enforce a right of a limited liability company if:

a. Unless such a demand would be futile, the owner first makes a demand on the other owners or managers requesting that they cause the limited liability company to bring an action to enforce the right; and

b. The owners or managers do not bring the action within a reasonable time.

2. In a derivative action, the complaint must state with particularity:

a. The date and content of plaintiff's demand and the response to the demand by the owners or managers; or

b. Why demand should be excused as futile.

3. A derivative action to enforce a right of a limited liability company may be maintained only by a person that is an owner at the time the action is commenced and:

a. Was an owner when the conduct giving rise to the action occurred; or

b. Whose status as an owner devolved on the person by operation of law or pursuant to the terms of the operating agreement from a person that was an owner at the time of the conduct.

4. If a limited liability company is named as or made a party in a derivative proceeding, the limited liability company may appoint a special litigation committee to investigate the claims asserted in the proceeding and determine whether pursuing the action is in the best interests of the limited liability company. If the limited liability company appoints a special litigation committee, on motion by the committee made in the name of the limited liability company, the court shall, except for good cause shown, stay discovery for the time reasonably necessary to permit the committee to make its investigation. This subsection does not prevent the court from:

a. Enforcing a person's right to information under this Title; or

b. Granting a temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction.

5. A special litigation committee must be composed of one or more disinterested and independent individuals, who may be owners. A special litigation committee may be appointed by the affirmative vote or consent of a majority of the owners or managers not named as parties in the proceeding or, if all owners or managers are named as parties, a majority of all the owners or managers.

6. After appropriate investigation, a special litigation committee may determine that it is in the best interests of the limited liability company that the proceeding:

- a. Continue under the control of the plaintiff;
- b. Continue under the control of the committee;
- c. Be settled on terms approved by the committee; or
- d. Be dismissed.

7. After making a determination how to proceed, a special litigation committee shall file with the court a statement of its determination and its report supporting its determination. The special litigation committee shall serve each party with a copy of the determination and report. If the court finds the committee has proven that the members of the committee were disinterested and independent and that the committee acted in good faith, independently, and with reasonable care, the court shall enforce the determination of the committee. Otherwise, the court shall dissolve any stay entered pursuant to this Section and allow the action to continue under the control of the plaintiff.

8. A derivative action on behalf of a limited liability company may not be voluntarily dismissed or settled without the court's approval.

9. Subject to the award of expenses provided in this Section:

- a. Any proceeds or other benefits of a derivative action, whether by judgment, compromise, or settlement, belong to the limited liability company and not to the plaintiff; and

- b. If the plaintiff receives any proceeds, the plaintiff shall remit them immediately to the limited liability company.

10. Unless the limited liability company is a Tribal business entity and the plaintiff is not the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, if a derivative action is successful in whole or in part, the court may award the plaintiff reasonable expenses, including reasonable legal counsel's fees and costs, from the recovery of the limited liability company.

CHAPTER 4
DEALING WITH LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY

Section 15-4-1. Nature of Limited Liability Company. A limited liability company is an entity distinct from its owners.

Section 15-4-2. Interests in Limited Liability Company.

1. An interest in a limited liability company is personal property.

2. Unless otherwise provided in its operating agreement:

a. An interest in a limited liability company is assignable in whole or in part;

b. An assignment of an interest in a limited liability company entitles the assignee to receive only the distributions and share in the allocations of profits and losses to which the assignor would be entitled with respect to the assigned interest;

c. An assignment of an interest in a limited liability company does not dissolve the limited liability company;

d. Unless and until the assignee becomes an owner, the assignment of an interest in a limited liability company does not entitle the assignee to participate in the management or exercise the rights of an owner;

e. Unless and until the assignee of an interest in a limited liability company becomes an owner, the assignor continues to be an owner; and

f. The assignor of an interest in a limited liability company is not released from any personal liability as an owner solely as a result of the assignment.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, the granting of a security interest, lien, or other encumbrance in or against any or all of an owner's interest in a limited liability company is only an assignment and shall not cause the owner to cease to have the power to exercise any rights or powers of an owner.

4. An owner's personal representative, administrator, guardian, conservator, trustee, successor, or other legal representative shall have all the rights of an assignee of the owner's interest if:

a. In the case of an individual:

i. The individual dies;

ii. A guardian or general conservator for the individual is appointed; or

iii. A court orders that the individual has otherwise become incapable of performing the individual's duties as an owner under this Title or the operating agreement; or

b. In the case of a trust, estate, or entity, the trust, estate, or entity is dissolved or terminated.

5. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement or this Title, an assignee of an interest in a limited liability company may become an owner only if the other owners unanimously consent.

6. An assignee of an interest in a limited liability company who becomes an owner has, to the extent assigned, the rights and powers and is subject to the restrictions and liabilities of the assignor under the operating agreement, this Title, and other laws of the Tribe applicable to the limited liability company.

7. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, an assignor of an interest in a limited liability company is not released from any liability to the limited liability company without the written consent of all the owners, whether or not the assignee becomes an owner.

Section 15-4-3. Charging Ownership Interest.

1. On application to a court having valid jurisdiction over an owner and the subject matter by a judgment creditor of the owner, such court may enter a charging order against the transferable interest in the limited liability company of the owner, other than an owner which is the Tribe, for the unsatisfied amount of the judgment.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a charging order constitutes a lien on the owner's transferable interest and requires the limited liability company to pay over to the person to which the charging order was issued any distribution that otherwise would be paid to the owner. The judgment creditor has only the rights of an assignee of the owner's interest.

3. At any time before foreclosure under this Section, the owner whose transferable interest is subject to a charging order under this Section may extinguish the charging order by satisfying the judgment and filing a certified copy of the satisfaction with the court that issued the charging order.

4. At any time before foreclosure under this Section, a limited liability company or one or more owners whose transferable interests are not subject to the charging order may pay to the judgment creditor the full amount due under the judgment and thereby succeed to the rights of the judgment creditor, including the charging order.

5. Upon a showing that distributions under a charging order will not pay the judgment debt within a reasonable time, the court may foreclose the lien and order the sale of the transferable interest of the owner. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, the purchaser at the foreclosure sale obtains only the transferable interest, does not thereby become an owner, and has only the rights of an assignee of the owner's interest.

6. If a court orders foreclosure of a charging order lien against the sole owner of a limited liability company:

- a. The court shall confirm the sale;
- b. The purchaser at the sale obtains the owner's entire interest, not only the owner's transferable interest;
- c. The purchaser thereby becomes an owner; and
- d. The person whose interest was subject to the foreclosed charging order is dissociated as an owner.

7. This Section shall not be construed to deprive any owner of the benefit of any exemption of an interest in a limited liability company that may exist under applicable law.

8. This Section provides the exclusive remedy by which a person seeking in the capacity of judgment creditor to enforce a judgment against an owner may satisfy the judgment from the owner's transferable interest.

9. In no event shall the Tribe's interest in a limited liability company be attachable, chargeable, or subject to lien or encumbrance without the Tribe's express written consent or express waiver of its sovereign immunity.

Section 15-4-4. Property of Limited Liability Company.

1. Property may be acquired, held, and conveyed in the name of a limited liability company.

2. All property originally transferred to or acquired by a limited liability company is property of the limited liability company and not the owners individually.

3. Property acquired with funds of a limited liability company is presumed to be property of the limited liability company.

4. Subject to any limitations in its operating agreement or this Title, the property of a limited liability company may be transferred:

a. In an owner-managed limited liability company, by an instrument executed by any owner in the name of the limited liability company; and

b. In a manager-managed limited liability company, by an instrument executed by a manager in the name of the limited liability company.

Section 15-4-5. Liability to Third Parties.

1. A debt, obligation, or other liability of a limited liability company, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise, is solely the debt, obligation, or other liability of the limited liability company. This subsection applies regardless of the dissolution of the limited liability company.

2. An owner or manager is not personally liable, directly or indirectly, by way of contribution or otherwise, for an act, debt, obligation, or other liability of the limited liability company solely by reason of being or acting as an owner or manager. This subsection applies regardless of the dissolution of the limited liability company.

3. The failure of a limited liability company to observe formalities relating to the exercise of its powers or management of its activities and affairs is not a ground for imposing liability on an owner or manager for an act, debt, obligation, or other liability of the limited liability company.

Section 15-4-6. Parties to Actions. An owner of a limited liability company is not a proper party to a proceeding by or against a limited liability company solely by reason of being an owner, except if:

1. The object of the proceeding is to enforce an owner's right against or liability to the limited liability company; or

2. The action is brought by an owner under this Title.

Section 15-4-7. Authority to Sue.

1. Unless otherwise provided in its operating agreement, an action on behalf of a limited liability company may be brought in the name of the limited liability company by:

a. One or more owners, if authorized by a majority in interest of the owners excluding the vote of any owner who has an interest in the outcome of the action that is adverse to the interests of the limited liability company; or

b. In a manager-managed limited liability company, one or more managers, unless otherwise directed by a majority in interest of the owners, excluding any owner who has an interest in the outcome of the action that is adverse to the interests of the limited liability company.

2. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe as owner.

Section 15-4-8. Records.

1. A limited liability company shall keep at its principal place of business all of the following:

a. A list, in alphabetical order, of each past and present owner and, if applicable, manager;

b. A copy of its articles of organization and all amendments thereto and restatements thereof together with executed copies of any powers of attorney under which any articles were executed;

c. A copy of its operating agreement and all amendments thereto and restatements thereof;

d. A copy of all other organizational documents of the limited liability company, documents filed with the Office of the Secretary, and all amendments thereto and restatements thereof; and

e. A record of all matters referred to in this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the limited liability company as maintained in such records which are not otherwise specified in the operating agreement.

2. Failure of a limited liability company to keep or maintain any of the records required under this Section shall not be grounds for imposing liability on any person for the debts and obligations of the limited liability company.

CHAPTER 5 CONTRIBUTIONS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

Section 15-5-1. Contributions.

1. A contribution may consist of money or property transferred to, services performed for, or another benefit provided to the limited liability company or an agreement to transfer money or property to, perform services for, or provide another benefit to the limited liability company.

2. The value of an owner's contribution shall be determined in the manner provided in the operating agreement. If the operating agreement does not fix a value to a contribution, the value of a contribution shall be approved by a majority in interest of the owners and be properly reflected in the records and information kept by the limited liability company under this Title. The value of contributions so determined shall be binding and conclusive on the limited liability company and its owners.

3. An obligation of a person to make a contribution to a limited liability company is not enforceable unless specified in writing signed by the person. A person's obligation to make a contribution to a limited liability company is not excused by the person's death, disability, termination, or other inability to perform personally.

4. If a person does not fulfill an obligation to make a contribution other than money, the person is obligated at the option of the limited liability company to contribute money equal to the value of the part of the contribution which has not been made.

5. The obligation of a person to make a contribution may be compromised only by the affirmative vote or consent of all the owners. If a creditor of a limited liability company extends credit or otherwise acts in reliance on an obligation to make a contribution without knowledge or notice of a compromise under this subsection, the creditor may enforce the obligation.

Section 15-5-2. Allocation of Profits and Losses.

1. The profits and losses of a limited liability company shall be allocated among the owners in the manner provided in its operating agreement.

2. If the owners do not enter into an operating agreement or the operating agreement does not provide for allocation of profits and losses, profits and losses shall be allocated on the basis of value of the contributions made by each owner.

Section 15-5-3. Distributions Generally.

1. Except as provided in this Chapter, an owner is entitled to receive distributions from a limited liability company before the owner's dissociation from the limited liability company and before its dissolution and winding up:

a. To the extent and at the times or upon the events specified in the operating agreement; or

b. To the extent and at the times determined by the owners or managers.

2. An owner's dissociation does not entitle the person to a distribution.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, a person does not have a right to demand or receive a distribution from a limited liability company in any form other than money. Except as otherwise provided in the laws of the Tribe, a limited liability company may distribute an asset in kind only if each part of the asset is fungible with each other part and each person receives a percentage of the asset equal in value to the person's share of distributions. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, a person may not be compelled to accept a distribution of any asset in kind except for a liquidating distribution made proportionately.

4. Distributions of money or other assets of a limited liability company shall be allocated among the owners as provided in the operating agreement or, if the operating agreement does not provide for allocation of distributions, on the basis of the value of the contributions made by each owner.

5. If an owner becomes entitled to receive a distribution, the owner has the status of, and is entitled to all remedies available to, a creditor of the limited liability company with respect to the distribution. However, the limited liability company's obligation to make a distribution is subject to offset for any amount owed to the limited liability company by the owner or a person dissociated as an owner on whose account the distribution is made. Nothing in this subsection shall limit any other remedy available to an owner under any other provision of applicable law or the operating agreement.

Section 15-5-4. Distributions Upon Partial Redemption. Except as provided in this Chapter, upon the distribution in partial liquidation of an owner's interest, the redeeming owner is entitled to receive:

1. The amount to which the owner is entitled under the operating agreement; and

2. If not otherwise provided in the operating agreement, the fair value of the redeemed interest based on the owner's right to share in distributions from the limited liability company.

Section 15-5-5. Distribution Upon Dissociation. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, upon an event of dissociation of an owner that does not cause dissolution of the limited liability company, the dissociating owner is entitled to receive:

1. Any distribution to which the owner is entitled under the operating agreement; and

2. If not otherwise provided in the operating agreement, the fair market value of the owner's interest in the limited liability company based on the owner's rights to share in distributions from the limited liability company.

Section 15-5-6. Limitations on Distributions.

1. A limited liability company may not declare or make a distribution if, after the distribution:

a. The limited liability company would not be able to pay its debts as they become due in the ordinary course of the limited liability company's activities and affairs; or

b. The limited liability company's total assets would be less than the sum of its total liabilities plus, unless the operating agreement provides otherwise, the amount that would be needed to satisfy the preferential rights, if any, of owners upon dissolution and winding up.

2. A limited liability company may base a determination that a distribution is not prohibited under subsection 1 on:

a. Financial statements and other financial data prepared on the basis of accounting practices and principles that are reasonable in the circumstances; or

b. A fair valuation or other method that is reasonable under the circumstances.

3. A limited liability company's indebtedness to an owner incurred by reason of a distribution made in accordance with this Section is equivalent to the limited liability company's indebtedness to its general unsecured creditors, except to the extent subordinated by written agreement. This subsection does not affect the validity or priority of a security interest in a limited liability company's property that is created to secure the indebtedness to the owner.

Section 15-5-7. Liability for Improper Distributions.

1. An owner that is not the Tribe or a manager who votes or assents to a distribution in violation of this Chapter or the operating agreement is personally liable to the limited liability company for the amount of the excess distribution, subject to contribution from all other managers or owners participating in such action.

2. To the extent the operating agreement expressly relieves an owner of the authority and responsibility to consent to distributions and imposes that authority and responsibility on one or more other owners, the liability stated in this Section applies to the other owners and not the owner relieved of the authority and responsibility.

3. An owner or manager who is held liable under this Section for an unlawful distribution is entitled to contribution from:

a. Every other owner or manager who could be held liable under this Section for the unlawful distribution; and

b. Each owner for the amount the owner accepted knowing the distribution was made in violation of this Chapter or the operating agreement.

4. An action to recover under this Section may be brought in the Tribal Court. An action under this Section is barred unless commenced no later than two (2) years after the date of the distribution.

5. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereign immunity of the Tribe.

b. To consume liquor from a broken package in a public place, other than licensed premises specified in a manufacturer license, a retailer license which allows on-sales, or a special event license; or

c. To transfer in any manner an identification of age to a person under the age of twenty-one (21) years for the purpose of permitting such person to obtain liquor, provided that corroborative testimony of a witness other than the underage person shall be a requirement of finding a violation of this subsection.

2. In addition to any other consequences for a violation of this Title, a person who commits a violation of this Section shall be subject to a civil fine in an amount provided by rules and regulations of the Board or, if not provided therein, an amount up to one hundred dollars ($100) per occurrence, which may be imposed by the Board pursuant to a notice of violation and thereafter enforced and collected through a civil cause of action brought by the Board on behalf of the Tribe in the Tribal Court.

Section 16-4-9. Other Violations.

1. Any act or transaction which does not comply with any provision of this Title or any rule, regulation, order, or decision of the Board shall be a violation of this Title and deemed an act or transaction not in conformity with this Title.

2. In addition to any other consequences for a violation of this Title, including suspension or revocation of a license, a person who commits a violation under this Section shall be subject to a civil fine in an amount provided by rules and regulations of the Board or, if not provided therein, an amount up to five hundred dollars ($500) per occurrence, which may be imposed by the Board pursuant to a notice of violation and thereafter enforced and collected through a civil cause of action brought by the Board on behalf of the Tribe in the Tribal Court.

Section 16-4-10. Reporting of Violations. The Board may report any violation of this Title to the appropriate officials of other jurisdictions and request an investigation and, if appropriate, prosecution of such violation as a violation of the laws of that jurisdiction, including the criminal laws of that jurisdiction.

Section 16-4-11. Revocation and Suspension of License.

1. The Board may summarily suspend for up to fifteen (15) days the license of any person upon a finding of imminent danger to the public welfare caused by the licensee or any act or omission of the licensee.

a. Repeatedly violating or permitting the violation of any provision of this Title or the rules and regulations of the Board;

b. Failure or refusal to pay all taxes imposed on the sale, distribution, or manufacture of liquor under the laws of the Tribe;

c. Misrepresentation of a material fact in the licensee's application for a license or any renewal thereof;

d. The occurrence of any event which would have made the licensee ineligible for a license if the event had occurred prior to the issuance of the license;

e. Failure to maintain insurance coverage as required by this Title for a continuous period of more than thirty (30) days;

f. Imminent danger to the public welfare caused by the licensee or any act or omission of the licensee which has not been corrected within a reasonable time after notice from the Board; or

g. Failure of the licensee to correct an unhealthy or unsafe condition on the licensed premises within a reasonable time after notice from the Board.

3. The Board may suspend the license of any licensee for a period not exceeding one-hundred eighty (180) days as an alternative to revoking the license if the Board is satisfied that the grounds giving rise to the revocation or the circumstances thereof are such that a suspension of the license would be adequate.

4. Any suspension of a license pursuant to this Section shall be effective twenty-four (24) hours after service of notice thereof upon the licensee. During any period of suspension of a license, the licensee shall have and exercise no rights or privileges whatsoever under the license.

5. After revocation of a license, the licensee's rights and privileges under such license shall terminate twenty-four (24) hours after service of notice thereof upon the licensee. Any licensee whose license is revoked shall not be granted any license under the provisions of this Title for a period of two (2) years from the date of revocation.

Section 16-4-12. Enjoining Business. In addition to any other remedies available to it, the Board may bring, in the name of the Tribe, an action in any appropriate court to enjoin the operation of any unlicensed business, activity, or function when this Title requires a license for the conduct of such business, activity, or function or of any other unlawful business, activity, or function. The enjoining of any person pursuant to this Section shall be deemed an exclusion of the person pursuant to the Tribe's power to exclude and other inherent powers and authority of the Tribe.

Section 16-4-13. Seizure of Contraband.

1. In addition to any other remedies available to it, the Board, pursuant to an order issued by the Board, may seize any liquor possessed contrary to the terms of this Title, including liquor possessed for manufacture or sale, as contraband.

2. Upon seizure of any liquor pursuant to this Section, the Board shall inventory all items seized and leave a written copy of such inventory with the person from whom it was seized or, if such person cannot be found, posted at the place from which the liquor was seized.

3. Any person who claims an ownership interest, right of possession to, or other interest in liquor seized pursuant to this Section may request a formal conference regarding or file an appeal of the Board's seizure of such liquor in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter governing appeals before the Board.

4. Upon the expiration or conclusion of any appeal permitted under this Chapter of seizure of liquor pursuant to this Section, including permitted judicial review, such liquor shall be forfeited and all title and ownership interest in such liquor shall vest in the Tribe unless an appeal or judicial review returns such liquor to the person from whom it was seized or other person entitled thereto.

5. If necessary, the Board may file a complaint for forfeiture against any liquor seized pursuant to this Section in the Tribal Court. Upon the Board showing by a preponderance of the evidence that seized liquor is contraband under this Title, the Tribal Court shall enter an order that such liquor is forfeited and that all title and ownership interest in such liquor is vested in the Tribe.

6. Any liquor seized pursuant to this Section to which title has vested in the Tribe that is no longer required for evidence may be sold for the benefit of the Tribe or destroyed under the supervision of the Board.

Section 16-4-14. Sovereign Immunity in Enforcement.

1. Except for valid judicial review of a decision of the Board as provided in this Title, nothing in this Title shall be construed as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereignty or the sovereign immunity of the Board or any of its agents, officers, officials, personnel, or employees.

2. An action brought or taken by the Board, including without limitation the bringing of suit for the collection of fines or enjoining a business, activity, or function, shall not constitute a waiver of sovereign immunity as to any counterclaim, regardless of whether the asserted counterclaim arises out of the same transaction or occurrence or in any other respect.

3. No economic enterprise of the Tribe may claim sovereign immunity as a defense to any action brought or taken by the Board, including a suit for the collection of fines or the enjoining of a business, activity, or function of such economic enterprise and, to the extent necessary, the Tribe waives the sovereign immunity of its economic enterprises in any action brought or taken by the Board against such economic enterprises.

Section 17-2-7. Notice of Violation.

1. If the Department has reason to believe that a violation of this Title or rule or regulation of the Department has occurred, the Department shall issue a notice of violation to all persons accused of the violation.

2. A notice of violation shall state:

a. The specific provisions of this Title or rule or regulation of the Department alleged to have been violated;

4. The accused shall have the right to respond to a notice of violation within the time stated in the notice of violation. The accused may include copies of any documents which the accused believes support his or her position.

5. After the time has expired for the accused to respond to a notice of violation, the Department shall consider any written response to the notice of violation and determine how to proceed with the notice of violation. Based on its review, the Department may:

a. Close the notice of violation if satisfied by the accused's response; or

b. Conduct or cause to be conducted a thorough investigation of the notice of violation.

6. If an investigation is conducted and such investigation reveals that there is evidence to support that a violation of this Title or rule or regulation of the Department has occurred, the Department shall determine an appropriate sanction for such violation as provided in this Title, including civil fine, cease and desist, cleanup, and/or remediation, and impose such sanction in accordance with the provisions of this Title.

7. Written notice shall be provided of the Department's decision under this Section.

Section 17-2-8. Appeal and Review. The Department may permit or require, pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Department, one or more levels of review of its orders and decisions by its employees or delegates, provided that the failure to proceed to a next required level of review shall constitute a waiver of any further appeal or judicial review.

In addition to any other consequences for a violation of this Title or rule or regulation of the Department, any person who violates any provision of this Title or any rule or regulation of the Department shall be subject to a civil fine of up to ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per day for each day during which such violation occurs.

Section 17-2-12. Sovereign Immunity in Enforcement.

1. Except for valid judicial review of a final order or decision of the Department as provided in this Chapter, nothing in this Title shall be construed as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereignty or the sovereign immunity of the Department or any of its agents, officers, officials, personnel or employees.

2. An action brought or taken by the Department, including without limitation, the bringing of suit for the collection of fines, enforcing an order, or enjoining an activity, shall not constitute a waiver of sovereign immunity as to any counterclaim, regardless of whether the asserted counterclaim arises out of the same transaction or occurrence or in any other respect.

3. No economic enterprise of the Tribe may claim sovereign immunity as a defense to any action brought or taken by the Department, including a suit for the collection of fines, enforcing an order, or enjoining an activity of such economic enterprise and, to the extent necessary, the Tribe waives the sovereign immunity of its economic enterprises in any action brought or taken by the Department against such economic enterprise.

CHAPTER 3
GENERAL ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

Section 17-3-1. Protection of Environment Generally.

1. No person shall undertake any activity in the territory of the Tribe that will, or has the possibility to, pollute or harm the environment.

2. Every person shall take all reasonable measures to prevent or minimize any environmental harm from any activity conducted within the territory of the Tribe. In determining what measures are required to be taken under this subsection, regard shall be taken to, amongst other things:

a. The nature of the activity and the potential harm and the sensitivity of the receiving environment; and

b. The current state of technical knowledge and likelihood of successful application of the various measures that might be taken.

3. Where environmental harm can only be minimized through the application of reasonable and practical measures, the person causing the harm shall mitigate for the harm by replacing, restoring, or acquiring equivalent resources as those lost or potentially lost due to the harm.

Section 17-3-2. Waste Disposal. The storage, burial, or disposal of any pollutant within the territory of the Tribe is absolutely prohibited.

Section 17-3-3. Contamination of Sites.

1. For purposes of this Title, contamination exists at a site if:

a. One or more pollutants are present on or below the surface of the site in concentrations above the background concentrations, if any;

b. The pollutant has, at least in part, come to be present there as a result of an activity at the site or elsewhere; and

c. The presence of the pollutant has resulted in actual or potential harm to water, the environment, or the health or safety of human beings, animals, plants, or wildlife that is not trivial, taking into account current or reasonable potential land uses.

2. For the purposes of this Title, a pollutant can result in harm regardless of whether:

a. The harm is a direct or indirect result of the presence of the pollutant; and

b. The harm results from the presence of the pollutant alone or the cumulative effects of the presence of the pollutant and other factors.

3. Contamination of a site is an environmental harm. Where contamination of a site exists due to a violation of the duty of reasonable care with respect to pollutants or other substances with the potential to pollute the environment and cause an environmental harm, contamination of a site shall be considered environmental negligence.

Section 17-3-4. Notice of Site Contamination. Any person who is an owner or operator where contamination of a site has occurred or is at substantial risk of occurring (other than a release expressly permitted by the Tribe or the United States) shall immediately notify the Department of such contamination as soon as he or she has knowledge of such contamination, but not more than twenty-four (24) hours from the time of knowing of the contamination. The Department shall convey the notification expeditiously to all appropriate departments and agencies of the Tribe and other governments.

Section 17-3-5. Clean Up of Contaminated Sites.

1. Whenever there is a contamination of a site or a substantial threat of contamination of a site, the Department is authorized to act to remove or arrange for the removal of such contamination and provide for remedial action relating to such site at any time.

2. Whenever the Department is authorized to act pursuant to this Section, the Department may undertake such investigations, monitoring, surveys, testing, and other information gathering as it deems necessary or appropriate to identify the existence and extent of the contamination, the source and nature of the contamination, the pollutants involved, and the extent of danger to the public health or welfare or to the environment. In addition, the Department may undertake such planning, legal, fiscal, economic, engineering, architectural, and other studies or investigations as it may deem necessary or appropriate to plan and direct response actions, to recover the costs thereof, and to enforce the provisions of this Title.

Section 17-3-6. Clean-up Orders.

1. The Department may issue orders to any person to clean up any contamination at a site which he or his employee or agent has accidentally or purposely dumped, spilled, or otherwise deposited at the site.

2. In the event any person fails to comply with a clean-up order, the Department may bring an action in the Tribal Court for any appropriate relief to force such person to comply with the order.

3. In addition to any other consequences for a violation of this Title or rule or regulation of the Department, any person who fails to comply with a cleanup order, including necessitating the enforcement of such order in Tribal Court, shall be subject to a civil fine of up to ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per day for each day during which such violation occurs.

Section 17-3-7. Voluntary Cleanup Plans.

1. When the Department determines that removal and remedial action of a contaminated site will be done properly and promptly by the owner or operator or by any other responsible party, the Department may allow such person to carry out the removal and remedial action in accordance with this Section.

2. Any owner or operator may submit an application for the approval of a voluntary cleanup plan to the Department under the provisions of this Section.

3. A voluntary cleanup plan shall include:

a. An environmental assessment of the site which describes the contamination or risk of contamination on the site and the risk the contamination currently poses to public health and the environment and includes:

i. The legal description of the site and a map identifying the location and size of the site;

ii. The physical characteristics of the site and areas contiguous to the site, including the location of any surface water bodies and groundwater aquifers;

iii. The location of any wells located on the site or on areas within a one-half (1/2) mile radius of the site and a description of the use of those wells;

iv. The current and proposed use of on-site groundwater;

v. The operational history of the site and the current use of areas contiguous to the site;

vi. The present and proposed uses of the site;

vii. Information concerning the nature and extent of any contamination and releases of pollutants which have occurred at the site including any impacts on areas contiguous to the site;

viii. Any sampling results or other data which characterizes the soil, groundwater, or surface water on the site; and

ix. A description of the human and environmental exposure to contamination at the site;

b. A proposal, if needed, to clean up and remediate any contamination or condition which has or could lead to contamination and a timetable for implementing the proposal and for monitoring the site after the proposed measures are completed; and

c. An agreement and consent to allow the Department to enter and inspect the site, property, or activity at any time until the voluntary cleanup plan is completed without the requirement of any warrant or order of the Tribal Court.

4. Any environmental assessment submitted to the Department under this Section shall be prepared by a qualified environmental professional. A qualified environmental professional is a person with education, training, and experience in preparing environmental studies and assessments.

5. Remediation alternatives in any voluntary cleanup plan shall be based on the actual risk to human health and the environment currently posed by any pollutant on the site, considering the following factors:

- a. The present or proposed uses of the site;
- b. The ability of the pollutant to move in a form and manner which would result in exposure to humans and the surrounding environment; and
- c. The potential risks associated with proposed cleanup alternatives and the economic and technical feasibility and reliability of such alternatives.

6. The Department shall provide formal written notification that a voluntary cleanup plan has been approved or disapproved within no more than forty-five (45) days after a request by an applicant, unless the applicant and the Department agree to an extension of the review to a date certain. Such review shall be limited to a review of the materials submitted by the applicant and documents or information readily available to the Department.

7. The Department shall approve a voluntary cleanup plan if, based on the information submitted by the applicant, the Department concludes that the plan will attain a degree of cleanup and control of pollutants that complies with all applicable laws, requirements, criteria, or standards or otherwise reduces concentrations such that the site does not present an unacceptable risk to human health or the environment.

8. In the event that a voluntary cleanup plan is not approved by the Department, the Department shall promptly provide the applicant with a written statement of the reasons for such denial. An applicant shall be permitted to resubmit a voluntary cleanup plan with appropriate changes based on the Department's reasons for denial.

9. The approval of a voluntary cleanup plan by the Department applies only to conditions on the site and standards that exist as of the time of submission of the application.

10. An approval by the Department of a voluntary cleanup plan pursuant to this Section shall be rendered void if the applicant:

- a. Fails to materially comply with the voluntary cleanup plan; or

b. Submits materially misleading information in the context of the voluntary cleanup plan.

11. If a voluntary cleanup plan is not initiated within twelve (12) months and completed within twenty-four (24) months after approval by the Department, such approval shall lapse. The Department may grant an extension of the time limit for completion of a voluntary cleanup plan if the applicant submits a written request for re-application accompanied by written certification of a qualified environmental professional that the conditions on the site are substantially similar to those that existed at the time of the original approval. Any re-application where the conditions at the site have substantially changed since approval of the original voluntary cleanup plan shall be treated as a new application.

12. Within forty-five (45) days after the completion of a voluntary cleanup described in the voluntary cleanup plan approved by the Department, the applicant shall provide to the Department a certification from a qualified environmental professional that the plan has been fully implemented.

13. If an applicant or owner or operator fails to materially comply with a voluntary cleanup plan or initiate and complete the voluntary cleanup plan within the time permitted, the Department may issue a cleanup order pursuant to this Chapter.

14. In no event shall a potentially responsible party be subject to a lesser standard of liability, receive preferential treatment, or in any other way, whether direct or indirect, benefit from any voluntary cleanup arrangement.

Section 17-3-8. Owner and Operator Liability.

1. The owner and operator of any property or activity shall be jointly and severally liable and responsible for the full costs of any and all cleanup, remediation, and testing of contamination at a site as well as the Department's fees and costs of administering notices and enforcing cleanup, remediation, and testing of the site.

2. In addition to any other methods allowed by the laws of the Tribe or other applicable law, the Department may collect any costs for which an owner or operator is responsible under this Section through an action in Tribal Court or any other court of competent jurisdiction.

3. Nothing in this Section shall limit an owner's, an operator's, or the Tribe's right to recover costs from persons contributing to the contamination of a site.

CHAPTER 4 ISOLATION AND QUARANTINE

Section 18-4-1. Definitions. Unless the context requires otherwise or another definition is provided for a particular section, in this Chapter:

1. "Isolation" means the physical separation and confinement of a person or group of persons who are infected or reasonably believed to be infected with a communicable disease or possibly communicable disease from non-isolated persons to prevent or limit the transmission of the disease to non-isolated persons.

2. "Quarantine" means the physical separation and confinement of a person or group of persons who have been or may have been exposed to a communicable disease or possibly communicable disease and who do not show signs or symptoms of a communicable disease, from persons who have not been exposed to a communicable disease or possibly communicable disease, to prevent or limit the transmission of the disease to other persons.

Section 18-4-2. Conditions for Isolation or Quarantine. When isolating or quarantining a person or group of persons under this Chapter, the Department shall adhere to the following conditions and principles:

1. Isolation or quarantine must be by the least restrictive means necessary to prevent the spread of a communicable disease or possibly communicable disease to others or to limit exposure to or contamination with a toxic substance by others, and may include, but is not limited to, confinement to private homes or other public or private premises;

2. Confinement may not be in a prison, jail, or other facility where those charged with a crime are incarcerated unless:

a. The person or group of persons represents an immediate and serious physical threat to the staff or physical facilities of a hospital or other facility in which the person or group of persons has been confined; or

b. A person has been found in contempt of court because of failure to obey a court order.

3. Isolated persons must be confined separately from quarantined persons and if a facility is not capable of separating isolated persons from quarantined persons, either the isolated persons or the quarantined persons must be moved to a separate facility;

4. The health status of an isolated or quarantined person must be monitored regularly to determine if the person requires continued isolation or quarantine;

5. A quarantined person who subsequently becomes infected or is reasonably believed to have become infected with a communicable disease or possibly communicable disease that the Department believes poses a significant threat to the health and safety of other quarantined persons must be promptly placed in isolation;

6. An isolated or quarantined person must be released as soon as practicable when the Department determines that the person has been successfully decontaminated or that the person no longer poses a substantial risk of transmitting a communicable disease or possibly communicable disease that would constitute a serious or imminent threat to the health and safety of others;

7. The needs of a person who is isolated or quarantined must be addressed to the greatest extent practicable in a systematic and competent fashion, including, but not limited to, providing adequate food, medication, competent medical care, clothing, shelter, and means of communication with other persons who are in isolation or quarantine and persons who are not under isolation or quarantine;

8. Premises used for isolation or quarantine must, to the extent practicable, be maintained in a safe and hygienic manner to lessen the likelihood of further transmission of a communicable disease or possibly communicable disease or of further harm to persons who are isolated and quarantined;

9. Cultural and religious beliefs should be considered to the extent practicable in addressing the needs of persons who are isolated or quarantined and in establishing and maintaining premises used for isolation or quarantine;

10. Isolation or quarantine shall not abridge the right of any person to rely exclusively on spiritual means to treat a communicable disease or possibly communicable disease in accordance with religious or other spiritual tenets and practices, provided that nothing in this Chapter prohibits a person who relies exclusively on spiritual means to treat a communicable disease or possibly communicable disease and who is infected with a communicable disease or has been exposed to a toxic substance from being isolated or quarantined;

11. Prior to placing a person or group of persons subject to isolation or quarantine in a health care facility, the Department must consult with the managers of the health care facility regarding how to best meet the requirements of this Section; and

12. The Department shall provide adequate means of communication between a person or a group of persons who is isolated or quarantined and legal counsel for the person or group of persons.

Section 18-4-3. Duration of Isolation or Quarantine. The maximum duration of time a person or group of persons may be isolated or quarantined pursuant to an order under this Chapter, including an administrative order of the Department, may not exceed:

1. One hundred eighty (180) days if there is substantial medical evidence indicating that the condition that is the basis of the public health threat is spread by airborne transmission and cannot be rendered noninfectious within sixty (60) days or may recur after sixty (60) days; or

2. In all other cases, sixty (60) days.

Section 18-4-4. Authority of Department.

1. The Department may issue an administrative order causing a person or group of persons who would be subject to the jurisdiction of the Tribal Court under this Chapter to be placed in isolation or quarantine if the Department has probable cause to believe that a person or group of persons requires isolation or quarantine in order to avoid a clear danger to others.

2. An administrative order issued under this Section shall:

a. Identify the person or group of persons subject to isolation or quarantine by name or shared or similar characteristics or circumstances;

b. Identify the premises where isolation or quarantine will take place, if known;

c. Either:

i. Describe the reasonable efforts made to obtain voluntary compliance with requests for testing or medical examination, treatment, counseling, vaccination, decontamination of persons or animals, isolation, quarantine, or inspection and closure of facilities; or

ii. Explain why reasonable efforts to obtain voluntary compliance are not possible and why the pursuit of these efforts creates a risk of serious harm to others;

d. Describe the suspected communicable disease or toxic substance, if known, that is the basis for the issuance of the administrative order and the anticipated duration of isolation or quarantine based on the suspected communicable disease or toxic substance;

e. Provide information supporting the reasonable belief of the Department that the person or group of persons is, or is suspected to be, infected with, exposed to, or contaminated with a communicable disease or toxic substance that could spread to or contaminate others if remedial action is not taken;

f. Provide information supporting the reasonable belief of the Department that the person or group of persons would pose a serious and imminent risk to the health and safety of others if not isolated or quarantined;

g. Describe the medical basis for which isolation or quarantine is justified and explain why isolation or quarantine is the least restrictive means available to prevent a risk to the health and safety of others;

h. Establish the time and date at which the isolation or quarantine commences;

i. Specify the duration for the isolation or quarantine, subject to the maximum duration allowed in this Chapter;

j. Contain a statement of compliance with the conditions for isolation and quarantine specified in this Chapter; and

k. Be served on all affected persons or groups in accordance with Chapter.

3. A final decision of the Director regarding an administrative order issued under this Section shall be subject to judicial review in accordance with this Title.

Section 18-4-5. Authority of Tribal Court.

1. The Tribal Court has jurisdiction to issue orders for isolation and quarantine when:

a. The person or group of persons to be isolated or quarantined resides or is domiciled in the territory of the Tribe;

b. The person or group of persons to be isolated or quarantined receives services from or through the Department;

c. The person or group of persons to be isolated or quarantined is employed by the Department;

d. The person or group of persons has otherwise consented to the jurisdiction of the Tribal Court; or

e. The Tribal Court otherwise has jurisdiction over the person or group of persons.

2. The Tribal Court has jurisdiction to issue orders releasing any person or group of persons from isolation or quarantine or providing a remedy regarding a breach of the conditions of isolation or quarantine specified in this Chapter if the person or group of persons is subject to an order for isolation or quarantine issued under this Chapter, including an administrative order issued by the Department.

3. The Tribal Court's lack of jurisdiction over a single person to subject to an order for isolation or quarantine shall not deprive the Tribal Court of jurisdiction to issue an order for isolation or quarantine, confirm or enforce an administrative order of the Department issued under this Chapter, or order any release or remedy related to an order for isolation or quarantine with respect to any other person over whom the Tribal Court may exercise jurisdiction.

4. The Tribal Court may issue orders under this Chapter regardless of whether a prior action on the same or similar matter has been commenced in the court of another jurisdiction involving the same individual.

Section 18-4-6. Procedure.

1. The procedures in the Tribal Court under this Chapter shall be governed by the rules of procedure for the Tribal Court which are not in conflict with this Chapter.

2. The Tribal Court may issue orders under this Chapter by telephone, facsimile, or other electronic means and such orders shall have the same force and effect as original written orders. Orders issued by telephone shall be followed by a written order as soon thereafter as possible.

Section 18-4-7. Conduct of Hearings. All hearings involving proceedings under this Chapter shall be conducted in accordance with the following:

4. Hearsay evidence will not be excluded as long as it is reasonably reliable;

5. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, there shall be no restrictions concerning a physician or other health care provider testifying about his or her patient or any privilege of confidentiality between a physician or other health care provider in any proceeding under this Chapter, provided that any evidence presented at a hearing that would be privileged and not subject to disclosure except as required by this subsection shall be disclosed only to the Tribal Court, the parties and their legal counsel, or persons authorized by the Tribal Court and may not be disclosed to the public.

6. A verbatim record shall be taken of all hearings; and

7. The Department may request that the respondent not personally appear before the Tribal Court because personal appearance would pose a risk of serious harm to others and, if the Tribal Court grants the Department's request or otherwise determines personal appearance by the respondent poses a risk of serious harm to others, the hearing shall either be conducted by legal counsel for the respondent or at a location or by a means, including simultaneous electronic transmission, that allows all parties to fully participate without risk of harm to others.

Section 18-4-8. Proceedings of a Civil Nature. Proceedings in cases under this Chapter shall be regarded as civil proceedings, with the Tribal Court exercising both legal and equitable powers.

4. In addition to the information required herein, a petition under this Section may also include such supporting documents the Department desires to include which, unless objected to by the respondent, shall be received and accepted as evidence by the Tribal Court by virtue of such attachment the same as any evidence formally presented and admitted.

5. A petition which substantially complies with the requirements of this Section shall not be dismissed for violation of this Section.

5. A petition which substantially complies with the requirements of this Section shall not be dismissed for violation of this Section.

Section 18-4-11. Emergency Orders.

1. The Tribal Court may issue an emergency order for isolation or quarantine ex parte without a hearing if, and only if, it appears from the face of a verified petition and any supporting affidavits or sworn oral testimony communicated by telephone or other appropriate means that:

a. Probable cause exists to believe that the respondent requires immediate isolation or quarantine in order to avoid a clear and immediate danger to others; and

b. Considerations of safety do not allow time for notice to the respondent and a hearing.

2. If the Tribal Court issues an emergency order for isolation or quarantine ex parte without a hearing, the Tribal Court shall:

a. Issue a summons to the respondent in accordance with this Chapter;

b. Schedule a hearing to be held within seventy-two (72) hours of issuing the emergency order for isolation or quarantine; and isolation or quarantine is necessary to prevent a serious risk to the health and safety of others;

b. In the case of an order seeking release from isolation or quarantine pursuant to an administrative order of the Department:

i. The administrative order is contrary to the provision of this Chapter or beyond the Department's authority; or

ii. Isolation or quarantine is not necessary or no longer necessary to prevent a serious risk to the health and safety of others; and

c. In the case of an order seeking a remedy for breach of conditions of isolation or quarantine specified in this Chapter, such conditions have been breached and the petitioner is otherwise entitled to a remedy for such breach.

6. In lieu of or in addition to any relief requested in a proceeding under this Chapter, the Tribal Court may order the imposition of other public health measures appropriate to the public health threat presented.

Section 18-4-13. Order for Isolation or Quarantine. In addition to any other matters necessary for an order of the Tribal Court, an order for isolation or quarantine, including an emergency order, shall:

2. Except as provided in this Section, any person or group of persons isolated or quarantined or sought for isolation or quarantine shall be personally served in accordance with the Tribal Rules of Civil Procedure.

3. Service of any documents may be made by posting the documents to be served in a conspicuous place where the documents can be viewed by the person or group of persons to be served or by another means which will meaningfully communicate the information in the documents to the person or group of persons to be served if personal service:

a. Cannot be accomplished in a timely manner to a group of persons isolated or quarantined because the number of persons in the group makes personal service impracticable; or

b. Personal service would endanger the health or safety of a person conducting personal service.

4. Any person requested or required to transport or receive a person or group of persons subject to quarantine or isolation shall be informed of the infectious or contagious status of the person or group of persons and the protections advised for transporting or receiving such person or group of persons prior to transporting or receiving the person or group of persons.

3. The Tribal Court shall hold a hearing on all motions filed under this Section upon notice given to the parties to the original proceeding.

4. The Tribal Court may grant a motion made under this Section if the movant proves by clear and convincing evidence that there are grounds for the relief sought, provided that if the relief seeks to extend an order for isolation or quarantine for a duration which would result in a person or group of persons being held in quarantine or isolation for longer than one hundred eighty (180) days, the Tribal Court shall grant such extension only if it finds that extraordinary circumstances exist and the person or group of persons subject to isolation or quarantine continue to pose a serious threat to the health and safety of others if isolation or quarantine is not continued.

Section 18-4-16. Violation of Order.

1. Any person who knowingly, willfully, or purposely violates, or attempts or intends to knowingly, willfully, or purposely violate, an order for isolation or quarantine issued under this Chapter, including an administrative order issued by the Department, shall be subject to a civil fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per day or occurrence of such violation.

e. A parent of the patient;

f. The patient's child over sixteen (16) years of age, provided that if the patient has more than one child over sixteen (16) years of age, the health care provider shall seek the consent of a majority of the children over sixteen (16) years of age who are reasonably available for consultation;

g. The patient's adult sibling, provided that if the patient has more than one adult sibling, the health care provider shall seek the consent of a majority of the adult siblings who are reasonably available for consultation;

h. Another member of the patient's immediate family;

j. An adult who has exhibited special care and concern for the patient, who is familiar with the patient's medical care views and desires, and who is willing and able to become involved in the patient's medical care and to act in the patient's best interest.

2. If the health care provider cannot locate any of the people listed in subsection 1 of this Section, the patient's attending physician may make medical care treatment decisions for the patient after the physician consults with and obtains the recommendations of an institutional ethics committee. If this is not possible, the physician may make these decisions after consulting with a second physician who concurs with the physician's decision.

3. A surrogate may make decisions about mental health treatment on behalf of a patient if the patient is found incapable. However, a surrogate who is not the patient's agent or guardian shall not have the authority to admit the patient to an inpatient psychiatric facility.

4. A person who makes a good faith medical decision pursuant to this Section is immune from criminal and civil liability and is not subject to professional discipline for that decision.

Section 18-5-4. Consent in Emergency.

1. In cases of emergency where the attending health care provider reasonably believes that a medical procedure should be undertaken immediately and there is insufficient time to obtain the consent of the patient or a person authorized to consent for the patient, the medical procedure may be provided without consent.

2. In cases where a minor or dependent adult is in need of immediate medical care and, after reasonable efforts made under the circumstances, the parents, guardian, or custodian of such minor cannot be located or contacted for the purpose of consenting thereto, consent for said emergency attention may be given by any person standing in loco parentis to said minor or dependent adult.

3. A minor who is twelve (12) years of age or older or a dependent adult who is found to be under the influence of a dangerous drug or narcotic which includes withdrawal symptoms, may be considered an emergency case and the minor or dependent adult considered as having consented to medical care needed for treatment of that condition.

4. Nothing in this Section authorizes the undertaking of a medical procedure where the patient or the patient's legal representative has validly exercised his or her right to refuse that particular medical procedure.

Section 18-5-5. Consent by Person Having Care of Minor or Court.

1. The parent, guardian, or custodian of a minor or dependent adult may authorize in writing an adult to consent to medical care, counseling, or both for the minor or dependent adult.

2. Upon application by a minor, the Tribal Court may summarily grant consent for medical care, counseling, or both, for the minor if the Tribal Court determines:

a. The minor is sixteen (16) years of age or older and resides in the territory of the Tribe; and

b. The consent of a parent, guardian, or custodian is necessary to permit the medical care, counseling, or both, and the minor has no parent, guardian, or custodian available to give the consent.

Section 18-5-6. Consent by Minor Generally.

1. A minor living apart from his or her parents, guardian, or custodian and who lacks a fixed and regular nighttime residence or whose primary residence is either a supervised shelter designed to provide temporary accommodations, a halfway house, or a place not designed for or ordinarily used for sleeping by humans may consent to any medical care.

2. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a minor may consent to:

a. Medical care and counseling related to the prevention or treatment of pregnancy, provided that no minor may be sterilized without the consent of the minor's parent or guardian; and

b. If the minor is alleged to be the victim of sexual assault, medical care and counseling related to the diagnosis and treatment of the condition and the collection of medical evidence with regard to the alleged sexual assault, provided that, unless the minor is twelve (12) years of age or older or the health care provider reasonably believes that the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian committed the sexual assault, the health care provider providing medical treatment shall attempt to contact the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian and shall note in the minor's treatment record the date and time of the attempted contact and whether the attempt was successful.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a minor who is twelve (12) years of age or older may consent to any of the following:

a. Medical care related to the prevention, diagnosis, or treatment of any disease which is required to be reported to the Department under this Title;

b. Medical care and counseling related to the prevention, diagnosis, or treatment of any sexually transmitted disease or the general sexual activity of the minor; and

c. If the minor states that he or she is a victim of or injured as a result of domestic or family abuse, medical care and counseling related to the diagnosis or treatment of the domestic or family abuse and the collection of medical evidence with regard to the alleged domestic or family abuse.

4. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a minor who is sixteen (16) years of age or older and is otherwise competent may consent to the donation of blood and be subject to the penetration of tissue necessary to accomplish the donation at a blood bank if the minor has the written consent of the minor's parent or legal guardian.

5. If the health care provider providing treatment to a minor for any medical care pursuant to this Section believes that the condition requires a report pursuant to the laws of the Tribe, the health care provider shall:

a. Inform the minor that the report will be made; and

b. Unless the health care provider reasonably believes that the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian committed the act which caused the condition, attempt to contact the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian, inform them of the report, and note in the minor's treatment record the date and time of the attempted contact and whether the attempt was successful.

6. Subject to any limitations provided in this Section, the consent of the parent, guardian, or custodian of a minor for any medical care or counseling provided to a minor pursuant to this Section is not necessary in order to authorize such medical care or counseling and a consent given by a minor under this Section is not subject to disaffirmance because of minority.

Section 18-5-7. Minor Consent to Substance Use Treatment.

1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a minor who is twelve (12) years of age or older may consent to medical care and counseling relating to the diagnosis and treatment of a substance use problem.

2. The treatment plan of a minor authorized by this Section shall include the involvement of the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian, if appropriate, as determined by the health care provider treating the minor. The health care provider providing medical care or counseling to a minor shall state in the minor's treatment record whether and when the health care provider attempted to contact the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian and whether the attempt was successful, or the reason why, in the opinion of the health care provider, it would not be appropriate to contact the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian.

3. This Section does not authorize a minor to receive replacement narcotic abuse treatment without the consent of the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian.

4. Nothing in this Section shall be construed to restrict or eliminate the right of a parent, guardian, or custodian to seek medical care and counseling for a substance use problem of a minor when the minor does not consent to the medical care and counseling.

5. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, when a parent, guardian, or custodian has sought the medical care and counseling for a substance use problem of a minor, the health care provider shall disclose medical information concerning the care to the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian upon the parent's, guardian's, or custodian's request even if the minor does not consent to disclosure.

6. Subject to any limitations provided in this Section, the consent of the parent, guardian, or custodian of a minor for any medical care or counseling provided to a minor pursuant to this Section is not necessary in order to authorize such medical care or counseling and a consent given by a minor under this Section is not subject to disaffirmance because of minority.

Section 18-5-8. Minor Consent to Counseling.

1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a minor who is twelve (12) years of age or older may consent to mental health treatment or counseling on an outpatient basis or to residential shelter services if both of the following requirements are satisfied:

a. The minor, in the opinion of the attending health care provider or domestic violence advocate or counselor, is mature enough to participate intelligently in the outpatient services or residential shelter services; and

b. The minor either:

i. Would present a danger of serious physical or mental harm to self or others without the mental health treatment, counseling, or residential shelter services; or

ii. Is the alleged victim of incest, child neglect or abuse, or domestic or family abuse.

2. A health care provider offering residential shelter services shall make his or her best efforts to notify the parent, guardian, or custodian of the minor of the provision of services.

3. The mental health treatment or counseling of a minor authorized by this Section shall include involvement of the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian unless, in the opinion of the health care provider or domestic violence advocate or counselor who is treating or counseling the minor, the involvement would be inappropriate. The health care provider or domestic violence advocate or counselor who is treating or counseling the minor shall state in the minor's treatment record whether and when the health care provider or domestic violence advocate or counselor attempted to contact the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian and whether the attempt was successful, or the reason why, in the opinion of the health care provider or domestic violence advocate or counselor, it would not be appropriate to contact the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian.

4. This Section does not authorize a minor to receive convulsive therapy, psychosurgery, or psychotropic drugs without the consent of the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian.

5. Subject to any limitations provided in this Section, the consent of the parent, guardian, or custodian of a minor for any medical care or counseling provided to a minor pursuant to this Section is not necessary in order to authorize such medical care or counseling and a consent given by a minor under this Section is not subject to disaffirmance because of minority.

Section 18-5-9. Access to Minor Information.

1. Except where notice to or contact of a parent, guardian, or custodian is required under this Chapter, the parent, guardian, custodian, or other representative of a minor shall not be entitled to inspect or obtain copies of the minor's patient records or receive information about a minor's medical care or counseling in either of the following circumstances:

a. With respect to medical care or counseling which the minor consented to as authorized by this Chapter; or

b. Where the health care provider or domestic violence advocate or counselor determines that access to the patient records requested by the parent, guardian, custodian, or other representative would have a detrimental effect on the provider's, advocate's, or counselor's professional relationship with the minor patient or the minor's physical safety or psychological well-being.

2. The decision of a health care provider or domestic violence advocate or counselor as to whether or not a minor's records are available for inspection or copying under this Section shall not attach any liability to the provider unless the decision is found to be in bad faith.

Section 18-5-10. Liability of Provider.

1. A health care provider or domestic violence advocate or counselor acting in reliance on the consent of a minor who has authority or apparent authority pursuant to this Chapter to consent to medical care or counseling is not subject to criminal or civil liability or professional disciplinary action on the ground that he or she failed to obtain consent of the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian.

2. A health care provider shall not be subject to criminal or civil liability or professional disciplinary action on account of a failure to obtain consent or inform a patient of the possible consequences of a medical procedure where the failure to inform is caused by any of the following:

a. The health care provider reasonably believed that consent was not required pursuant to a provision of this Chapter;

b. The patient was unconscious;

c. The medical procedure was undertaken without the consent of the patient because the health care provider reasonably believed that a medical procedure should be undertaken immediately and that there was insufficient time to fully inform the patient; or

d. A medical procedure was performed on a person legally incapable of giving consent and the health care provider reasonably believed that a medical procedure should be undertaken immediately and that there was insufficient time to obtain the informed consent of a person authorized to give such consent for the patient.

Section 18-5-11. Liability During Emergency.

1. A health care provider who renders services during any state of emergency at the express or implied request of any official or agency of the Tribe shall have no liability for any injury sustained by any person by reason of those services, regardless of how or under what circumstances or by what cause those injuries are sustained.

2. A health care provider who in good faith renders emergency care at the scene of an emergency which occurs outside both the place and the course of that person's employment shall not be liable for any civil damages as the result of acts or omissions by that person in rendering the emergency care.

3. The immunity granted in this Section shall not apply:

a. When the person receiving services or care has been seen regularly by or under the direction of the health care provider providing services or care; or

b. To any willful act or omission.

4. "Temporary food establishment" means a food establishment which operates for a period of no more than ten (10) consecutive days in conjunction with a single event or celebration.

Section 18-6-4. Rules and Regulations.

1. The Department may promulgate rules and regulations, not inconsistent with this Chapter and subject to the approval of Tribal Council, as it deems necessary or desirable in the public interest in carrying out the duties of the Department under this Chapter.

2. In the absence of the Department promulgating such rules and regulations, the most recent model Food Code developed and approved by the Food and Drug Administration of the Public Health Service of the United States Department of Health and Human Services shall constitute the rules and regulations of the Department governing food safety and food establishments to the extent not inconsistent with this Title, provided that terms particular to the United States, a state of the United States, or either of their agencies, courts, or tribunals in such model Food Code or any law incorporated therein by reference shall be read as referring to their counterparts under the laws of the Tribe unless the context requires otherwise, including, but not limited to the following:

a. "Regulatory authority" shall refer to the Department and, when appropriate, the health inspector; and

b. "Local," "state," and "federal" shall refer to the Tribe.

Section 18-6-6. Exemptions. Any school, club, athletic organization, or charitable or religious entity operating a temporary food establishment for the sole purpose of raising funds for charitable or religious purposes where no part of the income accrues to the personal benefit of any person shall be exempt from the requirement of a license under this Chapter.

Section 18-6-7. Application for License.

1. Any person desiring a license pursuant to this Chapter shall complete and file an application for the appropriate license with the Department and pay such application fee as may be set by the Department to defray the costs of processing the application.

 - c. Plans, specifications, and information required by the health inspector are reviewed and approved by the health inspector; and
 - d. A pre-operational inspection shows that the food establishment is built in accordance with any approved plans and specifications and that the food establishment is in compliance with this Chapter and the rules and regulations of the Department under this Chapter.
3. The Department may establish additional requirements for the issuance of a license that are not inconsistent with this Chapter, including inspections, ensuring the suitability of the physical premises and plan of operation of the applicant, and any other relevant considerations.

Section 18-6-9. Form of License.

1. Each license issued pursuant to this Chapter shall specify:
- a. The name and address of the licensee;

2. The licensee must keep the license posted at all times in a conspicuous place on the premises for which it has been issued.

3. A licensee must pay all taxes assessed against it under the laws of the Tribe.

4. Notwithstanding anything else in the laws of the Tribe, a license issued pursuant to this Chapter constitutes only a permit to the licensee to conduct the activities permitted by the license for the duration of the license and shall not be construed or deemed to constitute a property or other vested right of any kind or give rise to a legal entitlement to a license for any future period of time.

Section 18-6-10. Renewal of License.

1. A licensee may renew its license by filing an application for renewal with the Department and paying such renewal application fee as may be set by the Department to defray the costs of processing the application.

2. The renewal application shall identify any changes in information required on the licensee's application for a license since the issuance of the license or previous renewal, whichever is later, or the applicant shall certify that no such information has changed.

3. The Department shall renew a license upon submission of a renewal application, payment of the applicable annual license fee, and compliance with any other additional requirements of the Department for the issuance of a renewal that are not inconsistent with this Chapter.

Section 18-6-11. Transfer and Modification of License.

1. No license issued pursuant to this Chapter may be assigned or transferred to any other person or entity or to any other location.

2. A licensee may request a change in the name and/or address of the licensee by applying with the Department for a modification of the license in accordance with this Section and paying such fee as may be set by the Department to defray the costs of processing the modification.

3. The Department shall approve a change in the address of the licensee upon request, provided the change in address is not a change in location. The Department shall approve a change in the name of the licensee provided that the name is not the name of an individual and the change is not the result of any change in more than fifty percent (50%) of the ownership interest in the licensee.

4. If the Department approves a modification of a license pursuant to this Section, the Department shall issue a modified license to the licensee reflecting the modified information. The modified license shall expire on the same date as the original license.

5. A new license shall be required for any of the following changes:

a. Any change in ownership of the licensee that constitutes more than fifty percent (50%) of the ownership interest;

b. A change in location of the premises to which a license applies; or

c. Any modification of a license not provided for in this Section.

Section 18-6-12. License Suspension or Revocation.

1. The health inspector may summarily suspend for up to fifteen (15) days the license of any person upon a finding of imminent danger to the public health or welfare caused by the licensee or any act or omission of the licensee. If the health inspector determines it is necessary to protect the public or health or welfare, the health inspector may make such suspension effective immediately upon notification to the licensee.

2. The Department, after at least ten (10) days notice and a full hearing, may revoke the license of any person for any of the following:

f. Any act or omission of the licensee which has not been corrected within a reasonable time after notice from the health inspector; or

g. Failure of the licensee to correct an unhealthy or unsafe condition on the licensed premises within a reasonable time after notice from the health inspector.

3. The Department may suspend the license of any licensee for a period not exceeding one-hundred eighty (180) days as an alternative to revoking the license if the Department is satisfied that the grounds giving rise to the revocation or the circumstances thereof are such that a suspension of the license would be adequate.

4. Any suspension of a license pursuant to this Section shall be effective twenty-four (24) hours after service of notice thereof upon the licensee. During any period of suspension of a license, the licensee shall have and exercise no rights or privileges whatsoever under the license.

5. After revocation of a license, the licensee's rights and privileges under such license shall terminate twenty-four (24) hours after service of notice thereof upon the licensee. Any licensee whose license is revoked shall not be granted any license under the provisions of this Title for a period of two (2) years from the date of revocation.

Section 18-6-13. Enjoining Food Establishment. In addition to any other remedies available to it, the Department may bring, in the name of the Tribe, an action in any appropriate court to enjoin the operation of any unlicensed business, activity, or function when this Chapter requires a license for the conduct of such business, activity, or function. The enjoining of a business pursuant to this Section shall be deemed an exclusion of the business pursuant to the Tribe's power to exclude and other inherent powers and authority of the Tribe.

Section 18-6-14. Operation of Licensed Premises.

1. All food establishments shall have a person in charge responsible for the operation of the food establishment and to supervise persons handling food.

2. All food establishments shall only distribute food to the public which is safe, unadulterated, and truthfully presented.

3. All licensees shall operate food establishments in accordance with this Chapter and the rules and regulations of the Department under this Chapter.

4. No licensee may lock or permit the locking of the entrances to the licensed premises until all persons other than the licensee and its employees have left.

5. No licensee may change the name of its licensed premises without first obtaining a modification of its license as provided in this Chapter.

6. No licensee shall make any significant structural alteration or addition to a food establishment without first submitting a copy of the plans and specifications to the health inspector for review and obtaining approval of such alteration or addition from the health inspector.

Section 18-6-15. Inspections.

1. The health inspector may enter a food establishment at any time food is being prepared or served or food workers are present to examine the premises, equipment, and procedures, obtain samples of food or other substances for laboratory analysis, or otherwise determine compliance with this Chapter and the rules and regulations of the Department under this Chapter.

2. After an inspection, the health inspector shall provide a copy of his or her completed inspection report to the licensee, owner or operator of the food establishment, or person in charge. The inspection report shall:

a. Document specific factual observations of conditions which violate this Chapter or other deviations from this Chapter that require correction; and

b. Provide a specified time that is reasonable under the circumstances to make required corrections documented in the inspection report.

3. Unless a food establishment files an appeal in accordance with this Title and requests and obtains a stay of enforcement pending such appeal, a food establishment shall comply with and make all corrections mandated in an inspection report.

4. Inspection reports shall be considered public information and the Department shall make inspection reports available to a person upon request in accordance with procedures established by the Department.

5. The health inspector shall inspect food establishments as often as the health inspector and Department deem advisable for the protection of public health and safety.

Section 18-6-16. Violations.

1. It shall be a violation of this Chapter:

a. To operate a food establishment in the territory of the Tribe without a license issued pursuant to this Chapter, during any time a license issued pursuant to this Chapter is suspended, or after a license issued pursuant to this Chapter has been revoked;

b. To prevent, obstruct, or restrict or attempt to prevent, obstruct, or restrict an inspection of a food establishment or other action of the health inspector authorized under this Chapter or the rules and regulations of the Department;

c. Unless such failure or refusal is excused by a stay obtained pending an appeal in accordance with this Title, to fail or refuse to make a correction mandated in an inspection report issued by the health inspector within the time specified in the inspection report;

d. To knowingly operate a food establishment in which contaminated food is served or sold or in which workers in such food establishment suffer from or are carriers of a communicable disease;

e. To knowingly label food in a manner which is illegible, deceptive, misleading, or omits a material fact as to the condition, nature, components, or quantity of the food or to knowingly sell or serve food in a food establishment which is labeled, described, or advertised in a manner which is illegible, deceptive, misleading, or omits a material fact as to the condition, nature, components, or quantity of the food; or

f. To violate any other provision of this Chapter or the rules and regulations of the Department.

2. If an act is a violation of this Chapter when committed by a licensee or food establishment, the licensee or food establishment is also liable if the act is committed by one of its employees or agents.

3. In addition to any other consequences for a violation of this Chapter, including suspension or revocation of a license, a person who commits a violation under this Section shall be subject to a civil fine of up to five hundred dollars ($500) per occurrence.

4. Any person who engages in a pattern or practice of violations under this Section shall be subject to a civil fine of up to one thousand dollars ($1,000) per occurrence.

5. Each day during which a violation under this Section continues shall constitute a separate occurrence.

6. The health inspector shall impose civil fines under this Section by issuing a notice of violation under this Title and the Department may enforce and collect such civil fines through a civil cause of action brought by the Department on behalf of the Tribe in the Tribal Court.

Section 18-6-17. Review of Actions. Any notice of violation, inspection report, decision, or order of the health inspector or Department under this Chapter shall be subject to appeal and judicial review in accordance with this Title.

Section 18-6-18. Sovereign Immunity in Enforcement.

1. Except for valid judicial review of a final decision of the Director regarding a notice of violation, inspection report, decision, or order of the health inspector or Department in accordance with this Title as authorized under this Chapter, nothing in this Chapter shall be construed as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereignty or the sovereign immunity of the Tribe, the Department, or any of their agents, officers, officials, personnel, or employees.

2. An action brought or taken by the health inspector or the Department, including without limitation the bringing of suit for the collection of fines or enjoining a business, activity, or function, shall not constitute a waiver of sovereign immunity as to any counterclaim, regardless of whether the asserted counterclaim arises out of the same transaction or occurrence or in any other respect.

3. No economic enterprise of the Tribe may claim sovereign immunity as a defense to any action brought or taken by the health inspector or the Department, including a suit for the collection of fines or the enjoining of a business, activity, or function of such economic enterprise and, to the extent necessary, the Tribe waives the sovereign immunity of its economic enterprises in any action brought or taken by the health inspector or the Department against such economic enterprise.

4. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, the bylaws of a corporation shall be subject to repeal or change by act of the shareholders even though the bylaws may also be amended or repealed by the board of directors.

CHAPTER 3
SHARES AND SHAREHOLDERS

Section 19-3-1. Shares.

1. The articles of incorporation shall prescribe the classes of shares and the number of shares of each class that the corporation is authorized to issue. If more than one class of shares is authorized, the articles of incorporation shall prescribe a distinguishing designation for each class, and before the issuance of shares of a class, the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of that class shall be described in the articles of incorporation. All shares of a class shall have preferences, limitations, and relative rights identical to those other shares of the same class except to the extent otherwise permitted by this Section.

2. The articles of incorporation shall authorize:

a. One or more classes of shares that together have unlimited voting rights; and

b. One or more classes of shares, which may be the same class or classes as those with voting rights, that together are entitled to receive the net assets of the corporation on dissolution.

3. The articles of incorporation may authorize one or more classes of shares that:

a. Have special, conditional, or limited voting rights or no right to vote, except to the extent prohibited by this Chapter;

b. Are redeemable or convertible as specified in the articles of incorporation either:

i. At the option of the corporation, the shareholder, or another person or on the occurrence of a designated event;

ii. For cash, indebtedness, securities, or other property; or

iii. In a designated amount or in an amount determined in accordance with a designated formula or by reference to external data or events.

c. Entitle the holders to distributions calculated in any manner, including dividends that may be cumulative, non-cumulative, or partially cumulative; or

d. Have preference over any other class of shares with respect to distributions, including dividends and distributions on the dissolution of the corporation.

4. The description of the designations, preferences, limitations, and relative rights of share classes in this Section is not exhaustive.

5. If the articles of incorporation provide for it, the board of directors may determine, in whole or in part, the preferences, limitations, and relative rights, within the limits set forth in this Section, of either:

a. Any class of shares before the issuance of any shares of that class; or

b. One or more series within a class before the issuance of any shares of that series.

6. Each series of a class of shares shall be given a distinguishing designation.

7. Unless otherwise expressly permitted in this Chapter, all shares of a series shall have preferences, limitations, and relative rights identical to those of other shares of the same series and, except to the extent otherwise provided in the description of the series, with those of other series of the same class.

8. A corporation may issue the number of shares of each class or series authorized by the articles of incorporation. Shares that are issued are outstanding shares until they are reacquired, redeemed, converted, or canceled.

9. At all times that shares of the corporation are outstanding, one or more shares that together have unlimited voting rights and one or more shares that together are entitled to receive the net assets of the corporation on dissolution must be outstanding.

Section 19-3-2. Issuance of Shares.

1. Unless the articles of incorporation reserve the power to the shareholders, the board of directors may authorize shares to be issued for consideration consisting of any tangible or intangible property or benefit to the corporation including cash, services performed, or other securities of the corporation, except that neither promissory notes nor future services constitute valid consideration.

2. A shareholder of a corporation shall be under no obligation to the corporation or its creditors with respect to the shareholder's shares other than the obligation to pay to the corporation the full consideration for which said shares were issued or to be issued.

3. Before the corporation issues shares, the board of directors or, if the articles of incorporation reserve the power to the shareholders, the shareholders, must determine that the consideration received or to be received for shares to be issued is adequate. Such determination is conclusive insofar as the adequacy of consideration for the issuance of shares relates to whether the shares are validly issued, fully paid, and non-assessable.

4. When the corporation receives the consideration for which the board of directors or shareholders authorized the issuance of shares, the shares issued for the consideration are fully paid.

5. Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, a corporation may issue rights, options, or warrants for the purchase of shares of the corporation. The board of directors shall determine the terms upon which the rights, options, or warrants are issued, their form and content, and the terms and conditions relating to their exercise, including the time or times, the conditions precedent, and the consideration for which and the holders by whom the rights, options, or warrants may be exercised.

6. The shares of a corporation shall be represented by certificates signed by an officer of the board of directors. At a minimum, each share certificate must state on its face:

- a. The name of the issuing corporation;
- b. The name of the person to whom issued; and

c. The number and class of shares and the designation of the series, if any, the certificate represents.

7. The articles of incorporation, bylaws, an agreement among shareholders, or an agreement between shareholders and the corporation may impose restrictions on the transfer or registration of transfer of shares of the corporation. Such a restriction does not affect shares issued before the restriction was adopted unless the holders of the shares are parties to the restriction agreement or voted in favor of the restriction.

8. A restriction on the transfer or registration of transfer of shares is valid and enforceable against the holder or a transferee of the holder if the restriction is authorized by this Section and its existence is noted conspicuously on the front or back of the certificate. Unless so noted, a restriction is not enforceable against a person without knowledge of the restriction.

9. The shareholders of a corporation do not have any preemptive right to acquire the corporation's unissued shares except to the extent the articles of incorporation so provide.

10. A corporation may acquire its own shares and shares so acquired constitute authorized but unissued shares, except that if the articles of incorporation prohibit the reissue of acquired shares, the number of authorized shares is reduced by the number of shares acquired.

Section 19-3-3. Meetings of Shareholders.

1. A corporation shall hold a meeting of shareholders annually at a time stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws. The failure to hold an annual meeting at the time stated in or fixed in accordance with a corporation's bylaws does not affect the validity of any corporate action.

2. A corporation shall hold a special meeting of shareholders:

a. On the call of its board of directors or the person authorized to do so by the articles of incorporation or bylaws;

b. On the call of the holders of not less than one-fifth (1/5) of all the outstanding shares entitled to vote;
or

c. When otherwise required in this Title, other law of the Tribe applicable to the corporation, the articles of incorporation, or bylaws.

3. Only business within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice may be conducted at a special shareholders' meeting.

4. Shareholders' meetings may be held in or out of the territory of the Tribe at the place stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws. If no place is stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws, annual meetings shall be held at the corporation's known place of business.

5. Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, shareholders may participate in any shareholders' meeting by any means of communication by which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other during the meeting. A shareholder participating in a meeting by such means is deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

6. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on a matter constitutes a quorum for action on that matter, provided that in no event shall a quorum consist of less than one-third (1/3) of the outstanding shares entitled to vote on the matter. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of that meeting.

7. Unless the vote of a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, bylaws, this Title, or other law of the Tribe applicable to the corporation, if a quorum is present, the affirmative vote of the majority of the shares represented at the meeting and entitled to vote on the matter shall be the act of the shareholders.

8. If the articles of incorporation provide for voting by a single voting group on a matter, action on that matter is taken when voted on by that voting group. If the articles of incorporation provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken when voted on by each of those voting groups counted separately. Voting by individual voting groups entitled to vote on a matter need not be simultaneous.

9. A corporation shall notify shareholders of the date, time, and place of each annual and special shareholders' meeting at least ten (10) but not more than sixty (60) days before the meeting date. Notice may be given by mail, personal delivery, or electronic transmission. Notice of an annual meeting need not include a description of the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called. Notice of a special meeting shall include a description of the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

10. A shareholder may waive any notice before or after the date and time of the shareholders' meeting that is the subject of such notice. The waiver must be in writing, signed by the shareholder entitled to the notice, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records, except that a shareholder's attendance at a meeting waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting.

11. Unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented, a shareholder waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at a meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice.

Section 19-3-4. Shareholder Action Without Meeting.

1. Action required or permitted to be taken at a shareholders' meeting may be taken without a meeting or a vote if there is written consent by at least the minimum number of outstanding shares entitled to vote on the action which would be necessary to authorize or take the action at a meeting.

2. An action taken by shareholders without a shareholders' meeting must be taken by all shareholders and must be evidenced by written consent of all shareholders of the corporation if:

a. The action involves the election or removal of one or more directors; or

b. The articles of incorporation or bylaws require that the action must be taken by all shareholders if taken without a shareholders' meeting.

3. Action taken by the written consent of the shareholders must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken and signed by holders of at least the minimum number of outstanding shares necessary to authorize or take the action. The written consents to the action must be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

4. Unless the written shareholder consent specifies a later effective date, action taken under this Section is effective when consents sufficient to authorize taking the action have been delivered to the corporation.

5. A shareholder may revoke the shareholder's consent by delivering a signed revocation of the consent to the chairperson or secretary of the board of directors before the date that the consents sufficient to authorize taking the action have been delivered to the corporation.

6. A consent signed under this Section has the effect of a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document, except that, if the action requires the filing of a certificate under this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the corporation, the certificate so filed shall state, in lieu of any statement concerning a vote of shareholders, that written consent has been obtained in accordance with this Section.

7. Notice of the taking of a corporate action without a meeting must be given within thirty (30) days after the effective date of the corporate action to:

a. Each shareholder entitled to take the action who did not consent to the action in writing; and

b. Each shareholder who, if the action had been taken at a meeting, would have been entitled to notice of the meeting.

Section 19-3-5. Voting of Shares.

1. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, each outstanding share shall be entitled to one (1) vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of shareholders.

2. Except for shares held by it in a fiduciary capacity, shares of its own stock belonging to a corporation shall not be voted, directly or indirectly, and shall not be counted in determining the total number of outstanding shares at any given time.

3. A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by the shareholder's duly authorized attorney-in-fact, but a proxy shall not be permitted for a Tribal business entity wholly owned by the Tribe. No proxy shall be valid after twelve (12) months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

4. Every proxy shall be revocable at the pleasure of the person executing it or his or her personal representatives or assignee, but the parties to a valid pledge or to an executory contract of sale may agree in writing as to which of them shall vote the stock pledged or sold until the contract of pledge or sale is fully executed.

5. In all elections for directors, every shareholder entitled to vote shall have the right to vote, in person or by proxy, the number of shares owned by the shareholder, for as many persons as there are directors to be elected.

6. If so provided in the articles of incorporation, shareholders may cumulate votes by multiplying the number of votes they are entitled to cast by the number of directors to be elected and to cast the product for a single candidate or distribute the product among two (2) or more candidates.

Section 19-3-6. Voting Trusts and Agreements.

1. One or more shareholders may create a voting trust, conferring on one or more trustees the right to vote or otherwise act for them, by signing an agreement setting out the provisions of the trust and transferring their shares to the trustee. The agreement may contain any lawful provision not inconsistent with the purposes of the trust.

2. Two or more shareholders may provide for the manner in which they will vote their shares by signing an agreement for that purpose. Unless otherwise provided in the voting agreement, a voting agreement is specifically enforceable.

Section 19-3-7. Shareholder Agreements.

1. An agreement among the shareholders of a corporation is effective among the shareholders and the corporation even though it is inconsistent with one or more other provisions of this Title if it complies with this Section and meets any of the following conditions:

a. Restricts the discretion or powers of the board of directors;

b. Governs the authorization or making of distributions whether or not in proportion to ownership of shares, subject to the limitations in this Chapter;

c. Establishes who shall be directors or officers of the corporation, their terms and conditions of office or employment, or their manner of selection or removal;

d. Governs, in general or in regard to specific matters, the exercise or division of voting power by or between the shareholders and directors or by or among any of them, including use of weighted voting rights or director proxies;

e. Establishes the terms and conditions of any agreement for the transfer or use of property or the provision of services between the corporation and any shareholder, director, officer, or employee of the corporation or among any of them;

f. Transfers to one or more shareholders or other persons all or part of the authority to exercise the corporate powers or to manage the business and affairs of the corporation, including the resolution of any issue where there is a deadlock among directors or shareholders;

g. Requires dissolution of the corporation at the request of one or more of the shareholders or on the occurrence of a specified event or contingency;

h. Establishes the terms and conditions of employment of shareholders;

i. Addresses the use of arbitration or other forms of dispute resolution to resolve disputes among shareholders;

j. Restricts the transfer of shares; or

k. Otherwise governs the exercise of the corporate powers or the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, its liquidation and dissolution, or the relationship among the shareholders, the directors, and the corporation, or among any of them.

2. An agreement authorized by this section shall be:

a. Set forth either:

i. In the articles of incorporation or bylaws and approved by all persons who are shareholders at the time of the agreement; or

ii. In a written agreement that is signed by all persons who are shareholders at the time of the agreement and that is filed with the corporation;

b. Subject to amendment or termination only by all persons who are shareholders at the time of the amendment or termination, unless the agreement provides otherwise; and

c. Valid for the duration of the corporation's existence, unless the agreement provides otherwise.

3. An agreement authorized by this Section is enforceable by any person with standing. The existence of an agreement authorized by this Section shall be noted conspicuously on the front or back of each certificate for outstanding shares. The failure to note the existence of the agreement on the certificate or information statement does not affect the validity of the agreement or any action taken pursuant to it. Any purchaser of shares who at the time of purchase did not have knowledge of the existence of the agreement is entitled to rescission of the purchase. A purchaser shall be deemed to have knowledge of the existence of the agreement if its existence is noted on the certificate for the shares or the purchaser has actual notice of the existence of the agreement at the time of purchase. An action to enforce the right of rescission authorized by this subsection must be commenced within the earlier of ninety (90) days after discovery of the existence of the agreement or two (2) years after the time of the purchase of the shares.

4. If an agreement authorized by this Section ceases to be effective for any reason and the agreement is contained or referred to in the corporation's articles of incorporation or bylaws, the board of directors may adopt an amendment to the articles of incorporation or bylaws without shareholder action to delete the agreement and any references to it.

5. An agreement that is authorized by this Section and that limits the discretion or powers of the board of directors relieves the directors of liability for acts or omissions imposed by law on directors with respect to the discretion or powers limited by the agreement and imposes such liability on the persons in whom such discretion or powers are vested.

6. The existence or performance of an agreement authorized by this Section is not a ground for imposing personal liability on any shareholder for the acts or debts of the corporation even if the agreement or its performance treats the corporation as if it were a partnership or results in failure to observe the corporate formalities otherwise applicable to the matters governed by the agreement.

7. Incorporators may act as shareholders with respect to an agreement authorized by this Section if no shares have been issued when the agreement is made.

8. This Section does not apply to, limit, or invalidate agreements that are otherwise valid or authorized without regard to this Section, including, without limitation, shareholder agreements between or among some or all of the shareholders or agreements between or among the corporation and one or more shareholders. The procedure set forth in this Section is not the exclusive method of agreement among shareholders or among shareholders and the corporation with respect to any of the matters described in this Section.

Section 19-3-8. Shareholder Dissent.

1. A shareholder is entitled to dissent from and obtain payment of the fair value of the shareholder's shares in the event of any of the following corporate actions:

a. Consummation of a plan of merger to which the corporation is a party if:

i. Shareholder approval is required for the merger under the articles of incorporation or laws of the Tribe; or

ii. The corporation is a subsidiary that is merged with its parent;

b. If the shareholder is entitled to vote on the plan, consummation of a plan of interest exchange to which the corporation is a party as the acquired entity;

c. Consummation of a plan of conversion, domestication, or division if the shareholder does not receive interests in the converted, domesticated, or resulting entity that have terms as favorable to the shareholder in all material respects and that represent at least the same percentage interest of the total voting rights of the outstanding interests of the converted entity as the shares held by the shareholder before the conversion, domestication, or division;

d. If the shareholder is entitled to vote on the sale or exchange, consummation of a sale or exchange of all or substantially all of the property of the corporation other than in the usual and regular course of business, including a sale in dissolution, but excluding a sale:

i. Pursuant to court order; or

ii. For cash pursuant to a plan by which all or substantially all of the net proceeds of the sale will be distributed to the shareholders within one (1) year after the date of sale;

e. An amendment of the articles of incorporation that materially and adversely affects rights in respect of the shareholder's shares because it:

i. Alters or abolishes a preferential right of the shares;

ii. Creates, alters, or abolishes a right in respect of redemption of the shares;

iii. Alters or abolishes a preemptive right of the holder of the shares to acquire shares or other securities;

iv. Excludes or limits the right of the shares to vote on any matter; or

v. Reduces the number of shares owned by the shareholder to a fraction of a share if the fractional share so created is to be acquired for cash; or

f. Any other corporate action taken pursuant to a shareholder vote to the extent the articles of incorporation, bylaws, or a resolution of the board of directors provides that shareholders are entitled to dissent and obtain payment for their shares.

2. A shareholder entitled to dissent and obtain payment for the shareholder's shares under this Section may not challenge the corporate action creating the shareholder's entitlement unless the action is fraudulent or fails to comply with this Title, the articles of incorporation, or bylaws with respect to the shareholder or the corporation.

3. The right of a dissenting shareholder to obtain payment of the fair value of the shareholder's shares shall terminate upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

a. The proposed corporate action is abandoned or rescinded; or

b. The shareholder's demand for payment is withdrawn with the written consent of the corporation.

4. If proposed corporate action creating dissenters' rights is submitted to a vote at a shareholders' meeting, the meeting notice must state that shareholders are or may be entitled to assert dissenters' rights under this Section. If corporate action creating dissenters' rights is taken without a vote of shareholders, the corporation, within ten (10) days after the effective date of such corporate action, shall notify in writing all shareholders entitled to assert dissenters' rights that the action was taken and send them written dissenters' notice as provided in this Section.

5. If proposed corporate action creating dissenters' rights under this Section is submitted to a vote at a shareholders' meeting, a shareholder who wishes to assert dissenters' rights shall both deliver written notice to the corporation before the vote is taken of the shareholder's intent to demand payment for the shareholder's shares if the proposed action is effectuated and not vote the shares in favor of the proposed action. A shareholder who does not satisfy the requirements of this subsection is not entitled to payment for the shares under this Section. The corporation shall deliver a written dissenters' notice to all shareholders who satisfied the requirements of this subsection.

6. Dissenters' notice required in this Section must be sent within ten (10) days after the effective date of the corporate action and shall:

a. State where the payment demand must be sent and where and when certificates for shares must be deposited; and

b. Set a date by which the corporation must receive the payment demand, which date may not be fewer than thirty (30) nor more than sixty (60) days after the date the dissenters' notice is delivered.

7. A shareholder sent a dissenters' notice must demand payment and deposit the shareholder's certificates in accordance with the terms of the notice. A shareholder who demands payment and deposits the shareholder's share certificates retains all other rights of a shareholder until the proposed corporate action is affected. A shareholder who does not demand payment or deposit the shareholder's share certificates where required by the date set in the dissenters' notice is not entitled to payment for the shareholder's shares under this Section.

8. Within thirty (30) days of the later of the effective date of the proposed corporate action or the date the payment demand is received, the corporation shall pay each dissenter who demanded payment and deposited the shareholder's share certificates in accordance with the notice the amount the corporation estimates to be the fair value of the shares plus accrued interest. The payment must be accompanied by:

a. The corporation's balance sheet as of the end of a fiscal year ending not more than sixteen (16) months before the date of payment, an income statement for that year, a statement of changes in shareholders' equity for that year, and the latest available interim financial statements, if any;

b. An explanation of how the corporation estimated the fair value of the shares;

c. An explanation of how the interest was calculated; and

d. A statement of the dissenter's right to dispute the payment amount under this Section.

9. Provided a demand for payment under this subsection is made in writing within thirty (30) days after the corporation made or offered payment for the dissenter's shares, a dissenter may notify the corporation in writing of the dissenter's own estimate of the fair value of the dissenter's shares and amount of interest due and demand payment of the dissenter's estimate, less any payment made under this Section, and demand payment of the dissenter's estimate of the fair value of the dissenter's shares and interest due, if:

a. The dissenter believes that the amount paid under this Section is less than the fair value of the dissenter's shares or that the interest due is incorrectly calculated;

b. The corporation fails to make payment under this Section within sixty (60) days after the date set for demanding payment; or

c. The corporation does not affect the proposed action and does not return the deposited share certificates within sixty (60) days after the date set for demanding payment.

10. If a dissenter's demand for payment under subsection 9 of this Section remains unsettled:

a. The corporation shall commence a proceeding within sixty (60) days after receiving the payment demand and petition the Tribal Court to determine the fair value of the shares and accrued interest;

b. If the corporation does not commence the proceeding within such sixty (60) day period, it shall pay each dissenter whose demand remains unsettled the amount demanded;

c. The Tribal Court may appoint one (1) or more persons as appraisers to receive evidence and recommend a fair valuation to the Tribal Court;

d. Appraisers appointed by the Tribal Court shall have the powers described in the order appointing them or in any amendment to it;

e. The dissenters shall be entitled to the same discovery rights as parties in other civil proceedings;

f. Each dissenter made a party to the proceeding shall be entitled to judgment for the amount, if any, by which the Tribal Court finds the fair value of the dissenter's shares plus interest exceeds the amount paid by the corporation;

g. The Tribal Court shall determine all costs of the proceeding, including the reasonable compensation and expenses of the appraisers appointed by the Tribal Court and assess the costs against the corporation, except that the Tribal Court may assess the costs against all or some of the dissenters, other than dissenters who are the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, in amounts the Tribal Court finds equitable, to the extent the dissenters acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith in demanding payment;

h. Except for a party that is the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, the Tribal Court may assess fees and expenses of legal counsel and experts for the respective parties in amounts the Tribal Court finds equitable:

i. Against the corporation and in favor of any or all dissenters if the corporation did not substantially comply with the requirements of this Section; or

ii. Against the corporation or a dissenter if the party against whom the fees and expenses are assessed acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith with respect to the rights provided in this Section.

11. Under this Section, fair value with respect to a dissenter's shares shall be determined as the value of the shares immediately before the effective date of the corporate action to which the dissenter objects, excluding any appreciation or depreciation in anticipation of the corporate action unless exclusion would be inequitable.

12. If the Tribe is a shareholder in a corporation, any right to dissent as a shareholder may only be exercised by the Tribe and no individual member of the Tribe or the Tribal Council shall have any right of shareholder dissent under this Section even if the shares of the Tribe are voted by individual members of the Tribal Council.

13. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe as a shareholder or otherwise or waiving the sovereign immunity of any Tribal business entity.

Section 19-3-9. Derivative Actions.

1. A shareholder may maintain a derivative action to enforce a right of a corporation if:

a. Unless such a demand would be futile, the shareholder first makes a demand on the board of directors requesting that they cause the corporation to bring an action to enforce the right; and

b. The board of directors do not bring the action within a reasonable time.

2. In a derivative action, the complaint must state with particularity:

a. The date and content of plaintiff's demand and the response to the demand by the board of directors; or

b. Why demand should be excused as futile.

3. A derivative action to enforce a right of a corporation may be maintained only by a person that is a shareholder at the time the action is commenced and:

a. Was a shareholder when the conduct giving rise to the action occurred; or

b. Who became a shareholder through transfer by operation of law from one who was a shareholder at the time of the conduct.

4. The court may appoint a panel of one or more independent persons on motion by the corporation to determine whether the maintenance of the derivative action is in the best interests of the corporation. If the court appoints such a panel, on motion by the corporation, the court shall, except for good cause shown, stay discovery for the time reasonably necessary to permit the panel to make its determination. This subsection does not prevent the court from:

a. Enforcing a person's right to information under this Title; or

b. Granting a temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction.

5. After appropriate investigation, a panel appointed by the court under this Section may determine that it is in the best interests of the corporation that the proceeding:

- a. Continue under the control of the plaintiff;
- b. Continue under the control of the corporation;
- c. Be settled on terms approved by the corporation; or
- d. Be dismissed.

6. After making a determination how to proceed, a panel appointed by the court under this Section shall file with the court a statement of its determination and its report supporting its determination. The panel shall serve each party with a copy of the determination and report. If the court finds the panel has proven that the members of the panel were disinterested and independent and that the panel acted in good faith, independently, and with reasonable care, the court shall enforce the determination of the panel. Otherwise, the court shall dissolve any stay entered pursuant to this Section and allow the action to continue under the control of the plaintiff. A person appointed to a panel by the court under this Section is not liable whatsoever for a determination made pursuant to this Section.

7. A derivative action on behalf of a corporation may not be voluntarily dismissed or settled without the court's approval. If the court determines that a proposed dismissal or settlement will substantially affect the interests of the corporation's shareholders or a class of shareholders, the court shall direct that notice be given to the shareholders affected.

8. Subject to the award of expenses provided in this Section:

- a. Any proceeds or other benefits of a derivative action, whether by judgment, compromise, or settlement, belong to the corporation and not to the plaintiff; and

- b. If the plaintiff receives any proceeds, the plaintiff shall remit them immediately to the corporation.

9. Unless the corporation is a Tribal business entity and the plaintiff is not the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, if a derivative action is successful in whole or in part, the court may award the plaintiff reasonable expenses, including reasonable legal counsel's fees and costs, from the recovery of the corporation.

10. In any derivative action brought to enforce the right of a foreign corporation, the matters covered by this Section shall be governed by the laws of the jurisdiction of formation of the foreign corporation except for the provision in this Section governing stays, discontinuance, settlement, and payment of expenses.

11. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe or waiving the sovereign immunity of any Tribal business entity.

Section 19-3-10. Financial Statements.

1. A corporation shall furnish its shareholders annual financial statements that may be consolidated or combined statements of the corporation and one or more of its subsidiaries, as appropriate, and that include a balance sheet as of the end of the fiscal year, an income statement for that year, and a statement of changes in shareholders' equity for the year. If financial statements are prepared for the corporation on the basis of generally accepted accounting principles, the annual financial statements shall also be prepared on that basis.

2. If the annual financial statements are reported on by a certified public accountant, that report shall accompany them. If not, the statements shall be accompanied by a statement of the person responsible for the corporation's accounting records both:

a. Stating that person's reasonable belief whether the statements were prepared on the basis of generally accepted accounting principles and, if not, describing the basis of preparation; and

b. Describing any respects in which the statements were not prepared on a basis of accounting consistent with the statements prepared for the preceding year.

3. A corporation shall mail or transmit the annual financial statements to each shareholder within one hundred twenty (120) days after the close of each fiscal year. On written request from a shareholder, the corporation shall mail or transmit that shareholder the latest annual financial statements.

4. If a corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer with respect to a proceeding where the director or officer was a party, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance in writing to the shareholders with or before the annual financial statements required under this Section. Failure to report under this subsection does not invalidate otherwise valid indemnification.

Section 19-3-11. Rights to Information and Records.

1. On reasonable request, a shareholder is entitled to inspect and copy, during regular business hours at the corporation's principal place of business, any of the records of the corporation required to be maintained at such principal place of business under this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the corporation.

2. The corporation shall furnish to each shareholder, on reasonable and good faith demand, any other true and full information concerning the corporation's activities, affairs, financial condition, and other circumstances.

3. A former shareholder is entitled to information to which the shareholder was entitled while a shareholder if:

a. The information pertains to the period during which the person was a shareholder;

b. The former shareholder seeks the information in good faith; and

c. The former shareholder satisfies the requirements of this Section.

4. The corporation may impose reasonable restrictions on the confidentiality, use, or distribution of records subject to inspection and copying by shareholders under this Section.

5. The right of inspection granted by this Section may not be abolished or limited by a corporation's articles of incorporation or bylaws.

6. A shareholder's agent or legal representative has the same inspection and copying rights as the shareholder it represents.

7. If a corporation does not allow within a reasonable time a shareholder to inspect and copy any record subject to inspection and copying under this Section, on application of the shareholder, the Tribal Court may summarily order inspection and copying of the records demanded at the corporation's expense.

8. Unless the corporation is a Tribal business entity and the plaintiff is not the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, if the Tribal Court orders inspection and copying of the records demanded, it shall also order the corporation to pay the shareholder's costs, including reasonable legal counsel fees, incurred to obtain the order, unless the corporation proves that it refused inspection in good faith because it had a reasonable basis for doubt about the right of the shareholder to inspect the records demanded. Unless the shareholder is the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, the Tribal Court may order a shareholder to pay all or a portion of the corporation's costs, including reasonable legal counsel fees, if the demand to inspect is denied in whole or in material part.

9. If the Tribal Court orders inspection and copying of records pursuant to this Section, it may impose reasonable restrictions on the use or distribution of the records by the shareholder.

10. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereign immunity of the Tribe, including a corporation that is a Tribal business entity.

CHAPTER 4 BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Section 19-4-1. Board of Directors.

1. The business and affairs of a corporation shall be managed by a board of directors, subject to any limitations in this Title, the articles of incorporation, or bylaws.

2. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws so provide, directors need not be shareholders in the corporation.

3. The articles of incorporation or bylaws may prescribe qualifications for directors.

4. A board of directors shall consist of one (1) or more individuals, with the number established in the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

5. Initial directors may be named in the articles of incorporation, elected by the shareholders, or, prior to the issuance of shares, elected by the incorporators. Thereafter, directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the shareholders.

6. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, directors are elected by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election at a meeting where a quorum is present and those receiving the greatest number of votes shall be deemed elected even though not receiving a majority. At each election for directors, shareholders are entitled to cumulate their votes by multiplying the number of votes they are entitled to cast by the number of directors for whom they are entitled to vote and casting the product for a single candidate or distributing the product among two or more candidates.

7. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, each director shall hold office for the term for which he or she is elected or appointed and until his successor shall have been elected or appointed and qualified.

8. Unless the articles of incorporation require cause for removing a director, a director may be removed from office with or without cause at a meeting of the shareholders called expressly for that purpose by such vote as would suffice for the director's election. The articles of incorporation may provide additional procedures for removing a director.

9. A director may resign at any time by delivering written notice thereof to the board of directors or its chairperson.

10. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, a vacancy on the board of directors may be filled by the board of directors in office even if they constitute less than a quorum. A director elected or appointed to fill a vacancy shall be elected or appointed for the unexpired term of his or her predecessor in office.

11. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors may fix the compensation of directors.

12. Unless a law applicable to the corporation or the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise generally or for any particular act of the board of directors, a majority of the number of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, provided that in no event shall a quorum consist of fewer than one third (1/3) of the number of directors.

13. Unless a law applicable to the corporation or the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide for a greater number generally or for any particular act of the board of directors, the act of the majority of the directors present at a meeting where a quorum is present shall be the act of the board of directors.

14. A director may waive any notice required by this Title, the articles of incorporation, or the bylaws before or after the date and time stated in the notice. A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to the director of the meeting, unless the director at the beginning of the meeting, or promptly upon arrival, objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not, after objecting, vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

15. Unless the articles of organization or bylaws provide otherwise, action to be taken at a meeting of the board of directors may be taken without a meeting or a vote if there is written consent by at least a majority of the directors. The written consent to the action must be included in the minutes or filed with the corporate records.

Section 19-4-2. Board Committees.

1. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors may create one or more committees and appoint members of the board of directors to serve on them. Each committee shall have one or more members, and each member of a committee shall serve at the pleasure of the board of directors.

2. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws require a greater number, the creation of a committee and appointment of members of the board of directors to it must be approved by a majority of all the directors in office when the action is taken.

3. The provisions of this Chapter governing meetings, action without meetings, notice, waiver of notice, quorum, and voting requirements of the board of directors also apply to committees and their members.

4. Subject to the limitations set forth in this Section, each committee of the board of directors may exercise the authority of the board of directors under this Chapter to the extent specified by the board of directors or in the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

5. A committee shall not take any of the following actions:
 - a. Authorize distributions;
 - b. Approve or recommend to shareholders any action that requires the shareholders' approval under this Title;
 - c. Fill vacancies on the board of directors or on any of its committees;
 - d. Adopt, amend, or repeal articles of incorporation or bylaws; or
 - e. Fix the compensation of directors for serving on the board of directors or any committee of the board of directors.

6. The creation of, delegation of authority to, or action by a committee does not alone constitute compliance by a director with the standards of conduct described in this Chapter.

7. The board of directors may designate one or more directors as alternate members of any committee who may replace any absent member at any meeting of the committee.

Section 19-4-3. Officers.

1. A corporation has the officers set forth in its articles of incorporation or bylaws or appointed by the board of directors. Each officer has the authority and shall perform the duties set forth in the articles of incorporation or bylaws or, to the extent consistent with the articles of incorporation and bylaws, prescribed by the board of directors.

2. The articles of incorporation shall delegate to one of the officers the responsibility for preparing minutes of meetings of the directors and the shareholders and for authenticating records of the corporation.

3. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provided otherwise, the same individual may simultaneously hold more than one office in the corporation.

4. The appointment of an officer does not by itself create any contractual or property right. Nor does the removal of an officer affect the contractual or property rights, if any, of the officer or corporation.

5. The board of directors may remove an officer at any time with or without cause.

6. An officer may resign at any time by delivering written notice thereof to the corporation.

Section 19-4-4. Duties of Directors and Officers.

1. All directors and officers owe fiduciary duties to the corporation and the shareholders.

2. The fiduciary duties of a director or officer include:

a. To act in a manner the director or officer reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the corporation;

b. To discharge their duties with the care that a person in a like position would reasonably believe appropriate under similar circumstances;

c. To disclose, or cause to be disclosed, to the other directors or officers information not already known by them but known by the director or officer to be material to the discharge of the decision-making or oversight functions of the directors, unless disclosure would violate another duty imposed under applicable law, a legally enforceable obligation of confidentiality, or a professional ethics rule;

d. To account to the corporation and hold as trustee for it any property, profit, or benefit derived by the director or officer:

i. In the conduct or winding up of the corporation's activities and affairs;

ii. From a use by the director or officer of the corporation's property; or

iii. From the appropriation of a corporation opportunity;

e. To refrain from dealing with the corporation in the conduct or winding up of the corporation's activities and affairs as or on behalf of a person having an interest adverse to the corporation;

f. To refrain from competing with the corporation in the conduct of the corporation's activities and affairs before the dissolution of the corporation;

g. To refrain from engaging in grossly negligent or reckless conduct, willful or intentional misconduct, a violation of any law involving moral turpitude, or knowing violation of other applicable law;

h. To refrain from a willful failure to deal fairly with the corporation or its shareholders in connection with a matter in which the director or officer has a material conflict of interest; and

i. To refrain from a transaction from which the director or officer may derive an improper personal profit.

3. All directors and officers shall discharge their duties and obligations and exercise any rights under this Title, any other law of the Tribe applicable to the corporation, or the articles of incorporation or bylaws consistently with the contractual obligation of good faith and fair dealing.

4. In discharging the director's or officer's duties, unless the director or officer has knowledge that would make reliance unwarranted, a director or officer is entitled to rely on:

a. One or more other directors, officers, or employees of the corporation whom the director or officer reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented;

b. Legal counsel, public accountants, or other persons retained by the corporation as to matters involving skills or expertise the director or officer reasonably believes are within the person's professional or expert competence; or

c. A committee of the board of which the director or officer is not a member if the director or officer reasonably believes the committee merits confidence.

5. The shareholders of a corporation may authorize or ratify, after full disclosure of all material facts, a specific act or transaction that otherwise would violate the fiduciary duties in this Section.

6. Every director and officer shall account to the corporation and hold as trustee for it any improper personal profit derived by that director or officer without the consent of a majority of the disinterested directors from:

a. A transaction connected with the organization, conduct, or dissolution and winding up of the corporation; and

b. A use by a director or officer of the property of the corporation, including confidential or proprietary information or other matters entrusted to the person as a result of the person's status as a director or officer.

7. A corporation's articles of incorporation or bylaws may impose duties on its directors and officers that are in addition to, but not in abrogation of, those provided in this Section.

Section 19-4-5. Conflicts of Interest.

1. A director or officer shall not vote or participate in any discussion or action of the board of directors concerning a matter where the director or officer or any of their immediate family has a business or personal interest which conflicts with the interests of the corporation.

2. A transaction with the corporation in which a director has an interest is voidable by the corporation solely because of the director's interest in the transaction unless:

a. The material facts of the transaction and the director's interest in the transaction were disclosed to or known by the board of directors at the time of approval of the transaction and a majority of the directors approved or ratified the transaction, provided that any director with an interest in the transaction does not vote on the approval or ratification and is not counted toward the minimum number of directors required to constitute a quorum;

b. The material facts of the transaction and the director's interest in the transaction were disclosed to or known by the shareholders entitled to vote and the shareholders authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction by a majority vote of the shares entitled to vote, excluding any shares owned by a director who has an interest in the transaction; or

c. The transaction was fair to the corporation at the time it was approved.

3. A corporation shall not lend any money to or guarantee the personal debts or obligations of any director or officer of the corporation unless:

a. The shareholders approve the loan or guarantee by a majority vote of the shares entitled to vote, excluding any shares owned by a director who has an interest in the transaction; or

b. The board of directors determines the loan or guarantee benefits the corporation and a majority of the directors approve the loan or guarantee, provided that any director with an interest in the transaction does not vote on the approval and is not counted toward the minimum number of directors required to constitute a quorum.

Section 19-4-6. Representations of Directors and Officers. An admission or representation made by a director or officer concerning the business of a corporation within the scope of the director's or officer's authority may be used as evidence against the corporation in any legal proceeding.

Section 19-4-7. Knowledge of Directors and Officers. The following operates as notice to or knowledge of a corporation:

1. Notice to any director or officer of any matter relating to the business of the corporation;

2. Knowledge of the director or officer acting in the particular matter acquired while a director or officer or known by the person at the time of becoming a director or officer; and

3. Knowledge of any other director or officer who reasonably could and should have communicated it to the acting director or officer.

CHAPTER 5
DEALING WITH CORPORATION

Section 19-5-1. Nature of Corporation. A corporation is an entity distinct from its shareholders.

Section 19-5-2. Property of Corporation.

1. All property originally transferred to or acquired by a corporation is property of the corporation and not the shareholders individually.

2. Property acquired with funds of a corporation is presumed to be property of the corporation.

3. Property may be acquired, held, and conveyed in the name of a corporation.

4. Subject to any limitations in its articles of incorporation, its bylaws, this Title, or other law of the Tribe applicable to the corporation, the property of a corporation may be transferred by an instrument executed by a director in the name of the corporation.

Section 19-5-3. Liability to Third Parties.

1. A debt, obligation, or other liability of a corporation, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise, is solely the debt, obligation, or other liability of the corporation. This subsection applies regardless of the dissolution of the corporation.

2. A shareholder is not personally liable, directly or indirectly, by way of contribution or otherwise, for an act, debt, obligation, or other liability of the corporation solely by reason of being or acting as a shareholder. This subsection applies regardless of the dissolution of the corporation.

3. The failure of a corporation to observe formalities relating to the exercise of its powers or management of its activities and affairs is not a ground for imposing liability on a shareholder for an act, debt, obligation, or other liability of the corporation.

Section 19-5-4. Parties to Actions. A shareholder of a corporation is not a proper party to a proceeding by or against a corporation solely by reason of being a shareholder, except if:

1. The object of the proceeding is to enforce a shareholder's right against or liability to the corporation; or

2. The action is brought by a shareholder under this Title.

Section 19-5-5. Authority to Sue.

1. Unless otherwise provided in its articles of incorporation or bylaws, an action on behalf of a domestic or foreign corporation may be brought in the name of the corporation by:

a. One or more shareholders as a derivative action in accordance with this Title; or

b. One or more directors, if authorized by the board of directors, unless otherwise directed by a majority vote of the shares entitled to vote, excluding shares of any shareholder who has an interest in the outcome of the action that is adverse to the interests of the corporation.

2. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe as shareholder or otherwise.

Section 19-5-6. Records.

1. A corporation shall keep at its principal place of business all of the following:

a. A record of its shareholders in a form that permits preparation of a list of the names and addresses of all shareholders in alphabetical order by class of shares showing the number and class of shares held by each;

b. A list of the names and business addresses of its current directors and officers;

c. A copy of its articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto and restatements thereof together with executed copies of any powers of attorney under which any articles were executed;

d. A copy of its most recent annual report delivered to the Office of the Secretary;

e. A copy of all other organizational documents of the corporation, documents filed with the Office of the Secretary, and all amendments thereto and restatements thereof;

f. A copy of its bylaws and all amendments thereto and restatements thereof;

g. A copy of all shareholder agreements under this Chapter;

h. Any notices to shareholders on which a document filed with the Office of the Secretary is dependent;

i. Resolutions adopted by its board of directors;

j. All written communications within the past three (3) years to shareholders;

k. Minutes of all meetings of its shareholders and board of directors, a record of all actions taken by the shareholders or board of directors without a meeting, and a record of all actions taken by a committee of the board of directors in place of the board of directors;

CHAPTER 6
DISTRIBUTIONS

Section 19-6-1. Distributions Generally.

1. The board of directors may authorize, and the corporation may make, distributions to its shareholders subject to any restrictions in the articles of incorporation and the limitations in this Section.

2. If the board of directors does not fix the record date for determining shareholders entitled to a distribution, other than one involving any purchase, redemption, or other acquisition of the corporation's shares, it is the date the board of directors authorizes the distribution.

Section 19-6-2. Limitations on Distributions.

1. A distribution shall not be made if, after giving it effect, either:

a. The corporation would not be able to pay its debts as they become due in the ordinary course of the corporation's activities and affairs; or

b. The corporation's total assets would be less than the sum of its total liabilities plus, unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the amount that would be needed to satisfy the preferential rights, if any, of shareholders upon dissolution and winding up.

2. The board of directors may base a determination that a distribution is not prohibited under this Section on:

a. Financial statements and other financial data prepared on the basis of accounting practices and principles that are reasonable in the circumstances, which in the absence of special circumstances shall be generally accepted accounting principles or applicable regulatory accounting principles; or

b. A fair valuation or other method that is reasonable under the circumstances.

3. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, the effect of a distribution is measured:

a. In the case of distribution by purchase, redemption, or other acquisition of the corporation's shares, as of the earlier of either:

i. The date money or other property is transferred or debt is incurred by the corporation; or

ii. The date the shareholder ceases to be a shareholder with respect to the acquired shares;

b. In the case of any other distribution of indebtedness, as of the date the indebtedness is distributed; and

c. In all other cases, as of either:

i. The date the distribution is authorized if the payment occurs within one hundred twenty (120) days after the date of authorization; or

ii. The date the payment is made if it occurs more than one hundred twenty (120) days after the date of authorization.

4. A corporation's indebtedness to a shareholder incurred by reason of a distribution made in accordance with this Section is at parity with the corporation's indebtedness to its general, unsecured creditors except to the extent subordinated by agreement.

Section 19-6-3. Liability for Improper Distributions.

1. A director who votes for or assents to a distribution made in violation of this Chapter or the articles of incorporation is personally liable to the corporation for the amount of the distribution that exceeds what could have been distributed without violating this Chapter or the articles of incorporation if it is established that the director's duties were not performed in compliance with this Chapter.

2. A director of a corporation who is present at a meeting of its board of directors at which action on any distribution in violation of this Chapter is taken is presumed to have assented to the action taken unless his or her dissent is entered in the minutes of the meeting, the director files his or her written dissent to the action with the secretary of the meeting before the adjournment of the meeting, or the director forwards the dissent by registered or certified mail to the secretary of the corporation before close of business on the next business day after the adjournment of the meeting. The right to dissent does not apply to a director who voted in favor of the action.

3. A director who is held liable under this Section for an unlawful distribution is entitled to contribution from:

a. Every other director who could be held liable under this Section for the unlawful distribution; and

b. Each shareholder for the amount the shareholder accepted knowing the distribution was made in violation of this Chapter or the articles of incorporation.

4. An action to recover under this Section may be brought in the Tribal Court. An action under this Section is barred unless commenced no later than four (4) years after the date of the distribution.

5. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereign immunity of the Tribe, including a corporation that is a Tribal business entity.

Except as provided in the articles of incorporation, a member of the nonprofit corporation does not have a vested property right resulting from any provision in the articles of incorporation, including provisions relating to management, control, purpose, or duration of the corporation.

2. If a membership corporation has not yet issued memberships, its board of directors, or its incorporators if it has no board of directors, may adopt one or more amendments to the corporation's articles of incorporation.

3. If a membership corporation has issued memberships, the following apply to amendments to the articles of incorporation:

a. A nonprofit corporation's board of directors may propose one or more amendments to the articles of incorporation for submission to the members and the board of directors may condition its submission of the proposed amendment on any basis;

4. Except as otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, the board of directors of a nonmembership corporation may adopt amendments to the nonprofit corporation's articles of incorporation. An amendment adopted by the board under this subsection must also be approved:

a. By a designated body whose approval is required by the articles of incorporation or bylaws;

b. If the amendment changes or deletes a provision regarding the appointment of a director by persons other than the board, by those persons as if they constituted a voting group; and

c. If the amendment changes or deletes a provision regarding the designation of a director, by the individual designated at the time as that director.

5. To amend its articles of incorporation, a nonprofit corporation must deliver to the Office of the Secretary for filing an amendment stating:

a. The name of the nonprofit corporation;

b. The date of filing of its initial articles of incorporation;

c. The text of each amendment adopted;

d. The date of each amendment's adoption;

Section 20-2-6. Effect of Amendment of Articles.

1. Except as provided in this Section, an amendment to the articles of incorporation does not affect a cause of action existing against or in favor of the nonprofit corporation, a proceeding to which the nonprofit corporation is a party, or the existing rights of persons other than members of the nonprofit corporation or persons referred to in the articles. An amendment changing a nonprofit corporation's name does not affect a proceeding brought by or against the nonprofit corporation in its former name.

2. Property held in trust by a nonprofit corporation or otherwise dedicated to a charitable purpose may not be diverted from its purpose by an amendment of its articles of incorporation.

3. A person that is a member or otherwise affiliated with a charitable corporation may not receive a direct or indirect financial benefit in connection with an amendment of the articles of incorporation unless the person is itself a charitable corporation or a nonprofit entity with a charitable or public purpose or a commission, board, agency, department, division, instrumentality, subdivision, or unit of the Tribe or another government. This subsection does not apply to the receipt of reasonable compensation for services rendered.

Section 20-2-7. Bylaws.

1. The incorporators or the board of directors of a nonprofit corporation shall adopt initial bylaws for the corporation.

2. The bylaws of a nonprofit corporation may contain any provision for managing the activities and regulating the affairs of the corporation that is not inconsistent with law or the articles of incorporation.

a. The power to alter, amend, or repeal the bylaws is reserved to the members by the articles of incorporation;

b. The members in amending or repealing a particular bylaw provide expressly that the board of directors may not amend or repeal that bylaw; or

c. The provision to be amended includes a higher quorum or voting requirement for the board of directors, unless otherwise expressly provided in the bylaws or the provision was adopted by the board of directors.

4. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, the bylaws of a nonprofit corporation shall be subject to repeal or change by act of the members even though the bylaws may also be amended or repealed by the board of directors.

Section 20-2-8. Members.

1. A nonprofit corporation may or may not have members.

2. If the articles of incorporation or bylaws of a nonprofit corporation do not provide that it shall have members or if a nonprofit corporation in fact has no members entitled to vote on a matter, any provision of this Title or any other law of the Tribe governing the nonprofit corporation requiring notice to, the presence of, or the vote, consent, or other action by members of the nonprofit corporation in connection with the matter shall be satisfied by notice to, the presence of, or the vote, consent, or other action by the board of directors or a body of the corporation otherwise designated in the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

3. If the articles of incorporation or bylaws of a nonprofit corporation provide that it shall have members, the following standards shall apply:

a. The articles of incorporation shall establish the criteria and procedures for admission of members;

b. A person may not be admitted as a member without the person's consent;

c. A member is not an agent of the nonprofit corporation solely by reason of being a member;

d. Each member shall have the same rights and obligations as every other member with respect to voting, dissolution, membership transfer, and all other matters unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws specifically establish classes of membership with different rights or obligations;

e. Except as provided in its articles of incorporation or bylaws, the nonprofit corporation may admit members for no consideration or for such consideration as is determined by the board of directors, which may consist of money or property transferred to, services performed for, or another benefit provided to the nonprofit corporation or an agreement to transfer money or property to, perform services for, or provide another benefit to the nonprofit corporation;

f. The nonprofit corporation may issue certificates evidencing membership therein;

g. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, a member may not transfer a membership or any right arising therefrom;

h. Where a member has the right to transfer a membership, a restriction on that right shall not be binding with respect to a member holding a membership issued prior to the adoption of the restriction unless the restriction is approved by the affected member;

i. The nonprofit corporation may levy dues, assessments, and fees on its members to the extent authorized in the articles of incorporation or bylaws and the articles of incorporation or bylaws may provide reasonable means, such as termination and reinstatement of membership, to enforce the collection of dues, assessments, and fees;

j. A member may resign at any time, but resignation of a member does not relieve the member from any obligations incurred or commitments made prior to resignation;

k. A membership may be terminated or suspended for the reasons and in the manner provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, but the termination or suspension of a member does not relieve the member from any obligations incurred or commitments made prior to the termination or suspension;

1. A nonprofit corporation that is not a charitable corporation may purchase any of its memberships or any right arising therefrom only to the extent provided in and in accordance with the articles of incorporation or bylaws, but a charitable corporation may not purchase any of its memberships or any right arising therefrom.

Section 20-2-9. Meetings of Members.

1. A nonprofit corporation with members shall hold a meeting of members annually at a time stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws. The failure to hold an annual meeting at the time stated in or fixed in accordance with a nonprofit corporation's bylaws does not affect the validity of any corporate action.

2. A membership corporation shall hold a special meeting of members:

a. On the call of its board of directors or the person authorized to do so by the articles of incorporation or bylaws;

b. On the call of the holders of not less than one-fifth (1/5) of all the memberships entitled to vote; or

c. When otherwise required in this Chapter.

3. Only business within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice may be conducted at a special members' meeting.

4. Members' meetings may be held in or out of the territory of the Tribe at the place stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws. If no place is stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws, annual meetings shall be held at the nonprofit corporation's known place of business.

5. Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, members may participate in any members' meeting by any means of communication by which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other during the meeting. A member participating in a meeting by such means is deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

6. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on a matter constitutes a quorum for action on that matter, provided that in no event shall a quorum consist of less than one-third (1/3) of the outstanding memberships entitled to vote on the matter. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, once a membership is represented for any purpose at a meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of that meeting.

7. Unless the vote of a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, bylaws, or this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the nonprofit corporation, if a quorum is present, the affirmative vote of the majority of the memberships represented at the meeting and entitled to vote on the matter shall be the act of the members.

8. If the articles of incorporation provide for voting by a single voting group on a matter, action on that matter is taken when voted on by that voting group. If the articles of incorporation provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken when voted on by each of those voting groups counted separately. Voting by individual voting groups entitled to vote on a matter need not be simultaneous.

9. A membership corporation shall notify members of the date, time, and place of each annual and special members' meeting at least ten (10) but not more than sixty (60) days before the meeting date. Notice may be given by mail, personal delivery, or electronic transmission. Notice of an annual meeting need not include a description of the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called. Notice of a special meeting shall include a description of the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

10. A member may waive any notice before or after the date and time of the members' meeting that is the subject of such notice. The waiver must be in writing, signed by the member entitled to the notice, and delivered to the nonprofit corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records, except that a member's attendance at a meeting waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the member at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting.

11. Unless the member objects to considering the matter when it is presented, a member waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at a meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice.

Section 20-2-10. Member Action Without Meeting.

1. Action required or permitted by this Title or other law of the Tribe governing the nonprofit corporation to be taken at a members' meeting may be taken without a meeting or a vote if there is written consent by at least the minimum number of memberships entitled to vote on the action which would be necessary to authorize or take the action at a meeting.

2. An action taken by members without a members' meeting must be taken by all members and must be evidenced by written consent of all members of the nonprofit corporation if:

a. The action involves the election or removal of one or more directors; or

b. The articles of incorporation or bylaws require that the action must be taken by all members if taken without a members' meeting.

3. Action taken by the written consent of the members must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken and signed by holders of at least the minimum number of memberships necessary to authorize or take the action. The written consents to the action must be delivered to the nonprofit corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

4. Unless the written member consent specifies a later effective date, action taken under this Section is effective when consents sufficient to authorize taking the action have been delivered to the nonprofit corporation.

5. A member may revoke the member's consent by delivering a signed revocation of the consent to the president or secretary of the board of directors before the date that the consents have been delivered to the nonprofit corporation.

6. A consent signed under this Section has the effect of a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document, except that, if the action requires the filing of a certificate under this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the nonprofit corporation, the certificate so filed shall state, in lieu of any statement concerning a vote of members, that written consent has been obtained in accordance with this Section.

7. Notice of the taking of a corporate action without a meeting must be given within thirty (30) days after the effective date of the corporate action to:

a. Each member entitled to take the action who did not consent to the action in writing; and

b. Each member who, if the action had been taken at a meeting, would have been entitled to notice of the meeting.

Section 20-2-11. Voting of Members.

1. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, each member shall be entitled to one (1) vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of members.

2. A member may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the member or by the member's duly authorized attorney-in-fact. No proxy shall be valid after twelve (12) months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

3. Every proxy shall be revocable at the pleasure of the person executing it or his or her personal representatives or assignee, but the parties to a valid pledge or to an executory contract of transfer may agree in writing as to which of them shall vote the membership pledged or transferred until the contract of pledge or transfer is fully executed.

4. In all elections for directors, every member entitled to vote shall have the right to vote, in person or by proxy, for as many persons as there are directors to be elected.

5. If so provided in the articles of incorporation, members may cumulate votes by multiplying the number of memberships they are entitled to cast by the number of directors to be elected and to cast the product for a single candidate or distribute the product among two (2) or more candidates.

Section 20-2-12. Voting Trusts and Agreements.

1. If and to the extent a membership is transferable as provided in this Chapter, and unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, one or more members may create a voting trust, conferring on one or more trustees the right to vote or otherwise act for them, by signing an agreement setting out the provisions of the trust and transferring their memberships to the trustee or trustees. The agreement may contain any lawful provision not inconsistent with the purposes of the trust.

2. Two or more members may provide for the manner in which they will vote their memberships by signing an agreement for that purpose. Unless otherwise provided in the voting agreement, a voting agreement is specifically enforceable.

Section 20-2-13. Member Agreements.

1. An agreement among the members of a membership corporation is effective among the members and the membership corporation even though it is inconsistent with one or more other provisions of this Title if it complies with this Section and meets any of the following conditions:

a. Restricts the discretion or powers of the board of directors;

b. Governs the authorization or making of distributions whether or not in proportion to ownership of memberships, subject to the limitations in this Title;

c. Establishes who shall be directors or officers of the membership corporation, their terms and conditions of office or employment, or their manner of selection or removal;

d. Governs, in general or in regard to specific matters, the exercise or division of voting power by or between the members and directors or by or among any of them, including use of weighted voting rights or director proxies;

e. Establishes the terms and conditions of any agreement for the transfer or use of property or the provision of services between the membership corporation and any member, director, officer, or employee of the membership corporation or among any of them;

f. Transfers to one or more members or other persons all or part of the authority to exercise the corporate powers or to manage the business and affairs of the membership corporation, including the resolution of any issue where there is a deadlock among directors or members;

g. Requires dissolution of the membership corporation at the request of one or more of the members or on the occurrence of a specified event or contingency;

h. Establishes the terms and conditions of employment of members;

i. Addresses the use of arbitration or other forms of dispute resolution to resolve disputes among members;

j. Restricts the transfer of memberships; or

k. Otherwise governs the exercise of the corporate powers or the management of the business and affairs of the membership corporation, its liquidation and dissolution, or the relationship among the members, the directors, and the membership corporation, or among any of them.

2. An agreement authorized by this section shall be:

a. Set forth either:

i. In the articles of incorporation or bylaws and approved by all persons who are members at the time of the agreement; or

ii. In a written agreement that is signed by all persons who are members at the time of the agreement and that is filed with the membership corporation;

b. Subject to amendment or termination only by all persons who are members at the time of the amendment, unless the agreement provides otherwise; and

c. Valid for the duration of the membership corporation's existence, unless the agreement provides otherwise.

3. An agreement authorized by this Section is enforceable by any party to the agreement against any other party to the agreement. The existence of an agreement authorized by this Section shall be noted conspicuously in an information statement provided to any person who becomes a member and who was not a signatory of the agreement. The failure to note the existence of the agreement in the information statement does not affect the validity of the agreement or any action taken pursuant to it. Any transferee of a membership who at the time of transfer did not have knowledge of the existence of the agreement is entitled to rescission of the membership. A transferee shall be deemed to have knowledge of the existence of the agreement if its existence is noted in the information statement in compliance with this subsection and the information is delivered to the transferee at or before the time of transfer of the membership or the transferee has actual notice of the existence of the agreement at the time of transfer. An action to enforce the right of rescission authorized by this subsection must be commenced within the earlier of ninety (90) days after discovery of the existence of the agreement or two (2) years after the time of the transfer of the membership.

4. If an agreement authorized by this Section ceases to be effective for any reason and the agreement is contained or referred to in the membership corporation's articles of incorporation or bylaws, the board of directors may adopt an amendment to the articles of incorporation or bylaws without member action to delete the agreement and any references to it.

5. An agreement that is authorized by this Section and that limits the discretion or powers of the board of directors relieves the directors of liability for acts or omissions imposed by law on directors with respect to the discretion or powers limited by the agreement and imposes such liability on the persons in whom such discretion or powers are vested.

6. The existence or performance of an agreement authorized by this Section is not a ground for imposing personal liability on any member for the acts or debts of the membership corporation even if the agreement or its performance treats the membership corporation as if it were a partnership or results in failure to observe the corporate formalities otherwise applicable to the matters governed by the agreement.

7. Incorporators may act as members with respect to an agreement authorized by this Section if no memberships have been issued when the agreement is made.

8. This Section does not apply to, limit, or invalidate agreements that are otherwise valid or authorized without regard to this Section, including, without limitation, member agreements between or among some or all of the members or agreements between or among the membership corporation and one or more members. The procedure set forth in this Section is not the exclusive method of agreement among members or among members and the membership corporation with respect to any of the matters described in this Section.

Section 20-2-14. Derivative Actions.

1. A derivative action may be brought by:
 - a. A member or members having five percent (5%) or more of the voting power or fifty (50) members, whichever is less;
 - b. A member or members that can fairly and adequately represent the interests of the nonprofit corporation in enforcing the rights of the corporation; or
 - c. Any director or member of a designated body.
2. A person may maintain a derivative action to enforce a right of a nonprofit corporation if:
 - a. Unless such a demand would be futile, the person first makes a demand on the board of directors requesting that they cause the nonprofit corporation to bring an action to enforce the right; and
 - b. The board of directors do not bring the action within a reasonable time.
3. In a derivative action, the complaint must state with particularity:
 - a. The date and content of plaintiff's demand and the response to the demand by the board of directors; or
 - b. Why demand should be excused as futile.
4. A derivative action to enforce a right of a nonprofit corporation may be maintained only by a person that is a member, director, or member of a designated body at the time the action is commenced and:
 - a. Was a member, director, or member of a designated body when the conduct giving rise to the action occurred; or
 - b. Who became a member, director, or member of a designated body through transfer by operation of law from one who was a member, director, or member of a designated body at the time of the conduct.

5. If the nonprofit corporation commences an inquiry into the allegations made in the demand or complaint, the court may stay any derivative action for such period as the court deems appropriate.

6. The court may appoint a panel of one or more independent persons on motion by the nonprofit corporation to determine whether the maintenance of the derivative action is in the best interests of the nonprofit corporation. If the court appoints such a panel, on motion by the nonprofit corporation, the court shall, except for good cause shown, stay discovery for the time reasonably necessary to permit the panel to make its determination. This subsection does not prevent the court from:

a. Enforcing a person's right to information under this Title; or

b. Granting a temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction.

7. After appropriate investigation, a panel appointed by the court under this Section may determine that it is in the best interests of the nonprofit corporation that the proceeding:

a. Continue under the control of the plaintiff;

b. Continue under the control of the nonprofit corporation;

c. Be settled on terms approved by the nonprofit corporation; or

d. Be dismissed.

8. After making a determination how to proceed, a panel appointed by the court under this Section shall file with the court a statement of its determination and its report supporting its determination. The panel shall serve each party with a copy of the determination and report. If the court finds the panel has proven that the members of the panel were disinterested and independent and that the panel acted in good faith, independently, and with reasonable care, the court shall enforce the determination of the panel. Otherwise, the court shall dissolve any stay entered pursuant to this Section and allow the action to continue under the control of the plaintiff. A person appointed to a panel by the court under this Section is not liable whatsoever for a determination made pursuant to this Section.

9. A derivative action on behalf of a nonprofit corporation may not be voluntarily dismissed or settled without the court's approval. If the court determines that a proposed dismissal or settlement will substantially affect the interests of the nonprofit corporation's members or a class of members, the court shall direct that notice be given to the members affected.

10. Subject to the award of expenses provided in this Section:

a. Any proceeds or other benefits of a derivative action, whether by judgment, compromise, or settlement, belong to the nonprofit corporation and not to the plaintiff; and

b. If the plaintiff receives any proceeds, the plaintiff shall remit them immediately to the nonprofit corporation.

11. Unless the nonprofit corporation is a Tribal business entity and the plaintiff is not the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, if a derivative action is successful in whole or in part, the court may award the plaintiff reasonable expenses, including reasonable legal counsel's fees and costs, from the recovery of the nonprofit corporation.

12. In any derivative action brought to enforce the right of a foreign nonprofit corporation, the matters covered by this Section shall be governed by the laws of the jurisdiction of formation of the foreign nonprofit corporation except for the provision in this Section governing stays, discontinuance, settlement, and payment of expenses.

13. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe or waiving the sovereign immunity of any Tribal business entity.

Section 20-2-15. Delegates.

1. A nonprofit corporation with members may provide in its articles of incorporation or bylaws for delegates.

2. The articles of incorporation or bylaws may set forth provisions relating to:

a. The characteristics, qualifications, rights, limitations, and obligations of delegates including their selection and removal;

b. Calling, noticing, holding, and conducting meetings of delegates; and

c. Carrying on corporate activities during and between meetings of delegates.

3. An assembly or other organized group of delegates constitutes a designated body.

Section 20-2-16. Financial Statements.

1. On written demand from a member, a nonprofit corporation shall furnish that member with financial statements for its latest completed fiscal year within a reasonable time after receipt of the demand. The financial statements may be consolidated or combined statements of the nonprofit corporation and one or more of its subsidiaries, as appropriate, and that include a balance sheet as of the end of the fiscal year and a statement of operations for the year. If financial statements are prepared for the nonprofit corporation on the basis of generally accepted accounting principles, the annual financial statements shall also be prepared on that basis.

2. If the annual financial statements are reported on by a certified public accountant, that report shall accompany them. If not, the statements shall be accompanied by a statement of the person responsible for the nonprofit corporation's accounting records both:

a. Stating that person's reasonable belief whether the statements were prepared on the basis of generally accepted accounting principles and, if not, describing the basis of preparation; and

b. Describing any respects in which the statements were not prepared on a basis of accounting consistent with the statements prepared for the preceding year.

3. If a nonprofit corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer with respect to a proceeding where the director or officer was a party, the nonprofit corporation shall report the indemnification or advance in writing to the members. Failure to report under this subsection does not invalidate otherwise valid indemnification.

Section 20-2-17. Board of Directors.

1. A nonprofit corporation must have a board of directors which shall manage the affairs of the nonprofit corporation, subject to any limitations in this Title, the articles of incorporation, or bylaws.

2. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws so provide, directors need not be members of the nonprofit corporation.

3. The articles of incorporation or bylaws may prescribe qualifications for directors.

4. A board of directors shall consist of one (1) or more individuals, with the number established in the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

5. Initial directors may be named in the articles of incorporation, elected by the members, or elected by the incorporators. Thereafter:

a. The directors of a membership corporation shall be elected at the annual meeting of the members, unless the articles or bylaws provide some other time or method of election, or provide that some or all of the directors are appointed by some other person or designated in some other manner;

b. The directors of a nonmembership corporation shall be elected, appointed, or designated as provided in the articles or bylaws, but if no method of designation or appointment is set forth in the articles or bylaws, the directors shall be elected by the board of directors.

6. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, directors of a membership corporation are elected by a plurality of the votes cast by the members entitled to vote in the election at a meeting where a quorum is present and those receiving the greatest number of votes shall be deemed elected even though not receiving a majority. At each election for directors, members are entitled to cumulate their votes by multiplying the number of votes they are entitled to cast by the number of directors for whom they are entitled to vote and casting the product for a single candidate or distributing the product among two or more candidates.

7. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, each director shall hold office for the term for which he or she is elected or appointed and until his successor shall have been elected or appointed and qualified.

8. Unless the articles of incorporation require cause for removing a director, a director of a membership corporation may be removed from office with or without cause at a meeting of the members called expressly for that purpose by such vote as would suffice for the director's election. Unless the articles of incorporation require cause for removing a director, a director of a nonmembership corporation may be removed from office with or without cause by majority vote of the board of directors present at a meeting of the board of directors where a quorum is present, excluding the director to be removed. The articles of incorporation may provide additional procedures for removing a director.

9. A director may resign at any time by delivering written notice thereof to the board of directors or its chairperson.

10. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, a vacancy on the board of directors may be filled by the board of directors in office even if they constitute less than a quorum. A director elected or appointed to fill a vacancy shall be elected or appointed for the unexpired term of his or her predecessor in office.

11. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors may fix the compensation of directors.

12. Unless a law applicable to the nonprofit corporation or the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise generally or for any particular act of the board of directors, a majority of the number of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, provided that in no event shall a quorum consist of fewer than one third (1/3) of the number of directors.

13. Unless a law applicable to the nonprofit corporation or the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide for a greater number generally or for any particular act of the board of directors, the act of the majority of the directors present at a meeting where a quorum is present shall be the act of the board of directors.

14. A director may waive any notice required by this Title, the articles of incorporation, or the bylaws before or after the date and time stated in the notice. A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to the director of the meeting, unless the director at the beginning of the meeting, or promptly upon arrival, objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not, after objecting, vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

15. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, action to be taken at a meeting of the board of directors may be taken without a meeting or a vote if there is written consent by at least a majority of the directors. The written consent to the action must be included in the minutes or filed with the corporate records.

Section 20-2-18. Board Committees.

1. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors may create one or more committees and appoint members of the board of directors to serve on them. Each committee shall have one or more members, and each member of a committee shall serve at the pleasure of the board of directors.

2. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws require a greater number, the creation of a committee and appointment of members of the board of directors to it must be approved by a majority of all the directors in office when the action is taken.

3. The provisions of this Chapter governing meetings, action without meetings, notice, waiver of notice, quorum, and voting requirements of the board of directors also apply to committees and their members.

4. Subject to the limitations set forth in this Section, each committee of the board of directors may exercise the authority of the board of directors under this Chapter to the extent specified by the board of directors or in the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

5. A committee shall not take any of the following actions:

- a. Authorize distributions;

b. Approve or recommend to members any action that requires the members' approval under this Title;

c. Fill vacancies on the board of directors or on any of its committees;

d. Adopt, amend, or repeal articles of incorporation or bylaws; or

e. Fix the compensation of directors for serving on the board of directors or any committee of the board of directors.

6. The creation of, delegation of authority to, or action by a committee does not alone constitute compliance by a director with the standards of conduct described in this Chapter.

7. The board of directors may designate one or more directors as alternate members of any committee who may replace any absent member at any meeting of the committee.

Section 20-2-19. Designated Body.

1. Some, but less than all, of the powers, authority, or functions of the board of directors of a nonprofit corporation may be vested by the articles of incorporation or bylaws in a designated body. If such a designated body is created:

a. The provisions of this Chapter and other provisions of law applicable to the nonprofit corporation on the rights, duties, liabilities, and indemnification of the board of directors or directors individually also apply to the designated body and to the members of the designated body individually;

b. In the absence of an applicable rule in the articles of incorporation, bylaws, or internal operating rules of the designated body, the provisions of this Chapter and other provisions of law applicable to the nonprofit corporation on meetings, notice, and the manner of acting of the board of directors also apply to the designated body; and

c. To the extent the powers, authority, or functions of the board of directors have been vested in the designated body, the directors are relieved from their duties and liabilities with respect to those powers, authority, and functions.

2. Some, but less than all, of the rights or obligations of the members of a membership corporation may be vested by the articles of incorporation or bylaws in a designated body. If such a designated body is created:

a. The provisions of this Chapter and other provisions of law applicable to the membership corporation on the rights and obligations of members also apply to the designated body and to the members of the designated body individually;

b. In the absence of an applicable rule in the articles of incorporation, bylaws, or internal operating rules of the designated body, the provisions of this Chapter and other provisions of law applicable to the membership corporation on meetings, notice, and the manner of acting of members also apply to the designated body; and

c. To the extent the rights or obligations of the members have been vested in the designated body, the members are relieved from responsibility with respect to those rights and obligations.

3. The articles of incorporation or bylaws may prescribe qualifications for members of a designated body. Unless otherwise provided by the articles of incorporation or bylaws, a member of a designated body does not need to be:

a. An individual;

b. A director, officer, or member of the nonprofit corporation; or

c. A resident of the territory of the Tribe.

Section 20-2-20. Officers.

1. A nonprofit corporation has the officers set forth in its articles of incorporation or bylaws or appointed by the board of directors. Each officer has the authority and shall perform the duties set forth in the articles of incorporation or bylaws or, to the extent consistent with the articles of incorporation and bylaws, prescribed by the board of directors.

2. The articles of incorporation shall delegate to one of the officers the responsibility for preparing minutes of meetings of the directors and the members and for authenticating records of the nonprofit corporation.

3. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provided otherwise, the same individual may simultaneously hold more than one office in the nonprofit corporation.

4. The appointment of an officer does not by itself create any contractual or property right. Nor does the removal of an officer affect the contractual or property rights, if any, of the officer or nonprofit corporation.

5. The board of directors may remove an officer at any time with or without cause.

6. An officer may resign at any time by delivering written notice thereof to the nonprofit corporation.

Section 20-2-21. Duties of Directors and Officers.

1. All directors and officers owe fiduciary duties to the nonprofit corporation and the members.

2. The fiduciary duties of a director or officer include:

a. To act in a manner the director or officer reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the nonprofit corporation;

b. To discharge their duties with the care that a person in a like position would reasonably believe appropriate under similar circumstances;

c. To disclose, or cause to be disclosed, to the other directors or officers information not already known by them but known by the director or officer to be material to the discharge of the decision-making or oversight functions of the directors, unless disclosure would violate another duty imposed under applicable law, a legally enforceable obligation of confidentiality, or a professional ethics rule;

d. To account to the nonprofit corporation and hold as trustee for it any property, money, or benefit derived by the director or officer:

i. In the conduct or winding up of the nonprofit corporation's activities and affairs;

ii. From a use by the director or officer of the nonprofit corporation's property; or

iii. From the appropriation of a nonprofit corporation opportunity;

e. To refrain from dealing with the nonprofit corporation in the conduct or winding up of the nonprofit corporation's activities and affairs as or on behalf of a person having an interest adverse to the nonprofit corporation;

f. To refrain from competing with the nonprofit corporation in the conduct of the nonprofit corporation's activities and affairs before the dissolution of the nonprofit corporation;

g. To refrain from engaging in grossly negligent or reckless conduct, willful or intentional misconduct, a violation of any law involving moral turpitude, or knowing violation of other applicable law;

h. To refrain from a willful failure to deal fairly with the nonprofit corporation or its members in connection with a matter in which the director or officer has a material conflict of interest; and

i. To refrain from a transaction from which the director or officer may derive an improper personal profit.

3. All directors and officers shall discharge their duties and obligations and exercise any rights under this Title, any other law of the Tribe applicable to the nonprofit corporation, or the articles of incorporation or bylaws consistently with the contractual obligation of good faith and fair dealing.

4. In discharging the director's or officer's duties, unless the director or officer has knowledge that would make reliance unwarranted, a director or officer is entitled to rely on:

a. One or more other directors, officers, or employees of the nonprofit corporation whom the director or officer reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented;

b. Legal counsel, public accountants, or other persons retained by the nonprofit corporation as to matters involving skills or expertise the director or officer reasonably believes are within the person's professional or expert competence; or

c. A committee of the board of which the director or officer is not a member if the director or officer reasonably believes the committee merits confidence.

5. The members of a membership corporation may authorize or ratify, after full disclosure of all material facts, a specific act or transaction that otherwise would violate the fiduciary duties in this Section.

6. Every director and officer shall account to the nonprofit corporation and hold as trustee for it any improper personal profit derived by that director or officer without the consent of a majority of the disinterested directors from:

a. A transaction connected with the organization, conduct, or dissolution and winding up of the nonprofit corporation; and

b. A use by a director or officer of the property of the nonprofit corporation, including confidential or proprietary information or other matters entrusted to the person as a result of the person's status as a director or officer.

7. A nonprofit corporation's articles of incorporation or bylaws may impose duties on its directors and officers that are in addition to, but not in abrogation of, those provided in this Section.

Section 20-2-22. Conflicts of Interest.

1. A director or officer shall not vote or participate in any discussion or action of the board of directors concerning a matter where the director or officer or any of their immediate family has a business or personal interest which conflicts with the interests of the nonprofit corporation.

2. A transaction with the nonprofit corporation in which a director has an interest is voidable by the nonprofit corporation solely because of the director's interest in the transaction unless:

a. The material facts of the transaction and the director's interest in the transaction were disclosed to or known by the board of directors at the time of approval of the transaction and a majority of the directors approved or ratified the transaction, provided that any director with an interest in the transaction does not vote on the approval or ratification and is not counted toward the minimum number of directors required to constitute a quorum;

b. In the case of a membership corporation, the material facts of the transaction and the director's interest in the transaction were disclosed to or known by the members entitled to vote and the members authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction by a majority vote of the members entitled to vote, excluding any membership of a member who has an interest in the transaction; or

c. The transaction was fair to the nonprofit corporation at the time it was approved.

3. A nonprofit corporation shall not lend any money to or guarantee the personal debts or obligations of any director or officer of the nonprofit corporation, provided the fact that a loan or guarantee is made in violation of this subsection does not affect the borrower's liability on the loan. This subsection does not apply to:

a. An advance to pay reimbursable expenses reasonably expected to be incurred by a director or officer;

b. An advance to pay premiums on life insurance if the advance is secured by the cash value of the policy;

c. Advances for indemnification and expenses permitted or required under the laws of the Tribe applicable to the nonprofit corporation, the articles of incorporation, or bylaws; or

d. Loans or advances pursuant to employee benefit plans.

Section 20-2-23. Representations of Directors and Officers. An admission or representation made by a director or officer concerning the affairs of a nonprofit corporation within the scope of the director's or officer's authority may be used as evidence against the nonprofit corporation in any legal proceeding.

Section 20-2-24. Knowledge of Directors and Officers. The following operates as notice to or knowledge of a nonprofit corporation:

1. Notice to any director or officer of any matter relating to the business of the nonprofit corporation;

2. Knowledge of the director or officer acting in the particular matter acquired while a director or officer or known by the person at the time of becoming a director or officer; and

3. Knowledge of any other director or officer who reasonably could and should have communicated it to the acting director or officer.

CHAPTER 3 UNINCORPORATED NONPROFITS

Section 20-3-1. Definitions. Unless the context requires otherwise or another definition is provided for a particular section, in this Chapter:

1. "Established practices" means the practices used by an unincorporated nonprofit association without material change during the most recent five (5) years of its existence, or if it has existed for less than five (5) years, during its entire existence.

2. "Governing principles" means:

a. The organizational documents of an unincorporated nonprofit association;

b. In the absence of organizational documents, the agreements, whether oral, in writing, or implied from its established practices, or any combination thereof, which govern the purpose or operation of an unincorporated nonprofit association and the rights and obligations of its members and managers; and

c. Includes the governing principles as amended or restated.

3. "Manager-managed unincorporated nonprofit association" means an unincorporated nonprofit association where management is vested in a manager.

4. "Member-managed unincorporated nonprofit association" means an unincorporated nonprofit association where management is vested in the members and not in any manager.

5. "Unincorporated nonprofit association" means a nonprofit entity organized under this Chapter, organized under another title of this Code governing the business entity and whose organizational documents state that it is a nonprofit, or that otherwise becomes subject to this Chapter, but does not include:

a. The Tribe or any other government or subdivision thereof, provided that the Tribe or another government or subdivision thereof may be a member of an unincorporated nonprofit association;

b. A trust;

c. A marriage, domestic partnership, common law domestic relationship, civil union, or other domestic living arrangement;

d. A nonprofit corporation formed under this Title or under the law of a jurisdiction other than the Tribe that would be a nonprofit corporation if the incorporated entity were formed under the laws of the Tribe;

e. A corporation formed under Title XIX of this Code or formed under the law of a jurisdiction other than the Tribe that would be a corporation if the incorporated entity were formed under the laws of the Tribe;

f. A joint tenancy, tenancy in common, or tenancy by the entirety even if the co-owners share use of the property for a nonprofit purpose;

g. A relationship under a written agreement that expressly provides that the relationship between the parties does not create an unincorporated nonprofit association; or

h. An organization or entity which is not a nonprofit entity.

Section 20-3-2. Formation.

1. An unincorporated nonprofit association may be formed by two (2) or more persons who are members of the association and join under an agreement that is oral, written, or implied from conduct for one or more common purposes which may include, but is not limited to, charitable or public purposes, but not a purpose involving pecuniary gain.

2. An unincorporated nonprofit association may also be formed as any other type of business entity permitted under the laws of the Tribe, other than a corporation, not inconsistent with its nonprofit status or this Title. If an unincorporated nonprofit association is formed as another type of business entity, the provisions of the laws of the Tribe governing the type of business entity shall govern the unincorporated nonprofit association to the extent not inconsistent with this Title, its nonprofit status, or its purpose.

3. An unincorporated nonprofit association is formed when its governing principles become effective.

4. If the form of an unincorporated nonprofit association permits or requires the filing of its governing principles with the Office of the Secretary, the Office of the Secretary's filing of the governing principles of an unincorporated nonprofit association is conclusive proof that the unincorporated nonprofit association is organized and formed under this Chapter.

Section 20-3-3. Governing Principles.

1. In addition to any other requirements for its public organizational documents under the laws of the Tribe applicable to the unincorporated nonprofit association, an unincorporated nonprofit association which is formed as any other type of business entity permitted under the laws of the Tribe must state in its public organizational documents all of the following:

a. A statement that the unincorporated nonprofit association is nonprofit;

b. The purpose or purposes for which it is formed, which may include, but is not limited to, charitable or public purposes, but not a purpose involving pecuniary gain; and

c. A statement that no part of the income of the unincorporated nonprofit association is or will be distributable, directly or indirectly, to its members, managers, directors, or officers, provided that the governing principles may provide for distribution of the unincorporated nonprofit association's income to members that are nonprofit entities or commissions, boards, agencies, departments, divisions, instrumentalities, subdivisions, or units of the Tribe or another government.

2. The organizational documents of an unincorporated nonprofit association may be amended or restated:

a. If the unincorporated nonprofit association is formed as a type of business entity permitted under another law of the Tribe as permitted in this Chapter, as provided in such law of the Tribe under which the unincorporated nonprofit association is formed, to the extent not inconsistent with this Title; or

b. As provided in this Chapter for governing principles.

Section 20-3-4. Restatement of Governing Principles.

1. A manager-managed unincorporated nonprofit association may restate its governing principles at any time by action of the managers with or without member action.

2. A member-managed unincorporated nonprofit association may restate its governing principles at any time by action of the members.

3. If a restatement includes an amendment requiring member approval, it shall be adopted as provided in this Chapter for amendments to the governing principles.

4. If the form of an unincorporated nonprofit association permits or requires the filing of its governing principles with the Office of the Secretary, an unincorporated nonprofit association that restates its governing principles shall deliver to the Office of the Secretary for filing restated governing principles setting forth:

a. The name of the unincorporated nonprofit association;

b. The date of filing of its initial governing principles;

- c. The text of the restated governing principles;
- d. A statement that the restated governing principles consolidate all amendments into a single document; and
- e. Anything else in the laws of the Tribe governing the unincorporated nonprofit association required for an amendment of its organizational documents.

5. Duly adopted restated governing principles supersede the original governing principles and all amendments to the governing principles.

Section 20-3-5. Appointment of Registered Agent.

1. An unincorporated nonprofit association which is not otherwise required under the laws of the Tribe to maintain a registered agent may deliver to the Office of the Secretary for filing a statement appointing a registered agent for purposes provided under the laws of the Tribe governing registered agents of business entities.

2. A statement appointing a registered agent under this Section must state:

- a. The name of the unincorporated nonprofit association; and
- b. The name and street and mailing addresses in the territory of the Tribe of the registered agent.

3. A statement appointing a registered agent under this Section must be signed by a person authorized to manage the affairs of the unincorporated nonprofit association. The signing of the statement is an affirmation of fact that the person is authorized to manage the affairs of the unincorporated nonprofit association and that the agent has consented to serve.

4. The duties of, changes to, resignations of, and other matters involving a registered agent appointed under this Section shall be in the same manner as registered agents of other business entities.

Section 20-3-6. Members.

1. Upon formation of an unincorporated nonprofit association, a person becomes a member as agreed upon the formation of the unincorporated nonprofit association.

2. After the formation of an unincorporated nonprofit association, a person becomes a member and may be suspended, dismissed, or expelled:

a. As provided in the governing principles;

b. As the result of a merger, interest exchange, conversion, or domestication; or

c. With the affirmative vote or consent of the members.

3. A person may not be admitted as a member of an unincorporated nonprofit association without the person's consent.

4. Each member of an unincorporated nonprofit association shall have the same rights and obligations as every other member with respect to voting, dissolution, membership transfer, and all other matters unless the governing principles specifically establish classes of membership with different rights or obligations.

5. Unless otherwise provided in the governing principles, an unincorporated nonprofit association may admit members for no consideration or for such consideration as is determined by the members or managers, which may consist of money or property transferred to, services performed for, or another benefit provided to the unincorporated nonprofit association or an agreement to transfer money or property to, perform services for, or provide another benefit to the unincorporated nonprofit association.

6. An unincorporated nonprofit association may issue certificates evidencing membership therein.

7. Unless otherwise provided in the governing principles, a member may not transfer a membership or any right arising therefrom. Where a member has the right to transfer a membership, a restriction on that right shall not be binding with respect to a member holding a membership issued prior to the adoption of the restriction unless the restriction is approved by the affected member.

8. The unincorporated nonprofit association may levy dues, assessments, and fees on its members to the extent authorized in the governing principles and the governing principles may provide reasonable means, such as termination and reinstatement of membership, to enforce the collection of dues, assessments, and fees.

9. An unincorporated nonprofit association may purchase any of its memberships or any right arising therefrom only to the extent provided in and in accordance with the governing principles.

10. Unless the governing principles provide otherwise, the resignation, suspension, dismissal, or expulsion of a member does not relieve the member from any obligations incurred or commitments made by the member before the resignation, suspension, dismissal, or expulsion.

Section 20-3-7. Meetings of Members.

1. An unincorporated nonprofit association shall hold a meeting of members:

- a. As provided in the governing principles;
- b. On the call of its managers or other person authorized to do so by the governing principles;
- c. On the call of the holders of not less than one-fifth (1/5) of all the memberships entitled to vote; or
- d. When otherwise required in this Chapter.

2. Members' meetings may be held in or out of the territory of the Tribe at the place stated in or fixed in accordance with the governing principles. If no place is stated in or fixed in accordance with the governing principles, meetings shall be held at the unincorporated nonprofit association's known place of business.

3. Unless the governing principles provide otherwise, members may participate in any members' meeting by any means of communication by which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other during the meeting. A member participating in a meeting by such means is deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

4. Unless otherwise provided in the governing principles, a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on a matter constitutes a quorum for action on that matter, provided that in no event shall a quorum consist of less than one-third (1/3) of the outstanding memberships entitled to vote on the matter. Unless otherwise provided in the governing principles, once a membership is represented for any purpose at a meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of that meeting.

5. Unless the vote of a greater number is required by the governing principles, this Title, or other law of the Tribe applicable to the unincorporated nonprofit association, if a quorum is present, the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast at the meeting shall be the act of the members.

6. If the governing principles provide for voting by a single voting group on a matter, action on that matter is taken when voted on by that voting group. If the governing principles provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken when voted on by each of those voting groups counted separately. Voting by individual voting groups entitled to vote on a matter need not be simultaneous.

7. An unincorporated nonprofit association shall notify members of the date, time, and place of each members' meeting at least ten (10) but not more than sixty (60) days before the meeting date. Notice may be given by mail, personal delivery, or electronic transmission. Notice of a meeting need not include a description of the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

8. A member may waive any notice before or after the date and time of the members' meeting that is the subject of such notice. The waiver must be in writing, signed by the member entitled to the notice, and delivered to the unincorporated nonprofit association for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the association's records, except that a member's attendance at a meeting waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the member at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting.

9. Unless the member objects to considering the matter when it is presented, a member waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at a meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice.

Section 20-3-8. Member Action Without a Meeting.

1. Unless the governing principles require that action be taken only at a members' meeting, any action that may be taken by the members may be taken without a meeting if each member entitled to vote on the action consents in writing to the action.

2. A member may revoke the member's consent by delivering a signed revocation of the consent to the managers before the date that the consents have been delivered to the unincorporated nonprofit association.

3. Unless the written member consent specifies a later effective date, action taken under this Section is effective when consents sufficient to authorize taking the action have been delivered to the unincorporated nonprofit association.

4. A consent signed under this Section has the effect of a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document, except that, if the action requires the filing of a certificate under this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the unincorporated nonprofit association, the certificate so filed shall state, in lieu of any statement concerning a vote of members, that written consent has been obtained in accordance with this Section.

Section 20-3-9. Voting of Members.

1. Unless otherwise provided in the governing principles, each member shall be entitled to one (1) vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of members.

2. A member may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the member or by the member's duly authorized attorney-in-fact. No proxy shall be valid after twelve (12) months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided in the proxy. Every proxy shall be revocable at the pleasure of the person executing it or his or her personal representatives or assignee, but the parties to a valid pledge or to an executory contract of transfer may agree in writing as to which of them shall vote the membership pledged or transferred until the contract of pledge or transfer is fully executed.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the governing principles, this Title, or other law of the Tribe applicable to the unincorporated nonprofit association, the affirmative vote, approval, or consent of the members shall be required to do any of the following:

- a. Admit, suspend, dismiss, or expel a member;
- b. Select or dismiss a manager;
- c. Adopt, amend, or repeal the governing principles;
- d. Sell, lease, exchange, or otherwise dispose of all, or substantially all, of the association's property, with or without the association's goodwill, outside the ordinary course of its activities;
- e. Dissolve the association or merge the association with another entity;
- f. Undertake any other act outside the ordinary course of the association's activities;
- g. Determine the policy and purposes of the association; or
- h. Do any other act or exercise a right that the governing principles require to be approved by the members.

4. In all elections for managers, every member entitled to vote shall have the right to vote, in person or by proxy, for as many persons as there are managers to be elected. If so provided in the governing principles, members may cumulate votes by multiplying the number of memberships they are entitled to cast by the number of managers to be elected and to cast the product for a single candidate or distribute the product among two (2) or more candidates.

Section 20-3-10. Voting Agreements. Two or more members may provide for the manner in which they will vote their memberships by signing an agreement for that purpose. Unless otherwise provided in the voting agreement, a voting agreement is specifically enforceable.

Section 20-3-11. Derivative Actions.

1. A member may maintain a derivative action to enforce a right of an unincorporated nonprofit association if:

a. Unless such a demand would be futile, the member first makes a demand on the other members or managers requesting that they cause the unincorporated nonprofit association to bring an action to enforce the right; and

b. The members or managers do not bring the action within a reasonable time.

2. In a derivative action, the complaint must state with particularity:

a. The date and content of plaintiff's demand and the response to the demand by the members or managers; or

b. Why demand should be excused as futile.

3. A derivative action to enforce a right of an unincorporated nonprofit association may be maintained only by a person that is a member at the time the action is commenced and:

a. Was a member when the conduct giving rise to the action occurred; or

b. Who became a member through transfer by operation of law from one who was a member at the time of the conduct.

4. If an unincorporated nonprofit association is named as or made a party in a derivative proceeding, the unincorporated nonprofit association may appoint a special litigation committee to investigate the claims asserted in the proceeding and determine whether pursuing the action is in the best interests of the unincorporated nonprofit association. If the unincorporated nonprofit association appoints a special litigation committee, on motion by the committee made in the name of the unincorporated nonprofit association, the court shall, except for good cause shown, stay discovery for the time reasonably necessary to permit the committee to make its investigation. This subsection does not prevent the court from:

a. Enforcing a person's right to information under this Chapter; or

b. Granting a temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction.

5. A special litigation committee must be composed of one or more disinterested and independent individuals, who may be members. A special litigation committee may be appointed by the affirmative vote or consent of a majority of the members or managers not named as parties in the proceeding or, if all members or managers are named as parties, a majority of all the members or managers.

6. After appropriate investigation, a special litigation committee may determine that it is in the best interests of the unincorporated nonprofit association that the proceeding:

- a. Continue under the control of the plaintiff;
- b. Continue under the control of the committee;
- c. Be settled on terms approved by the committee; or
- d. Be dismissed.

7. After making a determination how to proceed, a special litigation committee shall file with the court a statement of its determination and its report supporting its determination. The special litigation committee shall serve each party with a copy of the determination and report. If the court finds the committee has proven that the members of the committee were disinterested and independent and that the committee acted in good faith, independently, and with reasonable care, the court shall enforce the determination of the committee. Otherwise, the court shall dissolve any stay entered pursuant to this Section and allow the action to continue under the control of the plaintiff.

8. A derivative action on behalf of an unincorporated nonprofit association may not be voluntarily dismissed or settled without the court's approval.

9. Subject to the award of expenses provided in this Section:

- a. Any proceeds or other benefits of a derivative action, whether by judgment, compromise, or settlement, belong to the unincorporated nonprofit association and not to the plaintiff; and

b. If the plaintiff receives any proceeds, the plaintiff shall remit them immediately to the unincorporated nonprofit association.

10. Unless the unincorporated nonprofit association is a Tribal business entity and the plaintiff is not the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, if a derivative action is successful in whole or in part, the court may award the plaintiff reasonable expenses, including reasonable legal counsel's fees and costs, from the recovery of the unincorporated nonprofit association.

11. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe or waiving the sovereign immunity of any Tribal business entity.

Section 20-3-12. Managers.

1. If no managers are selected or the governing principles so provide, an unincorporated nonprofit association is a member-managed unincorporated nonprofit association. If managers are selected, an unincorporated nonprofit association is a manager-managed unincorporated nonprofit association.

2. Subject to the provisions of this Title and the governing principles, in a member-managed unincorporated nonprofit association, the following rules apply:

a. All the members are the managers;

b. Each member has equal rights in the management and conduct of the activities of the unincorporated nonprofit association; and

c. A member ceases being a manager once no longer a member of the unincorporated nonprofit association.

3. Subject to the provisions of this Title and the governing principles, in a manager-managed unincorporated nonprofit association, the following rules apply:

a. Only the members may select the managers;

b. Managers need not be members of the unincorporated nonprofit association;

c. The governing principles may prescribe qualifications for managers;

d. Each manager shall hold office for the term for which he or she is selected and until his successor shall have been selected and qualified;

e. Unless the governing principles require cause for removing a manager, a manager may be removed from office with or without cause at a meeting of the members called expressly for that purpose by such vote as would suffice for the manager's selection;

f. A manager may resign at any time by delivering written notice thereof to the other managers or the members;

g. Except for matters reserved for approval by the members in this Title or the governing principles, all matters relating to the unincorporated nonprofit association's activities are decided by its managers;

h. Each manager has equal rights in the management and conduct of the activities of the unincorporated nonprofit association;

i. The affirmative vote or consent of all members is required to undertake an act outside the ordinary course of the association's activities and affairs; and

j. A person's ceasing to be a manager does not discharge any debt, obligation, or other liability to the unincorporated nonprofit association or members which the person incurred while a manager.

4. Unless the governing principles or other law of the Tribe governing the unincorporated nonprofit association provide otherwise, the managers may fix the compensation of managers.

5. A manager may waive any notice required by this Title or the governing principles before or after the date and time stated in the notice. A manager's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to the manager of the meeting, unless the manager at the beginning of the meeting, or promptly upon arrival, objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not, after objecting, vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Section 20-3-13. Duties of Members and Managers.

1. A member does not have any fiduciary duty to an unincorporated nonprofit association or to another member solely by reason of being a member, but a member shall discharge the duties to the unincorporated nonprofit association and the other members and exercise any rights under this Title or other law of the Tribe governing the association consistent with the governing principles and the contractual obligation of good faith and fair dealing.

2. All managers owe fiduciary duties to the unincorporated nonprofit association and the members.

3. The fiduciary duties of a manager include:

a. To act in a manner the manager reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the unincorporated nonprofit association;

b. To discharge his or her duties with the care that a person in a like position would reasonably believe appropriate under similar circumstances;

c. To disclose, or cause to be disclosed, to the other managers information not already known by them but known by the manager to be material to the discharge of the decision-making or oversight functions of the manager, unless disclosure would violate another duty imposed under applicable law, a legally enforceable obligation of confidentiality, or a professional ethics rule;

d. To account to the unincorporated nonprofit association and hold as trustee for it any property, money, or benefit derived by the manager:

i. In the conduct or winding up of the unincorporated nonprofit association's activities and affairs;

ii. From a use by the manager of the unincorporated nonprofit association's property; or

iii. From the appropriation of an association opportunity;

e. To refrain from dealing with the unincorporated nonprofit association in the conduct or winding up of the association's activities and affairs as or on behalf of a person having an interest adverse to the unincorporated nonprofit association;

f. To refrain from competing with the unincorporated nonprofit association in the conduct of the unincorporated nonprofit association's activities and affairs before the dissolution of the unincorporated nonprofit association;

g. To refrain from engaging in grossly negligent or reckless conduct, willful or intentional misconduct, a violation of any law involving moral turpitude, or knowing violation of other applicable law;

h. To refrain from a willful failure to deal fairly with the unincorporated nonprofit association or its members in connection with a matter in which the manager has a material conflict of interest; and

i. To refrain from a transaction from which the manager may derive an improper personal profit.

4. All managers shall discharge their duties and obligations and exercise any rights under this Title, any other law of the Tribe applicable to the unincorporated nonprofit association, or the governing principles consistently with the contractual obligation of good faith and fair dealing.

5. In discharging the manager's duties, unless the manager has knowledge that would make reliance unwarranted, a manager is entitled to rely on:

a. One or more other managers or employees of the unincorporated nonprofit association whom the manager reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented; or

b. Legal counsel, public accountants, or other persons retained by the unincorporated nonprofit association as to matters involving skills or expertise the manager reasonably believes are within the person's professional or expert competence.

6. The members of an unincorporated nonprofit association may authorize or ratify, after full disclosure of all material facts, a specific act or transaction that otherwise would violate the fiduciary duties in this Section.

7. Every manager shall account to the unincorporated nonprofit association and hold as trustee for it any improper personal profit derived by that manager without the consent of a majority of the disinterested managers from:

a. A transaction connected with the organization, conduct, or dissolution and winding up of the unincorporated nonprofit association; and

b. A use by a manager of the property of the unincorporated nonprofit association, including confidential or proprietary information or other matters entrusted to the person as a result of the person's status as a manager.

8. An unincorporated nonprofit association's governing principles may impose duties on its managers that are in addition to, but not in abrogation of, those provided in this Section.

Section 20-3-14. Conflicts of Interests.

1. A manager shall not vote or participate in any discussion or action of the managers concerning a matter where the manager or any of his or her immediate family has a business or personal interest which conflicts with the interests of the unincorporated nonprofit association.

2. A transaction with the unincorporated nonprofit association in which a manager has an interest is voidable by the unincorporated nonprofit association solely because of the manager's interest in the transaction unless:

a. The material facts of the transaction and the manager's interest in the transaction were disclosed to or known by the managers at the time of approval of the transaction and a majority of the managers approved or ratified the transaction, provided that any manager with an interest in the transaction does not vote on the approval or ratification and is not counted toward the minimum number of managers required to constitute a quorum;

b. The material facts of the transaction and the manager's interest in the transaction were disclosed to or known by the members entitled to vote and the members authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction by a majority vote of the members entitled to vote, excluding any membership of a member who has an interest in the transaction; or

c. The transaction was fair to the unincorporated nonprofit association at the time it was approved.

3. An unincorporated nonprofit association shall not lend any money to or guarantee the personal debts or obligations of any manager of the unincorporated nonprofit association, provided the fact that a loan or guarantee is made in violation of this subsection does not affect the borrower's liability on the loan. This subsection does not apply to:

a. An advance to pay reimbursable expenses reasonably expected to be incurred by a manager;

b. An advance to pay premiums on life insurance if the advance is secured by the cash value of the policy;

c. Advances for indemnification and expenses permitted or required under the laws of the Tribe applicable to the unincorporated nonprofit association or the governing principles; or

d. Loans or advances pursuant to employee benefit plans.

Section 20-3-15. Member or Manager as Agent.

1. In a member-managed unincorporated nonprofit association:

a. Each member is an agent of the unincorporated nonprofit association for the purpose of its business, but not of any of the other members; and

b. The act of any member, including the execution in the name of the unincorporated nonprofit association of an instrument for apparently carrying on the ordinary course of business of the unincorporated nonprofit association, binds the unincorporated nonprofit association in the particular matter unless the person with whom the member is dealing knows or should know that the member has no authority to act in the matter.

2. If the Tribe is a member of an unincorporated nonprofit association, the Tribe's authority shall be exercised pursuant to Chapter 4 of Title XIV.

3. In a manager-managed unincorporated nonprofit association:

a. No member, solely by being a member, is an agent of the unincorporated nonprofit association or of the other members; and

b. Each manager is an agent of the unincorporated nonprofit association for the purpose of its business, but not for the members; and

c. The act of any manager, including the execution in the name of the unincorporated nonprofit association of an instrument for apparently carrying on the ordinary course of business of the unincorporated nonprofit association, binds the unincorporated nonprofit association in the particular matter unless:

i. The manager in fact has no authority to act for the unincorporated nonprofit association in the matter; and

ii. The person with whom the manager is dealing knows or should know that the manager has no authority to act in the matter.

4. No act of a member or manager that is not apparently authorized for carrying on the ordinary course of business of the unincorporated nonprofit association shall bind the unincorporated nonprofit association unless the act is in fact authorized at the time of the transaction or ratified thereafter.

Section 20-3-16. Representations of Members and Managers.

1. In a member-managed unincorporated nonprofit association, an admission or representation made by a member concerning the business of the unincorporated nonprofit association within the scope of the member's actual authority may be used as evidence against the unincorporated nonprofit association in any legal proceeding.

2. In a manager-managed unincorporated nonprofit association:

a. An admission or representation made by a manager concerning the business of the unincorporated nonprofit association within the scope of the manager's authority may be used as evidence against the unincorporated nonprofit association in any legal proceeding; and

b. The admission or representation of any member, acting solely in the member's capacity as a member, is not evidence against the unincorporated nonprofit association in any legal proceeding.

Section 20-3-17. Knowledge of Member or Manager.

1. In a member-managed unincorporated nonprofit association, the following operates as notice to or knowledge of the unincorporated nonprofit association:

a. Notice to any member of any matter relating to the business of the unincorporated nonprofit association;

b. Knowledge of any member acting in the particular matter acquired while a member or known by the person at the time of becoming a member; and

c. Knowledge of any member who reasonably could and should have communicated it to an acting member.

2. In a manager-managed unincorporated nonprofit association:

a. The following operates as notice to or knowledge of the unincorporated nonprofit association:

i. Notice to any manager of any matter relating to the business of the unincorporated nonprofit association;

ii. Knowledge of the manager acting in the particular matter acquired while a manager or known by the person at the time of becoming a manager; and

iii. Knowledge of any other manager who reasonably could and should have communicated it to the acting manager; and

b. Notice to or knowledge of any member while the member is acting solely in the capacity of a member is not notice to or knowledge of the unincorporated nonprofit association.

CHAPTER 4 DEALING WITH NONPROFIT ENTITIES

Section 20-4-1. Nature of Nonprofit Entity. A nonprofit entity is an entity distinct from its members and managers. A nonprofit entity may engage in profit-making activities but profits from any activities must be used or set aside for the entity's nonprofit purposes.

Section 20-4-2. Property of Nonprofit Entity.

1. A nonprofit entity may acquire, hold, or transfer in its name an interest in property.

2. A nonprofit entity may be a beneficiary of a trust or contract, a legatee, or a devisee.

3. All property originally transferred to or acquired by a nonprofit entity is property of the nonprofit entity and not the members.

4. Property acquired with funds of a nonprofit entity is presumed to be property of the nonprofit entity.

5. Property may be acquired, held, and conveyed in the name of a nonprofit entity.

6. Subject to any limitations in its organizational documents or this Title, the property of a nonprofit entity may be transferred by an instrument executed by a manager in the name of the nonprofit entity.

Section 20-4-3. Liability to Third Parties.

1. A debt, obligation, or other liability of a nonprofit entity, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise, is solely the debt, obligation, or other liability of the nonprofit entity. This subsection applies regardless of the dissolution of the nonprofit entity.

2. A member or manager of a nonprofit entity is not personally liable, directly or indirectly, for an act, debt, obligation or other liability of the nonprofit entity solely by reason of being or acting as a member or manager. This subsection applies regardless of the dissolution of the nonprofit entity.

3. A person's status as a member or manager does not prevent or restrict law other than this Title from imposing liability on the person or the entity because of the person's conduct.

4. The failure of a nonprofit entity to observe formalities relating to the exercise of its powers or management of its activities and affairs is not a ground for imposing liability on a member or manager for an act, debt, obligation, or other liability of the entity.

Section 20-4-4. Parties to Actions. A member of a nonprofit entity is not a proper party to a proceeding by or against a nonprofit entity solely by reason of being a member, except if:

1. The object of the proceeding is to enforce a member's right against or liability to the nonprofit entity; or

2. The action is brought by a member under this Title.

Section 20-4-5. Authority to Sue.

1. Unless otherwise provided in its organizational documents, an action on behalf of a domestic or foreign nonprofit entity may be brought in the name of the nonprofit entity by:

a. One or more members as a derivative action in accordance with this Title; or

b. One or more managers, if authorized by the managers, unless otherwise directed by a majority vote of the memberships entitled to vote, excluding any memberships of any member who has an interest in the outcome of the action that is adverse to the interests of the nonprofit entity.

2. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe as a member or otherwise.

Section 20-4-6. Records.

1. A nonprofit entity shall keep at its principal place of business all of the following:

a. Unless the nonprofit entity's organizational documents provides that it shall not have members, a record of its members in a form that permits preparation of a list of the names and addresses of all members in alphabetical order by class of membership;

b. A list of the names and business addresses of its current managers;

c. A copy of its public organizational documents and all amendments thereto and restatements thereof together with executed copies of any powers of attorney under which any public organizational documents were executed;

d. A copy of its most recent annual report delivered to the Office of the Secretary;

e. A copy of all other organizational documents of the nonprofit entity, documents filed with the Office of the Secretary, and all amendments thereto and restatements thereof;

f. A copy of its bylaws or other private organizational documents and all amendments thereto and restatements thereof;

g. Any notices to members on which a document filed with the Office of the Secretary is dependent;

h. Resolutions adopted by its managers;

i. All written communications within the past three (3) years to its members;

j. Minutes of all meetings of its members and managers, a record of all actions taken by the members, managers, or a designated body without a meeting, and a record of all actions taken by a committee of the managers in place of the managers;

k. All annual financial statements prepared for the entity for its last three (3) fiscal years and any audit or other reports with respect to such financial statements; and

1. A record of all matters referred to in this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the nonprofit entity as maintained in such records which are not otherwise specified in its organizational documents.

2. A nonprofit entity shall maintain accounting records in a form that permits preparation of its financial statements.

3. Failure of a nonprofit entity to keep or maintain any of the records required under this Section shall not be grounds for imposing liability on any person for the debts and obligations of the nonprofit entity.

Section 20-4-7. Rights to Information and Records.

1. On reasonable request, a member or manager is entitled to inspect and copy, during regular business hours at the nonprofit entity's principal place of business, any of the records of the nonprofit entity required under this Chapter or other law of the Tribe applicable to the nonprofit entity to be maintained at such principal place of business.

2. The nonprofit entity shall furnish to each member and manager, on reasonable and good faith demand, any other true and full information concerning the nonprofit entity's activities, affairs, financial condition, and other circumstances.

3. A former member or manager is entitled to information to which the member or manager was entitled while a member or manager if the information pertains to the period during which the person was a member or manager, the former member or manager seeks the information in good faith, and the former member or manager satisfies the requirements of this Section.

4. The nonprofit entity may impose reasonable restrictions on the confidentiality, use, or distribution of records subject to inspection and copying by members and managers under this Section.

5. The right of inspection granted by this Section may not be abolished or limited by a nonprofit entity's organizational documents.

6. A member's or manager's agent or legal representative has the same inspection and copying rights as the member or manager it represents.

7. If a nonprofit entity does not allow within a reasonable time a member or manager to inspect and copy any record subject to inspection and copying under this Section, on application of the member or manager, the Tribal Court may summarily order inspection and copying of the records demanded at the nonprofit entity's expense.

8. If the Tribal Court orders inspection and copying of the records demanded, it shall also order the nonprofit entity to pay the member's or manager's costs, including reasonable legal counsel fees, incurred to obtain the order, unless the nonprofit entity proves that it refused inspection in good faith because it had a reasonable basis for doubt about the right of the member or manager to inspect the records demanded. The Tribal Court may order a member or manager to pay all or a portion of the nonprofit entity's costs, including reasonable legal counsel fees, if the demand to inspect is denied in whole or in material part.

9. If the Tribal Court orders inspection and copying of records pursuant to this Section, it may impose reasonable restrictions on the use or distribution of the records by the member or manager.

10. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereign immunity of the Tribe, including a nonprofit entity that is a Tribal business entity.

CHAPTER 5 OWNERSHIP AND DISTRIBUTIONS

Section 20-5-1. Ownership and Distributions Prohibited.

1. A nonprofit entity shall not have or issue shares of stock or other ownership interests. Any reference to shares of stock or other ownership interests in a nonprofit entity in its organizational documents or otherwise shall be deemed membership interests only. Any reference to shareholders or owners of any kind of a nonprofit entity shall be deemed to members only.

2. A nonprofit entity shall not pay dividends or make distributions of any part of its assets, income, or profits, and no part of the income of a nonprofit entity shall be paid, to its members, managers, or members of a designated body, provided that a nonprofit entity may make distributions to members that are nonprofit entities or commissions, boards, agencies, departments, divisions, instrumentalities, subdivisions, or units of the Tribe or another government.

3. A nonprofit entity may pay reasonable compensation or reimburse reasonable expenses to members, managers, or members of a designated body for services rendered.

4. A nonprofit entity may confer benefits upon or make contributions to members or nonmembers in conformity with its purposes, purchase its memberships to the extent provided in this Title, or repay capital contributions, except when:

a. The nonprofit entity is currently insolvent or would thereby be made insolvent or rendered unable to carry on its purposes; or

b. The fair value of the assets of the nonprofit entity remaining after the conferring of benefits, contribution, repurchase, or repayment would be insufficient to meet its liabilities.

5. A nonprofit entity may make distributions of cash or property to members upon dissolution or final liquidation only as permitted by the laws of the Tribe governing dissolution of business entities.

Section 20-5-2. Liability for Unlawful Distributions.

1. A manager who votes for or assents to a distribution made in violation of this Chapter is personally liable to the nonprofit entity for the amount of the distribution that exceeds what could have been distributed without violating this Chapter if it is established that the manager's duties were not performed in compliance with this Title.

2. A manager of a nonprofit entity who is present at a meeting of its managers at which action on any distribution in violation of this Chapter is taken is presumed to have assented to the action taken unless his or her dissent is entered in the minutes of the meeting, the manager files his or her written dissent to the action with the secretary of the meeting before the adjournment of the meeting, or the manager forwards the dissent by registered or certified mail to the secretary of the nonprofit entity before close of business on the next business day after the adjournment of the meeting. The right to dissent does not apply to a manager who voted in favor of the action.

3. A manager who is held liable under this Section for an unlawful distribution is entitled to contribution from:

a. Every other manager who could be held liable under this Section for the unlawful distribution; and

b. Each person of the pro-rata portion of the amount of the unlawful distribution the person received, whether or not the person knew the distribution was made in violation of this Chapter.

4. An action to recover under this Section may be brought in the Tribal Court. An action under this Section is barred unless commenced no later than four (4) years after the date of the distribution.

5. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereign immunity of the Tribe, including an entity that is a Tribal business entity.

2. This Title shall apply to all partnerships to which Title XIV of this Code applies.

Section 21-1-3. Severability. If any chapter, section, or provision of this Title or amendment made by this Title is held invalid, the remaining chapters, sections, and provisions of this Title and amendments made by this Title shall continue in full force and effect.

Section 21-1-4. Sovereign Immunity. Nothing in this Title shall be construed as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereignty or the sovereign immunity of the Tribe or any of its agencies, departments, enterprises, agents, officers, officials, or employees or as establishing or acknowledging any liability of the Tribe under any law.

CHAPTER 2 FORMATION

Section 21-2-1. Formation.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, the association of two or more persons at least the age of majority to carry on as co-owners a business forms a partnership, whether or not the persons intend to form a partnership.

2. An entity formed under a law of the Tribe other than this Title or a comparable statute of another jurisdiction is not a partnership under this Title.

3. In determining whether a partnership is formed, the following rules apply:

a. Joint tenancy, tenancy in common, tenancy by the entirety, joint property, common property, or part ownership does not by itself establish a partnership, even if the co-owners share profits made by the use of the property;

b. The sharing of gross revenues does not by itself establish a partnership, even if the persons sharing them have a joint or common right or interest in property from which the revenues are derived;

c. A person who receives a share of the profits of a business is presumed to be a partner in the business, unless the profits were received in payment:

i. Of a debt or loan, even if the amount of payment varies with the profits of the business or the debt or loan includes a present or future ownership of collateral or rights to income, proceeds, or increase in value derived from the collateral;

ii. For services as an independent contractor or an employee;

iii. Of rent;

iv. Of a retirement or health benefit to a deceased or retired partner or a beneficiary, representative, or designee of a deceased or retired partner; or

v. For the sale of the goodwill of a business or other property.

4. A partnership may file its partnership agreement with the Office of the Secretary and, if so filed, the Office of the Secretary's filing of the partnership agreement of a partnership is conclusive proof that the partnership is organized and formed under this Title.

Section 21-2-2. Partnership for a Definite Term.

1. Partnership for a definite term or particular undertaking is a partnership in which the partners have agreed to remain partners until the expiration of a definite term or the completion of a particular undertaking.

2. If a partnership for a definite term or particular undertaking is continued, without an express agreement, after the expiration of the term or completion of the undertaking, the rights and duties of the partners remain the same as they were at the expiration or completion, so far as is consistent with a partnership at will.

3. If the partners, or those of them who habitually acted in the business during the term or undertaking, continue the business without any settlement or liquidation of the partnership, they are presumed to have agreed that the partnership will continue.

Section 21-2-3. Partnership Agreement.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, the partnership agreement governs:

a. Relations among the partners as partners and between the partners and the partnership;

b. The activities and affairs of the partnership and the conduct of those activities and affairs; and

c. The means and conditions for amending the partnership agreement.

2. To the extent the partnership agreement does not provide for a matter described in this Section, this Title and any other law of the Tribe applicable to the partnership governs the matter.

3. In addition to any other limitations on organizational documents of a business entity under the laws of the Tribe, a partnership agreement may not:

a. Vary the law applicable to the partnership;

b. Vary a partnership's capacity to sue and be sued in its own name;

c. Vary any requirement, procedure, or other provision of the laws of the Tribe pertaining to registered agents or the Office of the Secretary, including provisions pertaining to records authorized or required to be filed with the Office of the Secretary under the laws of the Tribe;

d. In the case of limited partnership, vary the right of a general partner to vote on or consent to an amendment to the certificate of limited partnership which deletes a statement that the limited partnership is a limited liability limited partnership;

e. Alter or eliminate the duties of partners under the laws of the Tribe, including the duties of loyalty and care and obligations of good faith and fair dealing, except as otherwise expressly permitted in the laws of the Tribe;

f. Vary the power of a person to voluntarily withdraw as a partner under this Title, except to require that notice of withdrawal be in writing;

g. Relieve or exonerate a person from liability for conduct involving bad faith, willful or intentional misconduct, or knowing violation of law;

h. Vary the information required under this Title to be maintained by the partnership or unreasonably restrict the duties and rights of partners to information under this Title;

i. Vary the grounds for expulsion specified in this Title;

j. In the case of limited partnership, vary the power of a person to dissociate as a general partner, except to require that notice of dissociation be in writing;

k. Unreasonably restrict the right of a partner to maintain an action under this Title;

l. Vary the right of a partner to approve a merger, interest exchange, conversion, or domestication;

m. Vary the right of a partner to vote on or consent to a cancellation of a statement of qualification under this Chapter; or

n. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Title, restrict the rights under this Title of a person other than a partner.

4. If a document delivered by a partnership to the Office of the Secretary for filing becomes effective and contains a provision that would be ineffective under this Section if contained in the partnership agreement, the provision is ineffective.

5. If a document delivered by a partnership to the Office of the Secretary for filing becomes effective and conflicts with a provision of the partnership agreement:

a. The partnership agreement prevails as to partners, persons dissociated as partners, and transferees; and

b. The document prevails as to other persons to the extent they reasonably rely on the document.

6. A partnership is bound by and may enforce the partnership agreement, whether or not the partnership has itself manifested assent to the partnership agreement.

7. A person that becomes a partner in a partnership is deemed to assent to the partnership agreement.

8. Two or more persons intending to become the initial partners of a partnership may make an agreement providing that, upon the formation of the partnership, the agreement will become the partnership agreement.

9. A partnership agreement may specify that its amendment requires the approval of a person that is not a party to the agreement or the satisfaction of a condition. An amendment is ineffective if its adoption does not include the required approval or satisfy the specified condition.

Section 21-2-4. Statement of Qualification.

1. A partnership may become a limited liability partnership pursuant to this Section.

2. The terms and conditions on which a partnership becomes a limited liability partnership must be approved by the affirmative vote or consent necessary to amend the partnership agreement.

3. After the required approval, a partnership may become a limited liability partnership by delivering to the Office of the Secretary for filing a statement of qualification. The statement must contain:

a. The name of the partnership that complies with the laws of the Tribe;

b. The principal address, which may be the same as the mailing address of the partnership's registered agent;

c. The name and street and mailing addresses in the territory of the Tribe of the partnership's registered agent; and

d. A statement that the partnership elects to become a limited liability partnership.

4. A partnership's status as a limited liability partnership remains effective, regardless of changes in the partnership, until it is canceled or administratively revoked pursuant to this Section.

5. The Office of the Secretary's filing of a statement of qualification of a limited liability partnership is conclusive proof that the limited liability partnership is organized and formed under this Title.

6. The status of a partnership as a limited liability partnership and the protection against liability of its partners for the debts, obligations, or other liabilities of the partnership while it is a limited liability partnership is not affected by errors or later changes in the information required to be contained in the statement of qualification.

7. A limited liability partnership may amend or cancel its statement of qualification by delivering to the Office of the Secretary for filing a statement of amendment or cancellation. The statement must be approved by the affirmative vote or consent of all the partners and state the name of the limited liability partnership and in the case of:

a. An amendment, state the text of the amendment; and

b. A cancellation, state that the statement of qualification is canceled.

8. The Office of the Secretary may commence a proceeding to revoke the statement of qualification of a limited liability partnership administratively for any of the reasons and under the process for administratively dissolving a business entity under Title XIV of the Code, provided that an administrative revocation affects only a partnership's status as a limited liability partnership and is not an event causing dissolution of the partnership and does not terminate the authority of its registered agent.

CHAPTER 3 PARTNERS

Section 21-3-1. Admission of Partners.

1. Upon formation of a partnership, a person becomes a partner by being one of the persons associated to carry on as a co-owner of the business upon formation.

2. After formation of a partnership, a person becomes a partner:

a. As provided in the partnership agreement;

b. As the result of a merger, interest exchange, conversion, or domestication; or

c. With the affirmative vote or consent of all the partners.

3. A person may become a partner without:

a. Acquiring a transferable interest; or

b. Making or being obligated to make a contribution to the partnership.

Section 21-3-2. Dissociation.

1. A person ceases to be a partner in a partnership and is dissociated as a partner when:

a. The person voluntarily withdraws as a partner and the partnership knows or has notice of the person's express will to withdraw as a partner, provided the person may designate a date of withdrawal as partner;

b. An event stated in the partnership agreement as causing the person's dissociation occurs;

c. The person is expelled as a partner pursuant to the partnership agreement or this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the partnership;

d. The person is expelled as a partner by the affirmative vote or consent of all the other partners if:

i. It is unlawful to carry on the partnership business with the person as a partner;

ii. There has been a transfer of all of the person's transferable interest in the partnership, other than a transfer for security purposes;

e. The person:

i. Becomes a debtor in bankruptcy;

ii. Signs an assignment for the benefit of creditors; or

iii. Seeks, consents to, or acquiesces in the appointment of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator of the person or of all or substantially all the person's property;

f. The person is an entity and:

i. Has filed a statement of dissolution or the equivalent;

ii. Has been administratively dissolved or the equivalent;

iii. Had its charter or the equivalent revoked;

iv. Had its right to conduct business suspended in its jurisdiction of formation; or

v. Has been liquidated;

g. If the person is a trust or estate or is acting as a partner by virtue of being a trustee of a trust or personal representative of an estate, the trust's or estate's entire transferable interest in the partnership is distributed;

h. On application by the partnership or a partner in an action brought in Tribal Court, the person is expelled as a partner by order of the Tribal Court because the person:

i. Has engaged or is engaging in wrongful conduct that has affected adversely and materially, or will affect adversely and materially, the partnership's activities and affairs;

ii. Has committed willfully or persistently, or is committing willfully or persistently, a material breach of the partnership agreement, this Title, other law of the Tribe applicable to the partnership, or a duty or obligation to the partnership; or

iii. Has committed willfully or persistently, or is committing willfully or persistently, a material breach of the partnership agreement, this Title, other law of the Tribe applicable to the partnership, or a duty or obligation to the partnership; or

iv. Has engaged or is engaging in conduct relating to the partnership's activities and affairs which makes it not reasonably practicable to carry on the activities and affairs with the person as a partner;

i. In the case of an individual:

i. The individual dies;

ii. A guardian or general conservator for the individual is appointed; or

iii. A court orders that the individual has otherwise become incapable of performing the individual's duties as a partner under this Title or the partnership agreement;

j. In the case of a person that is not an individual, the existence of the person terminates;

k. The partnership participates in a merger, interest exchange, conversion, or domestication under Title XIV of this Code and:

i. The partnership does not survive the transaction; or

ii. Otherwise as a result of the transaction, the person ceases to be a partner; or

l. The partnership dissolves and completes winding up.

2. A person has the power to dissociate as a partner at any time, rightfully or wrongfully, by withdrawing as a partner voluntarily.

3. A person's dissociation as a partner is wrongful only if the dissociation:

a. Is in breach of an express provision of the partnership agreement, this Title, or other law of the Tribe applicable to the partnership; or

b. In the case of a partnership for a definite term or particular undertaking, occurs before the expiration of the term or the completion of the undertaking and:

i. The person withdraws as a partner voluntarily, unless the withdrawal follows another person's dissociation by death or wrongful dissociation under this subsection not later than ninety (90) days after such dissociation;

ii. The person is expelled as a partner by order of the Tribal Court under this Section;

iii. The person is dissociated as a result of bankruptcy, an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or the appointment of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator under this Section; or

iv. In the case of a person that is not a trust, estate, or individual, the person is expelled or otherwise dissociated because it willfully dissolved or terminated.

4. A person that wrongfully dissociates as a partner is liable to the partnership and to the other partners for damages caused by the dissociation. The liability is in addition to any debt, obligation, or other liability of the partner to the partnership or the other partners. In addition to pursuing any remedies otherwise available under the partnership agreement or applicable law, if a person wrongfully dissociates as a partner, the partnership may offset the damages against the amount otherwise distributable to the partner.

5. If a person is dissociated as a partner:

a. The person's right to participate as a partner in the management and conduct of the partnership's activities and affairs terminates, except to the extent the partner participates in winding up the partnership's business pursuant to a dissolution; and

b. The person's duties and obligations as a partner end with regard to matters arising and events occurring after the person's dissociation, except to the extent the partner participates in winding up the partnership's business pursuant to a dissolution.

6. A person's dissociation does not of itself discharge the person from any debt, obligation, or other liability to the partnership or the other partners which the person incurred while a partner.

7. If a person is dissociated as a partner without the dissociation resulting in a dissolution and winding up of the partnership, the partnership shall cause the person's interest in the partnership to be purchased for a buyout price in the amount that would have been distributable to the person if, on the date of dissociation, the assets of the partnership were sold and the partnership were wound up, with the sale price equal to the greater of:

a. The liquidation value; or

b. The value based on a sale of the entire business as a going concern without the person.

8. A person that wrongfully dissociates as a partner before the expiration of a definite term or the completion of a particular undertaking is not entitled to payment of any part of the buyout price until the expiration of the term or completion of the undertaking.

9. A person dissociated as a partner may maintain an action against the partnership to determine the buyout price of that person's interest, any offsets under this Section for wrongful dissociation, or other terms of the obligation to purchase. The action must be commenced not later than one (1) year after written demand for payment by the person or offer to pay by the partnership is tendered, whichever is earlier. The court may assess reasonable attorney's fees and costs against a party that the court finds acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith, unless the party is the Tribe or a Tribal business entity.

10. After a person is dissociated as a partner without the dissociation resulting in a dissolution and winding up of the partnership business and before the partnership is merged out of existence, converted, domesticated, or dissolved under Title XIV of this Code, the partnership is bound by an act of the person only if:

a. The act would have bound the partnership before dissociation; and

b. At the time the other party enters into the transaction:

i. Less than two (2) years has passed since the dissociation; and

ii. The other party does not know or have notice of the dissociation and reasonably believes that the person is a partner.

11. If a partnership is bound under subsection 10, the person dissociated as a partner which caused the partnership to be bound is liable:

a. To the partnership for any damage caused to the partnership arising from the obligation incurred; and

b. If a partner or another person dissociated as a partner is liable for the obligation, to the partner or other person for any damage caused to the partner or other person arising from the liability.

12. By agreement with a creditor of a partnership and the partnership, a person dissociated as a partner may be released from liability for a debt, obligation, or other liability of the partnership. A person dissociated as a partner is released from liability for a debt, obligation, or other liability of the partnership if the partnership's creditor, with knowledge or notice of the person's dissociation but without the person's consent, agrees to a material alteration in the nature or time of payment of the debt, obligation, or other liability.

13. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a person dissociated as a partner is not liable for a partnership obligation incurred after dissociation. Continued use of a partnership name, or the name of a person dissociated as a partner as part of the partnership name, by partners continuing the business does not of itself make the person dissociated as a partner liable for an obligation of the partners or the partnership continuing the business.

14. A partnership shall defend, indemnify, and hold harmless a person dissociated as a partner whose interest is being purchased against all partnership liabilities, whether incurred before or after the dissociation, except liabilities incurred by an act of the person for which the person is otherwise liable under this Section.

15. A person dissociated as a partner or the partnership may deliver to the Office of the Secretary for filing a statement of dissociation stating the name of the partnership and that the person has dissociated from the partnership. A statement of dissociation is a limitation on the authority of a person dissociated as a partner.

16. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe as partner or as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereign immunity of the Tribe.

Section 21-3-3. Management.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Title, each partner has equal rights in the management and conduct of the partnership's business.

2. A partner is not entitled to remuneration for services performed for the partnership, except for reasonable compensation for services rendered in winding up the business of the partnership.

Section 21-3-4. Voting of Partners.

1. A difference arising as to a matter in the ordinary course of the partnerships's activities and affairs may be decided by a majority of the partners.

2. The affirmative vote, approval, or consent of all partners shall be required to do any of the following:

a. Amend the partnership agreement;

b. In the case of a limited partnership, amend the certificate of limited partnership to add or delete a statement that the limited partnership is a limited liability limited partnership;

c. Undertake an act outside the ordinary course of the partnerships's activities and affairs, including the sale, lease, exchange, or other disposal of all, or substantially all, of the partnership's property; or

d. Authorize a partner or other person to do any act on behalf of the partnership that contravenes the partnership agreement.

Section 21-3-5. Action by Written Consent.

1. Unless the partnership agreement requires that action be taken only by affirmative vote of the partners, any action that may be taken by the partners may be taken if each partner entitled to vote on the action consents in writing to the action.

2. Consent under this Section may be withdrawn by a partner in writing at any time before the partnership receives a consent from each partner entitled to vote.

3. Consent to any action may specify the effective date or time of the action.

Section 21-3-6. Duties of Partners.

1. All partners, except limited partners in a limited partnership, owe to the partnership and the other partners fiduciary duties.

2. The fiduciary duties of a partner include:

a. To act in a manner the partner reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the partnership;

b. To discharge their duties with the care that a person in a like position would reasonably believe appropriate under similar circumstances;

c. To disclose, or cause to be disclosed, to the other partners information not already known by them but known by the partner to be material to the discharge of the decision-making or oversight functions of the partners, unless disclosure would violate another duty imposed under applicable law, a legally enforceable obligation of confidentiality, or a professional ethics rule;

d. To account to the partnership and hold as trustee for it any property, profit, or benefit derived by the partner:

i. In the conduct or winding up of the partnership's activities and affairs;

ii. From a use by the partner of the partnership's property; or

iii. From the appropriation of a partnership opportunity;

e. To refrain from dealing with the partnership in the conduct or winding up of the partnership's activities and affairs as or on behalf of a person having an interest adverse to the partnership;

f. To refrain from competing with the partnership in the conduct of the partnership's activities and affairs before the dissolution of the partnership;

g. To refrain from engaging in grossly negligent or reckless conduct, willful or intentional misconduct, a violation of any law involving moral turpitude, or knowing violation of other applicable law;

h. To refrain from a willful failure to deal fairly with the partnership or its other partners in connection with a matter in which the partner has a material conflict of interest; and

i. To refrain from a transaction from which the partner may derive an improper personal profit.

3. All partners shall discharge their duties and obligations and exercise any rights under this Title, any other law of the Tribe applicable to the partnership, or the partnership agreement consistently with the contractual obligation of good faith and fair dealing.

4. All the partners of a partnership may authorize or ratify, after full disclosure of all material facts, a specific act or transaction that otherwise would violate the fiduciary duties in this Section.

5. Every partner shall account to the partnership and hold as trustee for it any improper personal profit derived by that partner without the consent of a majority of the disinterested partners from:

a. A transaction connected with the organization, conduct, or dissolution and winding up of the partnership; and

b. A use by a partner of the property of the partnership, including confidential or proprietary information or other matters entrusted to the person as a result of the person's status as a partner.

6. A partnership agreement or other private organizational documents may impose duties on partners that are in addition to, but not in abrogation of, those provided in this Section.

Section 21-3-7. Partner as Agent. Except for limited partners in a limited partnership, subject to the effect of a statement of authority filed with the Office of the Secretary under the laws of the Tribe, the following rules apply:

1. Each partner is an agent of the partnership for the purpose of its business, but not of any of the other partners.

2. The act of any partner, including the execution in the name of the partnership of an instrument for apparently carrying on the ordinary course of business of the partnership, binds the partnership in the particular matter unless the person with whom the partner is dealing knows or should know that the partner has no authority to act in the matter.

3. If the Tribe is a partner in a partnership, the Tribe's authority shall be exercised pursuant to Chapter 4 of Title XIV.

4. No act of a partner that is not apparently authorized for carrying on the ordinary course of business of the partnership shall bind the partnership unless the act is in fact authorized at the time of the transaction or ratified thereafter by all the other partners.

Section 21-3-8. Representations of Partner. An admission or representation made by a partner concerning the business of a partnership within the scope of the partner's actual authority may be used as evidence against the partnership in any legal proceeding.

Section 21-3-9. Knowledge of Partner. Except as otherwise provided in this Title, the following operates as notice to or knowledge of the partnership:

1. Notice to any partner of any matter relating to the business of the partnership;

2. Knowledge of any partner acting in the particular matter acquired while a partner or known by the person at the time of becoming a partner; and

3. Knowledge of any partner who reasonably could and should have communicated it to the acting partner.

Section 21-3-10. Rights to Information and Records.

1. On reasonable request, a partner may inspect and during regular business hours copy, at the partner's expense, any record maintained by the partnership regarding the partnership's activities, affairs, financial condition, and other circumstances, unless otherwise provided in the partnership agreement or this Title.

2. The partnership shall furnish to each partner or the partner's legal representative:

a. Without demand, any true and full information concerning the partnership's activities, affairs, financial condition, and other circumstances which the partnership knows and is material to the proper exercise of the partner's rights and duties under the partnership agreement or this Title; and

b. On demand, any other true and full information concerning the partnership's activities, affairs, financial condition, and other circumstances.

3. The duty to furnish information under this Section also applies to each partner to the extent the partner knows any of the information described in this Section.

4. On ten (10) days' demand made in writing received by a partnership, a person dissociated as a partner may have access to information to which the person was entitled while a partner if:

a. The information pertains to the period during which the person was a partner;

b. The person seeks the information in good faith; and

c. The person satisfies other requirements imposed on a partner by this Section.

5. In addition to any restriction or condition stated in its partnership agreement, a partnership, as a matter within the ordinary course of its business, may impose reasonable restrictions and conditions on access to and use of information to be furnished under this Section, including designating information confidential and imposing nondisclosure and safeguarding obligations on the recipient. In a dispute concerning the reasonableness of a restriction under this subsection, the partnership has the burden of proving reasonableness.

Section 21-3-11. Direct Action by Partner.

1. A partner may maintain a direct action against another partner or the partnership to enforce the partner's rights and protect the partner's interests, including rights and interests under the partnership agreement or this Title or arising independently of the partnership relationship.

2. A partner maintaining an action under this Section must plead and prove an actual or threatened injury that is not solely the result of an injury suffered or threatened to be suffered by the partnership.

3. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe as partner or as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereign immunity of the Tribe.

Section 21-3-12. Derivative Actions.

1. A partner may maintain a derivative action to enforce a right of a partnership if:

a. Unless such a demand would be futile, the partner first makes a demand on the other partners, excluding limited partners in a limited partnership, requesting that they cause the partnership to bring an action to enforce the right; and

b. The partners do not bring the action within a reasonable time.

2. In a derivative action, the complaint must state with particularity:

a. The date and content of plaintiff's demand and the response to the demand by the partners; or

b. Why demand should be excused as futile.

3. A derivative action to enforce a right of a partnership may be maintained only by a person that is a partner at the time the action is commenced and:

a. Was a partner when the conduct giving rise to the action occurred; or

b. Whose status as a partner devolved on the person by operation of law or pursuant to the terms of the partnership agreement from a person that was a partner at the time of the conduct.

4. If a partnership is named as or made a party in a derivative proceeding, the partnership may appoint a special litigation committee to investigate the claims asserted in the proceeding and determine whether pursuing the action is in the best interests of the partnership. If the partnership appoints a special litigation committee, on motion by the committee made in the name of the partnership, the court shall, except for good cause shown, stay discovery for the time reasonably necessary to permit the committee to make its investigation. This subsection does not prevent the court from:

a. Enforcing a person's right to information under this Title; or

b. Granting a temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction.

5. A special litigation committee must be composed of one or more disinterested and independent individuals, who may be partners. A special litigation committee may be appointed by the affirmative vote or consent of a majority of the partners, other than limited partners in a limited partnership, not named as parties in the proceeding or, if all partners are named as parties, a majority of all the partners, other than limited partners in a limited partnership.

6. After appropriate investigation, a special litigation committee may determine that it is in the best interests of the partnership that the proceeding:

a. Continue under the control of the plaintiff;

b. Continue under the control of the committee;

c. Be settled on terms approved by the committee; or

d. Be dismissed.

7. After making a determination how to proceed, a special litigation committee shall file with the court a statement of its determination and its report supporting its determination. The special litigation committee shall serve each party with a copy of the determination and report. If the court finds the committee has proven that the members of the committee were disinterested and independent and that the committee acted in good faith, independently, and with reasonable care, the court shall enforce the determination of the committee. Otherwise, the court shall dissolve any stay entered pursuant to this Section and allow the action to continue under the control of the plaintiff.

8. A derivative action on behalf of a partnership may not be voluntarily dismissed or settled without the court's approval.

9. Subject to the award of expenses provided in this Section:

a. Any proceeds or other benefits of a derivative action, whether by judgment, compromise, or settlement, belong to the partnership and not to the plaintiff; and

b. If the plaintiff receives any proceeds, the plaintiff shall remit them immediately to the partnership.

10. Unless the partnership is a Tribal business entity and the plaintiff is not the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, if a derivative action is successful in whole or in part, the court may award the plaintiff reasonable expenses, including reasonable legal counsel's fees and costs, from the recovery of the partnership.

11. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe or waiving the sovereign immunity of any Tribal business entity.

CHAPTER 4 DEALING WITH PARTNERSHIP

Section 21-4-1. Nature of Partnership.

1. A partnership is an entity distinct from its partners.

2. A partnership is the same entity regardless of whether the partnership has a statement of qualification in effect under this Chapter.

3. A limited partnership is the same entity regardless of whether its certificate states that the limited partnership is a limited liability limited partnership.

Section 21-4-2. Interest in Partnership.

1. An interest in a partnership is personal property.

2. The right of a person, in his or her capacity as a partner, to receive distributions from a partnership, whether or not the person remains a partner or continues to own any part of the right to receive distributions, is assignable.

3. Unless otherwise provided in its partnership agreement:

a. An interest in a partnership is assignable in whole or in part;

b. An assignment of an interest in a partnership entitles the assignee to receive only the distributions and share in the allocations of profits and losses to which the assignor would be entitled with respect to the assigned interest;

c. An assignment of an interest in a partnership does not dissolve the partnership;

d. Unless and until the assignee becomes a partner, the assignment of an interest in a partnership does not entitle the assignee to participate in the management or exercise the rights of a partner;

e. Unless and until the assignee of an interest in a partnership becomes a partner, the assignor continues to be a partner; and

f. The assignor of an interest in a partnership is not released from any personal liability as a partner solely as a result of the assignment.

4. Unless otherwise provided in the partnership agreement, the granting of a security interest, lien, or other encumbrance in or against any or all of a partner's interest in a partnership is only an assignment and shall not cause the partner to cease to have the power to exercise any rights or powers of a partner.

5. A partner's personal representative, administrator, guardian, conservator, trustee, successor, or other legal representative shall have all the rights of an assignee of the partner's interest if:

a. In the case of an individual:

i. The individual dies;

ii. A guardian or general conservator for the individual is appointed; or

iii. A court orders that the individual has otherwise become incapable of performing the individual's duties as a partner under this Title or the partnership agreement; or

b. In the case of a trust, estate, or entity, the trust, estate, or entity is dissolved or terminated.

6. Unless otherwise provided in the partnership agreement or this Title, an assignee of an interest in a partnership may become a partner only if the other partners unanimously consent.

7. An assignee of an interest in a partnership who becomes a partner has, to the extent assigned, the rights and powers and is subject to the restrictions and liabilities of the assignor under the partnership agreement, this Title, and other laws of the Tribe applicable to the partnership.

8. Unless otherwise provided in the partnership agreement, an assignor of an interest in a partnership is not released from any liability to the partnership without the written consent of all the partners, whether or not the assignee becomes a partner.

Section 21-4-3. Charging Partnership Interest.

1. On application to a court having valid jurisdiction over a partner and the subject matter by a judgment creditor of the partner, such court may enter a charging order against the transferable interest in the partnership of the partner, other than a partner which is the Tribe, for the unsatisfied amount of the judgment.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a charging order constitutes a lien on the partner's transferable interest and requires the partnership to pay over to the person to which the charging order was issued any distribution that otherwise would be paid to the partner. The judgment creditor has only the rights of an assignee of the partner's interest.

3. At any time before foreclosure under this Section, the partner whose transferable interest is subject to a charging order under this Section may extinguish the charging order by satisfying the judgment and filing a certified copy of the satisfaction with the court that issued the charging order.

4. At any time before foreclosure under this Section, a partnership or one or more partners whose transferable interests are not subject to the charging order may pay to the judgment creditor the full amount due under the judgment and thereby succeed to the rights of the judgment creditor, including the charging order.

5. Upon a showing that distributions under a charging order will not pay the judgment debt within a reasonable time, the court may foreclose the lien and order the sale of the transferable interest of the partner. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, the purchaser at the foreclosure sale obtains only the transferable interest, does not thereby become a partner, and has only the rights of an assignee of the partner's interest.

6. This Section shall not be construed to deprive any partner of the benefit of any exemption of an interest in a partnership that may exist under applicable law.

7. This Section provides the exclusive remedy by which a person seeking in the capacity of judgment creditor to enforce a judgment against a partner may satisfy the judgment from the partner's transferable interest.

8. In no event shall the Tribe's interest in a partnership be attachable, chargeable, or subject to lien or encumbrance without the Tribe's express written consent or express waiver of its sovereign immunity.

Section 21-4-4. Property of Partnership.

1. All property originally transferred to or acquired by a partnership is property of the partnership and not the partners individually.

2. A partner is not a co-owner of partnership property and has no interest in partnership property which can be transferred, either voluntarily or involuntarily.

3. A partner may use or possess partnership property only on behalf of the partnership.

4. Property may be acquired, held, and conveyed in the name of a partnership.

5. Property is partnership property if acquired in the name of:

a. The partnership; or

b. One or more partners with an indication in the instrument transferring title to the property of the person's capacity as a partner or of the existence of a partnership but without an indication of the name of the partnership.

6. Property is acquired in the name of the partnership by a transfer to:

a. The partnership in its name; or

b. One or more partners in their capacity as partners in the partnership, if the name of the partnership is indicated in the instrument transferring title to the property.

7. Property acquired with funds of a partnership is presumed to be property of the partnership.

8. Property acquired in the name of one or more of the partners, without an indication in the instrument transferring title to the property of the person's capacity as a partner or of the existence of a partnership and without use of partnership assets, is presumed to be separate property, even if used for partnership purposes.

9. Subject to any limitations in its partnership agreement or this Title, partnership property may be transferred as follows:

a. Subject to the effect of a statement of authority filed with the Office of the Secretary under the laws of the Tribe, if the property is held in the name of the partnership, by an instrument executed by any partner in the partnership name;

b. If held in the name of one or more partners without an indication of the name of the partnership, by an instrument executed by the persons in whose name the property is held; or

c. If held in the name of one or more persons, other than the partnership, without an indication the property is owned by them in their capacity as partners or the partnership, by an instrument executed by the persons in whose name the property is held.

Section 21-4-5. Liability to Third Parties.

1. A partnership is liable for loss or injury caused to a person, or for a penalty incurred, as a result of a wrongful act or omission, or other actionable conduct, of a partner acting in the ordinary course of business of the partnership or with the actual or apparent authority of the partnership.

2. If, in the course of the partnership's business or while acting with actual or apparent authority of the partnership, a partner receives or causes the partnership to receive money or property of a person not a partner, and the money or property is misapplied by a partner, the partnership is liable for the loss.

3. Except as otherwise provided in this Title, all partners are liable jointly and severally for all debts, obligations, and other liabilities of the partnership, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise, unless otherwise agreed by the claimant or provided by law.

4. A person that becomes a partner is not personally liable for a debt, obligation, or other liability of the partnership, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise, incurred before the person became a partner.

5. A debt, obligation, or other liability of a partnership incurred while the partnership is a limited liability partnership, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise, is solely the debt, obligation, or other liability of the limited liability partnership. A partner is not personally liable, directly or indirectly, by way of contribution or otherwise, for an act, debt, obligation, or other liability of the limited liability partnership solely by reason of being or acting as a partner. This subsection applies:

a. Despite anything inconsistent in the partnership agreement that existed immediately before the vote or consent required to become a limited liability partnership under this Chapter; and

b. Regardless of the dissolution of the limited liability partnership.

6. The failure of a limited liability partnership to observe formalities relating to the exercise of its powers or management of its activities and affairs is not a ground for imposing liability on a partner for an act, debt, obligation, or other liability of the limited liability partnership.

7. The cancellation or administrative revocation of a limited liability partnership's statement of qualification does not affect the limitation in this Section on the liability of a partner for an act, debt, obligation, or other liability of the partnership incurred while the statement was in effect.

8. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as imposing any liability on the Tribe as a partner or as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereign immunity of the Tribe.

Section 21-4-6. Parties to Actions.

1. A partnership may sue and be sued in the name of the partnership.

2. To the extent not inconsistent with this Title governing liability of partners to third parties, a partner may be joined in an action against the partnership or named in a separate action.

3. A judgment against a partnership is not by itself a judgment against a partner. A judgment against a partnership may not be satisfied from a partner's assets unless there is also a judgment against the partner.

4. A judgment creditor of a partner may not levy execution against the assets of the partner to satisfy a judgment based on a claim against the partnership unless the partner is personally liable for the claim under this Title and:

a. A judgment based on the same claim has been obtained against the partnership and a writ of execution on the judgment against the partnership has been returned unsatisfied in whole or in part;

b. The partnership is a debtor in bankruptcy;

c. The partner has agreed that the creditor need not exhaust partnership assets;

d. A court grants permission to the judgment creditor to levy execution against the assets of a partner based on a finding that partnership assets subject to execution are clearly insufficient to satisfy the judgment, that exhaustion of partnership assets is excessively burdensome, or that the grant of permission is otherwise equitable under the circumstances; or

e. Liability is imposed on the partner by law or contract independent of the existence of the partnership.

Section 21-4-7. Authority to Sue.

1. Unless otherwise provided in its partnership agreement, an action on behalf of a partnership may be brought in the name of the partnership by one or more partners, if authorized by a majority vote of the partners excluding the vote of any partner who has an interest in the outcome of the action that is adverse to the interests of the partnership.

2. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe as partner.

Section 21-4-8. Actions Between Partners and Partnership.

1. A partnership may maintain an action against a partner for a breach of the partnership agreement, or for the violation of a duty to the partnership, causing harm to the partnership.

2. A partner may maintain an action against the partnership or another partner, with or without an accounting as to partnership business, to enforce the partner's rights and protect the partner's interests, including rights and interests under the partnership agreement, this Title, other law of the Tribe governing the partnership or arising independently of the partnership relationship. A partner maintaining a direct action under this subsection must plead and prove an actual or threatened injury that is not solely the result of an injury suffered or threatened to be suffered by the partnership.

3. A right to an accounting on dissolution and winding up does not revive a claim barred by law.

4. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe as partner.

Section 21-4-9. Records. A partnership shall maintain at its principal office the following information:

1. A current list showing the full name and last known street and mailing address of each partner and, in the case of a limited partnership, separately identifying the general partners in alphabetical order and the limited partners in alphabetical order;

2. In the case of a limited liability partnership, a copy of the initial statement of qualification and all amendments to and restatements of the same, together with signed copies of any powers of attorney under which any certificate, amendment, or restatement has been signed;

3. In the case of a limited partnership, a copy of the initial certificate of limited partnership and all amendments to and restatements of the same, together with signed copies of any powers of attorney under which any certificate, amendment, or restatement has been signed;

4. A copy of any filed articles of merger, interest exchange, conversion, or domestication;

5. A copy of the partnership's Tribal, federal, state, and local income tax returns and reports, if any, for the three (3) most recent years;

6. A copy of any written partnership agreement and any written amendment to any partnership agreement;

7. A copy of any financial statement of the partnership for the three most recent years;

8. A copy of the three (3) most recent annual reports delivered by the partnership to the Office of the Secretary pursuant to the laws of the Tribe;

9. A copy of any record made by the partnership during the past three (3) years of any consent given by or vote taken of any partner pursuant to this Title or the partnership agreement; and

10. Unless contained in a written partnership agreement, a record stating:

a. A description and statement of the agreed value of contributions other than money made and agreed to be made by each partner;

b. The times at which, or events on the happening of which, any additional contributions agreed to be made by each partner are to be made;

c. In the case of a limited partnership, for any person that is both a general partner and a limited partner, a specification of what transferable interest the person owns in each capacity; and

d. Any events upon the happening of which the partnership is to be dissolved and its activities and affairs wound up.

CHAPTER 5 LIMITED PARTNERSHIPS

Section 21-5-1. Formation.

1. To form a limited partnership, a person must deliver a certificate of limited partnership to the Office of the Secretary for filing.

2. A partnership may become a limited partnership by complying with this Section and without accomplishing a conversion under the laws of the Tribe.

3. A limited partnership is formed when:

a. The certificate of limited partnership becomes effective;

b. At least two persons have become partners;

c. At least one person has become a general partner;
and

d. At least one person has become a limited partner.

4. The Office of the Secretary's filing of the certificate of limited partnership of a limited partnership is conclusive proof that the limited partnership is organized and formed under this Title.

Section 21-5-2. Certificate of Limited Partnership.

1. A certificate of limited partnership must state all of the following:

a. A statement that the limited partnership is organized under this Title;

b. The name of the limited partnership that complies with the laws of the Tribe;

c. The principal address, which may be the same as the mailing address of the limited partnership's registered agent;

d. The name and street and mailing addresses in the territory of the Tribe of the limited partnership's registered agent;

e. The name and street and mailing addresses of each general partner;

f. Whether the limited partnership is a limited liability limited partnership;

g. Whether the limited partnership is a Tribal business entity; and

h. If the limited partnership is a Tribal business entity, whether the limited partnership enjoys the Tribe's sovereign immunity and the scope of any waiver of that immunity.

2. An initial certificate of limited partnership shall be signed by all general partners listed in the certificate.

3. A certificate of limited partnership may contain statements as to matters other than those required in this Section which are not inconsistent with the laws of the Tribe or not prohibited by the laws of the Tribe.

Section 21-5-3. Amendment or Restatement of Certificate.

1. A certificate of limited partnership may be amended or restated at any time.

2. To amend its certificate of limited partnership, a limited partnership must deliver to the Office of the Secretary for filing an amendment stating:

a. The name of the limited partnership;

b. The date of filing of its initial certificate; and

c. The text of the amendment.

3. An amendment to the certificate of limited partnership adding or deleting a statement that the limited partnership is a limited liability limited partnership must be signed by all general partners listed in the certificate. Any other amendment to the certificate of limited partnership must be signed by:

a. At least one general partner listed in the certificate;

b. Each person designated in the amendment as a new general partner; and

c. Each person that the amendment indicates has dissociated as a general partner, unless the person is deceased or the person has previously delivered to the Office of the Secretary for filing a statement of dissociation.

4. To restate its certificate of limited partnership, a limited partnership must deliver to the Office of the Secretary for filing a restatement of the certificate, designated as such in its heading. A restated certificate of limited partnership must be signed by at least one general partner listed in the certificate, and, to the extent the restated certificate effects a change under any other subsection of this Section, the certificate must be signed in a manner that satisfies that subsection.

5. A limited partnership shall promptly deliver to the Office of the Secretary for filing an amendment to a certificate of limited partnership to reflect:

a. The admission of a new general partner;

b. The dissociation of a person as a general partner;
or

c. The appointment of a person to wind up the limited partnership's activities and affairs under Title XIV of this Code.

6. A certificate of limited partnership shall be amended if there is a statement in the certificate that was false or erroneous when it was made.

7. If a general partner of a limited partnership knows that any information in a filed certificate of limited partnership was inaccurate when the certificate was filed or has become inaccurate due to changed circumstances, the general partner shall promptly:

- a. Cause the certificate to be amended; or
- b. If appropriate, deliver to the Office of the Secretary for filing a statement of change or a statement of correction.

Section 21-5-4. Dual Capacity.

1. A person may be both a general partner and a limited partner.

2. A person that is both a general and limited partner has the rights, powers, duties, and obligations provided by this Title, other laws of the Tribe applicable to the limited partnership, and the partnership agreement in each of those capacities. When the person acts as a general partner, the person is subject to the obligations, duties, and restrictions under this Title, other laws of the Tribe applicable to the limited partnership, and the partnership agreement for general partners. When the person acts as a limited partner, the person is subject to the obligations, duties, and restrictions under this Title, other laws of the Tribe applicable to the limited partnership, and the partnership agreement for limited partners.

Section 21-5-5. Admission of Limited Partners.

1. Upon formation of a limited partnership, a person becomes a limited partner as agreed among the persons that are to be the initial partners.

2. After formation, a person becomes a limited partner:
 - a. As provided in the partnership agreement;
 - b. As the result of a merger, interest exchange, conversion, or domestication; or
 - c. With the affirmative vote or consent of all the partners.

3. A person may become a limited partner without:
 - a. Acquiring a transferable interest; or

b. Making or being obligated to make a contribution to the limited partnership.

Section 21-5-6. Person Erroneously Believing Limited Partner.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a person that makes an investment in a business entity and erroneously but in good faith believes that the person has become a limited partner in the business entity is not liable for the business entity's obligations by reason of making the investment, receiving distributions from the business entity, or exercising any rights of or appropriate to a limited partner, if, on ascertaining the mistake, the person:

a. Causes an appropriate certificate of limited partnership, amendment, or statement of correction to be signed and delivered to the Office of the Secretary for filing; or

b. Withdraws from future participation as an owner in the business entity by signing and delivering to the Office of the Secretary for filing a statement of negation.

2. A person that makes an investment described in this Section is liable to the same extent as a general partner to any third party that enters into a transaction with the business entity, believing in good faith that the person is a general partner, before the Office of the Secretary files a statement of negation, certificate of limited partnership, amendment, or statement of correction to show that the person is not a general partner.

3. If a person makes a diligent effort in good faith to file an appropriate certificate under this Section and is unable to cause the appropriate certificate of limited partnership, amendment, or statement of correction to be signed and delivered to the Office of the Secretary for filing, the person has the right to withdraw from the business entity by filing a statement of negation even if the withdrawal would otherwise breach an agreement with others that are or have agreed to become co-owners of the business entity.

Section 21-5-7. Dissociation of Limited Partners.

1. A person does not have a right to dissociate as a limited partner in a limited partnership before the completion of the winding up of the limited partnership.

2. A person is dissociated as a limited partner when:

a. The person voluntarily withdraws as a limited partner and the limited partnership knows or has notice of the person's express will to withdraw as a limited partner, provided the person may designate a date of withdrawal as limited partner;

b. An event stated in the partnership agreement as causing the person's dissociation as a limited partner occurs;

c. The person is expelled as a limited partner pursuant to the partnership agreement or this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the limited partnership;

d. The person is expelled as a limited partner by the affirmative vote or consent of all the other partners if:

i. It is unlawful to carry on the limited partnership business with the person as a limited partner;

ii. There has been a transfer of all of the person's transferable interest in the limited partnership, other than a transfer for security purposes;

e. The person is an entity and:

i. Has filed a statement of dissolution or the equivalent;

ii. Has been administratively dissolved or the equivalent;

iii. Had its charter or the equivalent revoked; or

iv. Had its right to conduct business suspended in its jurisdiction of formation;

f. If the person is a trust or estate or is acting as a limited partner by virtue of being a trustee of a trust or personal representative of an estate, the trust's or estate's entire transferable interest in the limited partnership is distributed;

g. On application by the limited partnership or a partner in an action brought in Tribal Court, the person is expelled as a limited partner by order of the Tribal Court because the person:

i. Has engaged or is engaging in wrongful conduct that has affected adversely and materially, or will affect adversely and materially, the limited partnership's activities and affairs;

ii. Has committed willfully or persistently, or is committing willfully or persistently, a material breach of the partnership agreement, this Title, other law of the Tribe applicable to the limited partnership, or a duty or obligation to the limited partnership; or

iii. Has committed willfully or persistently, or is committing willfully or persistently, a material breach of the partnership agreement, this Title, other law of the Tribe applicable to the limited partnership, or a duty or obligation to the limited partnership; or

iv. Has engaged or is engaging in conduct relating to the limited partnership's activities and affairs which makes it not reasonably practicable to carry on the activities and affairs with the person as a limited partner;

h. In the case of an individual, the individual dies;

i. In the case of a person that is not an individual, the existence of the person terminates;

j. The limited partnership participates in a merger, interest exchange, conversion, or domestication under Title XIV of this Code and:

i. The limited partnership does not survive the transaction; or

ii. Otherwise as a result of the transaction, the person ceases to be a limited partner; or

k. The limited partnership dissolves and completes winding up.

3. In addition to all other consequences of dissociation as a partner, if a person is dissociated as a limited partner, the person does not have further rights as a limited partner.

Section 21-5-8. Management by Limited Partner. Unless the partnership agreement provides otherwise, a limited partner has no rights in the management and conduct of the limited partnership's business.

Section 21-5-9. Voting of Limited Partners. Except for matters requiring the vote of all partners under this Title or another law of the Tribe applicable to the limited partnership, limited partners have the right to vote on a matter of the partnership's activities only to the extent provided in the partnership agreement.

Section 21-5-10. Duties of Limited Partners.

1. Limited partners shall discharge their duties and obligations and exercise any rights under this Title, any other law of the Tribe applicable to the limited partnership, or the partnership agreement consistently with the contractual obligation of good faith and fair dealing.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a limited partner does not have any duty to the limited partnership or to any other partner solely by reason of acting as a limited partner.

3. Unless the partnership agreement provides otherwise, if a limited partner enters into a transaction with a limited partnership, the limited partner's rights and obligations arising from the transaction are the same as those of a person that is not a partner.

4. A partnership agreement or other private organizational documents may impose duties on limited partners that are in addition to, but not in abrogation of, those provided in this Section.

Section 21-5-11. Limited Partner as Agent. In the case of a limited partner in a limited partnership, the following rules apply:

1. A limited partner is not an agent of a limited partnership solely by reason of being a limited partner; and

2. A person's status as a limited partner does not prevent or restrict a law of the Tribe other than this Title from imposing liability on a limited partnership because of the person's conduct.

Section 21-5-12. Knowledge of Limited Partner. A limited partner's knowledge or notice of a fact relating to the limited partnership is not effective as knowledge of or notice to the limited partnership.

Section 21-5-13. Rights to Information and Records.

1. Whenever this Title or a partnership agreement provides for a limited partner to vote on or give or withhold consent to a matter, before the vote is cast or consent is given or withheld, the limited partnership shall, without demand, provide the limited partner with all information that is known to the partnership and is material to the limited partner's decision.

2. In addition to any restriction or condition stated in its partnership agreement, a limited partnership, as a matter within the ordinary course of its business, may impose reasonable restrictions and conditions on access to and use of information to be furnished under this Section, including designating information confidential and imposing nondisclosure and safeguarding obligations on the recipient. In a dispute concerning the reasonableness of a restriction under this subsection, the limited partnership has the burden of proving reasonableness.

Section 21-5-14. Liability to Third Parties.

1. A debt, obligation, or other liability of a limited partnership is not the debt, obligation, or other liability of a limited partner. A limited partner is not personally liable, directly or indirectly, by way of contribution or otherwise, for a debt, obligation, or other liability of the limited partnership solely by reason of being or acting as a limited partner, even if the limited partner participates in the management and control of the limited partnership. This subsection applies regardless of the dissolution of the limited partnership.

2. The failure of a limited partnership to observe formalities relating to the exercise of its powers or management of its activities and affairs is not a ground for imposing liability on a limited partner for a debt, obligation, or other liability of the limited partnership.

3. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as imposing any liability on the Tribe as a partner or as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereign immunity of the Tribe.

CHAPTER 6 CONTRIBUTIONS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

Section 21-6-1. Contributions.

1. A contribution may consist of money or property transferred to, services performed for, or another benefit provided to the partnership or an agreement to transfer money or property to, perform services for, or provide another benefit to the partnership.

2. The value of a partner's contribution shall be determined in the manner provided in the partnership agreement. If the partnership agreement does not fix a value to a contribution, the value of a contribution shall be approved by a majority of the partners and be properly reflected in the records and information kept by the partnership under this Title. The value of contributions so determined shall be binding and conclusive on the partnership and its partners.

3. An obligation of a person to make a contribution to a partnership is not enforceable unless specified in a writing signed by the person. A person's obligation to make a contribution to a partnership is not excused by the person's death, disability, termination, or other inability to perform personally.

4. If a person does not fulfill an obligation to make a contribution other than money, the person is obligated at the option of the partnership to contribute money equal to the value of the part of the contribution which has not been made.

5. The obligation of a person to make a contribution may be compromised only by the affirmative vote or consent of all the partners. If a creditor of a partnership extends credit or otherwise acts in reliance on an obligation to make a contribution without knowledge or notice of a compromise under this subsection, the creditor may enforce the obligation.

Section 21-6-2. Allocation of Profits and Losses.

1. The profits and losses of a partnership shall be allocated among the partners in the manner provided in its partnership agreement.

2. If the partners do not enter into a partnership agreement or the partnership agreement does not provide for allocation of profits and losses, profits and losses shall be allocated on the basis of value of the contributions made by each partner.

Section 21-6-3. Distributions Generally.

1. Any distribution made by a partnership before its dissolution and winding up must be:

a. In the case of a limited partnership, shared among the partners on the basis of the value, as stated in the required information when the limited partnership decides to make the distribution, of the contributions the limited partnership has received from each partner; and

b. In the case of all other partnerships, in equal shares among partners, except to the extent necessary to comply with an effective transfer of a transferable interest in the partnership under this Chapter or a charging order in effect under this Chapter.

2. Subject to the requirements to buyout a person's interest upon dissociation that does not result in the dissolution and winding up of the partnership, a person has a right to a distribution before the dissolution and winding up of a partnership only if the partnership decides to make an interim distribution. A person's dissociation does not entitle the person to a distribution.

3. A person does not have a right to demand or receive a distribution from a partnership in any form other than money. Except as otherwise provided in the laws of the Tribe, a partnership may distribute an asset in kind only if each part of the asset is fungible with each other part and each person receives a percentage of the asset equal in value to the person's share of distributions.

4. If a partner becomes entitled to receive a distribution, the partner has the status of, and is entitled to all remedies available to, a creditor of the partnership with respect to the distribution. However, the partnership's obligation to make a distribution is subject to offset for any amount owed to the partnership by the partner or a person dissociated as partner on whose account the distribution is made.

Section 21-6-4. Limitations on Distributions.

1. A limited liability partnership or limited partnership may not declare or make a distribution if, after the distribution:

a. The partnership would not be able to pay its debts as they become due in the ordinary course of the partnership's activities and affairs; or

b. The partnership's total assets would be less than the sum of its total liabilities plus the amount that would be needed to satisfy the preferential rights, if any, of partners upon dissolution and winding up.

2. A limited liability partnership or limited partnership may base a determination that a distribution is not prohibited under subsection 1 on:

a. Financial statements and other financial data prepared on the basis of accounting practices and principles that are reasonable in the circumstances; or

b. A fair valuation or other method that is reasonable under the circumstances.

3. A limited liability partnership's or limited partnership's indebtedness to a partner incurred by reason of a distribution made in accordance with this Section is equivalent to the partnership's indebtedness to its general unsecured creditors, except to the extent subordinated by written agreement. This subsection does not affect the validity or priority of a security interest in a limited liability partnership's or limited partnership's property that is created to secure the indebtedness to the partner.

Section 21-6-5. Liability for Improper Distributions.

1. A partner that is not the Tribe who votes or assents to a distribution in violation of this Chapter is personally liable to the partnership for the amount of the excess distribution, subject to contribution from all other partners participating in such action.

2. To the extent the partnership agreement expressly relieves a partner of the authority and responsibility to consent to distributions and imposes that authority and responsibility on one or more other partners, the liability stated in this Section applies to the other partners and not the partner relieved of the authority and responsibility.

3. A person that receives a distribution knowing that the distribution violated this Chapter is personally liable to the partnership but only to the extent that the distribution received by the person exceeded the amount that could have been properly paid under this Chapter.

4. A partner who is held liable under this Section for an unlawful distribution is entitled to contribution from:

a. Every other partner who could be held liable under this Section for the unlawful distribution; and

b. Each partner for the amount the partner accepted knowing the distribution was made in violation of this Chapter.

5. An action to recover under this Section may be brought in the Tribal Court. An action under this Section is barred unless commenced no later than two (2) years after the date of the distribution.

6. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereign immunity of the Tribe.

CHAPTER 2
FORMATION

Section 22-2-1. Formation.

1. One or more persons may act as organizers to form a cooperative by delivering to the Office of the Secretary for filing the articles of organization.

2. A cooperative is formed when the articles of organization become effective. However, to begin business, a cooperative must have at least two (2) patron members unless the sole member is another cooperative. The organizers of a cooperative need not be members at the time of organization or thereafter.

3. The Office of the Secretary's filing of the articles of organization of a cooperative is conclusive proof that the cooperative is organized and formed under this Title.

Section 22-2-2. Articles of Organization.

1. The articles of organization must state all of the following:

2. The articles of organization shall be signed by all organizers.

3. The articles of organization may contain statements as to matters other than those required in this Section which are not inconsistent with the laws of the Tribe or not prohibited by the laws of the Tribe.

4. A cooperative, by the affirmative vote of a majority of the board of directors taken at a meeting for which the purpose is stated in the notice of the meeting, may adopt restated articles of organization that contain the original articles as previously amended. Restated articles may contain amendments if the restated articles are adopted in the same manner and with the same vote as required for amendments to the articles under this Title. To restate its articles of organization, a cooperative must deliver to the Office of the Secretary for filing a restatement of the articles, designated as such in its heading. Upon filing, restated articles supersede the existing articles and all amendments.

Section 22-2-3. Bylaws.

1. The initial board of directors of a cooperative shall adopt initial bylaws for the cooperative.

2. Bylaws must be in writing and, if not stated in the articles of organization, must include:

g. A statement of the number and terms of directors or the method by which the number and terms are determined.

3. The bylaws of a cooperative may contain any provision for managing the activities and regulating the affairs of the cooperative that is not inconsistent with applicable law or the articles of organization.

4. The initial board of directors may amend the bylaws by a majority vote of the directors at any time before the admission of members.

Section 22-2-4. Amendment of Articles and Bylaws.

1. Once a cooperative has admitted members, the organizational documents of a cooperative may only be amended at a members meeting. An amendment may be proposed by either:

a. A majority of the board of directors, or a greater percentage if required by the organizational documents; or

b. One (1) or more petitions signed by at least ten percent (10%) of the patron members.

2. The board of directors shall call a members meeting to consider an amendment proposed pursuant to this Section. The meeting must be held not later than ninety (90) days following the proposal of the amendment by the board or receipt of a petition. The board must mail or otherwise transmit or deliver in writing to each member:

a. The proposed amendment or a summary of the proposed amendment and a statement of the manner in which a copy of the amendment in writing may be reasonably obtained by a member;

b. A recommendation that the members approve the amendment or, if the board determines that because of conflict of interest or other special circumstances it should not make a favorable recommendation, the basis for that determination;

c. A statement of any condition of the board's submission of the amendment to the members; and

d. Notice of the meeting at which the proposed amendment will be considered, which must be given in the same manner as notice for a special meeting of members.

3. A change to a proposed amendment of the organizational documents may not be made at the members meeting at which a vote on the amendment occurs and need not be separately voted upon by the board of directors. A vote to adopt a change to a proposed amendment to the organizational documents must be by the same percentage of votes required to pass a proposed amendment.

4. If the organizational documents provide for voting by district or class, or if there is one or more identifiable voting groups that a proposed amendment to the organizational documents would affect differently from other members, approval of the amendment requires the same percentage of votes of the members of that district, class, or voting group required of all members to pass the proposed amendment.

5. Subject to subsection 4 of this Section:

a. An amendment to the articles of organization must be approved by at least two-thirds (2/3) of the voting power of members present at the members meeting called to consider the amendment; and

b. Unless otherwise provided in this Title or the organizational documents require a greater percentage, an amendment to the bylaws must be approved by at least a majority vote of the voting power of all members present at the members meeting called to consider the amendment.

6. The vote required to amend bylaws must satisfy the requirements of an amendment to the articles of organization if the proposed amendment modifies:

a. The equity capital structure of the cooperative, including the rights of the cooperative's members to share in profits or distributions or receive patronage refunds;

b. The relative rights, preferences, and restrictions granted to or imposed upon one or more districts, classes, or voting groups of similarly situated members;

- b. Measured against the voting power of all members; or
- c. A combination of the foregoing.

8. Consent in writing by a member must be delivered to a cooperative before delivery of an amendment or restatement of the articles of organization for filing, if as a result of the amendment the member will have:

- a. Personal liability for an obligation of the cooperative; or
- b. An obligation or liability for an additional contribution.

9. Except for the matters described in subsection 6, the articles of organization may delegate amendment of all or a part of the bylaws to the board of directors without requiring member approval. If the articles of organization delegate amendment of the bylaws to the board of directors, the board shall provide a description of any amendment of the bylaws made by the board of directors to the members in writing not later than thirty (30) days after the amendment, but the description may be provided at the next annual members meeting if the meeting is held within the thirty (30) day period.

10. To amend its articles of organization, a cooperative must deliver to the Office of the Secretary for filing an amendment stating:

- a. The name of the cooperative;
- b. The date of filing of its initial articles of organization; and
- c. The text of the amendment.

11. The articles of organization shall be amended if there is a statement in the articles that was false or erroneous when it was made.

12. If a director or, before the initial meeting of the board, an organizer of a cooperative knows that any information in filed articles of organization was inaccurate when the articles were filed or has become inaccurate due to changed circumstances, the director or organizer shall promptly:

- a. Cause the articles to be amended; or
- b. If appropriate, deliver to the Office of the Secretary for filing a statement of change or a statement of correction.

CHAPTER 3 MEMBERS

Section 22-3-1. Admission of Members.

1. A cooperative must have at least two (2) patron members, provided that a cooperative may have a sole member that is another cooperative.

2. Subject to the provisions its organizational documents, a cooperative:

- a. May limit admission of members only to persons engaged in the particular business, utilizing the goods or services provided by or through the cooperative, or providing the goods or services utilized by the cooperative; or
- b. May admit as members any person meeting uniform terms and conditions stated in its organizational documents.

3. If a cooperative is to have only one other cooperative member upon formation, the other cooperative becomes a member as agreed by the other cooperative and the organizer of the cooperative. The other cooperative and the organizer may be, but need not be, different persons. If different, the organizer acts on behalf of the other cooperative member.

4. If a cooperative is to have more than one (1) member upon formation, those persons become members as agreed by the persons before the formation of the cooperative. The organizer acts on behalf of the persons in forming the cooperative and may be, but need not be, one of the persons.

5. After formation of a cooperative, a person becomes a member:

- a. As provided in the organizational documents;
- b. As the result of a merger, interest exchange, conversion, or domestication; or
- c. With the affirmative vote or consent of all the members.

Section 22-3-2. Districts and Classes.

1. The organizational documents may provide for the formation of geographic districts of members and:

- a. For the conduct of member meetings by districts and the election of directors at the meetings; or
- b. That districts may elect district delegates to represent and vote for the district at members meetings.

2. The organizational documents may provide for the establishment of classes of members, for the preferences, rights, and limitations of the classes, and:

- a. For the conduct of members meetings by classes and the election of directors at the meetings; or
- b. That classes may elect class delegates to represent and vote for the class in members meetings.

3. A delegate elected under this Section has one (1) vote unless voting power is otherwise allocated by the organizational documents.

Section 22-3-3. Dissociation.

1. A member is dissociated as a member when:

a. The person voluntarily withdraws as a member and the cooperative knows or has notice of the person's express will to withdraw as a member, provided the person may designate a date of withdrawal as a member;

b. An event stated in the organizational documents as causing the person's dissociation occurs;

c. The person is expelled as a member pursuant to the organizational documents or this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the cooperative;

d. The person's entire interest is transferred in a foreclosure sale under this Title;

e. The person is expelled as a member by the board of directors because:

i. It is unlawful to carry on the cooperative's business and affairs with the person as a member; or

ii. There has been a transfer of all the member's financial rights in the cooperative, other than a transfer for security purposes or a charging order in effect under this Title which has not been foreclosed;

f. The person is an entity and:

i. Has filed a statement of dissolution or the equivalent and fails to revoke the statement of dissolution within ninety (90) days written notice from the cooperative;

ii. Has been dissolved and its activities and affairs are being wound up;

iii. Has been administratively dissolved or the equivalent;

- iv. Had its charter or the equivalent revoked;
 - v. Had its right to conduct business suspended in its jurisdiction of formation; or
 - vi. Has been liquidated;
 - g. In the case of a trust or estate or a person acting as a member by virtue of being a trustee of a trust or personal representative of an estate, the trust's or estate's entire financial interest in the cooperative is distributed;
 - h. In the case of an individual:
 - i. The individual dies;
 - ii. The individual is adjudged incapacitated; or
 - iii. A court orders that the individual has otherwise become incapable of performing the individual's duties as a member under this Title or the organizational documents;
 - i. In the case of a person that is not an individual, the existence of the person terminates;
 - j. The cooperative participates in a merger, interest exchange, conversion, or domestication under Title XIV of this Code and:
 - i. The cooperative does not survive the transaction; or
 - ii. Otherwise as a result of the transaction, the person ceases to be a member; or
 - k. The cooperative dissolves and completes winding up.
2. A person has the power to dissociate as a member of a cooperative at any time, rightfully or wrongfully.
3. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, a member's dissociation from a cooperative is wrongful only if:
- a. It is in breach of an express provision of the organizational documents, this Title, or other law of the Tribe applicable to the cooperative;

b. It occurs before the termination of the cooperative and:

i. The person is expelled as a member under this Section; or

ii. In the case of a person that is not a trust, estate, or individual, the person is expelled or otherwise dissociated because it willfully dissolved or terminated.

4. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, a person that wrongfully dissociates as a member is liable to the cooperative and to the other members for damages caused by the dissociation. The liability is in addition to any other debt, obligation, or liability of the person to the cooperative. In addition to pursuing any remedies otherwise available under the organizational documents or applicable law, if a person wrongfully dissociates as a member, the cooperative may offset the damages against the amount otherwise distributable to the member.

5. When a person is dissociated as a member:

a. The person's right to participate as a member in the management and conduct of the cooperative's business and affairs terminates, except to the extent the member participates in winding up the cooperative's business and affairs pursuant to a dissolution; and

b. Subject to any provision in this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the cooperative, any financial rights owned by the person in the person's capacity as a member immediately before dissociation are owned by the person as a transferee.

6. A person's dissociation as a member does not of itself discharge the person from any debt, obligation, or other liability to the cooperative or the other members which the person incurred while a member.

Section 22-3-4. Meetings of Members.

1. Members shall meet annually at a time provided in the organizational documents or set by the board of directors not inconsistent with the organizational documents. The board of directors shall report, or cause to be reported, at the cooperative's annual members meeting the cooperative's business and financial condition as of the close of the most recent fiscal year. Failure to hold an annual members meeting does not affect the validity of any action of the cooperative.

2. A special meeting of members may be called only:

a. As provided in the organizational documents;

b. By a majority vote of the board of directors on a proposal stating the purpose of the meeting;

c. By demand in writing signed by members holding at least twenty percent (20%) of the voting power of the persons in any district or class entitled to vote on the matter that is the purpose of the meeting stated in the demand; or

d. By demand in writing signed by members holding at least ten percent (10%) of the total voting power of all the persons entitled to vote on the matter that is the purpose of the meeting stated in the demand.

3. A demand for a special meeting must be submitted to the officer of the cooperative charged with keeping its records. Any voting member may withdraw its demand for a special meeting before receipt by the cooperative of demands sufficient to require a special meeting of members.

4. Only business within the purpose or purposes stated in the notice of a special meeting may be conducted at the meeting.

5. A meeting of members may be held inside or outside the territory of the Tribe at the place stated in the organizational documents or selected by the board of directors not inconsistent with the organizational documents.

6. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, members may attend or conduct a members meeting through any means of communication if all members attending the meeting can communicate with each other during the meeting.

7. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, the board of directors shall designate the presiding officer of a members meeting.

8. Unless the organizational documents otherwise require a greater number of members or percentage of the voting power, five percent (5%) of the total number of members or thirty (30) members present at a members meeting, whichever is less, constitutes a quorum.

9. A cooperative shall notify each member of the time, date, and place of a members meeting at least fifteen (15) and not more than sixty (60) days before the meeting. Notice may be given by mail, personal delivery, or electronic transmission. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, notice of an annual members meeting need not include any purpose of the meeting. Notice of a special meeting of members must include each purpose of the meeting as contained in the demand for the special meeting or as voted upon by the board of directors calling for the special meeting.

10. A member may waive notice of a members meeting before, during, or after the meeting. A member's participation in a members meeting is a waiver of notice of that meeting unless the member objects to the meeting at the beginning of the meeting or promptly upon the member's arrival at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Section 22-3-5. Member Action Without a Meeting.

1. Unless the organizational documents require that action be taken only at a members meeting, any action that may be taken by the members may be taken without a meeting if each member entitled to vote on the action consents in writing to the action.

2. Consent under this Section may be withdrawn by a member in writing at any time before the cooperative receives a consent from each member entitled to vote.

3. Consent to any action may specify the effective date or time of the action.

Section 22-3-6. Voting of Members.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, each member has one vote.

2. The organizational documents may allocate voting power among members on the basis of one or a combination of the following:

- a. One member, one vote;

- b. Use or patronage;
- c. Equity; or
- d. If a member is a cooperative, the number of its members.

3. The organizational documents may provide for the allocation of member voting power by districts or class, or any combination thereof.

4. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, voting by a proxy at a members meeting is prohibited. This subsection does not prohibit delegate voting based on district or class. If voting by a proxy is permitted, a patron member may appoint only another patron member as a proxy. The organizational documents may provide for the manner of and provisions governing the appointment of a proxy.

5. The organizational documents, or a resolution of the board with respect to a particular issue, may provide for voting on any question by ballot delivered by mail or voting by other means on questions that are subject to vote by members.

Section 22-3-7. Member Transactions with Cooperative. Except as otherwise provided in the organizational documents or a specific contract relating to a transaction, a member may lend money to and transact other business with a cooperative in the same manner as a person that is not a member.

Section 22-3-8. Member as Agent.

1. A member is not an agent of a cooperative solely by reason of being a member.

2. A person's status as a member does not prevent or restrict law other than this Title from imposing liability on a cooperative because of the person's conduct.

Section 22-3-9. Direct Action by Member.

1. A member may maintain a direct action against another member, director, or the cooperative to enforce the member's rights and protect the member's interests, including rights and interests under the organizational documents or this Title or arising independently of the membership relationship.

2. A member maintaining a direct action under this Section must plead and prove an actual or threatened injury that is not solely the result of an injury suffered or threatened to be suffered by the cooperative.

Section 22-3-10. Member Dissent.

1. A member is entitled to dissent from and obtain payment of the fair value of the member's membership in the event of any of the following cooperative actions:

a. Consummation of plan of merger, conversion, domestication, division, or interest exchange where, following the merger, conversion, domestication, division, or interest exchange, there will be members of any cooperative involved in the proposed transaction who would no longer be eligible for membership or other voting interest in the surviving or resulting entity;

b. A proposed disposition of assets which requires approval of the members under this Title or the organizational documents;

c. An amendment of the articles of organization that materially and adversely affects the member's governance rights or financial rights; or

d. Any other cooperative action taken pursuant to a member vote to the extent the organizational documents or a resolution of the board of directors provides that members are entitled to dissent and obtain payment for their membership.

2. A member entitled to dissent and obtain payment for the member's membership under this Section may not challenge the cooperative action creating the member's entitlement unless the action is fraudulent or fails to comply with this Title or the organizational documents with respect to the member or the cooperative.

3. The right of a dissenting member to obtain payment of the fair value of the member's membership shall terminate upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

a. The proposed cooperative action is abandoned or rescinded; or

b. The member's demand for payment is withdrawn with the written consent of the cooperative.

4. If proposed cooperative action creating dissenters' rights is submitted to a vote at a members meeting, the meeting notice must state that members are or may be entitled to assert dissenters' rights under this Section. If cooperative action creating dissenters' rights is taken without a vote of members, the cooperative, within ten (10) days after the effective date of such cooperative action, shall notify in writing all members entitled to assert dissenters' rights that the action was taken and send them written dissenters' notice as provided in this Section.

5. If proposed cooperative action creating dissenters' rights under this Section is submitted to a vote at a members meeting, a member who wishes to assert dissenters' rights shall both deliver written notice to the cooperative before the vote is taken of the member's intent to demand payment for the member's membership if the proposed action is effectuated and not vote in favor of the proposed action. A member who does not satisfy the requirements of this subsection is not entitled to payment for the membership under this Section. The cooperative shall deliver a written dissenters' notice to all members who satisfied the requirements of this subsection.

6. Dissenters' notice required in this Section must be sent within ten (10) days after the effective date of the cooperative action and shall:

a. State where the payment demand must be sent and where and when any certificates for membership must be deposited; and

b. Set a date by which the cooperative must receive the payment demand, which date may not be fewer than thirty (30) nor more than sixty (60) days after the date the dissenters' notice is delivered.

7. A member sent a dissenters' notice must demand payment and deposit any membership certificate in accordance with the terms of the notice. A member who demands payment and deposits the member's membership certificate retains all other rights of a member until the proposed cooperative action is affected. A member who does not demand payment or deposit the member's membership certificate where required by the date set in the dissenters' notice is not entitled to payment for the member's membership under this Section.

8. Within thirty (30) days of the later of the effective date of the proposed cooperative action or the date the payment demand is received, the cooperative shall pay each dissenter who demanded payment and deposited the member's membership certificate in accordance with the notice the amount the cooperative estimates to be the fair value of the membership plus accrued interest. The payment must be accompanied by:

a. The cooperative's balance sheet as of the end of a fiscal year ending not more than sixteen (16) months before the date of payment, an income statement for that year, a statement of changes in members' equity for that year, and the latest available interim financial statements, if any;

b. An explanation of how the cooperative estimated the fair value of the membership;

c. An explanation of how the interest was calculated; and

d. A statement of the dissenter's right to dispute the payment amount under this Section.

9. Provided a demand for payment under this subsection is made in writing within thirty (30) days after the cooperative made or offered payment for the dissenter's membership, a dissenter may notify the cooperative in writing of the dissenter's own estimate of the fair value of the dissenter's membership and amount of interest due and demand payment of the dissenter's estimate, less any payment made under this Section, and demand payment of the dissenter's estimate of the fair value of the dissenter's membership and interest due, if:

a. The dissenter believes that the amount paid under this Section is less than the fair value of the dissenter's membership or that the interest due is incorrectly calculated;

b. The cooperative fails to make payment under this Section within sixty (60) days after the date set for demanding payment; or

c. The cooperative does not affect the proposed action and does not return any deposited membership certificates within sixty (60) days after the date set for demanding payment.

10. If a dissenter's demand for payment under subsection 9 of this Section remains unsettled:

a. The cooperative shall commence a proceeding within sixty (60) days after receiving the payment demand and petition the Tribal Court to determine the fair value of the membership and accrued interest;

b. If the cooperative does not commence the proceeding within such sixty (60) day period, it shall pay each dissenter whose demand remains unsettled the amount demanded;

c. The Tribal Court may appoint one (1) or more persons as appraisers to receive evidence and recommend a fair valuation to the Tribal Court;

d. Appraisers appointed by the Tribal Court shall have the powers described in the order appointing them or in any amendment to it;

e. The dissenters shall be entitled to the same discovery rights as parties in other civil proceedings;

f. Each dissenter made a party to the proceeding shall be entitled to judgment for the amount, if any, by which the Tribal Court finds the fair value of the dissenter's membership plus interest exceeds the amount paid by the cooperative;

g. The Tribal Court shall determine all costs of the proceeding, including the reasonable compensation and expenses of the appraisers appointed by the Tribal Court and assess the costs against the cooperative, except that the Tribal Court may assess the costs against all or some of the dissenters, other than dissenters who are the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, in amounts the Tribal Court finds equitable, to the extent the dissenters acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith in demanding payment;

h. Except for a party that is the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, the Tribal Court may assess fees and expenses of legal counsel and experts for the respective parties in amounts the Tribal Court finds equitable:

i. Against the cooperative and in favor of any or all dissenters if the cooperative did not substantially comply with the requirements of this Section; or

ii. Against the cooperative or a dissenter if the party against whom the fees and expenses are assessed acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith with respect to the rights provided in this Section.

11. Under this Section, fair value with respect to a dissenter's membership shall be determined as the value of the membership immediately before the effective date of the cooperative action to which the dissenter objects, excluding any appreciation or depreciation in anticipation of the cooperative action unless exclusion would be inequitable.

12. If the Tribe is a member in a cooperative, any right to dissent as a member may only be exercised by the Tribe and no individual member of the Tribe or the Tribal Council shall have any right of member dissent under this Section even if the membership of the Tribe is voted by individual members of the Tribal Council.

13. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe as a member or otherwise or waiving the sovereign immunity of any Tribal business entity.

Section 22-3-11. Derivative Actions.

1. A member may maintain a derivative action to enforce a right of a cooperative if:

a. Unless such a demand would be futile, the member first makes a demand on the board of directors requesting that they cause the cooperative to bring an action to enforce the right; and

b. The board of directors do not bring the action within a reasonable time.

2. In a derivative action, the complaint must state with particularity:

a. The date and content of plaintiff's demand and the response to the demand by the board of directors; or

b. Why demand should be excused as futile.

3. A derivative action to enforce a right of a cooperative may be maintained only by a person that is a member at the time the action is commenced and:

a. Was a member when the conduct giving rise to the action occurred; or

b. Whose status as a member devolved on the person by operation of law or pursuant to the terms of the organizational documents from a person that was a member at the time of the conduct.

4. If a cooperative is named as or made a party in a derivative proceeding, the cooperative may appoint a special litigation committee to investigate the claims asserted in the proceeding and determine whether pursuing the action is in the best interests of the cooperative. If the cooperative appoints a special litigation committee, on motion by the committee made in the name of the cooperative, the court shall, except for good cause shown, stay discovery for the time reasonably necessary to permit the committee to make its investigation. This subsection does not prevent the court from:

a. Enforcing a person's right to information under this Title; or

b. Granting a temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction.

5. A special litigation committee must be composed of one or more disinterested and independent individuals, who may be members. A special litigation committee may be appointed by the affirmative vote or consent of a majority of the directors not named as parties in the proceeding or, if all directors are named as parties, a majority of all the directors.

6. After appropriate investigation, a special litigation committee may determine that it is in the best interests of the cooperative that the proceeding:

a. Continue under the control of the plaintiff;

b. Continue under the control of the committee;

c. Be settled on terms approved by the committee; or

d. Be dismissed.

7. After making a determination how to proceed, a special litigation committee shall file with the court a statement of its determination and its report supporting its determination. The special litigation committee shall serve each party with a copy of the determination and report. If the court finds the committee has proven that the members of the committee were disinterested and independent and that the committee acted in good faith, independently, and with reasonable care, the court shall enforce the determination of the committee. Otherwise, the court shall dissolve any stay entered pursuant to this Section and allow the action to continue under the control of the plaintiff.

8. A derivative action on behalf of a cooperative may not be voluntarily dismissed or settled without the court's approval.

9. Subject to the award of expenses provided in this Section:

a. Any proceeds or other benefits of a derivative action, whether by judgment, compromise, or settlement, belong to the cooperative and not to the plaintiff; and

b. If the plaintiff receives any proceeds, the plaintiff shall remit them immediately to the cooperative.

10. Unless the cooperative is a Tribal business entity and the plaintiff is not the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, if a derivative action is successful in whole or in part, the court may award the plaintiff reasonable expenses, including reasonable legal counsel's fees and costs, from the recovery of the cooperative.

11. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe or waiving the sovereign immunity of any Tribal business entity.

Section 22-3-12. Financial Statements.

1. On written demand from a member, a cooperative shall furnish that member with financial statements for its latest completed fiscal year within a reasonable time after receipt of the demand. The financial statements may be consolidated or combined statements of the cooperative and one or more of its subsidiaries, as appropriate, and that include a balance sheet as of the end of the fiscal year and a statement of operations for the year. If financial statements are prepared for the cooperative on the basis of generally accepted accounting principles, the annual financial statements shall also be prepared on that basis.

2. If the annual financial statements are reported on by a certified public accountant, that report shall accompany them. If not, the statements shall be accompanied by a statement of the person responsible for the cooperative's accounting records both:

a. Stating that person's reasonable belief whether the statements were prepared on the basis of generally accepted accounting principles and, if not, describing the basis of preparation; and

b. Describing any respects in which the statements were not prepared on a basis of accounting consistent with the statements prepared for the preceding year.

3. If a cooperative indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer with respect to a proceeding where the director or officer was a party, the cooperative shall report the indemnification or advance in writing to the members. Failure to report under this subsection does not invalidate otherwise valid indemnification.

Section 22-3-13. Rights to Information and Records.

1. On reasonable request, a member is entitled to inspect and copy, during regular business hours at the cooperative's principal place of business, any of the records of the cooperative required to be maintained at such principal place of business under this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the cooperative. A member need not have any particular purpose for seeking the information. The cooperative is not required to provide the same information to the same member more than once during a six (6) month period.

2. The cooperative shall furnish to each member, on reasonable and good faith demand, any other true and full information concerning the cooperative's activities, affairs, financial condition, and other circumstances.

3. A former member is entitled to information to which the member was entitled while a member if:

a. The information pertains to the period during which the person was a member;

b. The former member seeks the information in good faith; and

c. The former member satisfies the requirements of this Section.

4. The cooperative may impose reasonable restrictions on the confidentiality, use, or distribution of records subject to inspection and copying by members under this Section.

5. The right of inspection granted by this Section may not be abolished or limited by a cooperative's organizational documents.

6. A member's agent or legal representative has the same inspection and copying rights as the member it represents.

7. The rights stated in this Section do not extend to a person as transferee.

8. The organizational documents may require a cooperative to provide more information than required by this Section and may establish conditions and procedures for providing the information.

9. If a cooperative does not allow within a reasonable time a member to inspect and copy any record subject to inspection and copying under this Section, on application of the member, the Tribal Court may summarily order inspection and copying of the records demanded at the cooperative's expense.

10. Unless the cooperative is a Tribal business entity and the plaintiff is not the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, if the Tribal Court orders inspection and copying of the records demanded, it shall also order the cooperative to pay the member's costs, including reasonable legal counsel fees, incurred to obtain the order, unless the cooperative proves that it refused inspection in good faith because it had a reasonable basis for doubt about the right of the member to inspect the records demanded. Unless the member is the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, the Tribal Court may order a member to pay all or a portion of the cooperative's costs, including reasonable legal counsel fees, if the demand to inspect is denied in whole or in material part.

11. If the Tribal Court orders inspection and copying of records pursuant to this Section, it may impose reasonable restrictions on the use or distribution of the records by the member.

12. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereign immunity of the Tribe, including a cooperative that is a Tribal business entity.

CHAPTER 4 BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Section 22-4-1. Board of Directors.

1. The affairs of a cooperative must be managed by, or under the direction of, a board of directors. The board may adopt policies and procedures that do not conflict with the organizational documents of the cooperative or this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the cooperative.

2. The board of directors of a cooperative must have at least three (3) individuals, unless the cooperative has fewer than three (3) members. If the cooperative has fewer than three (3) members, the number of directors may not be fewer than the number of members.

3. Initial directors may be named in the articles of organization, elected by the members, or, prior to the admission of members, elected by the incorporators. An initial director serves until a successor is elected and qualified or the director is removed, resigns, is adjudged incapacitated, or dies. Initial directors need not be members. Thereafter, directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the members. Unless the articles of organization provide otherwise, the initial directors may cause the cooperative to accept members, including those necessary for the cooperative to begin business.

4. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise and other than initial directors, each director of a cooperative must be an individual who is a member of the cooperative or an individual who is designated for purposes of qualifying and serving as a director by a member that is not an individual. If the organizational documents provide for nonmember directors, the number of nonmember directors may not exceed:

- a. One (1), if there are two (2) to four (4) directors;

b. Two (2), if there are five (5) through eight (8) directors; or

c. One-third (1/3) of the total number of directors if there are at least nine (9) directors.

5. Subject to the requirements of this Section, the organizational documents may provide for the election of all or a specified number of directors by one or more districts or classes of members. Subject to the requirements of this Section, the organizational documents may provide for the nomination or election of directors by districts or classes, directly or by district delegates. If a class of members consists of a single member, the organizational documents may provide for the member to appoint a director or directors.

6. The organizational documents may provide qualifications for directors in addition to those in this Section.

7. Except as otherwise provided by the organizational documents or elsewhere in this Title, directors must be elected at an annual members meeting. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, cumulative voting for directors is prohibited. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, a director may be an officer or employee of the cooperative.

8. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, the term of a director expires at the annual members meeting following the director's election or appointment. The organizational documents may provide for longer terms for directors, but the term of a director may not exceed three (3) years. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, a director may be reelected.

9. A director continues to serve until a successor director is elected or appointed and qualifies or the director is removed, resigns, is adjudged incapacitated, or dies. However, unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, a director does not serve the remainder of the director's term if the director ceases to qualify to be a director.

10. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, the following rules apply to removal of a director:

a. Members may remove a director with or without cause;

b. A member or members holding at least ten percent (10%) of the total voting power entitled to be voted in the election of a director may demand removal of the director by one or more signed petitions submitted to the officer of the cooperative charged with keeping its records;

c. Upon receipt of a petition for removal of a director, an officer of the cooperative or the board of directors shall:

i. Call a special meeting of members to be held not later than ninety (90) days after receipt of the petition by the cooperative; and

ii. Mail or otherwise transmit or deliver in writing notice of the meeting to the members entitled to vote on the removal and to the director to be removed; and

d. A director is removed if the votes in favor of removal are equal to or greater than the votes required to elect the director.

11. A board of directors may suspend a director if, considering the director's course of conduct and the inadequacy of other available remedies, immediate suspension is necessary for the best interests of the cooperative and the director is engaging, or has engaged, in:

a. Fraudulent conduct with respect to the cooperative or its members;

b. Gross abuse of the position of director;

c. Intentional or reckless infliction of harm on the cooperative; or

d. Any other behavior, act, or omission as provided by the organizational documents.

12. A suspension of a director is effective for thirty (30) days unless the board of directors calls and gives notice of a special meeting of members for removal of the director before the end of the thirty (30) day period, in which case the suspension is effective until adjournment of the meeting or the director is removed.

13. A director may resign at any time by giving notice in writing to the cooperative. Unless the notice states a later effective date, a resignation is effective when the notice is received by the cooperative.

14. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, a vacancy on the board of directors must be filled:

a. Within a reasonable time by majority vote of the remaining directors until the next annual members meeting or a special meeting of members called to fill the vacancy; and

b. For the unexpired term of the vacating director.

15. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, if a vacating director was elected or appointed by a class of members or a district:

a. The new director must be of that class or district; and

b. The selection of the director for the unexpired term must be conducted in the same manner as would the selection for that position without a vacancy.

16. If a member appointed a vacating director, the organizational documents may provide for that member to appoint a director to fill the vacancy.

17. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, the board of directors may fix the compensation of directors and nondirector members of board committees.

18. A board of directors shall meet at least annually and, unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, may hold meetings inside or outside the territory of the Tribe. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, a board of directors may permit directors to attend or conduct board meetings through the use of any means of communication, if all directors attending the meeting can communicate with each other during the meeting.

19. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, a board of directors may establish a time, date, and place for regular board meetings, and notice of the time, date, place, or purpose of those meetings is not required.

20. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, notice of the time, date, and place of a special meeting of a board of directors must be given to all directors at least three (3) days before the meeting, the notice must contain a statement of the purpose of the meeting, and the meeting is limited to the matters contained in the statement.

21. Unless the articles of organization provide for a greater number, a majority of the total number of directors specified by the organizational documents constitutes a quorum for a meeting of the directors. If a quorum of the board of directors is present at the beginning of a meeting, any action taken by the directors present is valid even if withdrawal of directors originally present results in the number of directors being fewer than the number required for a quorum. A director present at a meeting but objecting to notice as provided in this Section does not count toward a quorum.

22. Each director shall have one vote for purposes of decisions made by the board of directors. Unless a law applicable to the cooperative or the organizational documents provide for a greater number generally or for any particular act of the board of directors, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present at a meeting is required for action by the board of directors.

23. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, a director may waive any required notice of a meeting of the board of directors in writing before, during, or after the meeting. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, a director's participation in a meeting is a waiver of notice of that meeting unless:

a. The director objects to the meeting at the beginning of the meeting or promptly upon the director's arrival at the meeting and does not thereafter vote in favor of or otherwise assent to any action taken at the meeting for which notice has not been given; or

b. The director promptly objects upon the introduction of any matter for which notice has not been given and does not thereafter vote in favor of or otherwise assent to the action taken on the matter.

24. Unless prohibited by the organizational documents, any action that may be taken by a board of directors may be taken without a meeting if each director consents in writing to the action. Consent under this subsection may be withdrawn by a director in writing at any time before the cooperative receives consent from all directors. A record of consent for any action under this subsection may specify the effective date or time of the action.

Section 22-4-2. Board Committees.

1. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, a board of directors may create one or more committees and appoint one or more individuals to serve on a committee.

2. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, an individual appointed to serve on a committee of a cooperative need not be a director or member.

3. An individual who is not a director and serves on a committee has the same rights, duties, and obligations as a director serving on the committee.

4. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, each committee of a cooperative may exercise the powers delegated to it by the board of directors, but a committee may not:

a. Approve allocations or distributions except according to a formula or method prescribed by the board of directors;

b. Approve or propose to members action requiring approval of members; or

c. Fill vacancies on the board of directors or any of its committees.

Section 22-4-3. Officers.

1. A cooperative has the officers:

a. Provided in the organizational documents; or

b. Established by the board of directors in a manner not inconsistent with the organizational documents.

2. The organizational documents may designate or, if the organizational documents do not designate, the board of directors shall designate, one of the cooperative's officers for preparing all records required by this Title and for the authentication of records of the cooperative.

3. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, the board of directors shall appoint the officers of the cooperative.

4. Officers of a cooperative shall perform the duties the organizational documents prescribe or as authorized by the board of directors not in a manner inconsistent with the organizational documents or this Title.

5. The election or appointment of an officer of a cooperative does not of itself create a contract between the cooperative and the officer.

6. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, an individual may simultaneously hold more than one office in a cooperative.

7. The board of directors may remove an officer at any time with or without cause.

8. An officer of a cooperative may resign at any time by giving notice in writing to the cooperative. Unless the notice specifies a later time, the resignation is effective when the notice is given.

Section 22-4-4. Duties of Directors and Officers.

1. All directors and officers owe fiduciary duties to the cooperative and the members.

2. The fiduciary duties of a director or officer include:

a. To act in a manner the director or officer reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the cooperative and the members;

b. To discharge their duties with the care that a person in a like position would reasonably believe appropriate under similar circumstances;

c. To disclose, or cause to be disclosed, to the other directors or officers information not already known by them but known by the director or officer to be material to the discharge of the decision-making or oversight functions of the directors, unless disclosure would violate another duty imposed under applicable law, a legally enforceable obligation of confidentiality, or a professional ethics rule;

d. To account to the cooperative and hold as trustee for it any property, profit, or benefit derived by the director or officer:

i. In the conduct or winding up of the cooperative's activities and affairs;

ii. From a use by the director or officer of the cooperative's property; or

iii. From the appropriation of a cooperative opportunity;

e. To refrain from dealing with the cooperative in the conduct or winding up of the cooperative's activities and affairs as or on behalf of a person having an interest adverse to the cooperative;

f. To refrain from competing with the cooperative in the conduct of the cooperative's activities and affairs before the dissolution of the cooperative;

g. To refrain from engaging in grossly negligent or reckless conduct, willful or intentional misconduct, a violation of any law involving moral turpitude, or knowing violation of other applicable law;

h. To refrain from a willful failure to deal fairly with the cooperative or its members in connection with a matter in which the director or officer has a material conflict of interest; and

i. To refrain from a transaction from which the director or officer may derive an improper personal profit.

3. Unless the articles of organization provide otherwise, in considering the best interests of a cooperative, a director discharging the duties of director, in conjunction with considering the long and short term interest of the cooperative and its patron members as well as the other interests required under the laws of the Tribe, may consider:

a. The interests of employees, customers, and suppliers of the cooperative;

b. The interests of the community in which the cooperative operates; and

c. Other cooperative principles and values that may be applied in the context of the decision.

4. All directors and officers shall discharge their duties and obligations and exercise any rights under this Title, any other law of the Tribe applicable to the cooperative, and the organizational documents consistently with the contractual obligation of good faith and fair dealing.

5. In discharging the director's or officer's duties, unless the director or officer has knowledge that would make reliance unwarranted, a director or officer is entitled to rely on:

a. One or more other directors, officers, or employees of the cooperative whom the director or officer reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented;

b. Legal counsel, public accountants, or other persons retained by the cooperative as to matters involving skills or expertise the director or officer reasonably believes are within the person's professional or expert competence; or

c. A committee of the board of which the director or officer is not a member if the director or officer reasonably believes the committee merits confidence.

6. The members of a cooperative may authorize or ratify, after full disclosure of all material facts, a specific act or transaction that otherwise would violate the fiduciary duties in this Section.

7. Every director and officer shall account to the cooperative and hold as trustee for it any improper personal profit derived by that director or officer without the consent of a majority of the disinterested directors from:

a. A transaction connected with the organization, conduct, or dissolution and winding up of the cooperative; and

b. A use by a director or officer of the property of the cooperative, including confidential or proprietary information, or other matters entrusted to the person as a result of the person's status as a director or officer.

8. A cooperative's organizational documents may impose duties on its directors and officers that are in addition to, but not in abrogation of, those provided in this Section.

Section 22-4-5. Conflicts of Interest.

1. A director or officer shall not vote or participate in any discussion or action of the board of directors concerning a matter where the director or officer or any of their immediate family has a business or personal interest which conflicts with the interests of the cooperative.

2. A transaction with the cooperative in which a director has an interest is voidable by the cooperative solely because of the director's interest in the transaction unless:

a. The material facts of the transaction and the director's interest in the transaction were disclosed to or known by the board of directors at the time of approval of the transaction and a majority of the directors approved or ratified the transaction, provided that any director with an interest in the transaction does not vote on the approval or ratification and is not counted toward the minimum number of directors required to constitute a quorum;

b. The material facts of the transaction and the director's interest in the transaction were disclosed to or known by the members entitled to vote and the members authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction by a majority vote of the members entitled to vote, excluding any members who is also a director and has an interest in the transaction; or

c. The transaction was fair to the cooperative at the time it was approved.

3. A cooperative shall not lend any money to or guarantee the personal debts or obligations of any director or officer of the cooperative unless:

a. The members approve the loan or guarantee by a majority vote of the members entitled to vote, excluding any member who is also a director and has an interest in the transaction; or

b. The board of directors determines the loan or guarantee benefits the cooperative and a majority of the directors approve the loan or guarantee, provided that any director with an interest in the transaction does not vote on the approval and is not counted toward the minimum number of directors required to constitute a quorum.

4. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Title, a director does not have a conflict of interest under this Section or the organizational documents solely because the director's conduct relating to the duties of the director may further the director's own interest.

Section 22-4-6. Directors and Officers as Agent. An individual is not an agent for a cooperative solely by being a director or officer.

Section 22-4-7. Representations of Directors and Officers. An admission or representation made by a director or officer concerning the affairs of a cooperative within the scope of the director's or officer's authority may be used as evidence against the cooperative in any legal proceeding.

Section 22-4-8. Knowledge of Director or Officer. The following operates as notice to or knowledge of a cooperative:

1. Notice to any director or officer of any matter relating to the business of the cooperative;

2. Knowledge of the director or officer acting in the particular matter acquired while a director or officer or known by the person at the time of becoming a director or officer; and

3. Knowledge of any other director or officer who reasonably could and should have communicated it to the acting director or officer.

Section 22-4-9. Right to Information.

1. A director or a member of a committee may obtain, inspect, and copy all information regarding the state of activities and financial condition of the cooperative and other information regarding the activities of the cooperative if the information is reasonably related to the performance of the director's duties as director or the committee member's duties as a member of the committee.

2. Information obtained in accordance with this Section may not be used in any manner that would violate any duty of or to the cooperative.

No cooperative formed under or subject to this Title shall solely by its organization and existence be deemed to be a conspiracy or a combination in restraint of trade, an illegal monopoly, or an attempt to lessen competition or to fix prices arbitrarily, nor shall the marketing or purchasing contracts and agreements between any cooperative and its members or any agreements authorized in this Title be considered illegal as such, an unlawful restraint of trade, or as part of a conspiracy or combination to accomplish an improper or illegal purpose.

Section 22-7-3. Marketing Contracts.

1. If a marketing contract provides for the sale of products, commodities, or goods to a cooperative, the sale transfers title to the cooperative upon delivery or at any other specific time expressly provided by the contract.

2. A marketing contract may:

a. Authorize a cooperative to create an enforceable security interest in the products, commodities, or goods delivered; and

b. Allow the cooperative to sell the products, commodities, or goods delivered and pay the sales price on a pooled or other basis after deducting selling costs, processing costs, overhead, expenses, and other charges.

3. Some or all of the provisions of a marketing contract between a member and a cooperative may be contained in the organizational documents.

4. The initial duration of a marketing contract may not exceed ten (10) years, but the contract may be self-renewing for additional periods not exceeding five (5) years each. Unless the contract provides for another manner or time for termination, either party may terminate the contract by giving notice in writing at least ninety (90) days before the end of the current term.

5. Damages to be paid to a cooperative for breach or anticipatory repudiation of a marketing contract may be liquidated, but only at an amount or under a formula that is reasonable in light of the actual or anticipated harm caused by the breach or repudiation. A provision that so provides is not a penalty.

6. Upon a breach of a marketing contract, whether by anticipatory repudiation or otherwise, a cooperative may seek:

- a. An injunction to prevent further breach; and
- b. Specific performance.

7. The remedies in this Section are in addition to any other remedies available to a cooperative under any other applicable law.

8. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereign immunity of the Tribe, including a cooperative that is a Tribal business entity.

Section 22-7-4. Interests in Cooperative.

1. A member's interest in a cooperative:

- a. Is personal property;
- b. Consists of:
 - i. Governance rights;
 - ii. Financial rights; and
 - iii. The right or obligation, if any, to do business with the cooperative; and
 - iv. May be in certificated or uncertificated form.

2. Unless a cooperative is a limited cooperative with investor members, a member's interest is a patron member's interest.

3. Unless a transfer is restricted or prohibited by the organizational documents:

a. A member may transfer its financial rights in the cooperative; and

b. A member's interest other than financial rights is not transferable.

4. The terms of any restriction on transferability of financial rights must be:

a. Set forth in the organizational documents and the member records of the cooperative; and

b. Conspicuously noted on any certificate evidencing a member's interest.

5. A transfer of a member's financial rights in violation of a restriction on transfer contained in the organizational documents is ineffective if the intended transferee has actual or constructive notice of the restriction at the time of transfer.

6. If the transfer of a member's financial rights are not restricted:

a. A transferee of a member's financial rights, to the extent the rights are transferred, has the right to share in the allocation of profits or losses and to receive the distributions and patronage refunds to the member transferring the interest to the same extent as the transferring member;

b. A transferee of a member's financial rights does not become a member upon transfer of the rights unless the transferee is admitted as a member by the cooperative; and

c. A cooperative need not give effect to a transfer under this Section until the cooperative has notice of the transfer.

7. A member or transferee may create an enforceable security interest in its financial rights in a cooperative.

8. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, a member may not create an enforceable security interest in the member's governance rights in a cooperative.

9. The organizational documents may provide that a cooperative has a security interest in the financial rights of a member to secure payment of any indebtedness or other obligation of the member to the cooperative. A security interest provided for in the organizational documents is enforceable under the laws of the Tribe.

10. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, a member may not compel the cooperative to offset financial rights against any indebtedness or obligation owed to the cooperative.

Section 22-7-5. Charging Membership Interest.

1. On application to a court having valid jurisdiction over a member and the subject matter by a judgment creditor of the member, such court may enter a charging order against the financial rights of the member, other than a member which is the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, for the unsatisfied amount of the judgment.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a charging order constitutes a lien on the member's financial rights and requires the cooperative to pay over to the person to which the charging order was issued any distribution that otherwise would be paid to the member. The judgment creditor has only the rights of an assignee of the member's financial rights.

3. At any time before foreclosure under this Section, the member whose financial rights are subject to a charging order under this Section may extinguish the charging order by satisfying the judgment and filing a certified copy of the satisfaction with the court that issued the charging order.

4. At any time before foreclosure under this Section, a cooperative or one or more members whose financial rights are not subject to the charging order may pay to the judgment creditor the full amount due under the judgment and thereby succeed to the rights of the judgment creditor, including the charging order. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, the cooperative may act under this subsection only with the consent of all members whose financial rights are not subject to the charging order.

5. Upon a showing that distributions and patronage refunds under a charging order will not pay the judgment debt within a reasonable time, the court may foreclose the lien and order the sale of the financial rights of the member. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, the purchaser at the foreclosure sale obtains only the financial rights, does not thereby become a member, and has only the rights of an assignee of the member's financial rights.

6. This Section shall not be construed to deprive any member of the benefit of any exemption of an interest in a cooperative that may exist under applicable law.

7. This Section provides the exclusive remedy by which a person seeking in the capacity of judgment creditor to enforce a judgment against a member may satisfy the judgment from the member's interest.

8. In no event shall the Tribe's interest in a cooperative be attachable, chargeable, or subject to lien or encumbrance without the Tribe's express written consent or express waiver of its sovereign immunity.

Section 22-7-6. Property of Cooperative.

1. Property may be acquired, held, and conveyed in the name of a cooperative.

2. All property originally transferred to or acquired by a cooperative is property of the cooperative and not the members individually.

3. Property acquired with funds of a cooperative is presumed to be property of the cooperative.

4. Subject to any limitations in its articles of organization, its bylaws, this Title, or other law of the Tribe applicable to the cooperative, the property of a cooperative may be transferred by an instrument executed by a director in the name of the cooperative.

Section 22-7-7. Disposition of Assets.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Section, unless the articles of organization provide otherwise, member approval is not required for a cooperative to:

a. Sell, lease, exchange, license, or otherwise dispose of all or any part of the assets of the cooperative in the usual and regular course of business; or

b. Mortgage, pledge, dedicate to the repayment of indebtedness, or encumber in any way all or any part of the assets of the cooperative whether or not in the usual and regular course of business.

2. Any sale, lease, exchange, license, or other disposition of assets of a cooperative which would leave the cooperative without significant continuing business activity requires approval of the cooperative's members as follows:

a. A majority of the board of directors, or a greater percentage if required by the organizational documents, must approve the proposed disposition; and

b. The board of directors must call a members meeting to consider the proposed disposition, hold the meeting not later than ninety (90) days after approval of the proposed disposition by the board, and mail or otherwise transmit or deliver in writing to each member:

i. The terms of the proposed disposition;

ii. A recommendation that the members approve the disposition, or if the board determines that because of conflict of interest or other special circumstances it should not make a favorable recommendation, the basis for that determination;

iii. A statement of any condition of the board's submission of the proposed disposition to the members; and

iv. Notice of the meeting at which the proposed disposition will be considered, which must be given in the same manner as notice of a special meeting of members.

c. Subject to a different requirement in the organizational documents which complies with this Section, the proposed disposition must be approved by at least two-thirds (2/3) of the voting power of members present at a members meeting called under this subsection.

3. The organizational documents may require that the percentage of votes required under this Section to approve a proposed disposition is:

a. A different percentage that is not less than a majority of members voting at the meeting;

b. Measured against the voting power of all members;
or

c. A combination of the foregoing.

4. Subject to any contractual obligations, after a disposition of assets is approved and at any time before the consummation of the disposition, a cooperative may approve an amendment to the contract for disposition or the resolution authorizing the disposition or approve abandonment of the disposition:

a. As provided in the contract or the resolution; and

b. Except as prohibited by the resolution, with the same affirmative vote of the board of directors and of the members as was required to approve the disposition.

5. The voting requirements for districts, classes, or voting groups apply to approval of a disposition of assets under this Section.

Section 22-7-8. Liability to Third Parties.

1. A debt, obligation, or other liability of a cooperative, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise, is solely the debt, obligation, or other liability of the cooperative. This subsection applies regardless of the dissolution of the cooperative.

2. A member, director, or officer is not personally liable, directly or indirectly, by way of contribution or otherwise, for an act, debt, obligation, or other liability of the cooperative solely by reason of being or acting as a member, director, or officer. This subsection applies regardless of the dissolution of the cooperative.

3. The failure of a cooperative to observe formalities relating to the exercise of its powers or management of its activities and affairs is not a ground for imposing liability on a member, director, or officer for an act, debt, obligation, or other liability of the cooperative.

Section 22-7-9. Parties to Actions. A member of a cooperative is not a proper party to a proceeding by or against a cooperative solely by reason of being a member, except if:

1. The object of the proceeding is to enforce a member's right against or liability to the cooperative; or

2. The action is brought by a member under this Title.

Section 22-7-10. Authority to Sue.

1. Unless otherwise provided in its organizational documents, an action on behalf of a domestic or foreign cooperative may be brought in the name of the cooperative by:

a. One or more members as a derivative action in accordance with this Title; or

b. One or more directors, if authorized by the board of directors, unless otherwise directed by a majority vote of the members entitled to vote, excluding members who have an interest in the outcome of the action that is adverse to the interests of the cooperative.

2. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as authorizing actions of any kind whatsoever against the Tribe or a Tribal business entity, as a member or otherwise.

Section 22-7-11. Records.

1. A cooperative shall keep at its principal place of business all of the following:

a. A record of its members in a form that permits preparation of a list of the names and addresses of all members in alphabetical order by district or class of members showing each current member in a district or class;

b. A list of the names and business addresses of its current directors and officers;

c. A copy of its articles of organization and all amendments thereto and restatements thereof together with executed copies of any powers of attorney under which any articles were executed;

d. A copy of its bylaws and all amendments thereto and restatements thereof;

e. A copy of its most recent annual report delivered to the Office of the Secretary;

f. A copy of all other organizational documents of the cooperative, documents filed with the Office of the Secretary, and all amendments thereto and restatements thereof;

g. Any notices to members on which a document filed with the Office of the Secretary is dependent;

h. Resolutions adopted by its board of directors;

i. All written communications within the past three (3) years to members;

j. Minutes of all meetings of its members and board of directors, a record of all actions taken by the members or board of directors without a meeting, and a record of all actions taken by a committee of the board of directors in place of the board of directors;

k. All annual financial statements prepared for the cooperative for its last three (3) fiscal years and any audit or other reports with respect to such financial statements; and

l. A record of all matters referred to in this Title or other law of the Tribe applicable to the cooperative as maintained in such records which are not otherwise specified in the articles of organization or bylaws.

2. A cooperative shall maintain accounting records in a form that permits preparation of its financial statements.

3. The organizational documents may require that more information be maintained.

4. Failure of a cooperative to keep or maintain any of the records required under this Section shall not be grounds for imposing liability on any person for the debts and obligations of the cooperative.

CHAPTER 8
CONTRIBUTIONS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

Section 22-8-1. Contributions.

1. The organizational documents of a cooperative must establish the amount, manner, or method of determining any contribution requirements for members or must authorize the board of directors to establish the amount, manner, or other method of determining any contribution requirements for members.

2. Unless the organizational provide otherwise, the contributions of a member to a cooperative may consist of money or property transferred to, services performed for, or another benefit provided to the cooperative or an agreement to transfer money or property to, perform services for, or provide another benefit to the cooperative.

3. The receipt and acceptance of contributions and the valuation of contributions must be reflected in a cooperative's records.

4. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, the board of directors shall determine the value of a member's contributions received or to be received and the determination by the board of directors of valuation is conclusive for purposes of determining whether the member's contribution obligation has been met.

5. Except as otherwise provided in the agreement, the following rules apply to an agreement made by a person before formation of a cooperative to make a contribution to the cooperative:

a. The agreement is irrevocable for six (6) months after the agreement is signed by the person unless all parties to the agreement consent to the revocation;

b. If a person does not make a required contribution:

i. The person is obligated, at the option of the cooperative, once formed, to contribute money equal to the value of that part of the contribution that has not been made, and the obligation may be enforced as a debt to the cooperative; or

ii. The cooperative, once formed, may rescind the agreement if the debt remains unpaid more than twenty (20) days after the cooperative demands payment from the person, and upon rescission neither the person nor the cooperative have any further rights or obligations with respect to each other under the agreement.

6. Unless the organizational documents or an agreement to make a contribution other than money to a cooperative provide otherwise, if a person does not make a required contribution to a cooperative, the person or the person's estate is obligated, at the option of the cooperative, to contribute money equal to the value of the part of the contribution which has not been made.

Section 22-8-2. Allocation of Profits and Losses.

1. The organizational documents of a cooperative may provide for allocating profits of a cooperative among members, among persons that are not members but conduct business with the cooperative, to an unallocated account, or to any combination thereof. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, losses of the cooperative must be allocated in the same proportion as profits.

2. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, all profits and losses of a cooperative must be allocated to patron members.

3. If a cooperative is a limited cooperative with investor members, the organizational documents may not reduce the allocation to patron members to less than fifty percent (50%) of profits. For purposes of this subsection, the following rules apply:

a. Amounts paid or due on contracts for the delivery to the cooperative by patron members of products, goods, or services are not considered amounts allocated to patron members; and

b. Amounts paid, due, or allocated to investor members as a stated fixed return on equity are not considered amounts allocated to investor members.

4. Unless prohibited by the organizational documents, in determining the profits for allocation under this Section, the board of directors may first deduct and set aside a part of the profits to create or accumulate:

a. An unallocated capital reserve; and

b. Reasonable unallocated reserves for specific purposes, including expansion and replacement of capital assets; education, training, cooperative development; creation and distribution of information concerning principles of cooperation; and community responsibility.

5. Subject to the provisions of this Section and the organizational documents, the board of directors shall allocate the amount remaining after any deduction or setting aside of profits for unallocated reserves under this Section:

a. To patron members in the ratio of each member's patronage to the total patronage of all patron members during the period for which allocations are to be made; and

b. If the cooperative is a limited cooperative with investor members, in the ratio of each investor member's contributions to the total contributions of all investor members.

6. For purposes of allocation of profits and losses or specific items of profits or losses of a cooperative to members, the organizational documents may establish allocation units or methods based on separate classes of members or, for patron members, on class, function, division, district, department, allocation units, pooling arrangements, members' contributions, or other equitable methods.

7. The allocations of amounts remaining after any deduction or setting aside of profits for unallocated reserves under this Section shall be distributed as patronage refunds to the members at least once every twelve (12) months on an equitable basis as determined by the board of directors or in accordance with the organizational documents. This subsection shall not be construed as prohibiting the retention of amounts allocated to members as a means of providing capital for the cooperative.

8. If a cooperative has retained funds allocated to members as authorized under this Section, the board of directors shall have the right, in accordance with the organizational documents and policies established by the board of directors, to redeem or retire the funds so retained. All decisions relating to the redemption or retirement of such funds shall be made solely by the board of directors.

Section 22-8-3. Distributions Generally.

1. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise and except as provided in this Chapter, the board of directors may authorize, and the cooperative may make, distributions to members.

2. Unless the organizational documents provide otherwise, distributions to members may be made in any form, including money, capital credits, allocated patronage equities, revolving fund certificates, and the cooperative's own or other securities.

Section 22-8-4. Redemption or Repurchase. Property distributed to a member by a cooperative, other than money, may be redeemed or repurchased as provided in the organizational documents but a redemption or repurchase may not be made without authorization by the board of directors. The board may withhold authorization for any reason in its sole discretion. A redemption or repurchase is treated as a distribution for purposes of this Chapter.

Section 22-8-5. Limitations on Distributions.

1. A cooperative may not declare or make a distribution if, after the distribution:

a. The cooperative would not be able to pay its debts as they become due in the ordinary course of the cooperative's activities and affairs; or

b. The cooperative's total assets would be less than the sum of its total liabilities plus the amount that would be needed, if the cooperative were to be dissolved and wound up at the time of the distribution, to satisfy the preferential rights upon dissolution and winding up of members whose preferential rights are superior to the rights of persons receiving the distribution.

2. A cooperative may base a determination that a distribution is not prohibited under subsection 1 on:

a. Financial statements and other financial data prepared on the basis of accounting practices and principles that are reasonable in the circumstances; or

b. A fair valuation or other method that is reasonable under the circumstances.

3. A cooperative's indebtedness to a member incurred by reason of a distribution made in accordance with this Section is equivalent to the cooperative's indebtedness to its general unsecured creditors, except to the extent subordinated by written agreement.

4. A cooperative's indebtedness, including indebtedness issued as a distribution, is not a liability for purposes of subsection 1 if the terms of the indebtedness provide that payment of principal and interest is made only if and to the extent that payment of a distribution could then be made under this Section. If the indebtedness is issued as a distribution, each payment of principal or interest is treated as a distribution, the effect of which is measured on the date the payment is made.

5. For purposes of this Section, "distribution" does not include:

a. Reasonable compensation for present or past services;

b. Payments made in the ordinary course of business for commodities or goods; or

c. Payments made under a bona fide retirement or other bona fide benefits program.

Section 22-8-6. Liability for Improper Distributions.

1. If a director of a cooperative consents to a distribution made in violation of this Chapter and in consenting to the distribution fails to comply with the duties of directors under the laws of the Tribe, the director is personally liable to the cooperative for the amount of the distribution that exceeds the amount that could have been distributed without the violation of this Chapter.

2. A person that receives a distribution knowing that the distribution violated this Chapter is personally liable to the cooperative but only to the extent that the distribution received by the person exceeded the amount that could have been properly paid under this Chapter.

3. A director who is held liable under this Section for an unlawful distribution is entitled to contribution from:

a. Every other director who could be held liable under this Section for the unlawful distribution; and

b. Each person for the amount the person accepted knowing the distribution was made in violation of this Chapter.

4. An action to recover under this Section may be brought in the Tribal Court. An action under this Section is barred unless commenced no later than two (2) years after the date of the distribution.

5. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as limiting, waiving, or abrogating the sovereign immunity of the Tribe.
